There are no Irish among the Anarchists in this country.

Senator Hampton's wound on the head, received in battle, is giving him trouble.

The President has now tried his hand at vetoing. He will hold a steady grip on his pen when that Grab bill comes before him.

It is not true that Mr. Cleveland works twenty-seven hours every day, nor does he write nineteen letters every day to his betrothed.

Archbishop Gibbons will be created a Cardinal on 10th June next. This event will be highly pleasing to the Roman Catholics of Baltimore and North Carolina, and especially to those of Wilmington,

The movement in the Southern Methodist General Conference look ing to a uniting of the two great Churches--North and South--may come to something. The South did not cause the split and it now proposes to unite. Magnanimous!

In wealth the Senators of the United States almost rival the old Roman Senators in the days of biggest plunderings. The Augusta Chroniele says:

Here is a fact that at once shows the evils and injustice of strikes. One thousand cutters in Philadelphia have struck. This crippled the clothing men and turned out of work fifteen thousand men and women who were satisfied with their wages. The cutters ask for eight hours' work and ten hours' pay.

Mr. Gladstone is possibly the most moral, the most religious of the British statesmen of the last hundred years. And yet a Tory paper accuses him of "flagrant immerality" because of his Home Rule bill-a measure intended to rectify the wrongs of centuries and to secure to Ireland even-handed justice. It is very moral to have coercive measures and to oppress a people already broken and impoverished. Such is the British Tory idea.

The New York World is not a model, but it is enterprising and dashing. In May, 1883, it printed 917, 043 copies. In April, 1886, it printed 5,498,094 copies. Its editor says:

"In the twelve months ending May 1, 1883, the World printed 87,148 advertisements. In the twelve months ending May 1, 1886, it printed 459,694 advertisements. For the week ending May 8, 1883, the total circulation of the World was 160,170 copies. For the week ending May 8, 1886, the total circulation was 1,314,332 copies."

H. M. S. Pinafore. The Bijou Opera Company will appear at the Opera House next Monday night to fill a week's engagement at popular prices; and on Friday night (the 20th) they will be assisted in presenting "Pinafore," by a large chorus of Wilmington talent. The company is a strong one in every respect-It has no chorus with it, but the operas are all given entire, the choruses being sung by the cast, and well sung, too. It numbers among the members some of the finest singers now travelling, among others Miss Adelaide Randall, Miss Chester, Miss Clara Randall, Miss Harrington, Messrs. Flint, Wilkie, Martin and Clare, under the management of Mr. Chas. T. Atwood, an old acquaintance in Wilmington. This company has spent the winter in the South, and visited Jacksonville, Fla., six times, where they are very popular. The proceeds of the performance on the night of the 20th will go to the Cornet Concert Club, to aid them in their reorganization and purpose to secure several professional musicians, with whom they hope to be able to give free open air concerts during the summer. With the cheap prices of admission the Opera House should be crowded every night of the engagement.

The Hemenway Graded School In dustrial Exhibit. On yesterday quite a number of our citizens visited the Hemenway school or Fourth street, and came away well pleased with what they saw and heard. The prin cipal attraction was a novel vet successful industrial exhibit. There were on exhibition about two hundred articles, all made by the pupils, and made too in such a way as to show that the little ones are being led early in life to learn how to turn a hand to that which is useful. It is really surprising to see what can be made by children so young. The school will be open for visitors to day from ten a. m. to two p. m. and we advise all who take an interest in such matters to go and see for themselves. The school authorities are anxious to have the public inspect the schools and see what is being done for the children of the city.

Hon. A. M. Waddell's Address Before the Board of County Commissioners. The Board of County Commissioners met in adjourned session at the Court-House yesterday afternoon to hear argument from Hon. A. M. Waddell in advocacy of the proposed plan for new public buildings and a park circle at the intersection of Third and Princess streets.

All the members of the Board were present, as well as a number of other citizens. Col. Waddell spoke for about twenty minutes. He was listened to with marked attention and frequently applauded. Briefly stated, the plan is to erect a new county court house at the northwest corner of Third and Princess streets, to convert the present court house into a residence for the jailor and officers, and build the jail in the rear of the present building; the new government building to be located on the southwest corner of Third and Princess. It is proposed besides, to cut off a quarter section of a circle from the four corners to form an open space 250 feet in diameter which is to be laid out as an ornamental park or grounds, with grass plats, and fountains or statues in the centre of the circle. It is estimated that the new court house and jail, built on the plan proposed, would cost the county fifty thousand dollars.

Col. Waddell, after congratulating the Board upon their wise and skillful administration of county affairs, said that he did not appear as the paid attorney or advocate of any person-only at the request of friends of the improvement, who had no private interest to promote, but were deeply interested as citizens in all that pertained to the welfare of the community and the city's advancement and prosperity.

With regard to the new government building and its location he said that he had been personally assured by the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department that when the agent comes here to select a site he will be instructed to consult the municipal authorities and the people as to the location of the building, and that no private transaction will be had with any one in regard to it. As to building a new county jail he urged it as a matter of great importance. "Wilmington," he said, "is the largest city in North Carolina and it is a notorious fact that her county court house is about the poorest building of the kind in the State. There is not a county seat of one-half her population that does not possess a better one, and many that do not much more imposing and convenient structure. The fact is that this court house, although you have improved it and deserve credit for the improvement, is absolutely discreditable to a place of this size. That a new one must be built at an early day is an acknowledged fact. The self respect of the community, to say nothing of the spirit of progress so universal in our country and which, though late in coming, is now here and to stay, demands it, and the demand must be complied with very soon." He was authorized to say that if the County Commissioners would issue bonds for $50,000 running twenty years, to build the court house and jail according to

As to the requirements of the law in regard to changing the site of the jail, he said that there was nothing to be lost by deferring action until the December meeting of the Commissioners; but that it would enable them to ascertain what the public sentiment really is in regard to the matter There was no expression of opinion by the Commissioners in regard to the matter. and after the conclusion of Col. The Fire Alarm. The trouble with the Gamewell firealarm was a broken wire, which the Superintendent, Mr. C. C. Brown, found Tuesday night, after a long search, in the neighborhood of the Water Works. The wire had parted at one of the poles in such manner that both ends remained in position, and it therefore required the closest scrutiny to detect the break. The single taps of the bell heard Tuesday evening were caused by the Superintendent testing the was at different stations in his search for the break. It is a feature of the Gamewell system that whenever a wire is broken it causes the hammer to strike the bell once, thus giving notice of the trouble.

THIS SEASON WE CAN OFFER OUR OUStomers an improvement on the old Iron age Cultivator. While the attachments of the Iron Age will fit our Cultivator, still we can furnish these attachments at lower prices than ever paid before. It is of the best construction and material, and we think it a "Daisy."
