North Carolina Democrats are strong believers in genuine reform in the civil service of the country. They show that every day by anxiously pleading with the Administration to turn out the last Republican in office.

Rear Admiral Ammen, Føderal writes a long article for the New York Star on Jefferson Davis, and it is kindly in tone. The Star says:

"To those who have only seen the now aged chief of the defunct Confederacy painted black, it will probably be a surprise to find him kindly spoken of by a distinguished commander on the Union side. No one will, however, venture to question the loyalty of the admiral."

The editor who does not know that the Democrats of North Carolina are in favor of turning out all Republican officials and putting in honest qualified, faithful Democrats, would probably have remained in the Ark until it rotted over his head in the full belief that it was still raining

Dynamite works near Chicago were blown up by a bolt of lightning. It was felt for miles. One was killed, eight or ten wounded, and three slightly injured. Hundreds of windows were smashed. Here is a part of a graphic description in the New York World, telegraphed from Chicago:

"About that time John Kann, a young farmer from Auburn station, stopped at McLarney Bros.' grocery and saloon to avoid the drenching rain. He had two stout horses attached to his heavy farm wagon and was bound for home. When the heaviest gust of rain slacked up, seemingly subsiding into a regulation all-day drizzle, the farmer wrapped himself in a horse blanket and started his team on a jog trot down the road.

"Suddenly one of the electric flashes was followed by a terrific crash, as if the earth had been cleft asunder by some unknown gigantic force. It was the death-knell of the lone traveller in Archer avenue. Rocks were hurled through the air, trees rent to the roots, fences blown down for miles, houses unroofed and reduced to splinters. and torrents of mud showered around for hundreds of yards. The terrific force of the explosion made the thunder of heaven appear insignificant. The powder magazine of Laflin & Rand had been struck by lightning, and 1,500 pounds of dynamite and 3,000 pounds of powder went up, crea-ting havoc as if old Vulcan had split the earth from within his subterranean abode. "The young farmer and his team had vanished in the midst of the scene of devastation. Mr. Kann was hurled through the air for a distance of over 100 feet, his mangled body being found half an hour later. His clothes were blown from his body, except a few shreds which clung to his lower limbs. He was lying at the county hospital last night in a dying condi-tion - The doctors said they could not keep him alive longer than to-day, and that by hypodermic injections. Few traces of the wagon could be found; it was almost literally swept from the face of the earth. The horse on the side next the magazine was killed instantly and both horses were stripped of their harness."

The Chicago Neros makes the folwing remark:

"The season of the year approaches when Jeff Davis is wont to address rebel cattle shows in Missouri and, other alien

Envoy Sedgwick, sent to Mexico by Secretary Bayard, turns out to have been another unfortunate selection. He seems to have been on a big drunk and to have indulged in riotous orgies with the capital's gilded youth such as to make patriots blush: The New York papers have ferreted out the performance, which is most discreditable to all concerned. Mr. Bayard had not heard of it, but the newspapers have.

- Elizabeth City Economist: The readers of the Economist know that we are an enthusiast about pecan trees and pecan nuts. We would like for this town to be distinguished for the number and beauty of its pecan trees. We would like for its streets to be bordered by pecan trees. We have for years been an enthusiast about pecans but have never been able to meet a pecan enthusiast until Wednesday, when we met Allen Warren of Greenville, exsheriff of Pitt county, who was the man we have been looking for, lo! these many years. He is a flower, fruit and tree enthusiast. He is a nurserymau, an orchard ist, a florist and a fruiterer. He has some five or ten thousand young pecan trees, and he is the only nurseryman we know who has them.

- Winston Sentinel: Col. Risey has been over the whole of the road and reports that the people are very en-thusiastic. The counties of Brunswick and Stanly, through their Commissioners have already ordered elections for the purpose of voting $100,000 each to the scheme. The situation is relieved of any risk whatever, by the syndicate assuring the people that not a cent of the county subscriptions wil be asked for until the road is built and trains are actually running. This ought to be a matter of encouragement for the people, doubly so, when Col. Risley avers that the road will surely be built. The contractor of the road, Mr. Bilheimer, now has a corps of engineers engaged in making the survey from the Smithville end of the line, and they are expected to reach Salisbury within a few weeks.

