Mr. Powderly is talking politics. He says this is a Government of law yers, by lawyers, for lawyers. It looks like it is a Government of monopolists, by monopolists and for monopolists.

If the detective Duering did not fear the testimony of the watch-key why did he try to bribe Joel? Officer Chesterman heard the last proposition. He was concealed. So Joel told the Governor the truth both as to the bribe and the condition of the Pennsylvania farmers are no sharper than Southern farmers. Farmer Dietz is out $5,000. A swindler made him believe he was the long lost son. It only took him four days to get all of the old man's money. It is astonishing how gullible mankind are. Many men have a positive mania for being cheated and swindled.

We have yet to talk with a Democrat who does not favor turning out all Republicans when it is possible. Said a leading colored Republican of this town to us-"We expected of course that all of our party would go. In fact they ought to go. If we get in power we will see to it that all Democrats walk the plank." That is candid and sensible.

The North Carolina delegation in Congress held a meeting on Monday relative to Representative Reid. The object was to try to induce him to take his seat. It is now believed that he is in Canada. A special to the N. Y. World says:

"A prominent constituent of Mr. Reid, who is in the city, said to-day that this silence would be endured only a few days longer, when there would be an appeal from the people of his district to Cengress asking for his expulsion from that body and an immediate election of another man—probably Col. James Morehead, a son of the late Gov. Morehead—to represent them that March 4 Minister Jarvis said Reid. until March 4. Minister Jarvis said Reid called twice on him at his hotel while he was in New York recently and told him that he (Reid) had determined to leave North Carolina and was then considering two offers—one to join a law firm in New York, the other to join a similar firm in a Western Territory."

Col. Morehead is a son of the late James Morehead and not Gov. More

The Queen refuses to open the Parliament in person as she is not pre pared to proclaim the Irish plan of a campaign. It is reported in London that Lord Londonderry, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has resigned. Mr Gladstone is not satisfied with the present Irish plan and demands a change. A cablegram to the New York Star says:

"In consequence of this and the complicated state of relations with the government and various other matters it is be-lieved that the party leaders will adopt further modifications of their policy than those already outlined in these cables. It is expected that the priesthood in many parts of the country will now take a lead ing share of the Nationalist work, and departy unless the hierarchy prohibit it."

The Democrats are still hammer ing away trying to devise a measure to reduce the surplus that will pass the House. A Washington special to the World says:

"There are a number of Representatives who will favor the proposition of placing sugar upon the free list. If this question were to-day presented to the House there is hardly a doubt that it would pass. The opinions expressed by Randall, Holman, Springer, Cox, Hewitt and many others of the Democratic leaders would indicate that a measure of this kind can easily be passed as there will not be the opposition to that there was to the Morrison bill."

- Lexington Dispatch: Alexander Sloan, colored, who was convicted of murder at the late term of Rowan Superior Court and sentenced to be hanged on the 31st inst, was brought here from Salisbur Tuesday night and lodged in jail for safe keeping, as there was reason for appre-hending that an attempt would be made to lynch him.

- Salisbury Watchman: The Gold Dust, a colored Baptist paper of this place, is the ablest edited journal by a colored man we have yet seen. It is very neatly gotten up. — What has become of the hog raisers of Rowan? Before the war almost every farmer had pork to sell at this season of the year, some of them from 1,000 to 5,000 pounds; many of them a smaller quantity.

In addition to the plate nachinery, which is now filling a contract at the rate of 25,000 per day, wood pulp is being manufactured from gum and cypress at the rate of two tons per day, which will before long be increased to ten tons per day.

- Murfreesboro Index; We learn that Mr. S. P. Mr. Jacob Lenow publishes a card in the Edenton Enquirer denying the statement, which we are glad to know.

