Presbytery at Whiteville. Those who know Whiteville and its people need not be told that Wilmington's Presbytery has met a most hearty welcome from them. The Presbytery met on the 12th inst., and elected Rev. P. H. Hoge, moderator, and Rev. Colin Shaw and Ruling Elder A. K. Cromartie, temporary clerks.

Revs. J. W. Primrose and G. W. McMillan and Mr. Oscar L. Clark, were elected trustees of Davidson College for the ensuing year.

The Presbytery agreed to the overtures on the moderator question which were sent down from the General Assmbly and recommended the churches to read to their congregations the action of the General Assembly on Sabbath observance. The free conversation on the sub ject of religion elicited some very encouraging facts. The report of the committee for missions within the bounds of this Presbytery was freely discussed and thus formed a most im portant part of the business of this

The intention is to make similar collections every month and deposit the money each time until the amount will average about $10 to each man, when the in Rocky Mount to hear of his promouniforms will be ordered.

The Cape Four & Yadkin Valley.

We learn that in addition to the committee from Newbern, that much correspondence is going on between parties in Charleston and the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. Co., and that it is urged that it is ten miles nearer from Bennettsville to Columbia, than from Fayetteville to Wilmington, with three connections, viz: at Society Hill, Camden and Columbia, and that at Columbia is met all the South Carolina and Georgia connections, and that it will cost less to build to Columbia than to Wilmington.

The above is taken from the Fayetteville Observer and should receive attention from the citizens of Wil. mington.

The route from Bennettsville to Columbia via Society Hill and Camden is at least twenty miles further than the straight line from Fayetteville to Wilmington. But the important matter for our friends of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad Company is to secure, as soon as pos sible, the best seaport for its growing trade. How would a connection with Columbia, an interior town in South Carolina, aid them in this regard, even were it true that it could be reached at less cost than Wilmington?

We have never hesitated to acknowledge that connection with Fayetteville, Greensboro, Mount Airy and thence to the Ohio river, would be of inestimable advantage to Wilmington, but we are also assured that the advantage to the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad Company cannot well be overstated. This road could never hope to transport any considerable tonnage of Western produce over its lines by way of Society Hill, Camden and Columbia. Shippers always wish to reach tide-water by the nearest route, and beyond all question, the way to this is to come to Wilmington.

We believe we shall see produce, received at Cincinnati, delivered on board foreign steamers lying at the wharves of Wilmington, within two years, and that without breaking bulk from the Ohio river to the Cape Fear-a consumation devoutly to be wished for !

The Bladen Coal Find.

It is probable that at an early day an attempt will be made by borings or otherwise to determine if coal can be found in paying quantities in Bladen. In view of recent discoveries there, it is well worth the effort. Specimens taken from out-croppings of seams of lignite along the river are proounced by experts to be bituminous coal of excellent quality. The out-croppings can be traced for miles a short distance above Elizabethtown. It is conjectured that this find may turn out to be the eastern half of the Chatham county coal seam, which Prof. Emmons said was broken in two by the granite upheaval, and that the last half would probably be found some day nearer the ocean.

The Chatham county coal fields seem to have been neglected since the war. During the Confederacy they were esteemed of great value. Mrs. Spencer, in her work. "The Last Ninety Days of the War in North Carolina," says that the authorities at Richmond looked with anxiety to the Deep River coal field as the point where work-shops could be located, and adds: "It is an interesting and suggestive fact connected with the want of transportation facilities in our last days and showing the dire extremity to which we were reduced, that coal was carried from Deep River by rail and river past Fayetteville to Wilmington, thence by rail via Goldsboro, Raleigh and Greensboro, to supply the government workshops in Salisbury and Charlotte. South Carolina also sent trains for it to Wilmington. This coal was pronounced to be of the first quality, equal to the Cumberland coal, and one-hundred per cent. superior to the Richmond for blacksmith purposes.

Gallant Knight of the Cleaver.