- Salisbury Watchman: The house of T. A. Albright, in Locke township, was struck by lightning during a rain a few days ago. The lightning passed over one of his children, which was in bed at the time, and stunned a negro who was in the room. — Mrs. A. J. Lawrance, near Enochville, this county, was driving her cows to a pasture a few days ago, and saw in a little gulley a bright looking speck, and picked it up. It turned out to be gold, and weighed 126 grains. She gathered up other shining particles at the same place, where, in all probability there is a good quantity of the precious metal. - Prof. W. E. Hidden, superintendent and general manager of the Emerald and Hiddenite mine, in Alexander county, called on last Thursday evening and displayed to the mining editor of this paper, the most wonderful lot of gem stones ever seen in this country-in fact the cabinet collections in all the museums from Boston to New Orleans, could not produce such a collection.

- Charlotte Observer: Dr. William Gaither, a prominent citizen of this county, takes the premium as the champion onion raiser. - It was suggested last right by gentleman who called at the STAR office, that the ministers of the different churches in the city be requested to call their congregations together to day to give thanks for the merciful dispensation of Providence that preserved this city and its inhabitants from a dire calamity.

The Champion Cotton Compress The Champion Cotton Compress, which was destroyed by fire in February last, has been rebuilt upon a greatly improved and enlarged scale, and is now one of the most mposing structures in the city. It comprises three lofty brick compartments, each separated from the other by thick fire-proof walls, altogether covering ground measuring 340x132 feet and affording storage for ten thousand bales of cotton; the whole erected during the summer at a cost of Workmen are still engaged laying the flooring within the building, and on the receiving platforms on the south and north sides, which are 340 feet in length and 66 feet in width. The wharf facilities have also been greatly enlarged, and an additional pier built, thus affording berth room for three large steamships,

Particular attention seems to have been paid in the construction of the building to guard against damage from fire. There are three large fire hydrants conveniently located, with two hundred feet of hose attached; and besides all the wooden exposures of the building will be covered with corrugated iron, thus reducing the fire-risk to a minimum. The compress, which is of the Morse pattern, was uninjured by the fire, and has been overhauled and put in thorough order.

Another Robbery.

The premises of John Henry Brown colored, corner of Sixth and Brunswick streets, were raided by thieves Monday night, and all the provisions he had in the house were stolen. The thief or thieves entered by way of a window in the back part of the dwelling, taking out one of the panes of glass and then removing a stick placed over the lower sash to hold it down. Brown has a very sharp dog, which he thinks was decoyed to the front yard while the robbery was being perpetrated.

Cotton Receipts. The yearly exhibit of the cotton trade of Wilmington as compiled from the records kept at the Produce Exchange, show the total receipts for the year ending August 31, 1886, to be 101,494 bales, against 93,-995 bales, for the crop year ending August 31, 1885; an increase of 7,527 bales. Middling cotton is quoted at nine cents per pound-one cent lower than at the close of the crop year of 18,845, when it was quoted

A Burgiarious Attempt Foiled. An attempt was made Monday night to break into the residence of Mr. E. Turling ton, on Third, between Walnut and Red Cross streets. The burglar was detected while he was trying to force a widow and was fired at by a son of Mr. Turlington, who thought he had hit the man, but he failed to stop him.

EARTHOUAKE.

People who have heretofore had little faith in reports of earthquake shocks hereabouts, had a gentle reminder last night that this mundane sphere is liable to a general shake up all around. Fortunately, the shocks experienced in Wilmington were not sufficient to do any damage, beyond greatly frightening the people.

There were three shocks, the first occurring at ten minutes to 10 o'clock. It was quite severe, lasting, according to the mo reliable reports, about thirty seconds, a though some persons were positive that t schock continued at least a minute; indee one individual was seen about_two hou after the disturbance who said he had "n stopped shaking yet." People were great alarmed, and rushed from their houses in the streets.

It was exactly ten minutes to ten o'cloc when the first shock occurred. It laste about thirty seconds and was accompanie by a prolonged rumbling sound, like th passage of a railway train over a bridge. The river seemed to be violently agitated, and washed against its banks as if a storm was raging. The first shock was followed ten minutes afterwards by a second, and this by a third, ten minutes later, neither of them of as great severity as the first. It is impossible to describe the alarm that pervaded the community. People thronged the streets, and many of them were greatly agitated. A great crowd centered around the telegraph office, anxiously inquiring as to the news from other places. So far as known the damage caused by the shock was slight. Plastering was disledged and fell in the Commercial Hotel and other houses, and bricks were shaken from chimneys and from the walls of buildings in process of crection, among the number the chimney of the house on the corner of Second and Princess streets occupied by Colonel D

The shock was quite severe at other places. At Smithville, the Signal Servic observer reported as follows:

"A severe earthquake shock felt here at 9.50 p. m.; lasted about ten seconds; came from northwest. Ten minutes after the first shock another came from the west, lasting about three seconds."

