Plantation negroes from Kentucky at the Grape Creek mines, Ill., have been driven off by striking miners, armed; if they return there will be riot and bloodshed. -A great strike or lockout has taken place in the tanneries at Peabody and Salem, Mass, over 3,000 men are idle. - Convicts in the Dade Coal mines, Ga., owned by Senator Brown & Co., are in open insurrection; militia have been ordered to the mines from Rome. - New York market: Money 14@24 per cent; cotton easy at 9 9-16@94c; wheat, No. 2 red July 861@871c; southern flour dull and heavy; corn, No. 2 July 47@ 484c; rosin dull at $1 00@1 05; spirits turpentine dull at 334 cents.

The new Governor of South Carolina is J. C. Sheppard.

Lord Harry Thynne, Tory, and G. P. Fuller, Gladstoneite, had a fisticuff. "My lud" called Fuller a liar when a fight followed. No great damage done.

Kentucky is a great State. A fellow named Will Hazelip asked Miss Lacefield to allow him to escort her at a gamp meeting. She declined. He then stabbed her fatally and out his own throat.

McClure is in great trouble over Morrison's annihilation of poor Randall. McClure ought to quit stradding. He pretends now and then to favor l'ariff Reform but he is always down on the men who try to bring it about.

The crop reports in South Carolina up to 1st July were not favorable. Corn was in the grass; cotton had been hadly washed, and rust and lice had appeared. The average for the State is given at 85. By this time it must be much lower, owing to the continued rains.

The recent volcanic eruptions in New Zealand must have been very awful. An entire range of mountains one hundred and twenty miles long and twenty miles broad was one vast wall of fire and all along flames and lava were constantly belched forth: The loss of life and property is reported very great.

It is already given out in England that the proposed coalition will offer to the Irish some of the ideas of the Liberals. The STAR has prophecied that. Up to last Saturday the total vote polled was, for Tories, &c., 1,209,874; for Gladstoneites 1,118,-973. There are some 90 other members to be elected yet.

The Arkansas negroes are now reported quiet. The strikers have returned to work. The fears of the people are quieting down. A Little Rock dispatch says:

"A farmer named Walker, residing near the plantation, found a note pinned to his gate post, warning him that if he continued his objections against employing Knights of Labor, he would be taken in hand and put where Sheriff Worthen's protection would be of no avail."

Riddleberger was plain spoken enough in his remarks upon the Goode case. He declared that "the rejection of Solicitor General Goods was effected by the influence of the Bell Telephone Company, but he was not at all in conflict with the facts in the case." It is now boldly asserted that money did the work. Doubtless there are Republican Senators who are, as Sir Robert Walpole said of all men, "they have their price."

From every section of North Carolin the cry is: "Crops ruined by the rains." We meet now, with but one statement in newspapers in the northern or soutliern, eastern or western or central parts of the Statethat the crops will be cut short fearfully. The rainfall has been enormous, and corn, cotton, wheat, tobac co and fruits are all very seriously perfect failures.

Our readers have seen how warmly we have spoken of the merits of the late Edwin P. Whipple, of Boston, as a critic. We are really pleased to meet with the following which appeared in the New York Tribune of a late date. It says:

DA

"In speaking of Mr. Hayne and William Morris, the English poet, the late Edwin P. Whipple said: 'We cannot see that the American poet is one whit inferior to his accomplished English cotemporary in ten-derness, sweetness, grace and ideal charm, while we venture to say that he has more of the poetic enthusiasm."

man has spoken reservedly but appreciatively of Hayne. In his book he is more chary than in his letters of praise of our Southern singer.

The American actress, Genevieve Ward, has had a very successful dramatic tour abroad. George Augustus Sala says in the Illustrated London News that "between January, 1884, and November, 1885, I followed pretty closely in her footsteps from the Atlantic and Pacific, and all through Australia and New Zealand, and everywhere I found she had left a lasting impression behind her of admiration for her genius and esteem for her character." She will return to America and give next winter her last performances before American audiences.