"—Danbury Reporter: We hear little said about burning off land for "to-bacco" beds. It seems Stokes farmers are about to make up their minds that they cannot raise tobacco at three dollars per hundred, buy corn at 75 cents per bushel, and pay for hauling it from thirty to forty miles home. The labor required to make $10 worth of tobacco at $3, per hundred will make ten barrels, or fifty bushels of corn worth 75 cents per bushel. The difference in favor of raising corn is this—if

Turlington were seen together at Morrisville, but that a mile and a quarter beyond there, where some men were at work, he was seen in the buggy alone as he turned off to avoid a bad place in the road. He passed Morrisville with the lady at 12 o'clock, and when he was seen by the hands at work on the road a mile and a quarter further on it was 2 o'clock. This would have given him two hours in which to cary out his murderous intent. Simon Richardson, the colored man wounded in the hip by a ball fired from a pistol a few nights ago, is rapidly recovering; but the ball has not been extracted Nathan Jones, colored, arrested on the charge of shooting Richardson, and locked up in the city prison, was released Tuesday on making a deposit of $100 with the sheriff as security for his appearance at an investigation of the case, which will take place before Justice Strauss at 10 o'clock this

Richardson and his friends are inclined to the opinion that his assailant did not mistake him for Wm. Howe, the colored stevedore; but had determined upon killing him (Richardson) because of his activity in Howe's interest, and of his boasting that he was forming another labor union. Rinh ardson says that he met the man who shot him almost face to face; that he recognized him and turned to speak just as the man fired the pistol, and in doing this caught the ball on his hip instead of in the back, as he claimed was the intention of his assailant.

Public Building-Meeting of the Citisens' Committee.

The committee of gentlemen appointed some time ago at a meeting of citizens of Wilmington, met yesterday to consult as to the best method of furthering the matter of securing an appropriation from Congress for the erection of a suitable Government building in this city for, a Postoffice, the U.S. Courts, etc. The following resolution was submitted and adopted:

Resolved, That the Hons. R. T. Bennett and Wharton J. Green be invited, during the holiday recess of Congress, to meet the people of Wilmington and assist us by counsel and otherwise to promote prompt action from Congress in aid of our much needed public building.

Col. F. W. Kerchner, President of the Chamber of Commerce, was appointed a committee of one to correspond with the gentlemen named and to make suitable arrangements for a meeting.

The Two Johns. Mr. J. U. Stewart's Comedy Company appear at the Opera House on the night of the 27th inst. "The Two Johns" is the attraction. The Troy Press says "it is without doubt one of the most amusing plays ever written. Conceive, if you can, two men of over 800 pounds avoirdupois each, with a strong resemblance to the other in face, form and dress. One of the Johns is always in mischief, but when retribution comes the other John is invariably the vic-tim. The play is replete with very ludi-crous situations, which provoke great mirth." THE DURHAM MYSTERY.

Miss Turlington Still Missing-Fruitless Search for Her Body-No Tidings of Hingham-He is Believed to Have Gone to Iowa in Search of His Supposed Rival in the Young Lady's Affections.

A telegraphic dispatch received in this city last night from Durham, N. C., stated that the search in that vicinity for the body of Miss Lizzie B. Turlington, the missing young lady supposed to have been murdered by Walter L. Bingham, was without resuit. Great numbers of people have been engaged in the search, but so far it has proved fruitless. It is believed that her body lies somewhere in a great stretch of pine forest between Morrisville and Durham. People at the first mentioned place say that Bingham and Miss Turlington passed through Morrisville Friday in a buggy, but only a mile beyond, Bingham was seen in the buggy alone. This rather conflicts with the story of their being seen together within eight miles of Durham, as Morrisville is fourteen miles from Durham, Bingham and the young lady were each aged twenty-three, and had long been lovers, becoming such while at the institution for deaf mutes in Raleigh as pupils Later Bingham went to a similar institution at Carmansville, N. Y., to complete his education. He returned quite a manly and handsome young fellow. A few months ago an attack of catarrh necessitated his return to New York for special treatment. He came back to his mother's home, at Bingham School, with his face disfigured and his good looks lost. He is acutely sensitive, and this preyed upon him. He was also told by teasing friends that Miss Turlington no longer loved him, but that she loved and would marry Professor E. McK. Goodwin, who had been a teacher at the institution in Raleigh while Miss Turlington was teacher before her appointment at matron. Bingham thus came to look on Goodwin as his rival, though the latter had no love for the young lady, and was a mere friend. Last summer Goodwin became a teacher in an Iowa State institution at Council Bluffs. Miss Turlington had agreed to marry Bingham next summer, at the close of the term for which she had contracted to act as matron. Bingham and his mother were parties to this arrangement, and all went well. Last Thursday he went to Raleigh and obtained a large amount of money, part of which he had recently fallen herr to, He also had a revolver and bowle-knife. Friday he obtained a marriage license, and, hiring a horse and buggy from a liveryman, met Miss Turlington at 11 o'clock that morning in Fayetteville street. She had told people at school that she was going down town shopping. Bingham drove off towards Cary. Later in the day, as Miss Turlington did not appear, inquiries were made, and it was found that she and Bingham had gone. There was at once the belief of an elopement. This belief prevailed until later Saturday morning, when it was found that Bingham had got on a train at Durham un accompanied. He had a ticket for Charlotte, and asked about the railway connections to New Orleans and other points. At Greensboro Conductor Jordan saw bim leave the train. When this fact was made known and nothing was heard of the girl the belief of murder aross, and the officers of the institution and Chief of Police Heartt of Raleigh went to Durham. The directors of the institution met and ordered all measures looking to the capture of Bingham and the discovery of the girl to be taken.

