OUTLINES.

The Chicago people, in large numbers, are signing petitions for commutation of sentence of the Anarchists, among whom are many prominent members of the bar and bench, who have heretofore demanded the extreme penalty of the law.

Recently we heard Randall and his echoes in the South declaring that the Tariff tax did not make goods higher. They declared that goods were never before so cheap. The reply was that cheap as they were if you would lift the 50, 60, 70, and 100 per cent. tax they would be still cheaper.

Local Dots. — Spirits turpentine advanced 1 1/2 per gallon yesterday. Receipts continue light. — Mr. W. J. Woodward, of the Messenger, who has been sick several days, is improving.

Cotton Comment. There was fun in the cotton market yesterday. That is to say, there was fun for the 'boys' representing the taurine element. But you may well believe it was everything but fun for the 'boys' represented by the bears.

Weather Indications. The following are the indications for to-day, received at 1 a. m.: For North Carolina, warmer fair weather, light variable winds.

Chicago is to extend her corporation limits. She expects to add 100,000 to her population. It is already a great, a wonderful city. — "The Ladder to Hell" will be the subject of Rev. D. H. Tuttle's sermon to-night at Fifth Street Methodist church. In this sermon Mr. Tuttle will show the relation of the Church to the Theatre. — The Jessica Thomas Comedy Company left last night about 11 o'clock for Fayetteville on the steamer Murchison, which delayed her departure until that hour for the accommodation of the troupe. — More than forty new subscribers to the Daily and the Weekly STAR were received during the past five days. The bona fide, paid circulation of both editions, is considerably larger now than at any former period. — Our field editor, meeting a colored Nimrod on Market street last night, with gun and dogs, inquired about his luck. "Seven rabbits," was the reply. It is a curious fact that his best rabbit dog is a full-blooded setter. — A mass meeting of colored people will be held at the Court House next Wednesday night, for the purpose of discussing matters in connection with the Peabody schools. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. A. J. Chambers and others. — At a meeting Friday night last at the Second Advent church, letters were issued to a number of persons who will organize a church of this denomination at the chapel on Seventh, between Bladen and Harnett streets, to-day, at 11 a. m. — A young speculator who is on the short side of cotton, was asked yesterday what he was "going to do about it." Oh, he replied: "I must be the delusive phantom of hope." — Pretty little cotton bear trying to sing a song. Here comes the noon report quoting cotton strong. Then the little cotton bear tries to change his tune; for up goes the market some twenty points for June. Now this little cotton bear wishes he'd been a bull; for there lies his only hope of getting his pockets full. — It may be of interest to many readers of the STAR to know that the peanut crop of Southampton county, Virginia, is almost an absolute failure. The Norfolk Virginian says the authority for this statement is of such a high character as to leave no doubt that the farmers of that county have suffered heavy losses. Southampton is one of the largest peanut producing counties in the South.

An Interesting Case. A case of considerable interest to the ocean cotton carrying trade has been recently decided by a naval court at Savannah, Ga. A few weeks ago the cargo of the British steamship Resolute, at that port, caught fire and was badly damaged by water. The underwriters directed that the cargo should not be discharged, but the crew refused to take the vessel to sea with wet cotton. The naval court decided that the cotton must be shipped; but the men remain firm and say that they will not go in the vessel. The matter has given rise to a great deal of discussion in shipping circles, and the outcome will be watched with interest. The Savannah News says that Captain Revely, of the Resolute, has received orders from the owners to reload his cargo and take it to Liverpool, and the captain will act in accordance with these instructions. The crew say they will not take the cargo across under hatches and they dare the captain to try and make them. It seems pretty certain that in the end they will be discharged and a volunteer crew will take the ship across. Shipping Commissioner Beckett says that the British law upon that point is that when a crew is discharged in a foreign port the owners must pay them three months wages. A percentage of the wages so paid goes to the English government, which furnishes transportation for the crew back to England. They must be returned to an English port, for the captains are required to account for every man who may ship with them. Bears in Brunswick. The Postmaster at Excelsior P. O. writes the STAR as follows: "I beg leave to correct a mistake in the recent bear story written by your correspondent at Shallotte. The number of bears captured was correct; also, the circumstances of the capture, and the brave hunters named were the captors; but Waccamaw claims the scene of this noble achievement, as it occurred within four miles of this place, in that portion of Waccamaw known as the 'Big Neck,' and a distance of at least fifteen miles from Shallotte. As Waccamaw makes no pretensions we think it but due to her brave hunters to contest their claims to rivalry in bear killing." Cotton. The receipts of cotton yesterday were 1,916 bales; same day last year 1,410. Increase so far this season, 20,075 bales. The stock at this port is 20,477 bales. Exports the past week were 9,494 bales.

Mayor's Court. Several "unlicensed dog cases" were called in the Mayor's Court yesterday. All the parties were colored. Jonas Blocker proved that his dog had been sent out of the city, and was discharged. David Hall had procured a badge for his dog, and Emma Faizon's dog had been killed. Harry Larsen and George Potter, charged with disorderly conduct in Mrs. Bryson's boarding house, were arraigned. Larsen was discharged and Potter was fined $10, with the alternative of twenty days on the chain gang. Robert LeBois and John Larkins, disorderly conduct in the Opera House, were turned over to their parents for chastisement. A Busy Day on the River. The river was alive yesterday with shipping. A British steamship of over 1,100 tons, two large barques and a brig, all from foreign parts, came up from Southport, besides three or four schooners with cargoes from coastwise ports. One of the barques was of 890 tons register and the other 698. The outgoing craft were, a steamship for Liverpool, a barque for London, and two schooners for the West Indies and South America, respectively. Grace M. E. Church. The services of Grace Methodist Church will be held by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Yates, at the Temple of Israel at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. to-day. The sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered at the close of the morning service. Sabbath school at 3 p. m. — The Jessica Thomas Company closed their engagement last night with but a fair house after four nights of well filled houses. The company gained a good reputation in this city notwithstanding their recent organization. The leaders, Miss Jessica Thomas and Mr. Joe Phisico, possess many qualities worthy of the stage and will, no doubt, some day reach a high point. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
