MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

The public debt statement will show a reduction during December of a little over $8,000,000. The residence of the Chinese Minister in Washington was robbed of a large amount in money and valuables; the property was recovered. Total receipts of cotton at the ports 3,745,651 bales. Changes in the British Cabinet are announced. The funeral of General Logan took place yesterday; the weather was very inclement but an immense crowd was in attendance. George W. Hill, tried in the U. S. Court at Norfolk for the murder of J. D. Potter, was acquitted. N. Y. markets: Money quiet at 89 per cent; cotton firm at 91 1/16-16 1/2; wheat—cash a shade higher; No. 3 red January 92 1/2; southern flour steady and quiet; corn—cash firm and quiet; No. 3 January 47 1/2; rosin dull at $1 00; spirits turpentine steady at 86 1/2.

Now you may write it 1887. Each year the STAR copies under "State Contemporaries" at least nine hundred opinions. It does this regularly, systematically.

Claverius is to be hanged on the 14th of January. He is making a last effort through his devoted brother, William, to get an appeal to the General Assembly to beg the Governor to spare his life.

Senators Morgan and Eastis, two Southerners, have been doing some plain talking in Boston and before its leading merchants. Senator Morgan spoke for silver and Senator Eastis talked very plainly in favor of silver and tariff reform.

The ramie plant is to be extensively cultivated in Georgia during 1887. It has been cultivated successfully in some of the States, and several are about to introduce it. It will supersede hemp and flax it is said and perhaps rival cotton.

The cultivation of the pecan nut is a growing industry in Georgia. A Macon dispatch says: "There have been many groves planted in various parts of the State. There is a grove of four acres in Wilkes county, in which the trees have attained a height of twenty-five feet, and from which the owner has secured largely the last season. In 1878 Col. J. F. Jones, of Troup county, planted the seed, and has made three crops from the tree. When planted from the seed the tree will grow and become productive in three years."

There is a revolt in ten States against the Knights of Labor. A loud call is to be sent to Powderly by the various District Assemblies from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Texas, Missouri, Colorado, New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and New York asking for a special session of the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor.

Justin McCarthy, M. P., has been interviewed by the Boston Post as to what he considers will be the outcome of the resignation of Lord Randolph Churchill. He is reported as saying: "The speedy breaking up and down-fall of the Conservative ministry. I do not see how it can be otherwise. Lord Randolph Churchill was unquestionably the ablest member of the cabinet; and indeed, the only man of real force and weight in it with the possible exception of Lord Salisbury. He is a strong man to look at and to listen to. By virtue of his presence and powerful style of speaking he produced the impression of possessing great force."

The Chattanooga Tradesman publishes a report from iron and steel plants in the South. The report shows wonderful progress in 1886. The gain in six years in ten Southern States is 265,200 tons. It is put at 1,583,200 tons for 1886. North Carolina produced none in 1886. In 1886 it produced 7,200 tons. Alabama leads with 386,000 tons; Tennessee next with 350,000 tons; Virginia 278,000; West Virginia 146,000; Missouri 170,000; Georgia 68,000; Kentucky 69,000; Maryland 94,000; Texas 15,000. The Birmingham (Ala.) Age says the figures of the Tradesman are far short of the mark. It puts Alabama alone at 872,000 tons.

George Green Lynch, Esq., so long connected with the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, was born 28th Nov., 1817, and died in Halifax county 29th Dec., 1886. He was an excellent man and a most faithful officer. He began work on 27th March, 1858, (then Wil. & Raleigh called). On 10th March, 1860, he went through on the first train that ever passed from the Roanoke to the Cape Fear. For two years before the war he was special agent of the Postoffice Department of the United States, and was special agent for the Confederate Government while in existence. With these exceptions he was almost continuously connected with the W. & W. Railroad until his death. He had the late John Campbell with him on his only agents this road ever had at Weldon.

THE MORNING STAR.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

The STAR wishes all of its readers the very best that the year can afford. Let all take heart and go to work in earnest with good hope of success. With intelligent industry and necessary economy all ought to be able to get along fairly well.

You have made many mistakes during the year. Who of us can say truly otherwise? Let us be careful to avoid them in 1887. Let an era of good feeling begin. Let enmities, envious, jealousies, heart-burnings, all disappear, and the soul of men will be happier and life will be better. Begin afresh. Make a new start with new resolutions and keep them. And may a benignant and propitious Providence smile upon you and all.

Some poet has sung: With gold of joys and with iron of sorrows, freighted and filled shall the New Year glide, Through storm and sunshine to new to-morrow, And unknown havens o'er Time's fierce tide.

