The bride of the President, unlike his sister, is said to be a Democrat.

Tammany mourns. John Kelly has gone "to the happy hunting grounds."

Blaine's indorsing of Home Rule excites the general comment. He is fishing for Irish voters in 1888.

It is thought that the vote on the second reading of the Home Rule bill will not come off before Monday.

The lava from Ætna has got within four hundred yards of the town of Nicolosi. It is time to move out.

The New York Enterprise, a colored organ, nominates for 1888, Grover Cleveland and Fred Douglass.

If you have any appreciation of postry of a high sort read the poem to day in the STAR by that genuine British genius, Kingsley.

After this you will find the newspaper toadies chirping about the "first lady in the land." What a job the fool-killer has on hand!

More light is being let in upon the Knights of Labor. The news from Cleveland, Ohio, brings very damaging charges against the organization. It is to the effect that in the organization there is an an inner, another organization -- a wheel within a wheel-that is secret, oath-bound and that it has been expressly formed to "down" Mr. Powderly and the general officers.

The phonograph is to be used to report proceedings of courts and public assemblies. It is said that some electricians in Washington have been successfully experimenting. A special says:

"One of the machines can be taken into a court, for instance, and ail of the pro-ceedings will be recorded by it At the close of the day it can be carried to a room and gauged to talk at any rate of speed, at 30 words a minute for instance, which can be written out by an ordinary long-hand writer. If it is desired to get the proceed. ings transcribed as fast as they occur new cylinders are put in the phonograph as fastas the proceedings are written out.

The American actor Dixey has been hissed in London. It will be remembered that about 1848, Edwin Forrest was hissed in the same city. In 1849, Macready, the then greatest English actor, came to the United States and when attempting to play in New York there was a riot in which several perished. The Philadelphia News thus foreshadows what may happen:

"If Mr. Wilson Barrett has heard this morning, as has everybody in the United States, that Dixey's play was hissed in London, the said Mr Barrett knows exantly what to expect when he comes to

Mr. Bright claims to have been misunderstood in his letter to Chamberlain. He is said to be opposed to granting any Parliament to Ireland, but, far from agreeing with Mr. Chamberlain, holds that if a Parliament be granted it would be most desirable that Irish representatives should not vote in the imperial Parliament. But he is against Gladstone and his influence is very great. Apropos of this is a letter in the Paris Nouvelle Revue by Eugene Davis. He predicts a "storm of vengeance and reprisals if coercion is again tried in Ireland."

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XXXVIII,---NO. 64.

WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, JUNE 5, 1886.

Judge Kelley, of Philadelphia, is said to have a very peculiar appetite that is provoked to do enormous things under the excitement of a public speech. His eating then is said to be ravenous. The Philadelphia Record says:

"The more he talks the hungrier it appears to make him. I've seen the old gentleman talk into an important committee meeting directly after disposing of a hearty luncheon and steadily for an hour, after which he would at once hurry to the restau rant and have some more luncheon. Sometimes when he had a long speech to make the waiters would have orders to keep him supplied at intervals with such dainty tid-bits as broiled chicken or pate de foie gras sandwiches, and I once saw him astonish even the gentlemen who had grown used to his peculiarity by eating two broiled chick-ens after making a tariff speech of an hour."

He is not called "Pig-iron" from any supposed piggish proclivities, but it refers to his big investments in iron mines that make the "pig," and his willingness, after the true Pennsylvanian style (ask Sam Randall,) to have the whole American people taxed for his benefit.

It may interest some of our read ers to see the latest speculations of Thomas Power O'Connor, M. P. and Irish Home Ruler, as to the political outlook in England on Wednesday. He cables the New York Star as fol-

"The situation to-night is absolutely uncertain, but the chances still look strongly against the success of the bill. A small majority for the second reading is for practical purposes little better than a defeat The effect on the future of the government and the bill would be the same. It is impossible to forecast the division with any approach to accuracy to-night. Various influences are at work, the result of which no one can predict. * * * The peculiar underground tactics of Mr. Chamberlain are being mercilessly attacked in all the constituencies where the caucus is strong enough to be worth fighting. It will be seen that the contest is rapidly country, and the effect of this latest move on the part of the Gladstonites is beginning to be reflected among the bolters. The publication of John Bright's letter, too, has had a wholesome effect not intended by the writer on the doubtfuls. It has created a universal fear in the Liberal ranks that the split has gone so far as to insure a return of the Tories to power, which is about the last thing the Liberals as a body

