OUTLINES.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission yesterday heard testimony relative to discrimination in rates by the Columbus and Western Railroad Company. — A gas explosion occurred yesterday morning, in Pittsburgh, by which several buildings were wrecked and a number of persons seriously injured. — The President will leave Montgomery at 1 o'clock to-day for Washington, and the train will make no stops on its way except possibly at Asheville, where it may tarry fifteen minutes. — Thousands of people have left Atlanta, but the city is still crowded, and the churches were opened Sunday night to accommodate those who had no other place to stop. — The Chicago grain market yesterday was firm at improved prices, while a hesitating feeling prevailed in provisions. — Firmness and confidence prevail in the Manchester markets. — A severe storm prevails in the Gulf, and much damage has been done to the plantations from Morgan City to New Orleans. — Atlanta was drenched with rain yesterday, which served to make the Exposition anything but interesting, and it was found necessary to abandon the military reception to the President. — The base ball game in Philadelphia, yesterday, in the World's Championship series, resulted—St. Louis 3, Detroit 4. — The unemployed workmen in London are still giving trouble; several conflicts took place yesterday with the police. — The Agricultural Convention, in session in Washington, effected a permanent organization yesterday. — The local assembly of steam engineers of Chicago have withdrawn from the Knights of Labor, under the belief that they will derive more benefit from an independent association. — The yellow fever outlook is better; no new cases at Tampa, and Palatka is exceptionally healthy. — Montgomery has made big preparations for the reception of the President to-day, but it is feared that rain will interfere with the exercises. — The Grand International Convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers met in Chicago yesterday, with delegates present from all parts of the Union. — N. Y. markets: Money easy at 3 1/2 per cent, closing offered at 3 per cent; cotton quiet at 99-100@9 1/2-10; southern flour firm and rather quiet; wheat, No. 2 red October 81 1/2@82 1/2; corn 2 1/2 higher, closing firm; No. 2 October 51 1/2@51 3/4; spirits turpentine dull at 34 1/2; rosin steady and quiet at $1 05@1 12 1/2.

Mr. Powderly has resigned his position in the Knights of Labor.

Randolph Macon College, the Virginia Methodist male institution, has 144 students.

Polk, Buchanan and Cleveland visited North Carolina while President. North Carolina had three sons who became President—Jackson, Polk and Johnson.

Very funny! A new discovery has been made. It was Free Trade idea that caused the South to be whipped. The wisdom of Solomon is centered in the Protection newspaper offices.

"Lilies that fester smell far worse than weeds." This is not a quotation, as some suppose, from Edward III., a play falsely attributed to Shakespeare. It occurs in his sonnets.

Iron Mountain, a prosperous village in Michigan, has been almost depopulated by the ravages of typhoid fever. The doctors have never yet been able to find out the real cause or causes of that terrible scourge.

Fire is an awful enemy of progress and prosperity. For the first eight months in 1887, the losses by fire amount to $93,183,500. For the same period in 1886, they were $83,400,000—an increase of nearly $10,000,000.

There are said to be 20,000 children in Philadelphia without school facilities of any kind. Wilmington beats the "city of brotherly love" in caring for its children. All here of both races can go to school if their parents so elect. That is, those of school age.

The New York Star insinuates that the World is "treacherously" endeavoring to push Roscoe Conkling for the Presidency and says it is working in the interest of Republicans. Conkling is the ablest and best of New York Republicans but we can hardly believe that the World is for him. New York papers are not the most trustworthy.

The Fountain Tower presented by the benevolent George W. Childs, of Philadelphia, to Stratford-on-Avon, in honor of Shakespeare, was celebrated by a poem from Dr. O. W. Holmes, of Boston. It was of course sparkling, felicitous and poetical. Here is one stanza:

"What visions greet the pilgrim's raptured eyes!
The dead return—they breathe—they live again,
Joined by the host of Fancy's airy train,
Fresh from the springs of Shakespeare's quickening brain!
The stream that alkies the soul's diviner thirst
Here found the submarine first;
Rich with his fame, not less shall memory prize
The gracious gift that humbler wants supplies."

