MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

Two boilers at the Charleston (S. C.) cotton factory exploded, wrecking the boiler house and killing two men, -Incendiary speeches of a negro in Randolph county, N. C., caused fears of an insurrection; the company of the Third Regiment State Guards, at High Point, have been ordered to be in readiness for any emergency.

The campaign is ended and we are glad of it.

Beecher is back home. He is satisfied with America.

The Knights of Labor in the Richmond. Va., District withdrew their candidate for Congress.

The Georgia peanut crop is immense. It is said to be 574,700 bushels more than any previous crop. Mrs. Stewart was born Cornelia

M. Clinch in 1813. So she was 73 years old last month. She was born in New York city.

Prince Napoleon, now in New York, feels slighted because he was not invited to attend the inaugration ceremonies of the great statue. The London Socialists have re solved to disobey the prohibition of the authorities as to parading on Lord Mayor's Day. Trouble is anticipated.

Russia is said to believe that an occupation of Bulgaria is now inevitable. It is said that many Bulgarian regiments are in favor of Rus sian occupancy.

Papers are calling Castelar, the Spanish Gladstone. He is the great est orator in Spain, as Gladstone is in England, and in that they may resemble each other.

Senator Vest is hot about the turning out of Benton for participating in the campaign. He is reported as saying that he must be reinstated or there will be war.

How absurd in Henry George, the candidate of Socialists and laboring men for Mayor of New York, to support for Congress Thorndike Rice, "a five millionaire, with strong plutocratic and aristocratic ideas."

Two female highwaymen have been making times lively in Oneida county, New York. They set astride bare backed steeds and force travellers to stand at the pistol's point. It may be a hoax or it may have been disguised men.

The Washington correspondent of the New York World says the Republicant are confident they will have the next House. Pronounced Administration men reject this estimate. The Republican Campaign Committee practically concede a majority of two to the Democrats.

There are some in Washington who were expecting a very close vote for the next House. Others claimed a majority of ten or more. With 43 majority in the present House, we are not looking for a reversal of the majority, but think it will be much re-

Irving, so-called, has gathered in the American shekels in such great sums in his two acting tours that he is preparing for a third. Of course he will bring the Terry, his special friend, and all New York will harry to see her if they would not see ries and a well developed June apple, ripe Cameron much.

The poet-editor of the Augusta Chronicle is no believer in Lamar Fontaine's authorship of the touching and happy lines, "All Quiet Along the Potomac." He says "he did not and could not" have written them. He says Col. William S. Hawkins "was a genuine poet and hero," and so he was.

Can it be possible that Talmage is the greatest American preaches? Has it come to pass that the highest and best spiritual and mental pabulum that the American pulpit can supply is that contained in the Brooklyn preacher's discourses? If so the country is to be pitied. We ask the question because the secular as well as the religious press give so much prominence to Talmage and regard it as a great thing to publish his ser-

VOL. XXXIX.--NO. 36.

WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1886.

There seems to be very good reason for accepting the oft-repeated statement of scores of witnesses that there is a sea-serpent or some other huge monster of the deep that measures from 80 to 100 feet and generally carries its head several feet above the water. The evidence is cumulative, abundant and convincing. It runs through a century and many of the witnesses are men of the highest possible character. Among those who saw it was Danie! Web. ster. . This occurred on the 14th of August, 1817, in Gloucester Bay. The full account of it appeared in the New England Magazine of last January. The account says:

"Amos Story (mariner) had seen the veritable sea-serpent four days before, not more than twenty rods away. He was moving at the rate of a mile in two min-utes, or eight seconds and a fraction better than Maud S.; was nearly 100 feet long, was as round as a man's body, with a head like a turtle's carried high out of the water, was of a dark brown color, and had the body of a snake, with the vertical motion of a caterpillar. For two weeks together he made a playground of Gloucester harbor. When Mr. Webster and Colonel Perkins reached the old windmill to get a favorable view of his snakeship, all the sur-rounding places were covered with people, who had come to gratify the same curiosity. Nor was the monster long in making his appearance. He played now in a circle and now in a straight line, leaving a long wake behind."

Mr. Lowell is out in another card in which he insists he did not know it was loaded, or, in other words, that Mr. Hawthorne was really interviewing him: He says:

"There can be no contreversy between him and me, for I shall not allow myself to be entrapped into any. Nor do I understand that he controverts my positive statement, for he could not; but only that he endeavors to weaken its force by inference and implication. If he shall assert that he derstood him I shall feel obliged to leave the matter to those who know us both as a question of veracity between him and me. The life of a man into whose private affairs the public assumes the right to look is far from agreeable at the best, but on the terms which Mr. Hawthorne seems willing o justify it would be unbearable.'