- Statesville Landmark: In Beaver Creek township there are nine persons living in sight of each other, the youngest of whom is 76 years of age and the oldest 94. Seven of the nine are Fergusons. — Joseph Finley Wyatt, a boy living in Mulberry township, is seven years old and weighed 120 pounds on his birth-

- Salisbury Watchman: Mr. David Lindsay, while visiting his father at South River, recently, had a narrow escape from death. Being caught in a thunder storm he took refuge under a tree, but thinking it hardly a safe place, he started away, when the tree was struck and splin-tered. He was knocked down within five steps of the tree, and was stunned, but otherwise unhurt. - Charlotte Chronicle: Congressmen Bennett and Cowles so strongly resemble each other as to be called in Washington the two Dromios. They were both born in 1840. — The Rev. Sam Small spoke this afternoon in Tryon Street Methodist church to a large congregation, principally ladies. He was listened to with strict attention. His remarks were upon temperance. - Pittsboro Home: Judge Clark is thought by the people of Chatham to be a model Judge. He has given eminent satisfaction to all. Never before have we heard a judge so complimented. He is so prompt, punctual and diligent. He is patient and gives every point a full and careful hearing, but he keeps everything moving and has a wonderful facility of dispatching business. He is an educator.

- Asheville Citizen: The color of our paper of this issue will show to what straits railroad wrecks and changes of gauge have reduced us. There was not enough white paper in Asheville to publish prohibition manifestoes and dodgers, and the streets were filled with fluttering placards of red or blue, or whatever would receive ype. For ourselves, we adapted ourselves to circumstances—got the best and all we could, a little bilious in color perhaps.

- Graham Gleaner: We learn that a number of the farmers in different portions of the county are not planting so much tobacco this year as heretofore. The reduction of acreage is a capital plan. — Maj. A. B. Tarpley, a former citizen and ante bellum deputy sheriff of this county, died near Little Rock, Ark., a few weeks ago, aged 78 years lacking nearly four weeks, having been born April 23rd, 1808.

- Here is an interesting item from the Norfolk correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch: Capt. W. W. Chamberlaine, Treasurer of the Seaboard & Roanoke Railroad, forwarded to Capt. J. B. Heard, in New York, a Confederate officer's full uniform to be worn by Capt. Heard in the Grand Army parade on Decoration Day. Capt. Heard is from North Carolina, and during the war was an officer in the Army of Northern Virginia. He was invited to appear in the parade by the Grand Army Posts in the uniform of the Confederate States army as a rebuke to the fanatics who recently raised such a howl about the toast that Capt. Saunders drank to Hon. Jefferson Davis at the reunion of the Chatham artillery.

- Lenoir Topic: Mesers, J. P. Council, of Brushy Fork, and Jordan Mc-Ghee, of New River, gave us a call Friday, and spoke of the complaint in the mountains about the failure of corn to come up. - The verdict of the jury, sent to examine the prospect for a good wheat crop, report favorably. In some localities rust has appeared on the leaf, but the heads seem to be filling and an abundant yield is expected. Last Saturday evening Joseph Sloop, about 70 years of age, living near Taylorsville, on the Lenoir road, committed suicide by hanging himself to the limb of a tree with a hickory withe. - Charlotte Observer: Mr. Biles, foreman of Mr. A. C. Springs' plantation at Fort Mill; was yesterday assaulted and probably fatally injured by a colored farm hand. Mr. Biles' skull was badly fractured by a blow a rock in the hands of the negro. - A colored man, who gave his name as S. B. Jones, yesterday appeared on the streets with his head bandaged and his left arm in splints. He reported that on Thursday night of last week he was set upon by three colored men, at the Lincolnton depot. in this city, and was beaten and robbed of several checks which he held on Charlotte banks. His left arm was broken and his head badly cut by his assailants.