There were two shocks in Augusta, Ga. Both very severe.

In Laurinburg, N. C., the telegraph operator reported that the shock was so severe as to overturn his table.

The shock was felt at Columbia, S. C., Charlotte, N. C., and Atlanta, Ga. The wires between Florence and Charleston, S C., went down immediately after the disturbance and nothing could be heard from that Teiegraphic reports show that the disturbance was of wide extent-as. far North as New York and West to Chicago.

A special to the STAR from Laurinburg says that at 9.51 p. m. the citizens were aroused by the shock Buildings were abandoned in terror. The shock was terrible, shaking houses, shattering chimneys, brick walls, window glass and dishes. The first shock was followed closely by the second, third and fourth. Citizens are greatly excited, especially the darkeys, who are frightened out of their wits.

At the Sound the shock was very severe, and the people were greatly alarmed, abandoning their houses and taking refuge in the fields. In one of the residences at Masonboro the shock overturned a bureau.

Great anxiety was felt as to Charleston, S. C. The latest report, from St. Stephens, on the Northeastern Railroad, was that communication was broken and the train from that city, at 2 a. m., was an hour and thirty minutes behind the time it was due at that station.

Tuesday, September 7th, at 12 o'clock M., all the RIGHTS, FRANCHISES and PROPERTY of said Company. The property consists of FOUR EXCELLENT TUG-BOATS, to wit:

1. TUG ARCTIC—Engine 22 by 22 inches, adjustable cut-off; boiler 8 by 14 feet, made in 1888, has four fines. two twelve inches and two eight inches, and forty-eight 3-inch return tubes; two furnaces 3 by 7 feet; Lighthail surface condenser 6 by 3 feet by 4 feet 7 inches; combined (Blake) air and circulating pump. Korting injector to feed boiler, copper connections; wooden hull 78 feet long, 1714 feet beam, 9 feet draft; coal-bunker capacity, 22 tons under decks; boiler and engine by Neaple & Levy, Philadelphia.

2. TUG VULCAN.—Engine 20 by 20 inches, high pressure; boiler 6 feet 6 inches by 12 feet 6 inches, double riveted, made in 1884, has two flues each 20 inches in diameter, and fifty-four 3-inch return tubes; two furnaces 2 feet 6 inches by 6 ft; Jenk's injecter to feed boiler; new donkey pump for feeding boiler, pumping huil, washing off, and circulating water throughout the boat. All feed pipes of copper; wooden hull 78 feet-long. 17 feet beam, 8 feet draft; coal-bunker capacity, 14 tons under deck. Fitted with new awnings on main and upper decks. Is licensed by the Government to take thirty passengers. Would make a fine yacht.

3. TUG SMITH PETTIT—Engine 17 by 17 inches, high pressure; boiler 11 leet 6 inches by 6 feet 6 inches, made in 1884, has two flues 21 inches each, and thirty-six 3 inch return tubes; two furnsces 2 feet 3 inches by 4 feet; Hancock inspirator to feed boiler; all feed pipes of capper; wooden hull 60 feet long, 16 feet beam. 8 feet draft; coal-bunker capacity, 9 tons under deck.

4. TUG OLIVE BRANCH.—Engine 20 by 20 inches, high pressure, condensing; boiler 13 feet by 6 feet, made in 1879; has two furnaces each 2 feet 4 inches by 6 feet; two flues each 16 pinches, and forty-four 3-inch return tubes; all feed pipes of copper; wooden hull 76 feet long, 17 feet beam, and 8 feet draft; coal-bunker capacity, 1634 tons under deck. All these Boats are in good running order, having been lately put in thorough repair. The tug Vulcan has lately broken her shaft, but in other respects is in perfect order.

The other property consists of such articles as are necessary for the running equipage of such boats and the office furniture.

Thems or Sale—One third cash; balance in negotiable notes at three and six months, with interest added, and with endorsers satisfactory to the trustees.

STARTLING FACTS
You Cannot Afford to Ignore Them. The following article appears in a recent issue of the New York Commercial Bulletin: "An expert ex-amined and reported upon a sample of Chicago refined lard, the other day, which he said did not contain a pound of hogs' fat, but consisted of tallow, grease, cotton seed oil, and oleo stearine."
