KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The Convention Still Unorganized-Report of the Committee on Credentials not yet Acted Upon.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. RICHMOND, Oct. 6.—At noon a recess was taken until 2 o'clock. Mr. Powderly announced to representatives of the press that he had nothing to communicate to them. Some secret business had been transacted, but of course he could say nothing as to its nature. The morning session was mainly devoted he said, to the considera-tion of the report of the Committee on Credentials which has not been finally acted dentials which has not been mally acted upon. The delegates are unusually reticent and such statements as can be elicited by inquiry are contradictory. It seems safe, however, to say that whatever action has been taken by the Credentials committee in the case of District 49 and the Brooklyn delegates, is unfavorable to the latter.
The feeling of the majority of delegates outside of New York, is in favor of Brooklyn. It now seems possible that the third day's session may end with the Convention

RICHMOND, Oct. 6.—The afternoon session of the Knights of Labor, beginning at 2 o'clock, lasted nearly an hour beyond the regular time for adjournment—6 o'clock. Matters then stood about where they were this morning. Mr. Powderly, through whom official news of the proceedings is given to the press, told the reporters he had nothing in the way of news to give them. The Convention, he said, was still considering the report of the Committee on Credentials and had not yet acted on it. This means that the fight over the admission of eight or ten delegates whom the commit-tee referred to the Convention, is still in progress. Who these delegates are, Mr. Powderly and other leading Knights still refuse to say. The burden of rumor, however, seems to favor the statements that they are three Brooklyn delegates—Brown, Dobb and Miller—of the Brooklyn Montauk Association; Morrison, of District Assembly 126 of New York, and six St. Louis delegates claiming to be elected in-stead of six said to be Turner men.

Delegates from District 49, according to some unofficial reports, are fighting Morrison and the Brooklyn men tooth and nail, but the long continuance of the battle shows that the opposition is fully as de-termined as they. There can be no doubt of the fact that the battle is a bitter one. This afternoon the voices of opposing delegates could be heard in the street without the Armory Hall, as they argued the questions at issue.

Until this discussion is ended the Convention is at a stand-still and no work can be done. Meanwhile many delegates here are growing impatient at the prolongation of the contest, and are anxious to get to the work they came here to accomplish. The contest will be resumed to-morrow morning, and no one seems even able to guess how long it will be before the Convention will organize and begin business.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

A Mississippi River Steamer Wrecked -The Disaster Caused by Collapse of Boiler Flues-A Number of Lives Lost and Many Badly Scalded. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

St. Louis, October 6 .- A special from Cape Girardeau states that the wreck of the steamer La Mascotte resulted from the col-lapse of one of the boiler flues. The explosion spent its force directly backward into the engine room, and the crew and roustabouts suffered from being scalded by escaping steam. Eleven of the latter were so terribly burned that huge scalps of flesh peeled from their bodies. Six of them have died. After the bodies of the killed and injured had been brought ashore, they were placed on the steamer Eagle, which brought them to this city, where local and visiting physicians are now caring for them. The register of the passengers was lost with the La Mascotte, and it is thought that some were drowned or killed whose bodies have not been recovered. The pilot, taking advantage of her heading, turned the boat towards the shore, but the flames caused him to abandon his post before a stage plank could be lowered. After leaving his post, the current turned the boat's bow out into the river again, and her stern swung close to the bank which afforded means of escape for several who were at that end of the boat; the pilot and one cabin boy getting ashore without injuries or even a wet foot. The stage plank was low-ered and many were placed upon it—most-ly women and children—who would have been saved had not the smoke-stack fallen squarely across it, and all who were not killed by it were drowned. Capt. Thompson, after doing all in his power to save the passengers and crew, jumped overboard and swam ashore; the boat having by this time drifted fully two hundred yards out

The La Mascotte drifted over to the Illinois shore, opposite Willard's landing, and sank; the only thing visible at present being her wheels.

Lew Braham, second clerk, tells the fol-lowing story of the disaster: "We had landed at Neely's and were pulling out, and I walked upstairs and into my room when I heard a small explosion like that of a sky rocket and opened the door to the cabin and saw steam coming into it from the barber shop. I saw ladies in their cabin and called to them to come forward. I saw fire coming from under the boiler-deck and I took the ladies to the boilerdeck and started down stairs, when Pilot Geaveu gave life-preservers to them, telling them all to put them on immediately. I ordered the stage plank thrown overboard, which was promptly done, and we put all the ladies on the plank. The rigging broke and the plank swung out. Mrs. L. Zimers jumped into my arms, and I landed her safely on the stage, while I was thrown into the river myself. I swam along side of the stage and made the men get off so it would bear up the ladies. I then swam to a ledge of rocks and crawled ashore. A man from the Illinois shore with a skiff took the people off of the stage and also saved a number that were swimming; but I don't recollect the skiffman's name. He did some noble work, however.'

J. J. Hanlon, second pilot says: "The Eagle was near us when the disaster took place and could easily have pushed us place and could easily have pushed us ashore without much trouble and danger; but I understand the captain did not care to render any assistance. Adolphus Evelyn, pilot of the Eagle, told me that the captain ordered him not to go near the La Mascotte, as he did not wish to endanger his boat. If he would only have pushed us ashore, not a single person would have been injured, except from scalds and burns."

Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Folsom returned to Washington yesterday morning. They were met at the Port Royal station by the President.