The bells for the dead Old Year are knelling, But we drown them all in our lusty cheer, And the sails in the winds of our hope are swelling— Happy New Year!

FOR TEN YEARS. So far as we know the STAR is the only paper in North Carolina that has regularly, daily, gathered the State news. There is not a week that seven columns or more of State news have not been gleaned. By a fair calculation the STAR has published within the year just ended full 350 columns of State news, briefer type. This would print nearly three volumes of the Thistle Edition of Scott's novels. Mind you, this is but one feature of the STAR, but a most important one. A leading business man in New York subscribes to the STAR just to get its State news. He says he reads it at home at night when too busy to read it at his office. He is a Northern man at that. In the last ten years the STAR has printed more than 25 volumes of North Carolina news of the type and size of the "Thistle Edition." In that time it has published more than 35 volumes of editorial, besides local news. The STAR prints annually matter that would fill some seventeen or eighteen volumes of the Thistle Edition of Scott's novels, and all for $7 00.

We make this statement that fair-minded readers may see how much matter they get for their money. Some complain because they do not get more, but they "want the earth?" The STAR gives all the reading matter that its patronage allows. With double the advertising and double the subscription the STAR could afford to print ten or fifteen more volumes of the size of the edition referred to without raising the price of subscription.

Spirits Turpentine. —The Troy Vidette is one year old. It gives special attention to country affairs. — Pole punchings are progressing in various sections. In two or three months hoe pulling will be in order. — Charlotte is talking of establishing a phalaena manufactory and a flouring mill as we learn from the Chronicle. — Greensboro is to have a new daily to be known as the News, Mr. T. B. Eldridge, of the Lexington Dispatch, editor. — Gaston Current: Mr. J. M. Hoover, the champion rabbit hunter of Stanley's Creek, who some time ago bagged 48 rabbits in one day, reports having killed 48 more, in two days last week. — Concord Register: Our people are preparing matter for the Legislature to act on. — The Wilmington STAR is one of the best daily papers now published. It is the same STAR and it has listened for nearly a quarter of a century. — Milton Advertiser: So far as we are able to learn, Col. John W. Cunningham's condition remains unchanged. There is no hope of his recovery, but he holds up much better than any one expected. — Col. George Williamson fell and broke his arm last Tuesday evening. — Winston Sentinel: Col. J. Turpin Morehead, President of the North Carolina Railroad, has called a meeting of the corporations and individuals who are stockholders in the road and reside in North Carolina, to be held at Raleigh, N. C., on Tuesday, January 11, 1887. — The Landmark last Thursday received a letter from Greensboro, a postal card from Troutman's, all dated and mailed July 17th, 1885. We could have gotten over it if the bill had not come but we are curious to know where the letter and the postal card were all these seventeen months. — Statesville Landmark: — Asheville Citizen: On Saturday Mr. Stepp, residing on Ivy, was accidentally shot by Mr. Olingman Andrews. Andrews was working on a pistol and thought he had extracted all the loads, but a sudden snap discharged a ball, which entered Stepp's right side. Dr. Reagan pronounced the wound fatal. — Philadelphia Record: John West, colored, who in his time had been a slave, a doctor and a preacher, and who was the oldest man in Hunterdon county, died at Lambertville yesterday, aged 97 years. He was born in Raleigh, N. C., and for many years was a man of note among his people. — Smithfield Herald: Mr. Benjamin Thatcher, of Perquimans county, lost her eyesight one night last week in a singular manner. A kerosene lamp was on the point of extinction. She attempted to blow out the flame. As her face was near the lamp it exploded, throwing flaming oil and pieces of glass into her eyes, causing the loss of her eyesight and terrible injuries to the face. — Newton Enterprise: The poultry business seems to be assuming large proportions. Last Friday three car loads of chickens, turkeys, and geese passed down the Western North Carolina Railroad. A card received states that a gold mine has been discovered, and is being worked very successfully, at the head of Mt. Creek. It is called Pin Hook mine. The correspondent says there is no brake about the company working it. They live on walnuts, potatoes and in coupling. It was cut off just below the knee, the lower part of the leg being found some distance down the track. — Albemarle Observer: That brilliant daily, the Wilmington STAR of December 18th, has a scholarly and highly eulogistic article on Senator Z. B. Vance, suggested by the Senator's late speech in Boston. The mortar is pretty thick, neighbor, but we endorse every word of it. Mr. B. I. Bell of our county went out to hunt a lost sheep and while searching for it came upon a pile of goose feathers which indicated that something had been playing havoc with his geese. He made and set a trap for the varmint and captured a genuine gray eagle, measuring 7 feet and a half inch from tip to tip of wing. — Charlotte Chronicle: Frank Thomas, the colored man who shot and killed Henry Ledbetter in this city, on the 15th of December, has been sentenced yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, and the case investigated. Thomas was admitted to bail in a bond of $300, but he had failed to give bond as this writing. We take pleasure in announcing to our patrons and friends that Mr. Wade H. Harris has accepted a position on the staff of the Chronicle, and will to-day take charge of the local department. Mr. Harris is recognized as one of the best local editors in the State, and we may safely add in the South. Mr. J. A. Robinson, who has acceptably filled the position of city editor on this paper since its inception, will still be connected with the paper on the editorial staff. — Grover dot: We learned to-day of an accident that happened on yesterday to a young Mr. Ellis, three miles distant in the country, through the carelessness of handling a gun. Mr. Ellis and a party of friends had been out rabbit hunting, and on returning to the house of Mr. Edgar Graham (one of the party) their dogs commenced fighting. Mr. Graham, in silencing them, used the butt of his gun as a stick, and in the fracas the gun was discharged, the contents entering one of Mr. Ellis's legs, fracturing the bone. The wound is not necessarily dangerous, but very painful.

