Sundry papers that favor the Blair Educational grab are constantly referring to the Blair Pension "grab." They are both well named.

The Lords say they will amend the Home Rule out of shape when it comes to them. There is music in the air. Is it a drum and fife?

Senator Kenna says he is not pleased with the workings of the Civil Service humbug reform, so called. What good, true Democrats can be?

It is claimed that Chicago has 6,000 Anarchists. There are probably 50,000 in the Union. If the Ameri can people should get down right mad some day they would make short work of the bloody scoundrels.

The are some people who are delighted when they hear of the present Administration appointing a Republic in postmaster, and they do not call themselves Republicans either. Immensely funny! Ha! ha!

Our Methodist friends in the General Conference are much wedded to their name, and especially that absurd and ungrammatical suffix - "South." The advocates of the change ought to insist upon the parsing of the name by the men who favor its re-

The Charleston News and Courier says of Bishop Duncan:

"In 1877, he was elected to succeed his brother, Dr. James A. Duncan, as President of Randolph Macon College, Va, but de-clined the honor to hold his position in Wofford College. Bishop Duncan is of fine presence, of winning address and of very popular manners. He is an able preacher, a cultivated professor, and as financial secretary of Wofford College has attained distinction as a man of excellent judgment and great financial skill.

The Kentuckians seem capable of making themselves silly over every Pennsylvanian Protectionist that visits that State. They burrahed over Randall, and are now hurrahing over old Simon Cameron, one of the most vicious of American politicians during the most corrupt era of American politics. The idea of any Southern people making a demonstration over a corrupt old South hater like old Simon Magus of Pennsylvania.

Major Bacon, at Sparta, told Gen. Gordon that he lied, but there will be no duel. Gen. G. is a member of the Presbyterian church. Here is what provoked it, as telegraphed to the New York World:

"Hartington's speech yesterday is regarded in the House as having completed the work begun by the Marquis of Salisbury. It was to many a complete surprise. Probably no one in the country was more astounded than Mr. Chamberlain. Two days before the names of Hartington and Chamberlain were linked together as the coming leaders of a coalition Ministry Now Hartington declares against any form of home rule, and puts his supposed friend and ally in a peculiarly awkward position."

The gifted Labouchere made a speech in the British House in which he used his abounding wit and sarcasm against Chamberlain and "the rebellion" in Ulster. A cablegram to the New York World says of his

"He then defended Mr. Parnell's course during the entire Parliamentary campaign, and praised highly the Protestant leader's sagacity and statesmanship. As to the as-sertion that had often been made in the House, to the effect that Mr. Parnell would be satisfied with nothing short of separation, he said that in this the Irish leader had acted very wisely, since in cases of countries or parties almost at war the invariable practice was to ask for more than would necessarily be given. His parting shot was a parody of a sentence in one of Mr. Chamberlain's recent speeches: 'Can anything be considered more atrocious than that a large Catholic population be sub-jected to the rule of such gentlemen as the Orange body sent over here?' This elicited roars of laughter from the entire House."

THE STATE MEDICAL SO-CIETY.

New Bern Journal Report, Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock a arge number of the medical fraterni ty of North Carolina, from all sections of the State, assembled in the court house. Dr. J. B. Hughes called 15 inches in circumference.

- Goldsboro Messenger: A public meeting in Onslow endorses Hon. W. J Green for renomination to Congress. Col. Green is a faithful worker and stands well at Washington. The interests of this district may safely be entrusted to his hands another term, and deservingly so.