The Knights of the Cleaver in Front street market are a polite set of men and full of gallantry. Said one of them the other morning, with a low bow, to a lady who approached his stall: "You are quite esthetic in your tastes, Mrs. ....... "Sir!" said the lady, a little astonished. Fire in the Steamship Parland's Cargo The British steamer Parkland, loading with cotton at the upper compress for Europe, was discovered to be on fire about two o'clock yesterday morning. The fire originated in the hole and nearly one hundred bales of cotton were damaged. The flames were extinguished without giving the general alarm, and the vessel was removed to the dry dock where she will discharge her cargo to ascertain the extent of the damage. The cargo was fully insured and, it is thought that the damage is but slight.

> [COMMUNICATED.] SI. JAMES CHOIR.

This organization has now become solid institution. Founded some two years ago by the late Rector Rev. Mr. Lewis, it created a profound impression and though there was at the outset some opposition, it is now very popular. It has attracted to this church many visitors passing to and from Florida, who speak in very flattering terms of the perfect arrangement of the musical portion of the service. The music is of the highest order, everything trashy or sensational being excluded from its repertoire and nothing is sung (excepting the offertory anthems) in which the congregation may not join. The Rev. Mr. Lewis always took an active part in training the choir, and the esteem in which he is held by all its members is well known, indeed it is mainly through his exertions, seconded by those of Mr. Thorpe, the organist, that has brought and maintained this organization to its present efficiency.

We understand Mr. Thorpe will now have full charge of the music as organist and choir master, and the present standard will easily be maintained if not improved upon under his instructions.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.—REV STLVANUS CORE thus writes in the Boston Christian Freezes.—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly to infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at wight. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething slege, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 18, 1867.

To all whom this may concern, take notice that I came to this city on the first day of Angust and returned to my church after receiving my certificate from Savannah. Now they failed to receive meen six months' probation, because I had been preaching in this city before I went to them, and they said I had violated the law of their church and this State, and the United States.

I was not a member of their church at that time. He sent me my certificate two years ago to Savannah, Ga., to the A. M. E. Church, at which time I was not considered a member of St. Luke's Church.

which time I was not considered a member of St. Luke's Church.

Then I could not have violated the law by any means. To have violated the law of the United States I would have forged my way on the railway, and to have violated the law of the State I would have exceted a pulpit and baptized and solemnized the right of matrimony and administered sacrament. Whom must I obey, God or man. The majority of St. Luke's Church was for me. I have been a Methodist twenty years, and then wanting me to go back on six months probation, Brother Elder please tarry at Jerusasem. I am your sister in Christ Jesus.

SARAH A. H. HOLLAND.

WILMINGTON, N. C , Oct. 13, 1887. To the Citizens of Wilmington:

I am Jacob Onalow, and do introduce to you all Sister Sarah A. H. Holland, a declared Evangelist, who is sent by the hand of God and anointed by the powers of the Holy Ghost through our dear Saviour, to preach to the sons of men. She has preached forty-six sermons in our city and hundred, in this city have heard her, and the majority declared that she preaches nothing else but the gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Our city is about one hundred and sixty-four years old, and of all the daughters of Wilmington, which are millious, we know some are sleeping, and she is the only one chosen and sent forth to blow the gospel trumpet. The Lord has brought you through all the storms, dear Sister; continue to fight for Jesus until he shall call you forth to the plains of glory to be forever blest. Go on, my dear Sister, and I hope to meet you there in heaven where parting shall be no more.

Bev. JACOB ONSLOW. OUR GOSPEL TRUMPETER.

O'ye daughter of Zion, we welcome you to the joys of our Lord. Thou art highly honored among all women in this our city, and your head is covered with many honors.

We have heard your charming service, that fills our hearts with joy. We say to you, dear sister, go on and lift the gospel banner over the mountains, valleys and plains.

My dear Bister, we come greeting you. How beautiful are thy feet that stand on Zion's wall. May the Angels meet you in your dreams and teach your hands to fight for Jesus and to blow the trumpet until Jesus shall bid you lay it aside, and blow no more. We shall meet on that celestial shore and sing his praise where parting shall be no more. CHARLES J. ONSLOW.
