WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1887.

WHOLE NO. 6602

It is gratifying to see it mentioned that ex Speaker Carlisle thinks the accumulation of a surplus will be put a stop to by the incoming Congress. He thinks the session will be indeed a long one. It is reported by the Washington correspondent of the World that the President is now conferring with Mr. Carlisle concerning his message. He reports Mr. Carlisle as saying:

"His opinion was that a moderate measure cutting down the revenue about $70,-000,000 could be passed. He would be wiling to take off the tax on manufactured tobacco, not including cigars and cigarettes, which would reduce the revenue about $20,000,000. Then he would scale down the customs duties, placing many articles on the free list, such as lumber, salt and coal taking off $50,000,000 more. Mr. Carlisle e opposed to taking the tax off augar until the customs duties are reduced in proportion. He is also opposed to reducing the tax on whiskey, and only consents to the abolition of the tax on manufactured tobacco because it is largely used by the work ng classes. The adherents of Mr. Randall backed by a majority of the Republicans, it is believed, will make a vigorous attempt to abolish the revenue taxes, but the supporters of Mr. Carlisle will oppose any reduction of the revenue taxes except on manufactured tobacco

The North Carolina and Virginia delegations will vote with the Republicans, we suppose.

A graduate of a Northern college caught us on the pronunciation of a proper name that we thought we knew all about. It was Hermione. We said confidently in response-Hermyony-putting the accent on the first syllable. A graduate of Heminway quickly took us up and both were against us. An appeal to the dictionaries showed they were correct. It is pronounced Her miony, accent on second syllable. Crock ett's motto is a good one -"Be sure you are right, then go ahead." How many, we wonder, of those who read this paragraph can tell in what novel and what play Hermione is a char-

We copied two announcements of Rev. P. R. Law's connection with the Charlotte Chronicle. We have not the pleasure of a personal ac quaintance, but know of him as an educated, well informed and intelligent gentleman. We hope he wili find daily journalism both profitable and pleasant. It is a severe taskmaster and works hardest the most faithful. Such is our experience. We are glad to see a gentleman of Mr. Law's character joining the pencil driving guild.

Here is the way Mrs. Augusta Evans Wilson entertains her readers in her last novel:

"If civilization be the anologue of geologic accretion, how tortuous is the trend and dip of the ethnological strata, how abrupt the overlapping of miths. Gen. Tuttle draws a peusion of $30 a month because he was injured in the war. This is said to be all. He was never hurt. He stole Southern cotton bales, and now he is stealing the people's money in a bogus pension. He is one of the fellows who gnash their teeth when the South is named.

Fire Department.

The Columbia Hose Reel Company have received 500 feet of hose from the city. As their house is near the cotton factory, lumber yards and creosote works situated in the southern part of the city, it was certainly well placed and affords that portion of the city better protection against Distribution of the new fire hose has been made. The "Adrian," "Atlantic" and "Cape Fear" engines 300 feet each, and 100 feet is held in reserve. The Banniker and Phoenix hose reels companies each get 500 feet of old hose.

Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

Mr. C. E. Bullard, of Bladen county, - Lieut. Gov. Stedman returned whose arrest and incarceration in the jail of this county was mentioned in the STAR of yesterday, was brought before Judge Meares on a writ of habeas corpus yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bullard was charged with obtaining from plaintiff, Mr. R.W. Hicks, money to the amount of $75 and goods and merchandise of the value of $67 73, by "falsely and fraudulenty" representing that he (Bullard) had eleven hundred barrels of rosin at Buie's Cross Roads, in Bladen county, and at Smith's Landing on the Cape Fear river, "whereas, in truth and in fact, he did not have eleven hundred barrels of rosin nor any amount approximating thereto."

Mr. Bullard was arrested at his home in Bladen county and was committed to the jail in this city, pending an examination appointed for Monday (to-morrow) in default of bail in the sum of $2,500 for his appearance before Justice Millis.

The petition of the defendant upon which habeas corpus proceedings were instituted by his counsel, Mesers. Russel & Ricaud, alleges that the imprisonment and detention are illegal, that there is no sufficient evidence to hold him upon the charge; that he was arrested and imprisoned without a prompt and speedy trial or investigation of the charges, and that an excessive, unreasonable and unlawful bond has been required of him for his appearance before the said magistrate; that the amount of the bond, $2,500, was fixed by the magistrate or sheriff at the request of Mr. Hicks, the prosecutor, or of his attorney, Jno. D. Bellamy, Esq.

At the conclusion of the arguments of counsel, Judge Meares reduced the amount of bail required to $400. Counsel for Mr. Bullard said that -- Rev. Andrew J. Chambers, bondsmen would be forthcoming today, and in the meantime Mr. Bullard returned to the jail.

