TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Collision of Trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad - Eight Persons Killed and Many Injured-Graphic Accounts of the Scene by Passengers. By Telegraph to the Morning Star

PITTSBURG, PA., May 28.-The latest reports from the scene of the accident at Horse Shoe bend, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, last night, state that eight were killed and six injured. Four were killed outright, and four others have since died. The ill-fated train arrived at Union depot, in this city, at 4 30 o'clock this morning, with some ninety passengers aboard. For four long hours a group of anxious mortals paced up and down the passageways, lingering impatiently and in awful suspense as to the fate of their friends who had taken passage on the fast line and were expected to arrive in the city at 11.55 o'clock isst night. Many ware the inquiries of the depot officials regarding the nature of the terrible accident, of which all had heard, but either they could not or would not give particulars. Every minute seemed an hour to the waiting crowd, and when the shrill whistle at last signalled the arrival of the wrecked train, all eyes were turned toward it. Almost the first person to step from the train was Miss McMahon, a school teacher in Florida, who was on her way to her home in Beaver Falls, this State. Miss McMahon furnished an account of the awful catastrophe which overtook the fast line train. The story is best told in her own words, as follows:

"I was sitting about the middle of the second coach from the engine. The train was running at a high rate of speed when the accident happened. The shock was terrific. I was thrown violently against the seat in front of me. The train stopped suddenly. In a minute all was confusion, and I was at a loss to know what had happened, I soon heard shricks from the passengers in the coach in rear of the one I was in, and I at once knew that something awful had happened. I raised the window and looked out. The sight frightened me. The entire sides of the two coaches immediately in rear of the one I was in were crushed in. I could see the passengers climbing out over the coal cars lying on the adjoining tracks. The passengers who were not injured assisted in removing the killed and wounded. It was a sight that I will never forget. Several women in the car swooned away when they saw what had happened.

J. H. Peach, of Bellevue, Mifflin county, this State, was a passenger on the third coach from the smoking car, and related a graphic account of the heartrending scenes which followed the death dealing crash. "I was sitting," he "about four seats to the rear of Dale Graham, when the trains collided. The entire side of our coach was crushed in, and young Graham was literally buried beneath the ruins. Not a moan escaped his lips, and he must have died instantly. for he was about the first victim we set about to recover. When extricated from the wreck his form was lifeless. The side of the car was crushed down on top of him, and this with the large quantity of coal from a freight car had crushed the young man's life out before any assistance could be rendered. I never want to witness such distressing scenes again. It makes my flesh quiver when I think about it. The piercing shrieks of the women mingled with the agonizing cries of the men, completely overpowers me now, although when the sad calamity occurred I managed to keep possession of my senses, and aided in rescuing the victims to the best of my ability. We must have been running at the rate of about thirty miles an hour at the time the collision occurred, and the freight train I should judge was going about twelve miles an hour. The freight train was heavily loaded, and the terrible crash caused a panic among the passengers. I am surprised that three times as many were not dashed into eternity."

PITTBURG, May 28.—The official list of killed and injured furnished by the railroad company gives six killed and eight injured. The names of the killed are as follows: Dale B. Graham, son of ex-Speaker Graham of Alleghany; Wymer Stires, of Shamokin, Pa.: John Doris, of East Liberty, a news boy; John H. Stauffer, of Louisville, Ohio; Charles Biedleman, of Brinsfield, Noble county, Ind.; Charles E. Morrell No. 75 east Fifty-third street, New York Two of the eight injured are reported dead but the report is not confirmed. Neither train was running at high speed or the disaster would have been greater. The accident was caused by the breaking of an axle on the freight train, causing a freight car to drop towards the adjoining track at the moment the passenger train was passing.

THE NATIONAL DRILL.

Companies Competing-Cadets Drilling in the Rain. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 28.-The weather to day was cool, almost chilly. The infantry companies competing to-day are Company B, First Virginia; Neally Rifles; Maine National Rifles; Company D, First Minnesota; Company A, Fifth Rhode Island; Company I, Second Michigan; Butler Guards, of Kansas City; Wooster City Guards, Ohio, and Fort Wayne Rifles, Indiana. None of these made any better than the average record; the Minnesota and Washington men doing the best. Frequent showers in the afternoon dampened the ardor of the spectators and thinned the crowds, but did not stop the drilling.

