Memorials Presented and Bills Reported in the Senate-Debate on Inter-State Commerce Resumed-Disagreement Between the Two Houses on the Anti-Polygamy Bill. By Telegraph to the Morning Star

SENATE. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.-Among the communications presented and referred was a memorial presented by Mr. Brown, from eltizens of Cedartown, Ga., for the repeal of the internal revenue laws.

Bills were reported from committees and placed on the calendar as follows: By Mr. Hoar, from the Library Committee, for the erection of a monument to no-soldiers and sailors who gave their to the preservation of the govern-Br Mr. Wilson, from the Post Office committee, concerning postoffices of the faird class. Also, a proposition, as an amendment to the Post Office Appropriatien bill, appropriating $400,000 to carry the mails between the United States and By Mr. Gorman, from the Committee on ree, appropriating $200,000 for the es of Charleston harbor, By Mr. Brown, from the Committee on roads, House bill for a settlement of accounts with the Mobile & Ohio Railroad

On motion of Mr. Gray, Senate bill to My M. C. Mordecai $37,591, in full of empensation for carrying the mail from Barieston, S. C., to Havana, Cuba, between October, 1859, and July, 1860, was taken up and passed.

On motion of Mr. Mahone, Senate bill giving the Court of Claims jurisdiction wer the claim of the legal representatives of Henry H. Sibley, for use by the governnent of the Sibley test, was taken up and

The Senate then, at 11 o'clock, resumed the consideration of the conference report on the Inter-State Commerce bill.

The report having been read in full, Mr. Hoar moved that the Senate disagree to the report, insist on its former action, and reguest a further conference. Mr. Cullom claimed that his motion to agree to the report took precedence of the motion to disagree. Mr. Harris, one of the conferees, desired every Senator to realize the fact that when he voted on the question of agreeing or disagreeing to this report, he was voting in effect on the question as to whether there should be any legislation on the subject during this Congress. Mr. Hoar characterized Mr. Harris' state ment as extraordinary and appealed to the Senate not to submit to that kind of threat

Mr. George advocated the adoption of the report. He said he had no doubt that the effect of legislation would be to increase freight rates temporarily, not because that was the legitimate result of it, but because railroad companies would make it the occasion of unnecessarily and unjustly raising rates in order to bring the measure into disregute. He was satisfied that if the conference report were disagreed to, it meant no legislation on the subject during this Congress.

Mr. Hoar-Why ! Mr. George-Because, after extreme concossions made by the conferees on each stde, if this reasonable report (much fairer to railroads than to the people) be rejected. no further concessions can be made.

Mr. Hoar-Does the Senator mean to say that if a majority of the Senate is of the opinion that this long and short haul section is absurd; will raise rates—not only temporarily but permanently-and will defeat the purpose of the bill, any member of either House will refuse to vote for all the other excellent legislation (which he also approves) of the bill ? Mr. George-There is a feeling, a sentiment, a suspicion (if I may use the term) that this bill and all legislation on this subject is to be defeated by dilatory motions. do not know how far that goes, and do not entertain that suspicion myself. I believe, however, that it will be the policy of rallroad companies, as soon as the bill becomes a law, by all sorts of tricks and manuscribe to raise rates unreasonably and unlistly and to charge that to this bill.

Brace effort, device and trick will be re-sorted to by railroad companies for the to by railroad companies for the purpose of bringing into disrepute legislation on this aubject

Mr. Frye gave notice that he would move to recommit the report, with instructions; and claimed that that motion would take precedence of the other two motions. Mr. Evarts then took the floor and pro-

canded to address the Senate against the bill, on legal, constitutional and business

At the conclusion of Mr. Evert's speech, Mr. Cullom stated his desire that a vote should be taken to day, but Mr. Hoar suggested that he and other Senators desired to speak, and that there was no desire to delay a vote unnecessarily. Finally, unanimous consent was given that a vote should be taken before adjournment to-morrow. The Anti-Polygamy bill-the Senate bill with House substitute—having been re-ceived from the House, the amendment was non-concurred in and a conference asked for. Mesers. Edmunds, Ingalis and Pugh were appointed conferees on the part of the f private bills.