The Christian Advocate published at Nashville is the largest circulated religious paper in the South. It makes a strong defence of Dr. Candler, and justly rebukes that part of the secular press that indorsed the ill-named singer. It says:

"From the comments of the secular press, one would suppose that a theatre was more holy than the sanctuary of God, and that the piety of the ministry would suffer greatly in comparison with the piety of the actors and actresses of this day. All such stuff is the most miserable clap-net of the age, and but reveals to us the utter incompetency of such papers to deal fairly with a moral question. We rejoice that the attitude of the church toward the stage is one of uniform and indiscriminate hostility."

Some persons in Ireland intimidated one of the landlords. One of them, a girl, was told she could escape punishment by expressing regret for her course. She spit upon the offer saying bravely, "I do not regret what I have done, and I will not give bail. It is no disgrace to be imprisoned for Ireland!" Three times three for the noble, heroic Irish girl! Her name should be given.

The London Socialist, in their recent meeting urged the killing of American Minister Phelps, and also of President Cleveland. These assassinations were advocated in order to strike terror into the hearts of the American authorities. They contended that such retaliatory measures, would give heart to their Chicago brethren. They say not enough bombs are thrown.

If Mr. Lamar goes on the Supreme Court Bench it will be a good thing for the country. If he was in jail, probably, as Bond would have held in his horns. See article to-day from Lynchburg Advance. It is thought in Washington that Secretary Lamar will be the man in place of Justice Woods.

One of the strangest infatuations is that which captured Walt Whitman in his youth. He thinks he can write poetry, and there are actually people neither insane nor ignorant who think with him. Of this number is not the poet Swinburne. Whitman has not captured the South or any part of it.

Old Fred Douglass is still on the war path. A man who will betray and abuse his best friend is not worth the powder and shot that would kill him. This hoary headed old blower abused and slandered Horace Greeley while declaring he was the best friend he ever had. We heard the speech at Raleigh.

Miss Murfree will contribute to the Atlanta, a new English monthly magazine.

The Wilmington Fox Club are getting in readiness for the fall campaign, and will reorganize this week. Some of the members of the club were out yesterday morning with the dogs and caught a fox, of course. As usual old "Joe" was the leading dog of the pack, and all the rest doing first class work.

Local Notes.

—A car load of magnificent scenery is used in the new "Hidden Hand."

—The German barque Wilhelm Mack is reported at the quarantine station at Southport.

—The rain washed the streets badly in some places, but on the whole did a great deal of good in laying the dust.

—Rev. G. M. Tolson will baptize three persons at the First Baptist church to-night, after the conclusion of the regular services.

—The steamer Enterprise, from Point Caswell, was the only arrival from up the river yesterday. She brought down a good freight.

—Receipts of cotton yesterday 1,787 bales. Total receipts to date 84,354 bales, against 38,399 bales to same date last year. Increase 26,055 bales.

—Buzzards make capital scavengers. At least one person living in those parts of the city where a health officer or a city cart is seldom seen are of this opinion.

—The greatest street parade ever put on by a hall show is promised with the Cora Van Tassel new "Hidden Hand" company which appears at the Opera House to-night.

—A beautiful double white camelia was sent to the STAR office yesterday. It was of the first of the season and was much appreciated. The donor will please accept thanks.

—A handsome cloak, suitable for a light infantry man and donated to the W. L. I., is on exhibition at the Produce Exchange. It will be sold for the benefit of the Company being too small for any of the members.

—Memorial exercises by Cape Fear Lodge No. 2 and Orion Lodge No. 67, I. O. O. F., will be held tomorrow evening at half-past 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Pesehan will deliver an address to members of the Order at Lutheran Memorial Building to which the public are invited.

—The Presbyterian Synod will convene at Fayetteville on the 25th inst. Revs. Peyton H. Hoge, of the First Presbyterian church, and J. W. Primrose, of the Second Presbyterian church, will attend. The delegates are Mr. John McLaurin, of the former, and Mr. Robert McDougall, of the latter church.

