rent to all.-N. Y. Ad - The true unity of the Christian Church will be realized in observation whenever the unity of the spirit shall tri-umph over sectarianism. It will consist not in similarity or uniformity, but in mutual recognition. The unity of the spirit is now manifested in a thousand ways by true Christians, when they are brought together in their common work. In many benevolent enterprises it asserts itself in mutual expressions of courtesy and kindness. The members of various denominations mingle together in social worship without friction or embarrassment -Richmond Advocate.

- A number of cranks and frauds from the North have landed in the South and are working the ignorant and the fa-natical in our cities for all they are worth. Leaf. These Northern emissaries profess to be very pious and are very zealous, and some of our weak brethren and sisters are much taken with them. Did any of our city church workers know these people, who they are and where they came from, they would give them a wide berth. That they are from the slums of the North and are immoral and disreputable is made evident. -Raleigh Recorder.

- Let the Southern Church do its work in its own way, and it is doing much and well, and let us wait until the views and feelings of our Southern brethren shall be more in consonance with our own concerning the ecclesiastical relations of colored churches, ministers and elders. Between the whites and the blacks through out the South, especially in the older parts, while there is in general no hostility, there is a great gulf, over which there can as yet be no passage that approaches social recognition, which most Southerners insist is necessarily involved in Presbyterial ecclesiastical connections composed of both races - Presbyterian Banner, Northern. tion .- Wadesboro Intelligencer.

- Bishop Dancan, in his dedicatory sermon in Raleigh, in speaking of the new things foisted on Methodism, described the methods of some of the evangelists as "The Short Hand method of joining the church." The evangelist asks all in the congregation who believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God to stand up, then all who stand up are invited forward to shake hands with the evangelist and join the church. The Bishop says to such professors, "You believe that Christ is the Son of God; so do devils. They confess this trembling You do so without trembling." He believes in conviction of sin, repentance for sin and in accepting Christ as a personal Saviour, con version to God and regeneration by the L Strong, presided. The attendance was large. Dr. Wedekind offered prayer. "The annual report was read in abstracts by Secretaries Stevenson and Shearer. The trea-surer's report was read by O. R. Kingsbury, who in closing announced his purpose to terminate, on account of old age, his service of sixty years with the Society. Resolutions of a highly eulogistic character were passed by a unanimous rising yote, and he was subsequently created treasurer emeritus of the Society. The exceedingly ap-

The sooner the internal revenue department is wiped out of existence the better. -Goldsboro Messenger. Certainly; and the only way to effect this great reform and rid the people of a war measure is to collect the taxes necessary to run the government by means of tariff duties on articles imported into the United States from foreign countries. This is Republican doctrine.— Raleigh Signal, Rep. The people of the United States have never voted upon the tariff. All of the great political parties of the country uni-formly adopt tariff resolutions, but there never has been a national canvass in which weeks. the tariff was the leading issue of the campaign. From the close of the Mexican war to the era of secession the slavery question swallowed up all other issues, and since the 'war between the States" the leading object of the Republican party has been to consolidate the government, and the great

The more independent voters we have the more careful will be the selection of candidates by the parties. A large crowd of truly independent men, men who vote for the best interests of the whole people, will have a most wholesome effect on the politics of the day. Fitness and not favoritism must be the criterion. It is well to have conventions, it is necessary for parties to organize, but there ought to be somewhere, somehow, a power to compel the organizations to consider well the best interests of the people, and not spend their evergies complimenting some incompetent, unworthy men.
