

MORNING EDITION.

Secretary Manning is not yet considered out of danger, but his condition is hopeful. A large hotel and many other buildings burned at Salda, Cal.; loss $180,000; the guests in the hotel barely escaped with their lives.

A Pole hanged at Chicago for the murder of a woman. A starch factory at Buffalo, N. Y., burned; loss $500,000. New York markets: Money 2 1/2 per cent; cotton quiet at 9 1/2 @ 9 5-16; wheat, ungraded red 89 @ 91 1/2; corn, ungraded 44 @ 46; southern flour steady; rosin dull at $1 05 @ 1 07 1/4; spirits turpentine dull at 42 1/2.

Mr. Edmunds touted so hard on his late that he caused a rift in it. Dr. Armstrong will make a lecturing tour through the principal cities.

Some time ago Senator Jones was "kicked sky high" by a Massachusetts girl.

Both Senator Vest and Secretary Manning are regarded by their friends to be in an alarming condition.

The Plumed Knight's friends in the Senate refuse to hold up the hands of the Vermont Senator. Revenge is sweet.

Mr. Tillet is chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Richmond county and not Rockingham, as we say on second page. It was a lapsis pennae.

Ex-Associate Justice Hunt, of the Supreme Court, whose death was announced in the STAR, was born in New York State in 1810. Grant appointed him to the Bench.

J. R. R. in his Washington special to the Augusta Chronicle, says: Senator Morgan's speech to-day was a grand constitutional argument, full of learning and power. It will survive and be quoted in after time as a mine of political research."

The word "lady," now so much in vogue among the darkeys is said to mean "bread server." We will look into Skeit and see its exact derivation. It is about time to abandon the word in the South and fall back on woman.

Freeman's Journal reports great distress in Galway, Ireland, from famine. In the Arran district the suffering is appalling. There is a crying need of food, fuel, clothing and medicine. Relief must come soon or there will be a great many deaths.

A new labor organization has been formed in Boston called the Knights of Industry. An account says of it: "The order will embrace hand and brain workers throughout the country, and will work in the same general way as the Knights of Labor, but with some differences upon issues. Strikes will be discouraged and arbitration advocated. A congress of leaders will probably be held in September."

The papers are saying if Black Jack Logan did not write the silly and malicious "Uncle Daniel's Story" that Tourgee did. Tourgee is capable of a great deal of malignity and meanness, but he has talents enough to get up a better book in its literary aspect than we suppose the story of the rascally old "Uncle Daniel" to be.

The Claverius case comes up on the 29th of May, when the arguments on appeal will be heard. The Richmond Dispatch says there is a difference of opinion among lawyers whether or not he will get a new trial. If he fails he will be hanged unless he commits suicide, escapes or the Governor pardons him or commutes his sentence.

Ben. Perley Poore thus describes that very great lawyer and statesman, the late Judge Jeremiah S. Black: "Judge Jeremiah S. Black was a tall, broad shouldered man, with a clean-shaven, rugged face, a bright brown wig, a sharp pair of eyes that flashed from under snow-white brows, which made the brown wig seem still more brown. He chewed tobacco constantly, and the restless motion of his eyes, made his remarkable countenance."

No man can read his literary, legal and polemical remains without regarding him as one of the greatest intellects of America—one of the centurarii homines.

It is said that the New England Governors are seriously considering the necessity of abolishing the old fast day. It has grown into desuetude so rapidly that the talk is, cease to issue proclamations calling people to fasting and prayer. Bishop Paddock, of the Episcopal Church, is in favor of its abolition. The Rev. Dr. Phillips Brooks, of Trinity Church, said that he failed to see that the day, as now observed, subserved any use whatever. The Rev. Dr. C. A. Bartol, of the West Church, said: "Fast day has become a farce."

Ex-President Davis has written a letter to a committee of the Mississippi Legislature in response to one addressed to him relative to providing for disabled Confederate soldiers. In it he said:

"On the general proposition to afford relief to the indigent who were disabled in the service they were commanded by their sovereign States to perform there can be little, if any, difference of opinion among us. The manner in which that relief may best be bestowed is a question to which no distinct answer could probably be given. Very much will depend on the circumstances, habits, and education of the individuals."