—The Eastern Carolina Fair will be held at Goldsboro October 26-28. The managers have arranged a very fine programme of specialties. The stock exhibition will be something grand. Indications are that it will be the occasion of the largest reunion of eastern people with western relatives and friends ever held. The railroad rates have been reduced to a minimum so everybody can go.

Fourth Street Bridge.
The iron bridge that is to span the railroad out on Fourth street seems to be a long way from completion. The contract for the construction of the bridge, awarded last June, allows the contractors forty-five days in which to finish the job, after notification of the completion of the abutments. The work on these is about finished, and notification will at once be given by the committee of the Board of Aldermen having the matter in charge. The contractors, however, seem to desire further time, for they have submitted a proposition, to avoid further inconvenience to the public, offering to erect a temporary wooden structure pending the preparation of the iron bridge. An agent of the contractors is in the city, prepared to begin work at once on this temporary bridge if the city authorities approve, and the matter is under advisement by them.

An Unwelcome Visitor.
A tramp, clad in the garb of his profession, made a call last night and wished to discuss the merits of the Knights of Labor, but as our nights of labor embrace full six days of the week and a small shank of the seventh, we did not have time to "traverse" the main arguments of his discourse. The thing he made plain, however, was the right the laboring man had to get drunk, and by senseless questions and a very vigorous and athletic breath, destroy the otherwise tranquil serenity of the office. At the earnest solicitation of a friend he was urged to go, and gathering his hat and battered bag, he went out into the darkness. We hope it will be a cool day when he repeats his "visitation."

Lecture by Dr. Phillips.
Dr. Phillips lectured to the Hemenway and Union School teachers yesterday at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. There were several teachers from other schools of our city present, and also others who are not Doctor's talk on the Science of Form was very interesting and full of practical suggestion. His remarks were illustrated by many models and drawings. No teacher can fail to be benefited by hearing Dr. Phillips' lecture.

Aid Money With Your Presence and Money.
The ladies of the congregation of Grace M. E. Church, residing north of the railroad, will give an oyster supper this evening in Brooklyn Hall, for the purpose of raising funds to aid in the completion of the church.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Burning of the Clyde Steamer Regulator and Cargo.

Fire broke out last night about 12 o'clock on the Clyde steamer Regulator, lying at the wharves of the Champion Compress Company. As soon as discovered an alarm was sent out from box No. 51, and the engines and other apparatus of the Fire Department rallied to the scene of the conflagration, and in a short time had the fire under control. The flames broke out amidships and spread fore and aft, until the whole ship was enveloped, but the efforts of the firemen prevented them from spreading to the wharves and vessels adjacent. No one could tell how the fire originated.

The Regulator was completing her cargo and would have cleared for New York this morning. Besides her usual freight of spirits turpentine, rosin, tar and lumber, she had about one thousand bales of cotton on board.

Finding that it was impossible to extinguish the fire, the tug Marie took the burning steamer in tow and carried her up the river, away from the wharves and shipping. When the engines ceased to play upon her the flames burst out with renewed energy, showing that the vessel was a mass of fire from stem to stern, and likely to prove an entire loss.

The Regulator was an iron vessel of 847 tons, plying regularly between this port and New York, and was commanded by Capt. Ingram.

The Carolina Central Extension.

The Hendersonville Times is urging the people of Henderson county to vote a subscription of $50,000, to the Carolina Central Railroad to induce that company to extend their road through the country. From Rutherford to Hendersonville, the Times says, the grade is the easiest throughout the Blue Ridge range of mountains, and the company, we are informed, would come by Hendersonville if proper inducements were offered by our people.

In its argument in behalf of the enterprise the Times says: "This great highway of freight and travel from Eastern to Western Carolina has been completed from Wilmington to Rutherford. It traverses the counties of New Hanover and Brunswick on the southeast, Columbus, Bladen, Robeson, Richmond, Union, Mecklenburg and Gaston bordering on the South Carolina line, and Cleveland and Rutherford in the Piedmont section of North Carolina. All those are cotton producing counties, and depend largely upon the outside world for food supplies. The far eastern counties through which it passes are warm and disagreeable during the summer season, and all their inhabitants, who are able to do so, seek a more hospitable climate in which to pass the heated term. The road has its eastern terminus in the midst of one of the richest and most extensive fishing-grounds in the United States, and also in a city which is the metropolis of the State with its ship communication with Europe, the West Indies, South America, etc., affording facilities for the carrying on of an extensive commerce, which will ultimately enrich the entire State. Many more advantages could be named, but the above are sufficient to prove the desirability of the road."

