BORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES. The labor organizations of Louisville, Ky., are demanding that the Democratic Executive Committee of that District shall interpose to effect settlement of the differences between the Courier-Journal and Times and the Printers' Union; they threaten to make a party matter of it. — A very unfavorable report comes from San Remo relative to the Crown Prince; his throat does not heal, and his case has assumed a serious aspect. _ Total visible supply of cotton for the world 2,960,887 bales; crop in sight 6 059,982 bales. - The Chicago Democrais are making big efforts to secure the holding of the National Democratic Convention in that city; a very influential delegation have gone to Washington with that purpose. and all needed funds will be forthsoming. - The Inter-State Commerce Commission has issued a cirmlar to railroads located wholly in one State or territory, relative to their rates with connecting lines. _ There were some lively dealings in the Chicago market yesterday, and both grain and provisions were strong and higher. - A Chicago grain warehouse was partially burned yesterday, causing a loss of from $75,000 to $100,000, and a destructive fire is ported from Massachusetts. -Thirteen persons escaped from the jail at Newark, Ohio, Friday night. - An Arkansas sheriff attempted to arrest a man in Chadwick, Mo., when one of his party was killed and another seriously wounded; the man he manted made good his escape. -

The glass works at Sandwich, Mass., have been closed owing to a disagreement, between employes and manufacturers. - The murderers of millionaire Snell, of Chicago, have been captured, and one of them proves to be the son of a wealthy manufacturer of that city; his confederate has made a full confession. - The Congressional inquiry into the Reading strike was resumed in Philadelphia yesterday, when editor Norris, of the Philadelphia Record, gave some very interesting testimony. - The European outlook is becoming more and more warlike, and all of the powers are getting ready for the conflict, which now seems to be ineritable. — Much uneasiness prevails in English political circles, and the indications are that a crisis is mminent. - N. Professor John B. Minor, Profes-Frei Law in the University of Virgials, writes that he "earnestly defires te defeat" of the Blair bill.

Tory Crimes act is a grand faliare. It has not stamped out a sig village club. So says Mr. William O'Brien, in his speech before the House of Commons.

The Virginia press is now sternly wrestling with the pregnant question of "free passes." It is not a question as to whether you will ride or walk, but whether you will stay or pay.

"The Blair bill proposes to distribute among the people of the respective States, according to illiteracy, about seventy million dollars per year for the next eight Years." - Augusta Chronicle.

It proposes to distribute $77,000,-000 in eight years and not, $70,000,-000 each year for eight years.

Chairman Mills says a tax reform bill will be submitted by the Ways and Means Committee to a Demoeratic caucus of both Houses. That is right The country expects and demands reform. Some Republican Senators are professing to favor it.

The amount of money necessary to buy the lots and erect suitable buildings for the purposes indicated may be stated, approximately, at $52,000; and this sum may be divided as follows: For the Commercial Exchange; $25,000; for the Young Men's Christian Association, $15,000; for the Light Infantry Armory, $12,000.

On this basis, the whole amount of $25,000 will be paid up in twenty months. On a similar plan the necessary funds for the Young Men's Christian Association and the Wilmington Light Infantry might be raised.

If deemed best, in order to popularize the movement, the monthly payments might be reduced to $3.00 per share, thus extending the time for Tuesday, 8 p. m.

The STAR feels a deep interest in this matter; but what is here written is only the suggestion—the outline of a plan it considers entirely feasible and practical if directed by men of energy and ability.

The Seacoast Hattroad. The engineers of the Seacoast railroad have about completed their surveys for the road. The line as located starts at the Atlantic Coast Line depot on Front street and runs a half mile up their track, thence it turns into Brunswick street and follows that street, through Fanningan extension of Brunswick-and turning into Dickinson it strikes McRae street; leaving the latter the line runs along Tenth street to near Ann. where it strikes out for the sound. The line is nearly straight to the sound with the exception of a few necessary curves. It turns for the hammoeks back of Capt. Manning's place; striking the southwestern point of the creek between Capt. Manning's and Summer Rest it makes a straight line to the hammocks, through which it runs and comes out on the side next to the banks. From the hammocks a draw-bridge will be built to the banks. The line, in all, frem the Coast Line depot to the banks, is nine miles long. The work is being pushed through the streets, and material for the trestle is going to the sound.

A correspondent of the STAR a Rocky Mount, referring to the removal of the remains of persons interred in the Methodist Church yard to the new cemetery at that place, makes the following remarkable statement: "Upon examination of some of the bodies they were found to be in a very natural condition, and easily recognized by their friends, looking almost as natural as when first placed away. The body of Dr. R. C. Tillery, one of our most prominent citizens, having been buried three years, was upon examination found to be looking as natural as when buried. The moustache had grown an inch or more and was much blacker, and the chin whiskers were from eight to ten inches longer. The body seemed to be in a perfect state of preservation, as were the remains of some ladies who were

Of the third, the Home Journal, of New York, the late N. P. Willis's old paper, which we read so carefully for thirteen years, beginning in 1846, says:

"Theophilus H*Hill holds a place of honor smong the poets of the South. His volume of poems, 'The Passion Flower,' has been well received by the public, and his more recent contributions to the press show no decline in inspiration, while they evince progress in the graceful mastery of poetic forms. The religious sentiment that pervades his 'Passion Flower,' embodied in the peculiarly sweet and melodious verse of the poet, endears the volume especially to the lovers of devotional lyrics."
