Chattanooga is highly pleased that the President will visit that city on his way to Atlanta, and big preparations are being made for his reception. - There was one death on the cholera-stricken steamer at the New York quarantine, and another death is expected; the other patients are doing well. - The vacancy on the Su, preme Court Bench will not be filled until the President's return from Atlanta. —The offerings of bonds yesterday amounted to only $717,850, but there is very little doubt that the $14,-000,000 required by the Government will be secured by the specified time, October 8th. - The tobacco crop in portions of Virginia has been entirely ruined by frost. -A stubborn resistance was made by a family who were evicted from their holding, near Limerick; an inspector's skull was split open with a poker by the wife of the evicted tenant. -Owing to rain there were no races at Louisville, Ky., yesterday. - The New York Democrats assembled in State Convention yesterday at Saratoga, but before the organization was completed, the result of the international yacht race was announced, which was greeted with great applause, and a recess was taken until So'clock p. m. - The Chicago wheat and corn markets were hm yesterday, and provisions quiet and unchanged. - The first of the three races for the Champion Cup, by the Am rican sloop "Volunteer" and and the Scotch cutter "Thistle" was made yesterday, and resulted in a decisive victory for the Yankee vessel; the race was witnessed by not less than fifty thousand people. -Many cholera deaths are still reported from Italy, and there seems to be no abatement of the scourge. - A terrible accident occurred yesterday, on the Mobile & Ohio Railroad, near Jackson, Tenn.; a large number of persons were injured, but no one was killed. - The mutiny of convicts at the Coal Creek mines, near Knoxville, Tenn., has been suppressed. -New York markets: Money easy at 4@5 per cent., closing offered at 3 per cent.; cotton easy at 95@95c; southern flour quiet and firmly held; wheatoptions closed steady; No. 2 red September 81@81@c; corn—options closed steady; No. 2 October 504@504c; spirits turpentine firm at 324c; rosin steady at

- The steamer Benefactor, Captain Chichester, arrived at her wharf in this city yesterday at 2 p. m. She brought a full cargo of merchandise and about one dozen passengers.

- The Building and Loan Assoiation fever is spreading. New Bern is moving actively, and Durham has started the ball. If prudently managed there can be no question as to their value to any city or town.

- The Greensboro Workman says: "The finest apples, as fine as we ever saw, are on sale here now, and come from Dalton, a station on the Cape Fear'and YadkinValley railroad." We are reaching for those apples right now, Brother Mishaux, and we'll get them after awhile.

- Up to last night there had been no arrival by river from Fayetteville. The agents of the steamer Cape Fear were advised that she was on the way down with a freight of 350 bales of cotton. The steamer Hurt left Fayetteville yesterday morning, also with a large cotton freight. - The building used for offices by the Atlantic Coest Line, at the corner of Front and Mulberry streets, has been vacated, all the officers having removed to the new building erected by the company. The old building will be occupied as a residence by Mr. S. P. Collier.

- Moving day is at hand. In fact this annual nuisance has already begun its awful job, and is enough to cause every man to make a determined effort to secure himself a home. In many cases this may be accomplished through the Building and Loan Associations on easier terms than through any other channel. At all events, every poor man should, it possible, become a stockholder, and thus lay the foundation of a future home.

The Greensboro Daily Workman copying an article from the MORNING STARI in reference to the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, says: "As a matter of course, if Wilmington shall pull with adequate force the road will come to her. Superior Court. The two weeks term of the Supe rior Court for New Hanover county began yesterday, with Judge Phillips on the bench. The solicitor, Oliver H. Allen, Esq., was present.

The first case on the docket was the suit of John Taylor and Dora Taylor vs. The Seaboard & Roanoke Railroad Company. Action for damages in the sum of $3,000 each, for being ejected from a train on the railroad. The complaint and evidence showed that the plaintiffs went on an excursion over the defendant company's road in October 1886, buying a ticket to Old Point, Va., and return to Wilmington. They went no farther than Portsmouth, Va., and on boarding a train to return the conductor refused to recognize their ticket on the ground that it had not been countersigned by the railroad agent at Old Point, and ordered them out of the train and compelled them to leave at an obscure and uncomfortable station where there were no hotel accommodations; that after being expelled plaintiffs reentered the cars and were compelled to pay fare from Ports mouth to Weldon.

Upon the ruling of the Court that the ticket should have been taken to Old Point and countersigned by the agent, as required, defendant's counsel submitted to a non-suit, and appealed to the Supreme Court. Messrs. Russell & Ricand and J. I Macks were counsel for plaintiffs, and Messrs. MacRae & Strange represented the defendants.

The case of Dressel & Kleine vs. C. H. Robinson and C. H. King was continued for plaintiff, to allow deposi tions to be taken in Russia.

The cases set for hearing to-day are the following: Rose Carter vs. W. A. Westermann. MacRae & Strange for plaintiff; M. Bellamy for defendant.

James Baskin vs. Mollie Baskin, J. D. Bellamy, Jr., for plaintiff; no counsel for defendant.

L. D. Capps vs. T. J. Capps, administrator. T. J. Elliott for plaintiff; Junius Davis and J. D. Bellamy, Jr., for defendant.

denizen of the Hollow, was drunk and disorderly, for which she was required to pay a fine of twenty dollars or work thirty days on the public streets.