The Florida Times-Union, a Protection paper that favors the humbug Civil Service, and blows loudly in praise of all the President does, has felt constrained to write at length explaining a certain letter he wrote a year ago to the President. In that letter he went for the old time Floridians after this sort:

"The "Old Timers" consider themselves lords of the soil, and as having a divine right to rule, and are arrogant, proscriptive, reactionary, and unprogressive. The are willing to share the prosperity caused by the infusion of new blood and outside capital, but there is a tacit understanding among them that no "New Comer" shall have any political place or preferment and on this they stand together as one

C.D.Graham, the Philadelphia mechanic, floated successfully over the rapids of Niagara in a cask of his own devising. An account says:

"A small boat towed the tank out into the river to a point where the current would catch it, and then Graham was started on what might have turned out to be his trip to eternity. The towing process took only a few minutes and then the stream caught the cask and started it on towards the rapids and the whirlpool. At first it moved slowly along, then faster and faster, until he mad current dashed it on with its full force. The cask bounded up and down over the great waves and several times turned a complete somersault, but generally speaking the wider portion remained uppermost, although it twisted around like a top. The cask kept pretty well in the centre of the river until it reached the whirlpool when it struck a strong side current and was carried swiftly through, reaching the waters beyond in safety. From here the journey was comparatively quiet."

It was in these rapids that Capt. Webb, an Englishman, lost his Charleston had 59 deaths last week; black 49, white 10. This is a death rate for whites of 17.64 for the 1,000 for a year. The death rate of negroes is not stated and we cannot calculate for want of data. In Savannah the deaths were: whites 6 and blacks 30-total 36. Death rate, whites, 12.1; blacks, 89.1. Is Charleston's death rate for negroes as large as Savannah's? Its number of deaths is much larger?

ONSLOW RAILROAD.

Yesterday's Conference-The Commissioners Insist Upon the Election for Subscription by the City Being The conferees on the Onslow Railroad question met in the Mayor's room at the City Hall yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, and after a session lasting severa hours adjourned without coming to an agreement, the railroad commissioners insisting that the Board of Aldermen should call an election of the qualified voters to decide upon the question of a subscription of $100,000 to the road by the city. There were present at the conference Messrs. A. H. Van Bokkelen, Roger Moore and Jas. B. Huggins, railroad commissioners, and Messrs. E. D. Hall, David G. Worth and John L. Dudley, the committee of the Board of Aldermen. Mr. DuBrutz Cutlar, city attorney, was also present.

Mayor Hall stated the object of the conference, which was invited under a resolution adopted by the Board of Aldermen at the last regular meeting, to consider the advisability of the county making the subscription to the Onslow Railroad instead of the city. He said that there would be falling due in July 1887, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars of the bonds of the city and that the only means of meeting these obligations is by the sale of new bonds of an equal amount, which bonds are required by law to be sold at not less than par; and that as the whole appraised value of real and personal property is now burdened by a bonded debt of fully ten per cent. of such valuation, prudence and proper economy would require that there should be no increase of the city's indebtedness until, at least, the refunding operations are completed; that the county was entirely free from debt and its finances in a healthy condition, and that it would share in all the benefits that would accrue from the building of the road.

The matter was very freely discussed. Mr. VanBokkeien recited the action taken by the commissioners and contended that they had pursued a plain and simple course, as directed, and as they thought with the approval of the citizens. He urged the necessity of action being taken at once, as the counties of Onslow and Pender will hold their elections in November and unless the city of Wilmington voted a subscription to the road in time to enable the authorities of those counties to submit the question of subscription to a vote in November, nothing would be done. As to the credit of the city, he had learned that city bonds had been sold at 1021 and were held higher, and he thought that new bonds could be sold at a premium. As one of the commissioners of the road, authorized to receive subscriptions, he said that they would accept bonds of the city as a subscription to the capital stock of the company. Col. Moore said he was a friend of the road and favored the city making the subscription. The road would be a feeder to Wilmington and it ought to be controlled by the city absolutely, which would not be the case if the subscription was made by the county. Mr. Worth asked, why not ? Col. Moore said that was his opinion.

Mr. Worth thought that a large majority of the people who had signed the petition asking the city government to order an election would favor the proposition for the subscription to be made by the county instead of the city, and asked what objection there could be to submitting the proposition to the County Commissioners; the county was free from debt, while the debt of the city was large enough.

