It was an appreciation of this fact which had led 100,000 laborers from one end of the country to the other to remonstrate againt the passage of such a bill as this.

Mr. Romeis of Ohio confined his remarks in opposition to the bill to the consideration of the injury which it would work upon the ship building industry on the Northern lakes.

Mr. Buchanan of New Jersey opposed the bill. He did not believe that the spirit of patriotism would be fostered if the American flag floated over English built ships. That might do for gentlemen on the other side, but as for him, give him an American built ship, with an American motto, manned by American seamen, floating the American flag over an American cargo. Discussion of a Revision of the Hymn Book.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, May 22 .- The report of the Committee on Hymn Book was submitted. The report simply asked that the papers referred to the Committee looking to a revision of the Hymn Book may be returned to the Conference. The Committee did not have time, on account of the near approach of the final adjournment of the Conference, to consider the matter.

- Dr. P. A. Peterson, of Virginia, offered a substitute for the report, recommending that the College of Bishops appoint a committee of nine to revise the Hymn Book, which committee shall be divided into three sections, the members of each section to be selected with reference to the convenience of location for their work; that when the work of preparatory revision shall be finished by each section, it shall be reviewed by the whole committee; that when the work shall have been approved by the Bishops it shall be put into the hands of the Book Agent to be published for the use of the Church; that the Book Agent shall have authority to pay, on the order of the chairman of the committee, the expenses that shall be incurred the committee in the prosecution bv of their work. It is recommended that those hymns be excluded which are rarely or never used in public or social worship That when it can be judiciously done, long hymns be abridged, and that none exceed twenty-four lines. That particular attention be paid to arrangement and classifica tion of hymns, according to the subject. That the whole number of hymns do not exceed 860. That a committee be instructed to prepare a tune book as a companion to the hymn book if they deem it necessary. After a lengthy discussion the substitute was adopted.