-- Elizabeth City Economist: Dr Milton Selby, a prominent citizen of Hyde county, died at Lake Landing May 8th. He was a useful member of the Episcopal Church and a leading member of the Masonic fraternity. — Columbia dot: A negro, Sam Simpson by name, was thrown from a flat and drowned on the 13th ult. - Bishop Watson held services at St. David's on the 9th ult and confirmed nine candidates. His lecture to the Sunday school children, numbering about 100, was very instructive. - Sladesville item: Some of us in this part of Hyde are filled with grave apprehensions by the disposition to replace Tom Skinner with some other man at our next Congressional nominating convention. - Gatesville correspondent: At this writing the crops in this county are looking better than for several Great interest is felt in the matter of the Onslow railroad project. Petitions in circulation asking that the question of subscription by the city be submitted to a vote of the people have been signed by a great many citizens. The matter will be presented to the Board of Aldermen Mon-

Damaged Corn. The schooner John P. Kelsey arrived here a few days ago with ten thousand bushels of corn from Rappahannock river, Va. She began discharging cargo, and after about six thousand bushels had been taken out it was discovered that part of the corn was damaged by water. Consignees at first ejected the remainder of the cargo, but it rwas subsequently ascertained that not more than 1,500 bushels were spoilt.

BASE BALL.

The Last Game of the Series - Seasides 8, Columbias 7.

No more exciting game has taken place on the Seaside Park grounds than that played yesterday. It seemed at first that the home team had it all their own way, and as one run after another was scored and Columbia drew blanks at almost every inning, the result appeared as in little doubt. On the sixth inning, however, they brought one man over the plate and did the same thing on the eighth; the score standing at this stage seven for the Seasides and two for Columbia. On the ninth and last inning, the visitors began to slug the balls, and when the umpire called the third and last man out, the score stood seven to seven with one inning for the home boys yet unplayed. Waddell came to the bat, was sent to first on balls, by a splendid run went to second on Kurtz's ball to the pitcher who fumbled and failed to throw in time to catch him, reached third by a passed ball and crossed the home plate winning the game by Kurtz's timely and clever sacrifice at second. The Seasides played eight innings well Moore did some fine box work and struck out six men in succession. He needs a little closer hug of the pig skin and consequent better control of the ball, when Wil mington will have no need of men from elsewhere to do the tossing. Rosenthal did the old first up in style and got mighty close to the ground for one important ball, but held it all the same. There was very little field work for the home team yesterday.

The umpiring was considered by both sides as fair and impartial.

The home team found themselves on the eve of the game short one man, when Mr. Lake, a member of the Marion club, kindly volunteered his services. He rendered valuable assistance; a hit for two bases-the hit of the game-being vigorously applauded by the crowd.

The following is the score:

We stated in yesterday's issue that Sumter had a professional team, but we understand they employ a first class battery only, and have a home team that can wipe out anything in the State. A Strange Story.

Alfred M. Bennett, a colored man, who ives on Queen between Sixth and Seventh streets, tells a strange story about a white infant that his wife has had the care of for six or seven months past. Bennett is a laborer, who saws wood and does other odd jobs for any one who may desire his services. He says that one day last winter while he was passing up Market street, he was stopped by a white man, a stranger in the city, who asked if he knew of any col ored woman who could be hired to take care of an infant about five weeks old. After further conversation an arrangement was made by which Bennett's wife agreed to take charge of the infant, and the latter was delivered to her by the man and a lady who accompanied him. Bennett was paid in part for the service, and more money was promised, and the man and woman left. Neither were ever heard of or seen again until a few days ago, when Bennett unexpectedly met the man on one of the streets of the city and told him that the child was alive and well, but that the money agreed to be paid to his wife for the care of the babe had never been received. The man promised to see Bennett the following day and make further arrangements for the care of the little waif; but instead of doing this he left town that night. Heavy Rains. There were heavy rains north and west of Wilmington Thursday night. Along the line of the river the rainfall is represented to have been remarkable. The steamer Hurt on her way down was obliged to tie up at a landing below Elizabethtown. Rain in this section was needed, and no doubt crops have been greatly benefitted.

Knights of Labor.

The two divisions of the order in this city known as Knights of Labor, are said to have a large membership. They hold their meetings separately, but when one division meets a committee from the other is always present. The whites hold their meetings every Thursday evening at a hall on North Front street near Market.

Physician and nurse, principally among children.
She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city.
Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are DALLY sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable arti cle, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed.