The armies of the Confederacy were composed of the citizens of the States. They left their homes to defend the rights they inherited, and if they survived the war, hoped to return to those from whom they parted. The destruction of their homes, and all that that word implies could alone break the charm of associations rendered more dear to them by the sacrifices they made. To such as these less than the expenditure necessary to maintain the inmates of an organized soldiers' home would give more happiness, if less comfort, than the military home would afford, governed with something not unlike the discipline of a military camp."

The Philadelphia Ledger has just celebrated its fiftieth anniversary. It is the most decent Republican paper we ever saw, and the proprietor, Mr. George W. Childs, is one of the most benevolent and kindest of men. We honor him and hold him as the noblest benefactor of the poor that his great city contains. We have before us a fac simile of the first number issued March 25, 1836. It is barely one-half the size of the STAR. It is now a large and clearly printed sheet. Swain, Abell and Simmons were the proprietors, and it was sold at one cent. Mr. Childs is a very rich man, worth several millions. Mr. Abell, one of the first proprietors, is still living, owns the Baltimore Sun, and is the richest newspaper proprietor in the United States, and, possibly, in the world. His fortune is placed at $10,000,000.

The National Sanitary Convention will meet in Philadelphia on the 12th of May and sit for three days. Gov. Pattison will deliver the address of welcome. The plan of exercises embraces a wide field of discussion upon twenty topics. Among these are the Sanitary Needs of School Buildings and Grounds; the Water Supply of Towns and Cities; the Disposal of Slops and Garbage; the Prevention of Communicable Diseases; the Influence of Clothing on Health; Ventilation; Drainage and Sewerage, &c. North Carolina ought to be represented and we would be pleased to know that Dr. Thomas F. Wood, of this city, was appointed by some one or somebody that will pay his expenses. This is not at his suggestion, be it said.

THE CITY.

MUNSON—ADVERTISEMENTS: C. M. McNETT—A card. C. M. McNETT—Thanks. B. F. WHITE—Card of thanks. S. H. MANNING—$100 reward. GODFREY HART—Caution notice. J. C. STEVENSON—Lowest prices. BURR & BAILEY—Card of thanks. MRS. S. C. BOWDEN—Card of thanks. N. JACOBI, Assignee—Office stationery.

Local News: — Criminal Court adjourned for the term yesterday. — There was no Mayor's Court yesterday morning. — The all-absorbing question now is, "where shall the next jail be built?" — Many persons saw yesterday what they have never seen before—the inside of a jail. — It was too warm last night at the station house for tramps, and consequently none applied for lodgings. — It is understood that the prisoners who were in jail here will be removed to Goldsboro for safe keeping, except the United States prisoners, who will be carried to Whiteville. — The Norwegian barque Condor, Capt. Syvertsen, was cleared from this port for Antwerp, yesterday, by Messrs. Pater son, Downing & Co., with 4,840 bbls. rosin, valued at $4,079.

— We were glad to see the "Cape Fear" steamer in action again Friday morning, and it is hoped the Committee on Fire Department will recommend an appropriation of money sufficient to place the company on an efficient basis. Wilmington cannot afford to dispense with the services of the "Cape Fear."

ANOTHER FIRE.

Wilmington Again Visited by the Destroying Element—A Livery Stable, the County Jail and a Number of Dwellings and Stores Destroyed—Origin of the Fire Unknown—Loss $27,000—Insurance $12,000.

Our city was visited by another disastrous fire yesterday morning about 9 o'clock. There are conflicting rumors as to the origin of the fire—some claiming that it originated in the rear of Messrs. Burr & Bailey's works, on South Front street, while others affirm that it started in the back yard of the premises on Second street occupied as a dwelling by Mrs. E. Warren.

THE PROPERTY DESTROYED. The shed of Messrs. Burr & Bailey, which was used for storing plows and lumber, was the first property burned, together with a small brick house in the same yard with the shed. From these structures the flames communicated to Mrs. Warren's residence—a large frame building—which was completely destroyed, together with all of its contents. The flames next spread to the brick tenement house on the south, one half of the lower floor of which was occupied by Mr. D. Newman as a dime store, and the other half for storing the plows, castings, etc., of Messrs. Burr & Bailey. The upper stories were occupied as residences by Mr. Thomas Rand and Mrs. Tracy. The latter lost everything, while the former saved only a small portion of his goods. All of the aforesaid buildings belonged to the estate of Hart & Bailey.