- Raleigh News-Observer: Telegrams received here Tuesday, in regard to the death of Mr. Perrin Busbee, at Wichita, Kansas, were untrue. Yesterday telegrams were received from Mr. Busbee's wife, at New York, stating that she was in receipt of telegrams from him and that he was

-- Newton Enterprise: A negro who was employed at Mr. Jacob Carpenter's saw mill, in Lincoln county, last week had a pistol in his possession which he wished to conceal from his employer, and in order to do so slipped it in his boot leg, muzzle up. When he went to take it out again the hammer caught and the pistol was discharged. The ball passed through the scrotum and buried itself in his shoul-

- Charlotte Chronicle: One span of the Yadkin river bridge has been swept away, and also Coddle Creek bridge, on the R. & D. Railroad. On the Air-Line road a bridge at Spartanburg was washed away and there was a washout at Black Creek. Trains on the C., C. & A. road are also detained from causes produced by the recent heavy rains. — Owing to the great damage along the line of the R. & D. road, and the break in the transmission of mail matter, a telegram was received in this city this morning instructing all mail for the Northern and Eastern States to be sent by the Carolina Central via Hamlet.

- Dallas Current; George Detter, our popular mechanic, while hewing a tennon on last Wednesday with a foot-adze, cut his right knee severely. - We have an inventive genius in the person of J. H. Strange just in off the Wilson Short Cut says that the reported strike on the road must have been at the other end of the line. - The Evening News has decided to be read five evenings in the week, so we make our beginning to-day. --- Mr. D. S. Owens tells us that one of the hounds taken to Georgia in a pack by Mr. W. R. Mc-Duffle, made his way back to Keyser, over land and alone. The wagons which he followed were fourteen days reaching the turpentine woods of Georgia. When the dog left for North Carolina he made the trip in four days, the distance being 350 miles. When he reached his old home he could not jump the fence, and he had to be helped over. His limbs were stiff.

- Durham Recorder: We learn from Mr. J. S. Manning, chairman of the Executive Committee of this judicial district, that all but one of the committee favor holding the convention at this place. The convention will be called to meet in Durham the day before the State Convention, which meets in Raleigh the 25th of August. Why not hold the Congressional Convention here also the same day? - We learn from J. R. Patton, who has just returned from a trip to Alamance, that the cyclone a few days ago, did great damage to the people who were in its track. The track was about one mile wide. It entered Alamance in the direction of Reidsville, at the upper edge of Morton's township, thence in a southeasterly direction by Haw river, Kerr's mill, and on to Morrow's mill, in Orange county. The wheat and clover fields were beat as clean as they were last December. The chickens and sheep were killed. The gardens, fruit trees, &c., size from that of a ben egg to as large as a goose egg. There are no tobacco plants left where the cyclone passed. The damage to the property cannot be estimated. The whole crop is lost and every window broken out, - Charlotte Observer: The Charlotte bound passenger train on the Rich-mond & Danville Road crossed the Yadkin bridge yesterday at noon. The train had scarcely disappeared in the distance when the bridge went down. The passenger coaches were crowded, and when the train reached Salisbury and the passengers heard that the bridge had fallen behind them, they felt like they had been sentenced to be hanged but had received a respite. It was a narrow escape. - Acres upon acres of Dr. Charles Duffy submitted the growing crops have been ruined, railroad a gloomy one.

property to the extent of thousands of dol-lars has been swept away, and the end is not yet, as vast milling interests along the banks of the Catawba are in peril. The story of the storm is a gloomy one, for aside from the destruction of railroad property, there is in this section scarcely a farmer who is not a sufferer by the flood. From the best information that can be obtained, it appears that the storm was not general, but was confined to comparatively a small territory. The rainfall was heaviest in Mecklenburg, Gaston, Lincoln, Cleveland, Rutherford and Catawba counties, but heaviest of all in Mecklenburg. - The news from the Catawba received late last evening was of an alarming character, and parties in this city who own milling interests along that stream were filled with feelings of uneasiness. Later, s second dispatch was received stating that McAden's bridge at the factory had gone down, and that the Air Line railroad bridge was in great peril. The Catawba was still rising at dark. — There will be no more calls for Tom Ellis, the favorite old carriage driver, for he has hauled his last passenger, shut his carriage door and cast down the lines forever. He died yesterday morn ing at 1 o'clock, after a very sudden and brief attack of inflammation of the brain.

