There are serious troubles going on inSligo, Ireland, between Orangemen and Catholics.

Hostility between President Cleveland and Gov. Hill, of New York, is promptly denied by both.

Bourbon Ghost "will not down," and is forever haunting the French Republican leaders.

Sir Wilfred Blunt has announced that he will hereafter support Home Rule to the utmost of his ability.

The Charleston News and Courier refers to Bishop Duncan as "Rt Rev." That is not the title of a Methodist Superintendent.

It is all a lie about Miss Mary N. Murfree, the gifted Tennessee novelist, and her marriage. She is not engaged to any one. The hars still

The racer known as "Miss Wood ford" is a clipper. She is now "queen of the turf," and is said to be the equal of the famous racers of other days. She won 33 out of 43 runs.

The war in Georgia still rages, Since the old house burner and bummer, Cump Sherman, devastated Georgia there has been no such excitament. There are some 90 counties yet to be heard from.

A paper announces that "Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland are alone in the White House," So glad, Let the newspapers allow them to stay "alone" for at least a week. American gush and rigmarole are awful.

Prof. Gildersleeve, the greatest of American Greek scholars probably, will deliver a course of lectures this summer on Greek before the Episcopat University at Sewanee, Tenn. This is the beginning of a classical revival in the South.

A friend writes us that he is quite, certain that both the University and Davidson conferred the degree of LL. D. on President H. E. Shepherd in 1883. We asked the question having some doubt in our mind. We are glad it was done for it was well

Episcopal ministers in Indiana are very properly expected to keep out of politics. The Convention adopted the following:

"That it is the sense of this convention that any clergyman seeking official position, and making a personal solicitation of votes, ought not to be elected, and that he is guilty of conduct unbecoming a clergyman of the Church of Christ."

About as novel a case as we have heard of in a life time has just been instituted in Burlington county, N. J. Miss Ella Wilcox sues her father for breach of promise. He gave his consent for her to marry John Cook, and then changed his mind. She was damaged thereby and sues to recover. The old man will have "to

Dr. J. G. Armstrong has certainly strong friends in Atlanta. He is suspended for five years but this only draws around him the closer those who believe in him. An exchange says:

"The members of St. Philip's have organized a lecture association, which is to meet every Friday night, and Dr. Armstrong has been elected lecturer. Already there are 200 members who have paid up their annual dues of $12 each. The object is understood to be the retension of Dr. Armstrong in this way until his term expires, when he will be recalled to the pulpit of St. Philip's "

At Vincennes, Indiana, there is a big excitement. Eight white pupils refused to be graduated with a negro girl from a colored school. The authorities are firm and the community is said to be indignant, but whether at the conduct of the trustees or the eight white girls we are not informed. The New York World calls this "boycotting a colored girl." Probably the World disapproves of the eight young women.

The Grand Old Man has more true wisdom and greatness than every leader opposed to him put together. The London News thus comments on his manifesto to the Midlothian elec-

"The clear, sharp, decisive sentence brush aside with remorseless common sense the cobwebs so industriously spread to confuse and entangle the question, and the people will rally around the statesman who has the courage and capacity to lead them to a happy and honorable settlement of this great domestic quarrel."

"Remorseless common sense"

Mr. Thomas Power O'Connor, by far the most interesting contributor to the N. Y. Star, in his London letter of the 13th inst. says Chamberlain's manifesto was premature. The London Observer, that has stood by him, pronounces him "an incorrigible incompetent whose pettifogging ideas of national reforms cover him with shame." Mr. O'Connor says that he "is no longer an important factor in the struggle." He says the "real issue now is Gladstone and justice against Salisbury and coercion." Even Lord Hartington is not certain to be returned. His constituents are divided. His seat will be warmly contested by a sound Gladstone Liberal.

The Temperance Movement.

The success of the Prohibitionists in recent local elections in some places in this State has greatly stimulated the friends of Temperance in this city, who are working quietly but none the less steadily and energetically. Efforts are being made to awaken renewed interest in the movement, especial ly among the colored people, and under the auspices of the Bible Union Temperance Society meetings to this end are being held. One of these meetings will be held to night at the Ebenezer Baptist Church.

An Odd Craft. The Dutch schooner R. H., Capt. Hassell, lying in the stream opposite Nun streek dock, is probably the smallest foreign vessel that ever brought a cargo into the port of Wilmington. She registers only forty-six tons. Her cargo is a queer one, too, consisting, as the manifest shows, of one hundred puncheons of molasses and seven and a half dozen straw hats.

First of the Season.

A letter to the STAR from Robeson county (no postoffice given) encloses a cotton bloom, which the writer, (Mr. D. Campbell) says is from Robeson county and opened on the 14th inst. Mr. Campbell says also: "Cotton is growing well and is Southern Railroad through their counties. generally in good fix; but we have had to While the route through Lincoln is ungenerally in good fix; but we have had too. BASE BALL.

Sumter vs. Seasides.

Never has such excitement over a game of ball been evinced as was shown over the game of yesterday. The grand stand was filled to its utmost capacity, the right field fence was lined, and an eager, expectant crowd, proud of the home team and the prestige it had won, were in attendance. Al ranks and stations and representatives of every business pursuit were there.

The game opened beautifully with one run for the Seasides; blank for Sumter. And thus the score stood until the fourth inning, when the Seasides made some heavy hits and scored six runs. From this time on the game was in the hands of the home

To-day McCloskey and Parks will constitute the battery for the visiting team, and a closely contested game may be expected. as the Sumter team was laboring under quite a disadvantage yesterday. Reardon, their pitcher, was taken sick just before the game, and under the circumstances could not acquit himself with his recognized skill. Sumter is not disconsolate and is determined to win to-day with her new battery and strength in the field. To achieve success to-day the home team will be put to their metal.

The result of yesterday's game has vitiated the prevailing impression that a new uniform donned for the first time is a precurser of defeat. Numerous compliments were paid the ladies for the exquisite taste manifested in the handsome uniform which they presented to the club.

The following is a summary of the offi-

Seaside-Runs 14, base hits 10, errors 6. Sumter-Runs 2, base hits 4, errors 14. A new attraction will be added to the sport to day. The fastest sprint runner in South Carolina will contest with one of the home team for the championship. The race will come off a few minutes before the base ball game begins.

The following is the record of games played yesterday at the places mentioned: New York-Philadelphia 1, New York 5. Brooklyn-Brooklyn 7. Metropolitan Boston-Boston 8, National 1. Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis and Sa-

A Dangerous Little Scamp. John Littleton, the mulatto boy in durance at the City Hall, made another attack upon the janitor, yesterday, when the latter opened his cell door to give him breakfast, and it was only with great difficulty that he was locked up again. He is a desperate little scamp, and it is difficult to determine what disposition will be made of him. The day he was arrested, he made afildavit against two other colored boys about the same age as himself, charging them with stealing from merchants and others in the city. The boys were arrested but could not be held, as there was no evidence against them but the affidavit of Littleton He has been profuse in his promises and declarations as to what he would do and tell if released. Among other things, he told the janitor if he would turn him loose he would show him (the janitor) where he had concealed two watches-one silver and the other gold. The latter, Littleton said, belonged to Capt. Cole, who was killed in the recent railroad accident in South Carolina.

A Wreck Raised. The hull of the steamer River Queen which was burned in the great fire in February last and sunk near the wharves above Chesnut street, was raised yesterday by means of a steam dredge boat and towed up the river and beyond the dry dock, where it was left in the marsh, out of the way of boats or other craft. The same parties also took up the hull of the schooner that was destroyed by the same fire, and carried it out of the way.