M. Napoleon Ney 18 one of the French delegation in New York. He is a grandson of the celebrated Marshal Ney. He is greatly surprised at the vast interest in the United States in the fate of his distinguished grandfather and he denies there is any truth in it. But he may not

There appears to be grounds for doubting if the Stewart bones were ever delivered. A bag of bones was delivered and $25,000 were paid for them, but there is no guarantee as to whose bones. Mr. W. A. Croffut, a well-known New York editor, has given a version he received from a member of the Hilton family.

We wrote yesterday, "From early morn, &c." The morn was omitted. We also wrote "Some quarantines, &c." It appeared "Some generations."

- Winston Daily: Seventy-five lots have been sold at Walnut Cove, it is said, and five steam saw mills are sawing in that neighborhood, and cannot meet the demand fast enough, though some of the mills saw 10,000 feet per day. - Raleigh Visitor: Several gardens in this city have apple, damson and cherry trees in bloom, and diminutive Irish potatoes. — The State Treasurer re-alized $6,300 from the sale of drummers' licenses during the month of October.

- Danbury Reporter: The cars are running on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad within 71 miles of Walnut Cove, and the whistle is heard at that place. Greensboro will soon be our nearest neigh-bor with Fayetteville just over the hills a little way off. - Waynesville News: Sheriff Welch, of Swain county, received infor-mation this week of the capture of Ingram, the supposed murderer of young Welch. Ingram was captured in Indian Territory, but before his pursuers could take him he was severely shot in the side. The sheriff of Swain has gone to identify him and pay the reward of $200 which was offered for Ingram's arrest. - Shelby New Era: The pastor of the Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Strick-land, has arranged for a course of free lec-tures in the Baptist Church this winter, be-

-- Edenton Enquirer: Mr. J. C Byrd, of Coleraine, brings us the news that on Friday night last, the residence of Mr. Romus Cowan, of White township, this county, was entirely destroyed by fire. The fire is supposed to have originated in the cook room. Mr. Rowan lost nearly all his furniture, clothing and some money was burned. His loss is estimated at $1,500. Sympathizing citizens of Windsor and other places got up subscriptions to aid the unfortunate farmer.

- Goldsboro Argus: Already the city is full of gamblers, pickpockets, thieves and scowling villains, who are a disgrace to humanity and a blot on the civ ilization of the nineteenth century that permits them to wander at large and chouse the unsuspecting public. Those that have arrived here in advance of the fair came from Raleigh, where on one of the fair trains they picked the pocket of one of the ministers of this city of $50, and that of a lady relative who was with him.

- High Point Enterprise: Mr. Emory Bencini had the misfortune to have his tobacco packing house destroyed by fire Tuesday night. It was located about one mile from town, and contained the tobacco from 65,000 hills, or about 10,000 pounds, all of which was burned. Insured for $500. — From the best information we can obtain, there came near being a riot in Randolph last week, and it can readily be seen how easy it is to incite a certain element to lawlessness. The High Point Guards should be encouraged.

- Charlotte Observer: The freight business on the roads leading to Charlotte is now simply immense, and as an instance it may be mentioned that one of the new consolidated engines on the Richmond and Danville road last evening came into the city from the North pulling forty-six oaded box cars, and following it came another train of thirty-six cars; and this, too, in addition to five or six freight trains doing strictly local business. The amount of freight that can be moved by one of these consolidated engines, huge twelve-wheeled affairs, is simply astonishing, and it is a pretty sight to see one of these immense trains speeding through the country.