The one hundredth anniversary of the foundation of Lynchburg, Va., will be celebrated Monday next. Gov. Lee will preside in the ceremonies.

The Philadelphia Manufacturer's Association Order Mills at Frankford to Shut Down-A Large Number of Workmen Thrown Out of Employ-

B) Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—Some excitement existed throughout Frankford to day, owing to the shut-down of mills in that vicinity. A large force of patrolmen from different districts were scattered around the section where the mills were located, to prevent trouble. The shut-down was in accordance with an order issued by the aid committee of the Philadelphia Manufac turers Association, to whose consideration the demands of strikers in the mills of Wm. P. Troth, Jr., & Co. had been submitted.
These strikers had been given notice that if they returned to ork up to the hour of closing yesterday, the lock-out would not occur. The men refused to accept the offer and the shut-down followed. The demands of strikers at Troth's mills are that mands of strikers at Troth's mills are that Robert McGown, Superintendent, be discharged, along with all non-union men now employed; the starting up of a section of looms which were stopped through lack of orders; reinstatement of all strikers in a body, and a general advance in wages amounting to 9 per cent. The mills which shut down are those of the Aramana Mills shut down are those of the Aramano Mills shut down are those of the Aramano Mills Co., which employ 100 hands; G. Jones', which employs 300; Clark and O'Neill, 500; Edward T. Garsed, 30; Charles J. Milne, 100: Robert Dallis, 60; James Pollock, 90; Biddle & Weiss, 90; Chas. Cranshaw, 30; Henry Dole, 40; Wm. P. Troth, who was working his mill with 13 non-union mill hands, and a number of mill owners whose employes ranged from ten to twenty. The firms of Milne & Co. and Whittaker & Co., do not belong to the Whittaker & Co., do not belong to the Manufacturers Association, but have both expressed their willingness to join other manufacturers in the lock-out.

EPISCOPALIANS.

General Convention of the Church in the United States in Session at Chicago-Inaugural Services, Etc. (By Telegraph to the Morning Star.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.-The General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church opened here to-day. The House of Bishops assembled in the lecture room of St. James' Episcopal Church, corner of Cash and Huron streets, shortly before ten o'clock, to prepare for the opening services of the Convention. Two thousand tickets of admission to the church edifice had been issued, and a large premium was in many cases offered to ticket holders by persons desirous of witnessing the inaugural services. The great audience, composed of clergy and laity, completely filled the spa-

The services began at 10.30 o'clock, with a processional hymn which hearalded the approach of the Bishops, who emerged from the side room and filled the space within the chancel rail. This was followed by the reading of Morning Prayer, the chanting of the Litery and calebration of chanting of the Litany and celebration of the Communion Service. The sermon was delivered by Rt. Rev. George T. Bedell, of the Church of God. Singing cessional hymn followed, the Bishops retiring, headed-as when they came into the church—by the venerable Bishop Lee, of

Va., senior Bishop of the body. This afternoon the entire body assembled at Central Music Hall; clerical and lay del-gates taking the main floor and the Bishops Apollo Hall for organization.

Bulls and Bears of Wall Street Pledged to Support J. Edward Simmons for Mayor of that City. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, October 6.-The bulls and bears of Wall Street stopped their usual performance to-day when lists were hung. up in the Stock Exchange for the signature of those who advocated the nomination of J. Edward Simmons for Mayor. The brokers gave a mighty cheer, and began to sign the lists. In two hours' time twothirds of the members had pledged themselves to vote for him. The aggregate capital represented was nearly a billion of dollars, Edward C. Fox, broker, who initiated the movement, said Simmons would be the candidate of capital against labor and so-cialists; that the business men of New York would not allow socialists to rule this city. Similar lists will be posted up in other exchanges. Simmons was President of the Stock Exchange last year, and is Grand Master of Masons in the State of New York. He is a Democrat, but the movement is irrespective of politics.

ATLANTA, Oct. 6 .- The State elections passed very quietly. The Democrats had a clean sweep every where. The following is the State ticket: Governor, John B. Gordon: Secretary of State, Nathan C. Barnett; Comptroller General, Wm. A. Wright; Treasurer, Robert N. Hardman; Attorney General, Clifford Anderson.

Quiet Election-A Light Vote Polled -Regular Democratic Nominees All

[By Telegraph to the Morning Star.] Augusta, Oct. 6.—There was no oppo-sition to Gen. Gordon for Governor and the Democratic candidates for State officers. Knights of Labor candidates for the Legislature have created some excitement, but the regular Democratic nominees are elected to the House and Senate. A light vote was polled here and throughout the State: there being no issues or opposing candi-dates to bring out a full vote.

STATESVILLE, IREDELL CC N. C. Leading Newspaper in Western North

It is the only Democratic Paper published in Iredell County—one of the largest and wealthiest counties in the State—and has attained a larger local circulation than any paper ever heretofore published in the county.

Its circulation in Alexander, Wilkes, Ashe, Alichany, Yadkin, Davie and Iredell, is larger than that of any two papers in the State combined; and is rapidly acquiring a strong foothold in Forsythe Surry, Rowan and western Mecklenburg. It is the only paper in Western North Carolina that employs a Recular Canvassine Agent, and thus keep constantly before the people. Unacretis system a rapidly increasing circulation is the result, making the Landmann