A memorial from the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad Co. was presented by Sutton, asking for an extension of the contract between that road and the State, in view of the fact that the State agreed to furnish the road with 600 convicts and has never furnished anything near that number. Among the principal bills introduced were the the following: By Lyons of Bladen, to authorize the Carolina Central R. R. Co. to exchange stock for bonds; by Pittman to amend salaries of teachers in public schools, by Williamson, to increase the appropriation for colored State normal schools; by King, to settle and adjust the debt of Onslow county and to authorize that county to levy a special tax for the construction of a jail; by Sutton, to extend the time for the completion of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad to Mt. Airy and Patterson; by Temple, to empower the Governor to use his discretion in offering rewards for fugitives from justice in certain special cates. This is to cover the Bingham-Turlington

The House passed the bill to incorporate the North Carolina Phosphate Co. (of Rabeigh and Castle Hayne.) There was quite a discussion over a bill giving to magistrates jurisdiction of the offence of carrying concealed weapons, which came up with an adverse report from the Judiciary Committee. It was urged by members that such a law would save large costs and expedite punishments. A number of speeches were made for and against the bill. There was plainly made manifest a desire to increase the jurisdiction of magistrates. Some amendments were inserted and the bill passed by a large majority. As passed it provides that the fine shall not be less than $10 nor more

The House took up the special order, be ing Dr. York's protective tariff resolution, looking to the development of our infant industries in this and other States of the South. Mr. Leazar offered a substitute for this esolution, as follows: "Resolved by the House of Representaives, the Senate concurring. Sec. 1. That our Senators in Congress be instructed and our Representatives be requested to use their best efforts to secure a reduction of the tariff laws to the point of a constitutional revenue, sufficient only for an economical administration of the government. believing that the incidental protection afforded by such a tariff would be amply sufficient to promote the healthy growth of all legitimate industries.

tions Mr. Leazer warmly championed his substitute. Mr. Worth made an incisive speech, in which he attacked Dr. York and his resolution. A number of other speeches were made and Dr. York endeavored to give the House some ideas on the tariff question, in reply to Mr. Leazer's, remark that it was a subject about which not over a dozen men in North Carolina knew any thing. Both sides of the House applauded the speeches made by the members of the two parties. The Republicans claim that they all favored protection ideas, and that the Democrats took ground for free trade. Mr. Holt said that the attempt to brand the Democratic party with being the mainstay of free trade was a failure. He said the cotton manufactories in this State did not receive a particle of benefit from the present tariff. They are not asking for protection. Mr. Overman protested against the resolution of Dr. York. He protested against the action of the Republicans ever since this session began. Day after day had been spent in the discussion of tariff, the Blair bill, the Internal Revenue system and other national questions, when the House should have looked after State matters. He said that Dr. York had been de feated two years ago, on the very basis of his high protective tariff ideas Dr. York, replying, said the cause of his defeat was the infamous canvassing boards. He said that the election laws were a disgrace to the State and should be repealed. (At this remark the Radicals applauded.) Overman again attacked York in regard to voting for Webster for Speaker, and asked if in so doing York had not endorsed Mr. Webster's announced Democratic princi ples. He put York in a terrible state of confusion, and the house and galleries laughed at York's discomfiture. York said the only reason why he voted for Webster was because he was a true son of North Carolina. He never did answer Overman's pointed inquiry. He urged Overman to pursue Webster's course and thus get Republican endorsement. Overman charged York with being a dodger and a shuffler. He said that God knew he had far rather be here to-day as the choice of the Democratic party for Speaker, than to get that office by an unholy alliance, by a trade and by all sorts of mugwumpism. At this the and galleries became very demonstrative in their applause. Speaker Webster made a personal statement. He said that there had been no trade for the Speakership. He said the Independents had a meeting the day before the assembling of the Legislature. That meeting had appointed a committee to see which party would accept the plans of the Independents. That committee reported that it had received overtures from the Republicans in the House. The report was adopted, with the express agreement that the Independents should have the right to vote on other matters and for other officers as they saw fit. He had announced his de-

Julian. The daily references to the Speakership matter he considered as very annoying and offensive to bim. This terminated the discussion, which was by far the most exciting of the session

RALEIGH, Jan. 13.—The Senate was Pearson offered an amendment that the resolutions be not considered until the revenue system is abolished. This was lostyeas 49, nays 57. Pearson said the Democratic party had to-day made itself ridiculous. The State is just now beginning to feel the advantages of the tariff.

