Brown, manager of the Western Union Telegraph office in this city, in which they asked for a reduction in the teleerly. graphic tolls on messages between Wilmington and Chicago. Mr. Brown always willing to do anything in his power to accommodate the patrons of the Western Union, forwarded the petition, with a strong endorsement in favor of the application. Yesterday he received a letter from Superintendent Tree authorizing a reduction in the Chicago rate to sixty cents for ten words and four cents for each additional word on day messages, and 40 cents for ten words and three cents for each additional word on night messages. This is a reduction of twenty per cent. all through, except that there is no change made in the additional word rate on night messages. The reduction applies also to all points in Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Rhode Island. Vermont and Wisconsin. On the whole, this reduction wil prove quite acceptable to many of the business men of Wilmington, who do a very large amount of trading in Chicago, and a considerable amount in Boston and Providence.

Flood in Tar Biver.

A correspondent writing from Rocky Mount says that the continued rains have submerged all the lowlands on Tar river, which is higher than ever known before, being two to three feet higher than in 1867. It is reported that the high water has carried away every county bridge on the river, from Louisburg in Franklin county, to the Falls bridge at the Rocky Mount Mills. The river is so high at the railroad bridge at Rocky Mount, that the water has overflowed the banks, inundating a large portion of the Lewis farm just beyond the bridge. At one place, just be yond the railroad bridge, the water running through the fields has caused Mayor's Court.

The following is a summary of case before this tribunal yesterday: Chas. Weeks, colored, was fined ten dollars for disorderly conduct, with the alternative of twenty days on the chain gang.

Lizzie Floyd, colored, charged with disordely conduct, was fined twenty dollars, with the alternative of thirty days on the streets.

Harriet Jordan, colored, charged with keeping an unlicensed dog, settled the case by procuring a badge.

The Price of Tar.

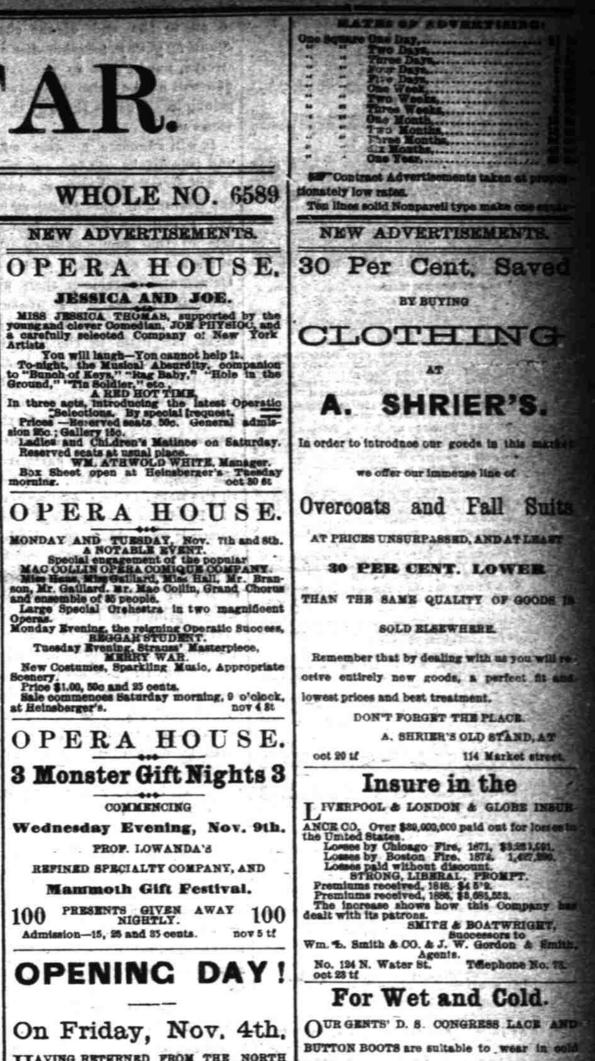

Dealers in tar along the wharf were much exercised yesterday at the advance of five cents per barrel reported in the STAR. The quotation ($1.90 per barrel) was incorrectly reported at the Produce Exchange and put on the bulletin board, and in this way appeared in the paper. The sales, however, were at $1.15 per barrel, at which price the market continues firm.

The New Guard House.

The new guard house for city prisoners, in course of construction on the lot in rear of the City Hall, is nearly completed. It is a square brick structure, one story in height, and will contain eight cells. The roof has been put on and workmen are busy on the interior." It will be ready for the reception of guests of the city in about two weeks.

The letter of Mr. Davis was received with much satisfaction, nor did his command of language from the pure well of English undefiled, in the expression of his high thoughts, fail to receive comment." Mr. Davis said:

It is one of the best of Southern journals and one of the completest. It costs some $80,000 or perhaps more to run that paper for a year. We doubt if Wilmington, Charlotte, Raleigh, Goldsboro, Fayetteville, Asheville, New Bern and Durham all combined could furnish enough patronage to justify such an expenditure of money. We somehow, overlooked Judge

Thurman's farewell speech at Kenton, Ohio. It is not too late to make one touching and importent extract. The able and venerable statesman said:

"But I am inclined to think that this is the last political speech I ever shall make. And if it is, in my parting words to you I beseach you to stand by the great principles that Thomas Jefferson laid down for the American people, that Andrew Jackson en-forced, and that have made this country one of the greatest and freest and mos lovable countries upon which the sun of God shines to-day.'

It is a fact that the excellent results of the Low Tariff experiment before the war were so convincing and satisfactory to the country that a Tariff for Protection ceased to be defended. But for the war the United States would never have been cursed with another Barbed Wire

-- The fickle fleecy futures rather astonished the boys yesterday. When they walked into the Exchange and noted a decline of five points at the opening, they unanimously resolved

A New Trial. N. P. Morgan, who was convicted of arson in the Criminal Court for this county some months ago and sentenced to fifteen years in the State penitentiary, has been granted a new trial by the State Supreme Court, to which the case was carried on appeal. Information to this effect was received here yesterday from Mr. Marsden Bellamy, of counsel for Morgan and now in Raleigh.

Morgan was charged with setting fire to his store on South Second street near Market, for the purpose of securing the insurance on his stock of goods. The principal witness for the prosecution was a man named Moses, who has since disappeared.

Opera House. Miss Jessica Thomas and her Company gave her audience "A Red Hot Time" at the Opera House last night and those who witnessed the performance enjoyed its many comicalities and ridiculous situations. Many of the latest operatic hits were introduced and roundly applauded. A grand ladies and children's matinee will be given to-day, and to-night the Company will close its engagement. The troupe is well deserving of a liberal patronage.

At the matinee to-day the "Daughter of the Regiment" and "Loan of a Lover" will be presented. At night, "Red Hot Time," by special request.

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY.—The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messager, at Chambersburgh, Penn.: A BERERACTERS. Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colloking, and teething sleves the child from pain, and ourse dysentery and diarrhos. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, ourswind collo, and carries the inflam safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of fi-mothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow-know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists.
