The Marion Club will arrive here on Monday morning and cross bats with the Seaside of this city at their grounds that afternoon.

There is expectation of a lively game, with the chances of success somewhat in favor of the visitors. The South Carolina boys have been practicing quite hard, and with the assistance of a professional battery, will play a fine game.

The Seaside has been fighting against adverse circumstances, and while not in as good trim as at this time last year, are nevertheless in fair condition and determined to play for all they are worth.

Good playing can be expected, and all indications point to a large crowd at this, the opening game of the season.
