OUTLINES.

The throttled Anarchists were buried in Chicago on Sunday, when the Socialist and Anarchist elements made an imposing display; the hearses of the executed men were covered with floral offerings and other tribntes, and every effort was made to do honor to the dead; everything was conducted in a quiet and orderly manner. - Michael Schwab, one of the commuted Anarchists, says Louis Lingg was a scalawag and miserable rat, and that he was the cause of Spies' execution; he thinks. his purpose was to do wholesale murder with the bombs which were found in his cell. - A very destructive fire occurred at St. Peter, Minnesota. saturday night; one-third of the business portion of the city was destroyed. and the loss is estimated at $100,000. _ The presence of the military at the Pocahontas mines has restored quiet between the negroes and the Hungarian operatives, but further trouble is expected. - As was anticipated, there was a serious disturbance at Trafalgar Square, London, between the police and the Socialist and Radical elements; the latter numbered one hundred thousand. and there were many fierce fights, in which two hundred citizens and forty policemen were injured. - Senafor Vance was thrown from a wagon, near his home, on Saturday evening last, and received a cut on the head about three inches long and reaching to the bone; the injury is severe, but not dangerous. - The U. S. Supreme Court yesterday rendered a decision in the driven-well patent ease, adverse to the validity of the patent; heretofore it has been sustained several times in the same Court. - The Virginia habeas corpus cases were before the U.S. Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, when ex-Senator Conkling opened in behalf of the State, and was followed by W. L. Royall for the bondholders. - The Ministry of Agriculture building, in Brussels, was destroyed by fire Sunday night; the Minister and his family, who resided in the building, narrowly escaped with their lives. - The physicians of the Crown Prince of Germany favor the extirpation of the larynx, but the patient has not yet consented to the plan of treatment. --- Merchants of Danville, Va., have made complaint against the Richmond & Danville Railroad for violation of the Inter-State Commerce law. - The suspension of A. S. Hatch was announced on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday; the boom in Reading forced him to the wall. - P. C. McNutty & Co., clothiers, of Chattanooga, have made an assignment. - The Chicago market was very active yesterday, and there was a uniform advance in corn, small grain and provisions. — Schwab has been assigned to the kitchen in the penitentiary, and Fielden to the stone department .. - Mr. O'Brien has been made to wear a prison suit, made of blue material; a friend who interviewed him found him flercely excited and coughing frequently. - Don M. Dickinson will accept the Post Office portfolio, if unanimously confirmed by the Senate, otherwise he will not. - The Legion of Honor decoration scandal is still agi tating Paris; the resignation of President Grevy is probable. -N. Rev. Dr. James McCosh, the very eminent and venerable President of ment, then we do not belong to the 'new Princeton University, is anxious to resign. He was born in Ayreshire, Scotland, 1st April, 1811. He is in his 77th year. He was made President of Princeton in 1868.

The idea of a kicker of 1886, suspecting the Democracy of the STAR, is refreshingly funny and impudent. And all because the STAR is in favor of taxing needless luxuries rather

A special from Raleigh to the News and Courier says Edward L. Andrews, of New York, representing Morton, Bliss & Co., and the holders of a majority of the North Carolina special tax bonds, has been closeted with Gov. Scales. No details of the result have been given. The special

The Norfolk Ledger says:

"The Wilmington, N. C., STAR appears to be well pleased with the result of last Tuesday's election in this State, if it did criticise rather freely the action of the Roanoke Convention in the preparation of platform.

Yes, the STAR wishes well to Vir ginia and is glad that Mahone was slaughtered. Mahone is a Republican and a political traitor and the STAR wishes all such to be slaugh tered in elections. The STAR did not think well of a platform that re sembled so much that of the Radicals. That was all.

The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph informs the public that a movement has been set afoot to present ex President Davis an appropriate and impressive testimonial. It will meet with general favor in the whole South. The Telegraph says:

"The design is to gather such a fund as will insure comfort to the President of the Southern Confederacy in his declining years, and be of substantial benefit to his family when he shall have passed away. As a matter of course, the movement is entirely without the knowledge of those di rectly concerned, and it may be added that it has been planned in defiance of the fact, that for twenty years they have declined individual offers.'

The following contains a hint as to food, but is the statement correct as to the people? We refer the matter to the Asheville Citizen. The Anniston Hot Blast savs:

"A gentleman who made a tour of Western North Carolina is of opinion that the people, as a rule, are degenerated and made scrofulous there by consumption of hog meat in all objectionable shapes. The air is pure, the water is good, fruits abound, beef, mutton and poultry are unsurpassed, but these blessings are not made available. The accursed swine flesh is pre ferred and deals out its physical damna-

A reader and subscriber to the STAR writes us from Whitaker's on

"Heartily and sincerely do I thank you for 'A Poor Apology' in your issue of today. My heart swells with gladness that the South has its Jacksons, who, knowing that we have not cause whereof to be ashamed or debased, are neither servile nor afraid to speak. I detest and despise the spirit that fawns to and even dictates"

This is from an intelligent, prominent Edgecombe farmer.