Two Old Cronles,"

The "Two Old Cronies" had the usual small Saturday night's audience in attendance last evening, but the empty chairs and benches did not seem to dampen the spirits of the players, and the whole play was given with dash and energy. While the piece is without plot and can hardly be described, it abounds in "hits" and ludicrous situations, and is one of the most laughter-provoking and mirthgiving entertainments imaginable. The two leading characters are excellent, and their ease and grace, their song and dances, their witty "asides" and general adaptiveness to all the requirements of many and varied situations, made their appearance always welcome and the hungry audience call for more.

We can commend the troupe as far above the average travelling combinations, and there is fun shead for the cities they have yet to visit.

The Rape Case. Stephen Freeman, the colored man charged with rape, was arraigned before the Mayor yesterday morning and after brief examination was committed to jail to await the action of the Criminal Court for this county, which will convene to-morrow.

The only witness introduced was Mrs. Ada Sellers, who testified to the assault committed upon her by the prisoner. She was positive that Freeman was the man.

Freeman attempted no defence beyond a denial that he was guilty of the crime. His demeanor was somewhat against him in the opinion of many who watched him closely. Free man is a married man, his wife and several children living on Ann street between Sixth and Seventh. His reputation is said to be not of the Fire Across the River.

The rosin oil still on Messrs. S. P. Shotter & Co.'s naval stores yard on the west side of the river blazed up last night about half past nine o'clock. An alarm wes given from box 24 at the foot of Market street, and the fire department soon assembled.

The fire was nothing more nor less than the ignition of vapors escaping from a leak in the condensing apparatus. It was smothered by wrapping the pipe with guano sacks. There was no damage. Some of the members of the Hook and Ladder Company crossed the river in boats furnished by the government steamer Colfax but their services were not brought into requisition.

Bazer at the City Hall. The Sisters of Mercy, connected with St. Thomas' Catholic church of this city, will hold a bazar at the City Hall next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, to raise funds for the repair of the building and school house of the Sisterhood on Fourth street. A number of useful and ornamental articles will be offered for sale, and an abundance of refreshments—all to be sold at reasonable prices.

The Sisters of Mercy are a branch of the same order that came here from Charleston, S. C., during the fearful vellow fever epidemic of 1862 and did such faithful duty and renthe sick in that trying time.

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for to-day, received at 1 a. m.:

For Virginia, colder fair weather, with cold wave, preceded by light snow in eastern Virginia; fresh to brisk northwesterly winds.

North Carolina, South Carolina Eastern Florida, Western Florida, Georgia, Alabama colder fair weather with cold wave in interior; fresh to brisk winds, shifting to northwesterly and diminishing in force.

Cold Wave and Storm.

A storm of intense energy is pass ing along the northern boundary of the United States, which produces unsettled weather throughout its entire eastern portion. The barometer in the centre of the depression was unusually low yesterday morning. The lowest reported was 29.20 inches In this city it ranged from 29.50 to 29.60 inches, with a continuance of its downward tendency.

The worst effects of the storm are not likely to reach this section, but strong southwesterly winds are anticipated by the Signal Service, as is shown by the following telegram which was received at the signal office in this city:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19, 6 p. m.-"Hoist cautionary southwest, storm central in Michigan, moving easterly. Strong southwesterly winds. shifting to northwesterly with increasing force. GREELY."

An area of high pressure is following in the wake of the high pressure, and, as is customary, is followed by a cold wave. The temperature in the northwest was near freezing, and from all appearances in that section it will fall considerably lower. This unusually low barometer will, without a doubt, precipitate the cold weather in this section with unusual severity.

A Chase and (apture.

There was a lively race on Princess street yesterday afternoon, between two constables trying to overtake a prisoner who had managed to give them the slip just as they were landing him in the county jail. The chase led up the street almost to the city limits, when the prisoner, Aaron Vann, was overhauled near Macumber's ditch. He drew a knife and showed fight, but was speedily disarmed and taken back to the jail and locked up.

Vann is treasurer of Mt. Zion (colored) church. He was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with the embezzlement of funds of the church, amounting to some fifty or sixty dollars. He was arraigned before Justice Henry Hall and pendding an investigation which will be had to morrow, was committed in default of bail for his appearance to answer to the charge. Vann claims that he paid the money to Rev. R. F. Aldridge, the pastor of the church.

Mayor's Court. The City Court room was crowded yesterday morning with spectators The greater number were colored people who had gathered to hear the proceedings in the case of Stephen Freeman charged with rape. Freeman's case was soon disposed of. He was committed without bail to await trial.

Lizzie Merrick was charged with allowing her hogs to run at large. The testimony showed that she did not own the hogs and she was discharged.

R. D. Lawton, a respectable look ing tramp, who said that he was seeking employment, was ordered to leave the city.