The fire then spread rapidly to the kitchen of Mr. John Hardin, only a few yards west of the tenement houses, and it was entirely consumed. This property was owned by Dr. J. D. Bellamy, upon which there was no insurance. The dwelling house of Mr. Hardin also caught, but was saved by the efforts of the firemen. A small brick house on the lot between Mr. Hardin's residence and the tenement houses belonging to Dr. Bellamy was also destroyed.

The fire then worked its way across the street to the frame building owned by Mr. A. Lessman, and occupied on the upper floor by Mr. R. J. Lewis and others, the basement having been recently used as a barber shop, but unoccupied at the time of the fire. This building was also completely destroyed, the inmates losing all they possessed.

The next buildings burned were those known as the Car Block, two of which were recently badly damaged by fire, and all unoccupied. They were owned by Mrs. Thomas Evans and Messrs. Wm. Larkins and Charles Bradley.

The brick residence of Mr. A. Lessman was damaged to a considerable extent, but was saved.

The frame building next south of Mr. Lessman's residence caught fire on the roof several times, but the flames were finally extinguished; owned by the John Brown estate.

The stores occupied by Mr. A. D. Wessell, owned by himself and Mr. C. M. Bonham, were damaged by water.

The building on Market street, between Second and Third, owned by Mr. W. B. McKoy, and occupied on the lower floors by Mr. Benjamin White and Geo. W. Price, Jr., was ignited by sparks. The upper portion of this building used by Mrs. C. V. Woodcock as a boarding house, was deluged by water, which was the principal damage done.

The residence of Miss Annie Hart, on Third street, near Market, and also another building in the same yard, were slightly damaged.

An outhouse on the premises of Mr. Henry Schutte, on Third street, and near the premises of Mr. H. Voller, corner of Second and Dock streets, also caught fire, but were soon put out.

THE LIVERY STABLE. In a short while after the first alarm was sounded the large frame building on Princess street, between Third and Fourth, occupied as a livery stable by Mr. J. H. Jones, was discovered to be on fire, sparks from the burning buildings on Second street having ignited this structure, and it was only a short time before it was in one huge blaze. Being an old building and containing a lot of hay, feed, etc., it served as ready fuel for the devouring flames. There were thirty-two horses in the stables, besides a large number of carriages, buggies, wagons, etc., and it seemed for a time that it would be impossible to save them; but by almost super-human efforts all the horses with one exception were saved, as was also a large portion of the rolling stock, though not until three buggies, eight or ten drays, one carriage, two delivery wagons and a large lot of harness were burned. A cow underneath the stable was also burned. Several horses that were turned loose in taking them out of the burning stables were still missing yesterday, though it is expected that they will soon be caught.

THE JAIL. From the burning stables the flames communicated to the county jail, and soon the whole interior of this building was on fire, and nothing now remains of the old landmark but the brick walls and the stone work and cells on the inside. The jail was built about the year 1856 by Messrs. J. C. and R. B. Wood, Sr., and the original cost of its construction was $10,000. There were twenty-seven prisoners in jail at the time, some of whom were serving out sentences, some being held for trial at the next term of the Criminal Court, and others awaiting to be transferred to the penitentiary at Raleigh, having been convicted at the present term of Court. The names of those convicted and sentenced were as follows: John Carver, manslaughter, one year in jail. Ben Bonham, larceny, six months in the county work house. Chas. Hill, assault and battery, three months in the county work house. Isaac Johnson, larceny, four years in the penitentiary. Henry King, embezzlement, one year in the penitentiary. Robt. H. Moore, larceny, two years in the penitentiary. A. Mainwaring, carrying concealed weapon, sixty days in the county work house. Caleb Pollock, larceny, twelve months in the county jail. Sarah Rich, affray, sixty days in the county work house. Bertha Smith, larceny, six months in the county work house. Henry Taylor, affray, sixty days in the county work house. Sandy Stewart, bigamy, twelve months in county workhouse. Sylvester Pope, bigamy, ten years in penitentiary. Alex. Stuart, burglary, twenty years in penitentiary. Henry Scott, rape, penitentiary for life. The following were either serving out terms or awaiting trial at the next term of court: Agnes Best, Jack Banks, William Davis, David Johnson, Thomas Kane, J. H. Miles, George Vann, Luke Suggs.

The remaining four were United States prisoners, awaiting trial at the next term of the U. S. District Court. Their names are James Norman, George Hall, Charles Guff and William P. Baldwin. The first two are held for violations of the internal revenue laws, and the last two for mutiny.