— Receipts of cotton yesterday 841 bales. — The Produce Exchange will be closed to-day. — Mr. I. J. Bear leaves to-day for New York City. — The masquerade on horseback will take place this afternoon. — There will be several shooting matches to-day for turkeys and chickens. — The annual meeting of stockholders of the First National Bank will be held at the banking house in this city on Tuesday, the 11th inst, at 10 a. m. — There will be religious services in the Seaman's Bethel to-day at 11 s. m. Seats free, and the public cordially invited. Also, on Sunday, morning and evening, at the usual hours. — The directors of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company have declared a dividend of four per cent on the capital stock of the Company, payable on and after the 15th inst. — This is the birth-day of the editor and proprietor of the STAR. He is just—well, he's old enough to vote, and to feel a trifle tired after a tramp of fifteen miles through forest and field. — The old custom of watching the Old Year out and the New Year in was observed at the Fifth Street M. E. Church last night by appropriate services, commencing at half past 10 o'clock and continuing until a few minutes after midnight. — Capt. A. C. Huggins, of Onslow, was here yesterday. He left for Raleigh, where he will go before the Democratic caucus as a candidate for Clerk of the Senate. In addition to the fact that he is a disabled Confederate soldier, his well known qualifications for the position will no doubt give him a strong support.

— The comparative statement of the movement of naval stores at this port from the beginning of the crop year, April 1st, 1886, to January 1st, 1887, shows an increase in receipts of spirits turpentine and rosin, and a decrease in tar and crude turpentine, as compared with receipts during the same period in 1885. The total number of casks of spirits turpentine received up to date this year is 55,464 casks; last year, 58,708 casks. Rosin, 234,493 barrels; last year, 210,010 'bar. 45,669 barrels; last year, 49,592. Crude turpentine 19,528 barrels; last year, 27,923. The stock of rosin at this port, ashore and afloat, is 98,617 barrels; at the same time last year, 117,017. The stock of spirits turpentine, ashore and afloat, is 2,873 casks; last year at the same time, 3,047 casks.

— The arrival of two British steamships—the Roseville and Beechville—within a few hours of each other yesterday, is worthy of note as evidencing the rapidly increasing commerce of Wilmington. Fifteen or more large steamers have already sailed this season for foreign ports, all freighted with full cargoes of cotton, and there are now four more in port. During the whole of the last cotton crop year not more than six or eight of these "ocean tramps" visited Wilmington. There is but one expression of opinion from the masters of these vessels—the harbor is easier of access as compared with other harbors on the coast, their vessels are loaded with dispatch, and generally they take out larger cargoes of cotton than they have carried from any other port.

Improved Order of Red Men. At a regular Council held by Cherokee Tribe No. 9, Improved Order Red Men, the following Chiefs were elected for the ensuing term: V. P.—S. J. Ellis. S.—A. B. Shiver. S. S.—Geo. F. Colin. J. S.—D. H. Wilder. C. of R.—Geo. Ziegler. K. of W.—J. D. H. Klander. The above, together with the appointed Chiefs, will be raised up to their respective stumps by V. G. I. George Ziegler, on the sleep of the Sixth Sun, Cold Moon, G. S. D. 896.

