On to-day the North Carolina Medical Society meets at Fayetteville. Dr. Thomas D. Haigh, of that town, is the President.

Boston is trying to rival Chicago in the dirty divorce business. Last Wednesday 341 such cases were disposed of by one Judge alone.

In the United States and Canada there are 16,310 newspapers and periodicals published -a gain of 800 over the preceding year. But London has more Quarterlies than the whole United States-more than 150.

Miss Rives has won fame. She has been offered the great sum of $30,-000 for a novel. She is said not to be cast down. An exchange says, Miss Amilie Rives is plucky if not dainty. She says that she hasn't the faintest idea of being coerced or bullied, and that if some of her critics mistake passion for sensuality she should not be blamed. That will hardly relieve her of very pointed criticism for a naughty book.

The situation in the East is said to be growing more ominous every day. Russia is at work in Bulgaria and is trying to incite the army against Prince Ferdinand. It is said that Germany's hope of peace is seriously jeopardized by the Emperor Frederick's physical disability. He is in very great danger of death, and a strong hand at the wheel is needed every hour.

There were five additions to the First Baptist Church last Friday. On Sunday Bishop Watson confirmed seven persons at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. On the same day Grace Methodist Church received six members - four by profession of faith in Christ, and two by letter. This makes 160 received by the pastor, Mr. Creasy, since he took charge on the first of January last.

ARTICLE II.—The object of this Alliance shall be to manifest and strengthen Christian unity, to promote Christian fellowship and co-operation, to study social problems, and to apply to their solution the princi-ples of the Gospel. Any communicant of any white evangelical church may become a member of this Alliance, and throughout the world all evangelical churches are represented in it, by both laymen and clergy. It is hoped that this will be the case in Wilmington, for the attainment of reforms which without such co-operation can scarcely even be attempted, but which are desired by all good men and citizens.

Family Excursion.

With flags flying and happy faces thronging the decks, the Sylvan Grove made her baptismal excursion yesterday afternoon to Orton and return. Three hundred passengers or more availed themselves of the first opportunity to show their appreciation of the enterprising spirit of the managers of the popular Carolina Beach in putting on their line the new, handsome and commodious steamer Sylvan

The run from Market Dock to Orton and return was accomplished in such rapid time that the excursionists were back before the sun was down, and all were delighted with the boat, the management and the trip.

Carolina Beach can but grow in popularity. The manner in which the people responded to the efforts of the management last year but augurs a more successful season for this. As a place for a day's recreation it is unsurpassed, and with increased accommodation, more rapid transit, and with the ever popular and proverbially clever Capt. Harper to take charge of the boats and their freight, it cannot fail to draw this season.

To-day the regular schedule for the season opens, and the steamer will I WHOLE NO. 6745

G. H. Smith and W. L. Parsley. The Club was never in se prosperous a condition. The membership was increased twenty-one last night, and the last cent of indebtedness was liquidated. The coming season will be made more exciting by the introduction of two more yachts. The old law relative to boats over twenty feet long was repealed, and any boat under twenty-five feet can now enter for prizes, provided it has a competitor of its class. This will, it is thought, bring one or more larger boats to the