Rev. Dr. Carmichael preached a most earnest, practical, evangelical sermon at St. John's on Sunday morning. The language was remarkably select, and felicitous, the thought impressive and scriptural, and the whole discourse full of life and power. He spoke without notes for more than thirty minutes. His text was Genesis 28:16.

Col Fred Grant will have to become the father of his own greatnes if he is ever to achieve greatness. Men are not born great in this country at least, Shakespeare to the contrary notwithstanding .- Phil. Times, Dem.

Yes, but some men have "greatness brust upon them" as Shakespeare said. American history is full of ust such accidents and intauces.

The Danville (Va.) Register copies what the STAR said about secession and home rule, and adds:

"Precisely. And the true Southron and Democrat is as firm to-day in his belief in State sovereignty as he was in 1860. It the 'new South' means centralized govern-

-- New Bern Journal: Captain Cassar Taylor, a fisherman, reports that he found on last Tuesday evening at Point of Marsh, in Pamlico sound, the body of a white man, with a sailor suit on and of light complexion. It was supposed to be the man lost on the tender Violet sometime since and the body was turned over to a Mr. Hill, of Carteret county.

A band of Anarchists was broken up in New York on Saturday night.

They had assembled to hold a wake states of North Carolina and Virginia, the former having 211 and the latter 197. The Virginia factories, however, use up nearly twice as much tobacco as those of North Carolina. The tobacco factories of Virginia consumed in the last calendar year 45,707,888 pounds of leaf tobacco and 2, 827,891 pounds of sugar.

- Durham Recorder: Durham has had a succession of events. James Tingen attempted suicide by shooting himself through the neck. In less than twenty hours Mrs. Agnes Sanford and Mr. Willinm Garret dropped dead. Emma Hamilton was burned so badly that she died. Messis. C. M. and John Van Noppen were killed by a fall from a swinging ladder, on which they were painting, and Mr. C. H. Murphey badly injured. — Betsie Geer, an old colored woman, found a white male infant in front of her door last Sunday. Unable to find or learn anything about its parents, she has decided to keep it. There was a heavy frost Sunday morning, and she named the little waif "Frost." - The Salvation Army in Durham has 25 members. — Capt. E. J. Parrish has a remarkable horse. It lost a shoe, and getting out of the stables, went to the blacksmith shop. The smith divined what it wanted and shod it, whereupon it walked back to he stables and into its stall.

-Charlotte Chronicle: Mr. Hope Stewart, of Crab Orchard township, came to the city yesterday on the hunt for a doctor. Mr. Stewart had been bird hunting with Jackie Caldwell, and his flesh about the hip had been pretty well filled with shot from Jackie's gun. — Messrs. Parrott and Armstrong, of King's Mountain, near this city, have recently developed im-mense beds of Bessemer iron ores near King's Mountain station, on the Atlanta and Charlotte railroad. The ores contain from 46 to 65 per cent. metallic iron, and are exceedingly low in phosphorous, sulphur and other impurities The various veins show from 8 to 14 feet in thickness, at intervals on their property, for a distance of about four miles. - Mr. J. - A correspodent who withholds his name, he says "on account of fear." informs the STAR that illicit distilling is now, and has been for years, going on in Onslow and Duplin counties. Here's a chance for some daring, dashing "revenuer."

- We are indebted to our young friends Pride Thomas, Clayton Giles, Jr., and Aubry Parsley, for three brace of wild ducks, the result in part of a successful hunt indulged in by these ardent young sportsmen last Saturday. Their many friends were not forgotten, if we may judge by the clouds of feathers flying about the streets Sunday morning.

- "To Discontinue an Advertisement," says John Wannamaker, one of the largest advertisers in the world, "is like taking down your sign. If you want to do business you must let people know it. Standing advertisements, when changed frequently are cheaper than reading notices. They look more substantial and business-like, and inspire confidence. I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising."

Chicago Cercals,

The excitement in the corn market in Chicago continued yesterday, the May options climbing to 48, over a cent advance from the close of Saturday. The advance within a week has been 24 cents, which is a "big thing" in corn, and shows beyond doubt that it has many friends. At 48 cents, or thereabouts, for May delivery, it would seem to be a good sale, especially if the seller has the spinal virility to follow it to the top. There will be "dead loads" of May corn hunting purchasers at less than 48 cents; at least so says one of the bears, who insists that, while the crop is below that of last year, there will be no corn famine, and that the closing of lake and canal navigation, now near at hand, will result in an accumulation of stock -that will inevitably be followed by a sharp break in prices.