From that hour to this search for her has never ceased, yet it has been fruitless. The principal of the Carmansville (New York) institution, where Bingham had been a pupil, telegraphed to Raleigh that he was at the institution Sunday; that he made threats to kill a man named Goodwin, his rival, and then suddenly disappeared. It was evident, as soon as this was known, that Bingham's plan was to go on to Council Bluffs and finish his work by killing Goodwin. A brother of the latter at Raleigh at once sent him and the Council Bluffs police a telegram of warning.

The New York Herald says:

Bingham was met at Carmanville strolling through the grounds by several of his for-mer companions, but he appeared to be de mented, and he failed to recognize them. Nearly every one he met inside the enclo-sure by signs he questioned and asked if he was named Goodwin. He disappeared about sundown, and the pupils who had encountered him all declared by signs that

No one at the institution had heard of the suspicion that Bingham was a murderer until a Herald reporter called there Monday night Then it was remembered the name of the man he was hunting for, and his wild look told the story of his mental condition. He is probably still in this city, and was last heard of at Rogers & Peets' store on Broadway. Bingham is six feet tall, and has brown hair and eyes. He wears a dark

A Raleigh dispatch says:

The case becomes more mysterious each hour, as there is no telling what startling surprises may occur. Miss Turlington was alovable girl, remarkably intelligent, refined, virtuous, trusted and beloved. No words can tell of the indignation felt here over what all feel to be the blackest crime on record. Great numbers of people are engaged in the search. The country people are deeply excited.

Zera Semon and the Marionettes, The Zera and Bell combination gave most enjoyable entertainment at the Opera House last night.

The Royal Marionettes attracted much attention, and were undoubtedly a great success; their amusing antics were most realistic and enjoyable.

Another attractive feature was the dislocating skeleton, which is indeed a most marvellous piece of mechanism. Mr. Karoly Ordey, the Hungarian juggler, performed some wonderful and original tricks in equilibrium.

The performance is undoubtedly a good one, and the large audience present seemed to be delighted with it throughout.

At the close of the entertainment a great many presents were given. Mr. S.A. Story received a tea set of 56 pieces; Jennie Roberts, colored, received a chamber set of 12 pieces; these were the principal ones. To-night a solid coin silver watch, a tea set containing 56 pieces and a chamber set will be given away, besides a great many other presents. The Christmas Carnival. The meeting at the City Hall last night for the purpose of making arrangements for the Christmas carnival, was attended by many of Wilmington's public spirited citizens. The purpose is to have a public pageant that will give pleasure to everybody and that may be the means of attracting many visitors to the city. The following committees were appointed:

On Arrangements-Messrs. W. H. Green, John Turrentine, George R. Dyer, R. L. Prempert, R. H. Bell.

On Fireworks-Mayor Hall, A. D. Brown and John H. Daniel.

All gentlemen who are willing to take part in the pageant are requested to leave their names at Mr. H. H. Kasprowicz's cigar store; the committee on arrangements reserving the right to exclude all objectionable names.

The committees are requested to meet at o'clock this afternoon.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winalow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homocopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet falled to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