Col. Moore said that it amounted to the same thing. That the city paid eleventwelfths of the county taxes; but if the matter went before the Board of Commissioners it would be delayed, and that would create a feeling of distrust and result in the defeat of the project.

Mayor Hall said that it was the desire of the Board of Aldermen to have a conference with the commissioners, to see if they could not get over a very difficult problem that was presented to the Board-to increase the debt of the city, that was already considered large enough. After explaining the situation he asked the commissioners if they did not think it best to remand the petition back to the petitioners, and if they still insist upon the subscription being made by the city then the Board would order the election. He submitted a proposition that the city pay for the services of any three persons whom the commissioners might select to go around with the petition, and ascertain if the signers thereto were not in favor of changing the subscription by the city to the county.

The representatives of the railroad, how ever, declined to entertain the proposition, and the conference ended; the commissioners, as stated, insisting that the Board call the election as requested in the petition presented to the Board. It only remains now for the committee of the Board of Aldermen to report back the result of the conference to the meeting of the full Board which will be held the first week in August next, unless a special meeting should be called earlier.

Pull Moon Excursion.

To-morrow evening an excursion to the Rocks will be run under the management of Mr. George N. Harris. Every arrangement has been made to make the trip a pleasant one, and as the moon changes this evening it is confidently expected that the weather will be auspicious. The excursionists will be met at the Rocks by the visitors from Charlotte, who will be taken over by the steamer Louise. There will be music for dancing, in addition to some fine selections of vocal music.

Heavy Rains and Big Freshets. Complaints come from all parts of the country of the damage caused to the farming community by the exceptionally heavy and continuous rains. A correspondent at Point Caswell, on Black river, writing under date of July 13th, says that the country has been flooded with heavy rains every day for a fortnight, causing the greatest freshet in that river since July, 1867. Crops are all under water and a total loss. Farmers throughout that section, extending to the Cape Fear, are great sufferers; the results of all their labor are gone, and many of them have been driven from their homes by the flood. The bridge across the river at Point Caswell is nearly covered with water, all the gangways washed away, the abutments floating, and the bridge itself likely to be carried off, as the river centinues to rise. The loss of the bridge, our correspondent says, will be a severe one, as it is the only means of communication with a large section of country. Many distilleries are covered with water. store houses and dwellings are being deserted, and their contents carried from the sea of water to dry land in boats, on rafts, or by any means of transportation that can be got. The loss to that section, the writer says, will aggregate at least $25,000, and it will cause great suffering these hard times.

Dwelling House Burned. A two-story frame dwelling on the south west corner of Sixth and Ann streets was destroyed by fire yesterday morning about half-past three o'clock The house was owned and occupied by Geo W. Price, Jr., who, with his brother in law, was asleep in a room on the second floor. The rest of the family were absent from the city. The fire began in the lower part of the house, and when the two men were awakened by the smoke and heat, they found the stairway in flames and had to make their escape through a window. The fire originated in the rear of the house, but from what cause is unknown. It was discovered by the policeman on that beat, who gave an alarm which quickly brought the Fire Department. The building, however, was almost totally consumed, with the greater part of the furniture. There was insurance on the building, stable and fence to the amount of $2,200 in the Liverpool, London & Globe, with Messrs. Jno. W. Gordon & Smith, and insurance on the furniture amounting to $600 with Messrs. Northrop & Hodges, in the Lancashire of England

More Fire-Alarms Wanted. Firemen complain that there are not enough fire-alarm boxes. The Fire Department turns out with remarkable alacrity, at the first tap of the bell, and makes all speed to the fire; but it frequently happens, (as it did yesterday morning) that the flames have made such headway before the alarm is turned in that when the steamers, hose reels and trucks reach the scene the burning building is past saving. It is aleged that the boxes are too far apart. The alarm for the fire vesterday morning was turned in from Box No. 32, corner of Third and Nun streets, while the fire was at Sixth and Ann, four squares distant.

Suspicious Character. A colored boy who gave his name as Jim Bradley, was arrested last evening on the premises of a gentleman on Fourth street, near Cottage Lane, where he had built a fire in the yard. The boy ran from the officer who was sent to arrest him, but after short chase was captured and locked up

WHO IS MRS. WINSLOW?—As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as a nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rese up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are DAILY sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No Mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City.