The Largest Cargo of Cotton. The British steamship Jessmore, Captain Amlot, which cleared for Liverpool yesterday, has the distinction of taking out the largest cargo of cotton ever shipped from this port, and the Wilmington stevedores have the credit of stowing on board the vessel six hundred bales more than she carried as cargo from Charleston, S. C., on her last trip from that port to Liverpool, in November. The Jessmore arrived at Wilmington on the 18th of December, making the run from Liverpool in eighteen days.

Religious Services for the Military. The Wilmington Light Infantry will assemble at the company's armory Sunday afternoon in full uniform for the purpose of attending religious services at St. John's Church at 4 o'clock. The services will be conducted by the chaplain of the company, Rev. Dr. Carmichael. The officers of the revenue steamer Calfax have been invited to accompany the Light Infantry on the occasion. Col. W. C. Jones, of the Third Regiment, N. C. S. G., and staff, will also attend. — Ger. barque Satisfaction, Rinkuss, sailed from St. Vincent Dec. 17th for this port.

Cotton Movement. The total receipts of cotton at this port for the first four months of the crop year (ended yesterday) are 114,787 bales, against 78,983 bales for the corresponding period in 1885—showing an increase of 35,804 bales, or nearly 50 per cent. The receipts for the month of December, 1886, are 35,604 bales, against 12,473 the same month in 1885—an increase of 10,132 bales. The total exports for the four months ended with December are 100,683 bales, against 67,987 the same months in 1885. The stock at this port, ashore and afloat, is 14,373 bales.

Weather Indications. The following are the indications for the twenty-four hours commencing at 10 p. m. Friday: For North Carolina and South Carolina, rain, followed by fair weather, colder, northwesterly winds. The Weather—Another Cold Wave. The barometer started on a rapid rise early yesterday morning in the extreme Northwest and with it came another cold wave. At 7 a. m. the barometer at Bismarck, Dak., registered 80.73 inches, which is unusually high, and the temperature at the same time was 14 degrees below zero. Rapidly rising barometer and falling temperature occurred throughout the entire Northwest, but the barometer had not reached as high nor the thermometer as low a point as at Bismarck. The atmospheric depression reported in the Southwest has traversed the Southern States and lowered the pressure so as to make room for the impending cold wave. With the barometric pressure at 80.73 inches in the Northwest and 29.80 inches in this section, the chances are very favorable for the arrival of the cold wave here with some severity. Its approach is anticipated by the Weather Bureau in Washington City, and the cold wave signal has been ordered heisted at the Signal Office in this city by that department with the following data: WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—95 P. M. Host cold wave signal. The temperature will fall from today to twenty degrees during the next twenty-four to thirty-six hours. The temperature at 10 o'clock last night was down to 28 degrees at Palestine, Tex.; 39 at Galveston; 31 at Shreveport, La.; 37 at Nashville, Tenn.; 36 at Charlotte, N. C., and 55 at Charleston. In this city it was 50 degrees. In the Northwest at the same time the temperature ranged from zero to 20 degrees below.

Foreign Exports. Messrs. Jas. Sprunt & Son cleared the British steamer Jessmore yesterday, for Liverpool, Eng., with a cargo of 5,203 bales of cotton, weighing 2,408,526 pounds and valued at $318,500. Also, the Norwegian barque Th. Thorsen, for Dunkirk, France, with 1,600 bales of cotton, weighing 736,950 pounds and valued at $68,300. Messrs. S. P. Shetter & Co. cleared the Norwegian barque Ciroassian, for Hull, Eng., with 4,350 barrels of rosin, weighing 1,304,470 pounds and valued at $3,658.95.

Bingham. There is a growing belief in Raleigh that Walter Bingham, Miss Turlington's murderer, has committed suicide. Few persons think he has gone to Canada. One of his relatives says he has probably crossed the ocean. The authorities in Raleigh are greatly puzzled at the continuous failure to hear a word from a man so easily identified.

RIVER AND MARINE. — Nor. barque Haabet, Telefen, hence, arrived at Liverpool Dec. 29th. — Nor. brig Edden, Berthelsen, sailed from Lisbon for this port Dec. 7. — Ger. barque Alexandrine, Reckels, sailed from St. Vincent Dec. 8th for this port.

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY. The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Agricultural Messenger, at Chambersburg, Penn.: A GERMAN NURSE. Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will give the gripping, colicking, and teething stage. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhoea. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures colic, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 50 cents a bottle.