When the jailor, Emanuel Nichols, saw that the stables were on fire, and that the jail was in imminent peril, he at once set to work endeavoring to take the prisoners. It was determined to remove them to the city guard house, and accordingly the prisoners were handcuffed, as far as it was possible to do so, and the work of transferring them was begun. In endeavoring to do this, however, six of the prisoners succeeded in making their escape—George Vann, Alex. Stewart, Henry King, Chas. Hill, Caleb Pollock, and Ben Bonham. Alex. Stewart, it will be remembered, is the negro who pleaded guilty to two charges of breaking into and entering a store house at the last term of the Criminal Court, and sentenced to twenty years confinement in the penitentiary. He was taken in charge at the jail door by two policemen, and on the way to the guard house he broke from the officers and ran, nothing having been seen of him since. It would have been better for the community had any other prisoner in the jail escaped than this one, as he is a very dangerous and desperate character.

INSURANCE. The following is the insurance on the property destroyed: Mrs. E. Warren, on furniture, $1,500 in Liverpool & London & Globe, represented by Messrs. John W. Gordon & Smith. Mr. A. Lessman, on dwelling house and furniture, $5,000 in Hamburg-Bremen and Liverpool & London & Globe, represented by Messrs. J. W. Gordon & Smith; on wooden building, $3,000 in Phoenix of London, represented also by Messrs. J. W. Gordon & Smith; on furniture, $1,000 in the Sun Fire Office of London, represented by Mr. S. Willard. Messrs. Larkins, Bradley & Evans had $1,000 on their building in the Crescent of New Orleans, represented by Messrs. W. L. Smith & Co.; $3,000 in the Wilmington Mutual, represented by Mr. D. Cashwell, and $1,000 in the German Mutual, represented by Mr. L. J. Joisson.

The estate of Hart & Bailey had $1,500 insurance on the building occupied by Mrs. E. Warren in the Phoenix, of Brooklyn, represented by Messrs. Atkinson & Manning; on machine shop insurance for $610 in the Hamburg-Bremen, represented by Messrs. John W. Gordon & Smith. Messrs. Burr & Bailey had insurance for $1,890 in the Phoenix of London, represented by Messrs. John W. Gordon & Smith. Mr. A. D. Wessell, on stock, was insured for $1,150 in the Liverpool & London & Globe, and $500 in the Phoenix of London, represented by Messrs. John W. Gordon & Smith; on building, $1,500 in London Assurance and $1,650 in Germania Insurance Co. of New York, represented by Messrs. DeRosset & Northrop; on shed used for storing hay, etc., $600 in Virginia Fire and Marine, represented by Messrs. John W. Gordon & Smith. Capt. T. J. Southerland (Jones' stable) had insurance on building for $1,250 in the Liverpool & London & Globe, represented by J. W. Gordon & Smith. Mrs. C. V. Woodcock had $300 insurance on furniture in the Phoenix of London, represented by J. W. Gordon & Smith. Mr. J. H. Davis had insurance for $75 on a buggy burned at Jones' stable in the Crescent of New Orleans, represented by W. L. Smith & Co. The county jail was insured for $1,200 in the Connecticut of Hartford, represented by W. L. Smith & Co. The estate of the late John Brown had insurance on the house on Second street for $3,000 in the Underwriters of New York, represented by DeRosset & Northrop. The damage to the building was about $500. The amount of property destroyed is valued at about $29,000, and the insurance on the same, as far as we can now estimate, is nearly $13,000. MYRAIDS OF SPARKS. There was a strong south-west wind blowing during the fire, and it was with great difficulty that the private residences of some families, even though many blocks distant from the scene of the conflagration, could be kept from igniting, on account of the myriads of sparks blown from the burning buildings. By careful watching and keeping the roofs wet, however, no serious damage was occasioned from this source. Some houses as far off as Seventh street caught, but the fire was detected before any headway could be gained and extinguished.

THE FIREMEN. We cannot close our report without referring to the gallant services rendered by our efficient fire department. This organization, which is composed of the very best material among our young gentlemen, is an honor and credit to the city. With no incentive other than that of saving the property of their fellow-citizens, there is no risk too great for them to undertake when their services are needed by those whose property is in jeopardy. Both the white and colored companies did noble service yesterday morning, and too much praise cannot be bestowed upon them for the manful manner in which they fought to subdue the flames.