Ladies' Memorial Association.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Oakdale Memorial Association, held on Thursday afternoon last, the following officers and managers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

President-Miss Hettie James. Vice President-Mrs. John J. Hedrick. Treasurer-Mrs. E. A. Anderson. Secretary--Miss E. Kate Burr.

Managers-Mrs. Wm. R. French, Mrs. Wm. Daggett, Mrs. John F. Garrell, Mrs. Eugene A. Wiggins, Mrs. John T. Rankin, Mrs. Nora McRae, Miss Julia James, Miss Bettie Price, Mrs. Roger Moore, Mrs. T. H. McKoy, Mrs. Josh. T. James, Mrs. A. L. DeRosset, Mrs. John L. Cantwell, Mrs. John A. Brown, Mrs. Benj. Jacobs, Mrs. Thos. C. Craft, Mrs. Gabe'l Holmes.

After the reading of the President's report by the Secretary, a motion was made and carried to this effect: that a committee of ladies selected from the managers be appointed to wait upon all ex-members of the Association, or rather upon those who have been members of the Association, and who, through either forgetfulness, neglect or inability, have failed to pay their yearly subscription. These the committee will visit for the purpose of ascertaining if any whose names are still on the records feel a desire to renew their subscriptions. Seveeral new names were added to the list of membership for the year, and much interest was manifested at the meeting.

Criminal Court. In this court yesterday the following cases were heard:

State vs. John Gooding; larceny. Verdict guilty. Judgment not pronounced. State vs. Frank Smith; keeping a vicious dog. Case submitted, and judgment rendered for the costs.

State vs. Frank May Banks; burglary. Verdict guilty. Judgment not pronounced. State vs Henry Williams alias Luke Suggs; assault and battery. Not guilty; defendant discharged.

Every time we think of last night's performance of "Pinafore," by the Bijou Opera Company, most pleasant recollections are brought to our mind. The Carolina Central.

The recent heavy rains in the up-country caused but little damage to the Casolina Central Railroad. Six miles east of Shelby there was a wash out, but it was speedily repaired and did not delay trains. Yesterday morning the Pee Dee river was very threatening, the water being within five feet of the Sherman freshet, but the high water began to subside at 11 o'clock. The Carolina Central is the only road now running into Charlotte without interruption, travel being impeded on all the other roads away. Passengers from the South arriving in Charlotte over the Richmond & Danville road are now taken by the Carolina Central. Hog Cholera. Sheriff Taylor, of Brunswick county, says, concerning this complaint, prevailing the Atlantic Coast Line for the North.

"There is nothing that I have ever tried that will cure after hogs take the disease; but there is a preventive. Tar, grease and sulphur mixed together and applied to the hogs every three or four weeks, will pre-vent any disease. Give them sulphur and copperas in meal and water or slops, while raising them, occasionally, will keep hogs clear of worms, and cause them to thrive. Put spirits of turpentine on the corn fed to them every two weeks; apply tar, grease and sulphur on one side of an ear of corn and let the hogs eat it; it is good for them. If persons raising hogs will apply all the above preventives regularly. from the time they are pigs, we will hear no more complaint about hog cholera."

From Smithville.

Rev. W. A. Forbes came up from Smithville yesterday, on his return to Magnolia. He says that the religious interest awakened in Smithville has spread throughout the community, and the meetings are still going on with increased fervor. There have been about seventy-five conversions, and among the number many leading, citizens of the place. The meetings have been conducted by the Rev. Mr. McFarland, assisted by Rev. Mr. Forbes, Rev. Mr. Loving and Rev. Mr. Ferguson, of the M. E. Church, and Rev. Mr. Cohen, of the Baptist Church in Smithville.

Base Ball. It seems that the Columbia correspondent of the News and Courier was a little too hasty in the statement that the Columbia Club had given up the idea of visiting this city. We saw a letter yesterday from the secretary of the Columbia nine, stating that their team would visit Wilmington and play on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of June.

Blackfish Excursion.

The excursion yesterday to the Blackfish grounds on the steamer Italian was a great success. About forty persons participated. The boat returned early in the evening with bushels of fine fish.