The substitute of Leszar was next voted on and adopted-yeas 54, nays 51. The announcement of this fact was greeted with applause on the Democratic side. So the Republicans met one defeat, at least.

Leazar gave notice that to-morrow he would make a protest against the action of the Republicans in this House in pressing such resolutions as the ones they had for nine days been introducing. He asked that this protest be spread upon the journal. At 1.45 the House adjourned.

A Murderer Hanged in Jali at Morris town.

by Telegraph to the Morning Star.] Morristown, Jan. 13 - John M. Wil on was hanged in the jail yard here at 1.59 this afternoon for the murder of Anthony W. Dealy, a Montgomery county farmer He mutilated the remains so they could not be identified and threw them into Wissahickon creek near Philadelphia, where they were found They were supposed to be those of a Philadelphia butcher who had disappeared, and another man narrowly escaped the chances of trial for the murder of this butcher. Wilson was never detected. He wandered westward and while delirious from drink told the whole story and was arrested. He retracted his confes sion when he sobered up in jail, but his statement was verified and brought about his conviction. He then acknowledged that his story of the delirium was true and supplied all the missing links of evidence. He has written a brief history of his life and apparently died repentant.

Great Excitement in Russian and Austrian Circles over Prince Bismarck's

By Cable to the Morning Star. LONDON, January 18.-The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says: The speeches in the Reichstag give no gratification to the Russian press. After the remarks of M. Flaurens, whom the Russian papers landed to the sky, Novoe Vremya, Novosti and others received the German speeches with the greatest scepticism and mistrust. The Vienna papers heartily approve Bismarck's language relative to France, but the passages relating to Austria are not read with much pleasure.

VIENNA, January 13 - Prince Bismarck's speech has been read piecemeal in the public resorts in this city, creating as much of a sensation as so many war bulletins.

New York Rice Market.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Jan. 12. The demand in domestic sorts is light. and the movement can be classed as of "hand to-mouth character. Many of the trade say, by action if not by word: "We teady, with sales of 530 bales-middling | have odds and ends of stock, and we pro pose to close out before entering into new transactions." At the South there is quite a lively "racket." Those who sold in December for January delivery are said to be getting badly "squeezed, as contracts are now being filled at 1@sc higher than prices current in the former-named period. It is said that the present advance will undoubtedly call forth free offerings, and mills are getting ready to run on full time. Foreign styles of high grade are fairly active; the former for home use, the latter for export. The following are the quotations: Carolina and Louisiana, full standard fair, 31@31c; good, 31@31c; prime, 4@41c; choice, 5@ 51c; fancy head. 51@6c; Rangoon, duty paid at 4@41c; do. in bond at 21@21c; Patna, duty paid at 41@41c; do. in bond at 24@3c; Japan (new crop) at 5@54c; do old crop at 4@41c; rice bran and meal at 75@95c per 100 pounds.

New York Naval Stores Market.

N. Y. Commercial Bulletin, Jan. 12. Receipts to-day 75 bbls rosin. For spirits urpentine there has been a brisk demand. and sales so far this week comprise 200 bbls at 38c, 50 do for 381c, and 100 to at 381c for Southerns, and 39c for New Yorks. At the close there were few sellers below 39c. No clear statement is given for the advance, but it would seem that available supplies are pretty well concentrated, and holders anticipating an increase in buying orders, quietly worked the rate up to 39c. No marked change at the South noticeable, though it is said that business has been transacted there above market rates, but kept quiet. Tar and pitch are selling moderately at previous rates. Rosins have not moved freely and the market is without feature, beyond the fact that previous rates continue to rule.
