OUTLINES.

A terribly destructive storm is reported from the southern coast of Mexico; a town of eight thousand inhabitants was swept away and many lives lost. — The U. S. Supreme Court yesterday granted writs of habeas corpus in the cases of the imprisoned Virginia attorneys, returnable next Monday, when they will be tried upon their merits. — The first snow storm of the season prevailed at Utica, N. Y., yesterday. — Another death from cholera at Swinburn Island, N. Y., is reported; the Altesia's passengers will not be permitted to come ashore. — One death and three more cases of yellow fever are reported from Tampa since last report, but the situation is regarded more hopeful. — Mr. Robert Garrett resigned the presidency of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. yesterday, and it was accepted. — Another cotton-laden steamship caught on fire at Savannah yesterday. — A riot, led by a Russian priest, occurred at Rathovitz Sunday; troops were called out to disperse the rioters and many of them were injured. — The President left Minneapolis Tuesday night, and commenced his southward flight; at every point along the night's ride the people were out in force, with bands and bonfires, to extend greetings; Sioux City was reached about sunrise, where the Corn Palace was the great novelty, after an inspection of which the party left for Omaha, on reaching which place a perfect ovation was tendered. — Yesterday was a dull day in the Chicago wheat and corn markets, and provisions were weak and lower. — The Manchester markets are quiet throughout, and the inaction of buyers continues. — The American Bankers' Assn. convention in annual session at Pittsburg yesterday. — A Connecticut bank cashier has been arrested, charged with appropriating funds to a large amount. — Frost, as far south as Port Gibson, Miss., Tuesday night. — Norfolk had an $8,000 fire last night. — Detroit won the third game in the match with St. Louis for the world's championship. — New York markets: Money easy at 3 1/2 per cent.; closing offered at 3 1/2 per cent.; cotton quiet at 9 1/2-10-11-12; southern flour not quoted; wheat—options dull and featureless; No. 2 red October $1.08 1/4; corn 48 1/2 lower; No. 2 October 51 1/2 1/4; spirits turpentine steady at 34c; rosin steady at 81 1/2 1/4.

free list, reducing the tax to a minimum point on hundreds of necessities and removing the prohibitory tax on blankets and other articles. The tariff would be reduced enough to get rid of $50,000,000. These would be no need of touching the tobacco tax. So the $35,000,000 thus derived could remain. While it was plucky and winning in Miss Emma Abbott to stand up in open church against an assault upon her theatrical sisters, it is quite certain that her defence can only apply to a part. The numerous scandals and divorces show a demoralized state among many of the profession. In truth, through the whole history of the stage there has been most lamentable cause for censure, and many of the best friends of the drama have deplored the low standard of morals among professionals. Miss Abbott is having ovations, and she may deserve the respect of all good people, but there are hundreds of women on the stage who are unworthy of personal or professional consideration. The New York Star thinks the Nashville preacher "made an ass of himself" for denouncing the theatre. There are not many evangelical ministers who will not denounce it. We are satisfied that the theatre is a poor place for a spiritually minded Christian. The N. Y. Star's standard is seen in this paragraph: "It is some years now since the Emma Abbott has been pronounced to be the most drawing of all stage entertainers. It was a praise editor, we believe, who likened its music to the sound produced by a steer's hoof moving restlessly in a mud hole." If Bond, the nineteenth century Jeffries, is allowed to have his way unobstructed and unresisted, there is no telling what he may not attempt. The Richmond Dispatch says: "Yes, Bond will, in the event supposed, have the power to overhaul every year the acts of the Assembly of Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, and South Carolina the States composing his circuit, and expunge from its statute books such of those acts as may not suit his Mightiness's notions. Dictator Bond—not Judge Bond—let us dub him!" Gen. Jo Johnston has more brains than a half-dozen Protection editors. He is reported in the N. Y. Herald as saying: "The South does not care for protection. With protection her manufacturers have a competitor the more in the North. With a low tariff our manufacturers can compete with northern ones and undersell them. Yes, sir, a tariff for revenue only is what we want. One of our leading manufacturers told me so last Thursday." Greene county, Ohio, where there is so much opposition to mixed schools, gave in the last election 4,579 Republican and 2,262 Democratic votes. Up there Republicans have as much race prejudice as Southern Democrats and not half the kindness and charity for the "man and brother."

THE CITY.

Improving the Memory. A number of Wilmington's studious young men have formed a class in the "Loisettian School of Physiological Memory or Instantaneous Art of Never-forgetting." The main branch of the school is located in New York city, but it is maintained that the same results can be obtained by a course of instruction through correspondence. Each scholar is pledged not to reveal the system and its plans and workings will only be known to those who pay—the non-paying being compelled to satisfy their curiosity by observing improvement in those instructed. The results claimed for the system are so extraordinary that many refer to it with an air of incredulity. The numerous favorable endorsements from reliable sources, however, speak highly of its advantages and great benefits can no doubt be derived by close application and a strict adherence to its rules. Mark Twain is said to have tested the worth of the new system. After six weeks study he read the New York Herald, went home and repeated every word in it to his wife, and then began to repeat it backwards, when his wife rang the chestnut bell on him. Opera House. The next attraction at the Opera House will be Herr Andres' Alpine Choir and Tyrolese Company, which will give a performance on the evening of October 18th. The company is represented to be a clever party of Tyrolese performers on the zither, mandolin, Alpine viola, guitar, together with several singers. There are seven women and three men in the group, who dress in national costume, the women wearing black jackets and short plaid skirts. They vocalize in chorus to the accompaniment of the zither, sing quaint songs of their own country, yodel singly or in quartettes (and with very unique effect); sing English ballads in the vernacular, etc. The party have good voices, and sing tunefully, their national songs and choruses however, being their most effective selections. How to Dispose of Garbage. How to dispose of garbage is a question that is engaging the attention of the Sanitary Committee of the Board of Aldermen. It is proposed to adopt the system of burning, as practiced in Montreal, Canada, and perhaps other places. From an investigation of this system as practiced at Montreal, made by the Philadelphia Board of Health, it appears that a crematory can be built at a cost of $4,000 for each furnace, exclusive of the cost of the shed covering. It can be worked by four men. In twelve hours each furnace will cremate sixty to seventy cubic yards or cart-loads of garbage. There is no smell, and the crematory can be erected within the city limits without detriment to public health. It will require two and a half tons of the cheapest soft coal, screened, for each twelve hours. A Thriving Town. The thrifty and energetic town of Clinton is represented to be quite on a boom. A correspondent writing from that place says a tract of land on the outskirts of the town, belonging to the heirs of the McKoy estate, was divided into twenty-one lots and sold, bringing over $8,000. The merchants of Clinton are an enterprising, go-ahead set of men, who are wide-awake to the advantages offered by railroad connection with the outside world, and will certainly reap the benefits of it. Base Ball. The Southern League ended its disastrous season last Monday. Memphis won the last game, played at New Orleans. In commenting upon the wind-up, the Charleston News and Courier says: "The announcement will not be particularly painful. There will, of course, be base ball next summer, and perhaps a very great deal of it. But the sport has so thoroughly degenerated as a national game, that either the game or the nation must go unless it is fumigated for the coming season."

STRAUSS COMBS writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—"We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly to infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic, pain, quiet sleep, and the parents untroubled rest at night. Most parents can appreciate those blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as 'bright as a button.' And during the night we have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething stage, on any consideration whatever."