Henry Riley, a young tramp, not more than 14 years of age, but who has visited this city professionally on a previous occasion, at which time he was escorted outside the city limits by the police, was brought up on the charge of vagrancy. He had nothing to say in his defence and the sentence of the Court was that he be made to work ten days on the public

From the Plain View Section. Mr. C. W. Wiggins reports that in the Plain View section the crops are much better than they were last year and that farmers generally are in good spirits.

The stables belonging to Rev. Jos. Evans, pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place, were destroyed by fire last Wednesday night. Two horses, two buggies and harness, and a quantity of oats, corn and fodder were also consumed. The fire was the work of an incendiary, and a colored man named. Wesley McKoy is charged with the crime. He has been arrested and jailed at Lumberton, awaiting trial.

Yom Lippur.

Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement, began yesterday at sundown, and will close at sundown this evening. It is the most solemn day of the year to the Hebrews, being a season of strict fasting and absten tion from business. It will be celebrated with appropriate services in the Temple of Israel.

Cotton Burned. The cotton platform, a box car and fifty-six bales of cotton were destroyed by fire Monday night at Tatum's, on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley

The people of Asheville, and of Buncombe county generally, are greatly aroused over two important railroad enterprises; one, the connection of Asheville with Knoxville, and the other the extension of the Caro lina Central Railroad from its present terminus to Asheville. The thriving mountain city was the scene of an immense meeting last Saturday, and everybody seemed to be in favor of subscribing liberally towards building the roads. Four hundred thousand dollars is the whole amount asked for, and it looks very much as if Buncombe county will give it. One hundred thousand dollars is the amount proposed for the Carolina Central extension.

In a letter read at the meeting from President John M. Robinson he said: "I do not think that I can say more than if a railroad is built between Asheville and Knoxville, that the Carolina Central Railroad will be extended to Asheville, with proper aid from the people of Asheville. I think the amount named ($100,000) would be all that would be required."

General Manager John C. Winder wrote: "I shall look with a great deal of anxiety to the result of your meeting."

It is needless to say that the connection between Rutherfordton and Asheville is of the highest importance to Wilmington. And, moreover, it is a connection that may be regarded as a certainty in the near future.

"Westward the Star of Empire takes its way." But, all the same, Eastward to Wilmington much of the trade of the Great West will take its

Give us the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley extension and the Carolina Central connection with Asheville and then we may talk about a sure enough, veritable, live "boom." -

The Proper Caper in Waitzing

The young people of Wilmington will be eager to know that the Convention of the American Society of Professors of Dancing have settled the matter of the position to be taken by ladies and gentlemen in waltzing. It has been decided to instruct as follows: The gentleman places his right arm around the lady's waist and his hand against her back. The ledy's hand will rest against the gentleman's shoulder, the fingers closed and curved, and the tips resting on the right shoulder. The lady's right hand should be closed and placed in the left palm of the gentleman, with the knuckles uppermost instead of down as heretofore. This is done to protect the ladies' hands from accident when colliding with doors and furniture. In all cases gloves are to be worn.

A Busy Scene. A busy scene can be witnessed a the wharves of the Carolina Central Railroad, where the English steamship Nicosian is discharging and receiving cargo. From two hatches iron rails are being taken out and landed on the wharf alongside, while on the other side of the vessel compressed cotton is going aboard from

The iron is for the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R. Co. It amounts to 1,500 tons, and pays an import duty of $25,500. About two-thirds of the cargo has been discharged.

Furrin Visitors. The New York steamer brought a party of itinerant showmen, with four bears, to the city yesterday. As soon as landed they were escorted to the City Hall to procure license; but the Mayor, evidently seeing that trouble would be brewing if they were turned loose upon the city and that there was a bare chance that some of the Little Red-riding Hoods in the city might be devoured, refused to grant them license to prey upon the city, and the party immediately took their departure. There were six men and four bears. Four of the men looked like Turks, one was rather Dutchy in appearance, and another, the spokesman of the gang, was as domesticated as a Georgia cracker or a Pender county moonshiner. The bears were hungry looking brutes, muzzled, and with rings in their snouts, to which chains were attached. Two of the bears were young grizzlies, one was a cinnamon and the fourth a large black bear.

Weather Notes.

Heavy rains, due to an immense area of low barometric pressure moving eastward along the northern border of Alabama and Georgia, occurred throughout the Gulf and South Atlantic States yesterday. At 10 o'clock last night the depression was apparently central in the vicinity of Atlanta, Ga. No high winds are as yet reported as accompanying the storm, but the threatening weather and light rain in this city yesterday were produced by the disturbance approaching nearer this locality. It is probable that more and heavier rains will occur to-day.

An area of high pressure made its appearance in the Northwest yesterday, and is approaching this way. It is accompanied by its usual cool wave, the effects of which are likely to be felt in a few days.

No indications of the cyclone re ported west of Cuba Monday are yet apparent on the Gulf.

How Many Bales?

We have heard the cotton receipts of Wilmington for the current year estimated as high as 250,000 bales. But this is too high. Let us be satisfied with 200,000 bales this year. This will be fifty per cent, in excess of last year, and will show a remarkably healthy growth in our cotton trade. Next year, with a fair crop, we should do better; and so on, year after year, until we rank with the first ports on the Atlantic coast.

Exports Foreign.

Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son cleared the British steamship Everest yesterday for Liverpool, with a cargo of 4,700 bales of cotton, weighing 2,227, 649 pounds and valued at $200,500. Also, the Norwegian barque Daphne, for London, Eng., with cargo of 1,500 casks spirits turpentine and 512 barrels of rosin, valued at $3,000.