A North Carolinian Killed in Georgia.

A correspondent gives the following particulars of the fatal accident to Mr. Luther Sinclair, of Robeson county, N. C., at Eden, Ga., on the 16th inst. Among the passengers on the train which arrived there at 8:30 p. m. was Luther Sinclair, who has been for some time in the employ of Mr. K. A. Smith, of Bullock county. After getting off the cars, Mr. Sinclair went up on the platform, and it being dark, he was walking around he is supposed to have struck his foot on a gang-plank lying near the edge of the platform. Losing his balance, he pitched headlong off and struck his head against the inner rail, rendering him insensible. He was taken up and cared for by those near by. His injury was thought to be slight, but next morning he was much worse. His friend, Mr. Smith, came as soon as notified, and sent immediately for Dr. McConnell, who hurried to the dying man. Every professional attention was rendered, but death relieved the unconscious sufferer about 12:30 o'clock. The deceased was from North Carolina, and was highly thought of by all who knew him here. He was about 30 years old and unmarried. Mr. Smith, in whose employ the deceased was at the time of his death, speaks in the highest terms of him, and seems deeply affected by his sudden death. His remains will be sent on to his friends in North Carolina.

Mayor's Court.

Delia Bryson, charged with violation of the Sunday law, submitted, and was fined twenty dollars.

Ed Artis, colored, charged with disorderly conduct at the Opera House, was discharged at the request of the prosecutor.

Josephine Lewis, colored, disorderly conduct, was fined twenty dollars with the alternative of serving thirty days on the chain gang.

Aid Money With Your Presence and Money.

The ladies of the congregation of Grace M. E. Church, residing north of the railroad, will give an oyster supper this evening in Brooklyn Hall, for the purpose of raising funds to aid in the completion of the church.

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for to-day, received at 1 a. m.: For Virginia, warmer fair weather followed by rain, light to fresh southerly winds.

For North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, slight changes in temperature, rain, brisk to high easterly winds becoming variable.

Storm Warning.

Signals were ordered displayed last night at the station here for a storm traveling in this direction from the Gulf of Mexico. At midnight the sky was overcast and a slight rain was falling, with a light breeze from the northeast.

The storm had made but little progress up to 10 o'clock last night, but was still raging with great severity in southern Alabama. Our Press dispatches give an account of the damage done by the storm. The maximum velocity of the wind recorded was forty-eight miles an hour.

The following telegram was received from the Chief Signal officer last evening: "Hoist northeast storm signal. A cyclone is moving eastward from Mobile. Easterly shifting to southerly gales, with rain, may be expected."

Persons.

Maj. Reilly was in town yesterday. Hon. Samuel Phillips, of Washington, D. C., is in the city.

Mayor Fowler left yesterday evening for Raleigh to visit the State Fair.

Mrs. Warren, Miss Kate Stuart, Mrs. A. Foley and Mr. R. F. Warren are in attendance at the State Fair.

Among the visitors in attendance at the State Fair from this city are Mr. Willie Dick, Mr. E. S. Tennent, Mr. Herbert McClammy, Mr. O. Hicks, and Mr. Harry Boatwright.

Mr. A. J. Mitchell, signal service observer at Washwoods, N. C., arrived in this city last night, en route to Pensacola, Fla., to take charge of the station at that place. Mr. Mitchell was recently transferred from the station at Southport to Washwoods.

The Onslow Railroad Matter.

Counsel were busily at work yesterday obtaining facts pertaining to the Onslow railroad subscription voted by the city, with a view of making a case agreed and having the same submitted to the Supreme Court at the present term. The probability is that the matter will be gotten into shape in a few days.