Wheat seems to have a fairly strong undertone, but it moves up very slowly, and the general sentiment in Chicago appears to favor somewhat lower prices, at least temporarily.

Even the despised cereal, oats, seems to have stepped into a set of bull harness, and has actually scored an advance of three-eights to onehalf cent during the past week. The "Oats Syndicate" of Wilmington are watching the market now with increasing interest, and are betting on an early decline.

The close in Chicago yesterday, for May delivery, was 794 for wheat; 47% for corn, and 30% @ 30% for oats.

Hible Day.

Exercises of a highly interesting nature took place Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Sunday School, the occasion being "Bible Day." A very attractive programme had been prepared, consisting of recitations, interspersed with Scripture selections and responsive readings. Also, a short address appropriate to the occasion. The gesture recitations and hymns, by the primary class, were very entertaining, and showed careful training. Mr. Jas. E. Wilson as cornetist, and Mrs. W. F. Williams as organist, led the music, which was very fine. At the conclusion of the exercises the offerings were handed in and quite a large sum was realized, which will be applied to a fund to be raised for the purpose of distributing Bibles to the destitute of our own and foreign lands.

Nathan Strong, colored, charged with disorderly conduct at Front street market Saturday night, was called in the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. He failed to answer, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Spencer Stanford, colored, was fined twenty dollars for disorderly conduct Saturday night; failing to pay, Stanford will work thirty days on the chain gang.

Fire Hose to be Tested.

The new purchase of hose-1,000 feet-for the use of the Fire Department, will be tested before it is distributed to the different companies. The test will be made this forenoon at the foot of Market street by the "Atlantic" engine, under the direction of Chief Oldenbuttel.

- The pilot boat Peerless, of Charleston, S. C., the News and Courter says, "is going to Southport to be used in pilotage at that place."

New Postal Regulations.

The Postmaster General has put another construction on the new postal regulations in regard to third and fourth class matter. Under sections 371 and 372 of the revised Postal Laws and Regulations, that went into effect September 15, third class matter consists of printed matter (market reports, circulars and all other printed communications) which contain no personal matter or writing of any

The envelopes containing such matmer must have upon them only the names of the addressee, the card of the addresser and his address, without anything more than enough to identify the letter and sender, by name, with his place of business, if he so desires. Nothing is allowed in the way of an advertisement of the business of the sender. As to the fourth-class matter, the inclosure of any written communication is prohibited. Such packages must contain only merchandise, such as samples, etc., not over four pounds in weight, at one eent per ounce, or any fractional part thereof. - The marks on the face or surface of the package shall be only the name of the sender, with the word "from" above and preceding the same, and there may be also written or printed the number and names of the articles enclosed, and the sender thereof may write or print or attach to any such articles, by tag or label, a mark, number, name or letter for the purpose of identification. Nothing is allowed in the way of an advertisement of the business of the sender.

The contents of any envelope in either class may be descriptive, directions for use, or other information respecting the articles enclosed as part of the original packages or labels done up for transmission if the same be printed, but upon the surface or ace of the package for mailing n writing, printing or marks other than those authorized by the statute can be placed without subjecting the mat ter to first-class rates.

Possibly future legislation may cor rect what now seems to be an inconvenient rule for business men to follow. So long as the law stands as it now does the post office officials are bound to enforce it as it reads and as it has been construed by the depart-

A special ruling has just been made by the department with reference to the mailing of samples-all words except the word "sample," and the name of the sender with the word "from' preceding it, and the name of the addressee and his address, are erased as not permissible.

The Postmaster General holds that under a strict interpretation of the law merchants and the public generally are not permitted to display their names or business addresses either printed or written on any mail matter except that upon which the full letter rate of postage is paid. In one instance, a bookseller in New York city made a sale to a customer residing in New Orleans, and the books were mailed as thirdclass matter. In addition to the name and postoffice address of the purchaser, the dealer marked "printed matter" with pen and ink in one corner of the package. Acting under the instructions of the department the postmaster charged full letter rates for the package; which the purchaser refused to pay. There was a number of similar cases forwarded to the department as samples of the hardship under which the busidess communities suffer in this connection. Many persons who have patented tags and labels for marking packages, have affixed their names to the same, and it is claimed that the loss will be exceedingly heavy unless they are permitted to use them. In view of this fact the Postmaster General has decided that such tags and labels may be used on mail matter below class one, provided all traces of anything resembling a business advertisement are obliterated. He claims that he is obliged to enforce the law as he finds it, and that any redress in this direction must come from Congress. He will lay the subject before the President in his annual report on the postal affairs of the Government. THE MAILS.