PERSONAL. Maj. B. W. Cobb, of the Goldsboro' Messenger, who now travels by private conveyance, reached here yesterday. He leaves to-day for Onslow. He carries a regulation rabbit foot in his vest pocket and is a firm believer in its talismanic power. We had the pleasure of meeting, yesterday, Mr. E. B. Borden, one of Goldsboro's most prominent and progressive business men.

Mr. T. D. Mann, general manager of the eating houses of the Atlantic Coast Line, was the city yesterday. Among the arrivals at the Orton yesterday were Chas. F. Mattheage and wife, A. McDowal, Morris Nunan, N. Y.; J. S. Frank, Balto.; B. Cameron, Raleigh, N. C.; O. Pierce, Phila.; J. H. Brewer, Hartford, Conn.; M. Frank, Va.; Thomas Beaver and servant, Miss E. Wilkin, Miss W. Wilken, Penn.; John Jones, Wilmington; Miss Sarah Alexander, Miss Sue Goodman, Del.; T. R. Thomas and wife, Uti-ca, N. Y.; J. P. Powers, Washington, D. C.; Seth Kitchen and wife, Charlotte, Mich.

Tom Kane. Tom Kane is a free man. The case against him for burglary was heard in the Criminal Court yesterday morning. Solicitor Moore stated that as he (Kane) had been acquitted on the charge of rape—the jury returning a verdict of not guilty evidently (in his opinion) on the ground of mistaken identity—and as he had the same evidence in the burglary case that was adduced at the late trial for rape, he would leave the matter entirely with the Court as to what disposition should be made of the prisoner. His Honor then announced that it would be a waste of time to go over the same evidence and have another trial at this term of the Court, and thought it best that a not. pro. with leave be entered, and the prisoner was accordingly discharged.

Bellvue Cemetery. A STAR representative, accompanied by a prominent city official, visited Bellvue Cemetery yesterday afternoon and spent a half hour in making a tour of the grounds. We found that many improvements had been made within the past year, and that the work of beautifying the place was still in progress.

Mr. Ward, the very able Superintendent, and at his post, and was attentive and courteous, as he always is to visitors. Our representative closed an important contract with Mr. Ward, the nature of which may be announced hereafter. It may be said, however, that it is not a contract that will necessitate the interposition of the committee on interments.

Directors' Meeting. A meeting of the Directors of the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads was held yesterday, at which a committee was appointed to look after the rebuilding of the railroad offices and warehouses recently destroyed by fire. The committee appointed consists of the President, General Manager, General Superintendent, and the two Wilmington Directors, Messrs. DeRosset and MacRae. The committee were empowered to take into consideration the advisability of building a covering for the iron bridge at the depot, and also of building stone platforms for the warehouses instead of wooden ones.

County Commissioners. A meeting of the Board of County Commissioners was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of taking some action in regard to building a new jail in place of the one destroyed by fire. Nothing definite was done, however, except that it was ordered that the Chairman of the Board of Magistrates be requested to call a meeting of the Board for the purpose of having a joint meeting of the Board of Magistrates and the County Commissioners in regard to the matter, to be held on Wednesday, March 31st.

The steamer Peed, which went to the assistance of the steamer Enchantress, succeeded in lowering the water in the latter vessel to a considerable extent, but was compelled to leave on account of the rough weather. The indications are now favorable for getting the Enchantress adrift.

Weather Indications. The following are the indications for to day: For the South Atlantic States, light local rains, winds generally southerly, slightly cooler, followed by nearly stationary temperature.

Thanks. I DESIRE TO RETURN THANKS TO THE FIRE Department for their successful efforts in saving my Electric Light Apparatus from destruction during the fire Friday morning. The Electric Light still burns as brilliantly as ever. mh 27 1/2 C. M. McNETT, Proprietor.

A Card. IN REPLY TO THE ARTICLE IN THE REVIEW regarding the origin of the fire on Friday morning, I beg to state that the Dynamo and Wires are located more than one hundred feet from the place where the fire originated. If the fire was caused by sparks from the chimney, which is equally absurd, as the chimney is more than eighty-five feet high, and the wind was blowing at a velocity of twenty miles per hour when the fire was discovered, then I fail to see any justice in intimating that the Electric Light has already cost Wilmington twenty thousand dollars. I may add that the Electric Light was extinguished, as usual, at 1:45. C. M. McNETT, Proprietor. Wilmington Electric Lighting Co. mh 27 1/2