The cadet drill began at 2 o'clock by the cadets of Peekskill, N. Y.; St. John's Academy, Va.; Bethel Academy, Virginia; Maryland Agricultural College; Cayuga Lake, New York; Michigan Military Academy, and the Washington High boys. These youths are under military instruction of detailed officers of the regular army, and their manoeuvres and manual practice though hardly up to the standard set by military men, betokened zeal and a degree of intelligent appreciation of soldierly duties which was a surprise to the spectators. During the drill of the St. John's Academy boys it began to rain in torrents, but the harder it rained the harder d, and when the command to fire lying down was given, they splashed into the wet grass like a lot of huge frogs.

GLASGOW, May 28 .- A terrible explosion has occurred in the Udstone coal pit, at Blantyre Village, in Lanarkshire, eight miles from this city. Two hundred and twenty miners are entombed in the pit, and it is feared that all have perished. The shaft is blocked with the debris caused by the explosion. Further particulars of the explosion in the Udstone pit show that the number of men entombed is less than at first reported. Forty-five miners, who were imprisoned in the upper seam of the pit were rescued, but one of them died after being brought to the surface. The others are suffering from the effects of the shock and fire-Access to the lowest seam, where seventy men are confined, is found to be blocked by the debris which tumbled down by the explosion. It was in this seam that the explosion occurred, and it is not believed that any of the seventy men down there can be rescued alive. It is even thought that they are all dead now. There are seventy others still imprisoned the middle seam. Hopes are entertained of saving the most of these. The volunteers working for their rescue can hear them calling for help. Cries of "Come," 'Come quickly," have been heard requently. GLASGOW, May 28.-Udstone Pit is situated in the most easterly of the coal districts of Scotland. As soon as the fact of the explosion became known, miners from all the neighboring collieries hurried to the scene to help in the work of rescue. Communication was opened this afternoon with the second seam and numbers of miners entombed there, all of whom were supposed killed, have been rescued alive, although much prostrated from fire-damp. Five of the men found in the second seam were dead when the rescuers opened it.

GLASGW, May 28.—The lowest seam has been reached, but too late to rescue any of the miners who were at work there. Not one of the unfortunate men was found alive. The total number of lives lost by the explosion is believed to be 75.

The Paris correspondent of the Times telegraphs that Rouvier has formed a Cabinet as follows: Rouvier, Premier and Minister of Finance: Flourens, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Spuller, Minister of Justice: Faiheres, Minister of Interior and Public Worship; Gen. Saussier, Minis-War; Admiral Jaures, Minister ter of of Marine; Develle, Minister of Agriculture; Etienne, Minister of Public Works; Cochery, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs; Berthelot, Minister of Public Instruction. The cabinet is composed, the correspondent says, of moderate Republicans or of a union of the Left, and its operation will be the trial of reaction against Radicalism, Militairism, and Socialism. The party of the Right, with a sense of their own security, have promised the new ministry full support. President Grevy was for a long time reluctant, adds the correspondent, to make the trial, but he finally consented.

The next few days, the Times dispatch says in conclusion, "Will be eventful for France" An attempt may be made to induce some of the previous ministers to oppose the new Rouvier policy, and the issue may be strange and unexpected.

CALCUTTA, May 28 .- A cyclone which visited this section of country yesterday was very destructive. A local steamer, with 750 persons on board, was caught by the cyclone and is missing. It is feared she is lost with all on board. The district of Orissa was completely devastated by the cyclone.

A Raid on the Coke Rioters-Severs Arrests Made.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. Uniontown, May 28 .- A raid was made on the Jimtown coke rioters to-day, and twelve of the ring-leaders were arrested. Among the number was William Bielstein, member of the executive board of the Amalgamated Miners' and Laborers' Association. John Nuns, another of the arrested men, is a reputed Anarchist, and played a conspicuous part in the big strike a year ago. The arrest is regarded as an important one. Wm. H. Bailey and A. A. Carlton, of the General Executive Board, K. of L., are now in the coke regions trying to settle the strike. They go to the scene of the the coke strike as representatives of the executive board, with the understanding that the board is not in accord with the strikers. It is said that they will use every means to effect an amicable settlement of the strike, but that if they fail they will hardly peremptorily order the men back to work, for should they do so, the moral support of the executive board will be lost.

LOCAL NEWS.

