A Visitor's Impressions.

Mr. Fletcher Harper, of the firm of Harer Brothers, the well known publishers, of New York city, spent several days with his family at the Orton. They were so well pleased with this excellent hotel and the delightful climate of Wilmington, that apon his departure for Florida yesterday Mr. Harper expressed his intention to make a two week's stay here on his return from the "Land of Flowers." In conversation he said that our people did not know the great advantages they enjoyed in the mild and equable temperature, general health fulness, and proximity to northern centres. He thought that a lack of energy was manfest, which, however, he kindly ascribed to the gently soothing influence of the genial sun and balmy sir peculiar to this

The Jailor's Beception

The announcement in the STAR yesterday morning that the new jail would be open for the inspection of the public, led to such a tush of sight-seers as is rarely witnessed. From the time the doors were opened at 10 o'clock in the morning until they were closed, at 4 p. m., the place was thronged, and it is estimated that at least two thousand people passed in and out of the building. The larger number of the visitors were ladies, and the sight to them was a novel one. They were shown everything of interest in the place, and curiously inspected the arrangements for securing the male prisoners in the iron cells, the women's prison, and even the executioner's room, with the fatal trap and the deadly noose, all in readiness. Probably not one in a hundred of those who were there yesterday ever saw the iuside of a jail before.

To-day, the place will be again opened; but for the inspection of the colored popu-

A bite from a rattlesnake is often not more dangerous than a severe cough or cold. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup well deserves its reputation.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homospathy. That might the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some demestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy! The mother was deligated with the wenderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A Single trial of the Syrup never yet falled to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. Scients a bottle.