- Charlotte Observer: Rev. A. G. McManaway, pastor of the Tryon Street Baptist Church in this city, yesterday re-Rev. W. R. Gwaltney in the organization of a Baptist Church at that place. -Two fine Parker guns, one valued at $50 and the other at $60, are to be awarded as prizes at a shooting match, to take place on the Fair grounds next Thursday at 11 o'clock a. m. The match will be shot under the rules governing the National Association. The entrance fee will be from $3 to $5, according to the number of names secured. — On the plantation of Mr. J. C. Wallace, eight miles from the city, last Thursday, a little colored girl, aged six years, was accidentally shot and killed by her brother, a colored boy aged eight years. Both parties to the affair were the children of John Ross, and the shooting occurred while the children were alone in the house. The boy found a hired man's pistol, and thought it a good thing to play with. - Winston Farmer: No county in the State has developed more rapidly, perhaps within the past ten years than Catawba. The thrifty growth of its vil lages and towns, the increasing use of improved agricultural implements and machinery, the nest and improved appearance of its farms, all indicate that its people are enterprising, prosperous and progressive. Hickory fair, in the main, was a success most gratifying success. The stock, and notably the cattle, were exceptionally fine. - Mr. R. W. Wilson had seven acres in clover, yielding him the first cutting 3,000 pounds per acre. He then harvested 24 bushels of seed from the land. The seed are worth $6 per bushel. Average per acre $20,50 Mr. F. C. Ikerd had five acres in clover. He harvested $112 in hay and $72 in seed—an average of $37 per acre. He states that his tenants have twenty-five cres in cotton and that the five acres of lover is worth more than the crop of cotton. Mr. Baker seeded two acres to wheat and clover last fall. He harvested 59 bushels of wheat and seven bushels of clover seed and estimated the hay to be worth six dollars—average per acre $53. These yields were obtained on average Catawba lands.

Last Day of the Campaign in Pender A correspondent of the STAR. writing from Rocky Point, gives an account of the close of the campaign in Pender county. A large Democratic mass meeting was held at Rocky Point and was addressed by Major Charles W. McClammy. The correspond-

"It was the closing of his brilliant and triumphant campaign in this District. Bonfires and hurrahs illuminated the occasion and animated the thronging crowd of his devoted friends. The Major has cause to feel proud of the high devotion of Pender county to his fortunes, and to his superior talents and high character for patriotism. "By special invitation that favorite in Pender, the gifted J. I Macks, Esq., of your city, was present to speak. He was handsomely introduced by one of Pender's own favorite sons, the talented Thomas J. Armstrong, Esq. Mr. Macks made one of the most effective campaign speeches it has been the pleasure of the writer to listen to in a long time. He is endowed with the rare faculty of seizing upon and presenting in the most telling force and eloquence the strong points of his subject."

Rev. A. M. Chreitzberg who served as pastor of the Front Street Methodist Church of this city in 1847 and 1848, is now closing up his forty-eighth consecutive year in the ministry as a member of the South Carolina Annual Conference and is still in vigorous health. In the year 1847 when stationed at Wilmington and while in charge of Front Street Church, he commenced preaching at a private house in the southern part of the city from which subsequently the Fifth Street Church was formed. The present Conference year he is laboring at St. George's, S. C., about forty-eight miles from Charleston, S. C.

Sudden Death. Mr. W. L. Jacobs, a most worthy citizen. and the Democratic candidate for Coroner of New Hanover county, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. It was supposed that he died about 6 a. m. He was on the streets Monday night, and retired in his usual health, about half past 10 o'clock. It is supposed that his death resulted from apoplexy. Mr. Jacobs was in the 62d year of his age. He was twice married. His last wife has been dead for several years, but three children-two sons and a daughter-survive him. He also leaves one brother; Mr. B.J. Jacobs, and three sisters, who all reside in this city.

Meteorological.

The monthly meteorological summary issued from the Signal Service Office in this city is remarkable for the exhibit it makes of the amount of rainfall during the month -only forty-eight hundredths of an inch. The lowest temperature was on the 30th-38.4 degrees; the highest 87.1 on the 13th. The mean temperature was 64. degrees. The lowest barometer was on the 28th-29.868 inches; the highest on the 17th-30.404. The prevailing direction of the wind was northeast; the highest velocity 16 miles, on the 2d and 19th.

-- The resolution adopted by the Board of Aldermen at their meeting Monday night, prohibiting the smoking of pipes, etc., in the vicinity of the Cotton Compresses, should read "within one hundred yards of either of the cotton compresses," instead of "one hundred feet" as published.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—REV. SYLVANUE COBE thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly to infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething slege, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

MILLINERY GOODS. STARTLING E

The following article appears in a recent issue of the New York Commercial Bulletin: "An expert ex-amined and reported upon a sample of Chicago refined lard, the other day, which he said did not contain a pound of home fat, but consisted of tallow, grease, cotton seed oil, and oleo stearine." Is such a mixture cheap at any price? CASSARD'S "STAR" EVERY PACKAGE IS GUARANTEED.