Sensation Among the Darkles, Colored circles in the southern part of the city are very much agitated over a singular occurrence that took place Friday afternoon last, on Castle street, near Ninth, regarded by many persons as a direct manifestation of Divine displeasure and warning. On the day mentioned, as the story goes, Anna Granger, a colored woman, was ridiculing and mocking another woman who was singing a hymn. Suddenly she felt a burning sensation in the palm of her left hand, and on examination found a singular discoloration that gave her no little uneasiness and alarm. The words "The Church of God," in blood-red capital letters, appeared plainly, in a half circle on the lower part of the palm. The woman screamed and carried on at such a rate that the whole neighborhood soon gathered, and from that time on the excitement increased rapidly. Friday night there were great crowds of people in the house and vicinity until a late hour, and all day yesterday persons thronged the place, anxious to see the phenomenon. Everybody was permitted to look at the woman's hand, and the greater number of those who inspected it were very much impressed, few persons being willing to admit that the whole thing is probably a

-- Henderson Gold Leaf: The New York manager of Cable wrote to manager Burwell here to know if he could arrange dates, &c. But Mr. Burwell did not think there was any one in Henderson who wanted to see or hear the Southern slanderer and traducer, and so he does not

-- Durham News: In a fight beween Mr. Green Reams and G. M. Geans at the Banner Warehouse yesterday, the latter was forced to the wall and was getting the worst of the fight when he seized a lemonade glass and struck Mr. Reams across the head with it, cutting an ugly gash in his forehead

-- Kinston Cor. Goldsboro Messenger: Last Saturday, while Prof. Mangum and Rev. N. M. Jurney and family were in Sand Hill township attending a Sunday school pic nic, a sneak thief entered Mr. Jurney's dwelling by a back window, broke open the professor's trunk and appropriated to his own use $25 of Prof. Mangum's money.

- Charlotte Democrat: Just think of it—Salisbury collects only about $9,000 from her citizens for city taxes, annually, while Charlotte collects nearly $70,000 annually. In 1850 Salisbury was the leading town in the Western part of the State. Now Charlotte spends from $15,000 to $25, 000 annually on her streets and sidewalks; more than twice as much as Salisbury colects from her citizens for all town pur-

-- Raleigh Advocate: When Rev. W. C. Norman came to Raleigh, a little over three years ago, the church was disheartened and discouraged. He went to work, rallied the church; and, to sum it all up in a word, has made a grand success every way. During his pastorate the sum of $28,867.80 has been raised for all church purposes, an average of $7,216 65 each year, or $601.41 each month, or an average of $20.04 per day. The church has not failed to pay a cent assessed it while the building has been in process of erection. Norman is one of nature's noblemen, everybody loves him, and Raleigh will always bold him in grateful and affectionate remembrance.

- Tarboro Southerner: Our community was saddened at the announcement on last Thursday morning, the 19th, of the death of Louis Chamberlain, the oldest and a greatly respected citizen of our town. Mr. Chamberlain was a native of Delaware. - Standing timber in Hickory Fork township is on a boom. There are two parties in that section buying for two lumber companies, one for Mr. Hitch, who is building the narrow-gauge road from Hamilton and the other for the Albemarle Lumer Co - President R. R. Bridgers and H. Waters, of the W. & W. road, were here last week and made a country excursion. The purpose of their trip is not exactly known, but it is believed that they were prospecting the country between Scotland Nock and Greenville with a view to extending the Scotland Neck branch to Greenville via Bethel. Such a road would seriously cripple Tarboro. -- The most astonished man in town last week was Mr. H. J. Whitmore. Wednesday evening, when he returned from home about 10 o'clock to his bakery, in the back room of which he sleeps, he found his back door which he had burred open, and when he looked around found his safe door open and a drawer gone. He had in that drawer between forty and fifty dollars.

-- Raleigh Chronicle: This place, Dunn, is twenty-five miles from Favetteville and twenty five miles from Smithfield -on the Wilson & Fayetteville Railroad The first lots were sold last October. Now there are twelve stores here, a hotel, carriage factory, residences, offices, and contracts have been made for building others. leaw the plan of a fine Baptist church which is to be erected at once. On the line of this new railroad-the Wilson & Favetteville-the neatness and taste and style of architecture of the railroad offices impress all travellers favorably. --- Oneeleventh of the land in the county is in cultivation, of which part one-fifth is devoted to the cultivation of cotton. On the 9.281 acres in cotton, 3,627 bales are produced This is anly about one-third of a bale to the acre. Thirty two acres of tobacco was tried in the county two years ago. It did not pay, and I think those who tried it are about ready to abandon its cultivation. The great fact that tells the tale of Harnett county's solid success is the fact that it has over twice as many acres of land in corn as in cotton, and that it has one-third as much in wheat and one-ninth as much in oats, with a large acreage in rye. This means that Harnett county people "live at
