MORNING EDITION.

OUTLINES.

In the Senate yesterday a number of bills of local interest were passed, and amendments to the River and Harbor bill were reported; a large number of bills were introduced in the House, and the bill was passed creating the Department of Agriculture and transferring thereto the weather service of the Signal Service Bureau; the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill was also passed.

It is stated on good authority that the nomination of Melville V. Fuller to be Chief Justice, will be confirmed at an early day. The Senate amendments to the River and Harbor bill, as it left the House, increases the appropriation one and a half million dollars, and of this amount North Carolina rivers get about $300,000.

The great flood in the Mississippi river, which has been without precedent in the destruction and suffering created, is slowly abating. There was a considerable drop in the Chicago grain market yesterday, and provisions were quiet and steady.

In the Southern Presbyterian Assembly, yesterday, Dr. Woodrow commenced his defence in connection with the charges brought against him relative to his evolution views, but before he had concluded an adjournment took place.

The printers throughout the country are making efforts to raise money to erect a monument to the memory of Horace Greely. A tremendous meeting was held in Dublin and resolutions adopted making a vigorous protest against the Pope's rescript.

The wife of Senator Sawyer died in Washington yesterday. A Tennessee sheriff attempted to arrest a negro murderer, when he was fired on by the scoundrel and riddled with bullets, causing his death in a few minutes; the murderer then made his escape.

A deliberate attempt was made to burn the town of Anderson, S. C., Sunday night; several buildings were set on fire, and much excitement prevails. New York markets: Money easy at 102 per cent; cotton quiet at 10 @10 1/2; Southern flour quiet and steady; wheat, No. 2 red May 97 1/4 @ 97 1/2; corn—No. 2 May 63 1/4 @ 64; spirits turpentine dull at 37 1/2 @ 38; rosin quiet at $1 20 @ 21 25.

They call Dalzell now the "In gall of the House." A gross insult! The Virginian Episcopalians are proposed to changing the name of their Church.

Blaine says he is for Depew, and that he will be nominated. He says he will not run again. Bah! The able N. Y. Times copied our editorial on North Carolina's Great Men but credited it to another paper.

Hong Yen Chang is the first Chinese lawyer to be admitted to the New York bar. He will practice at Poughkeepsie. For the first week in May 77 railroads showed a gain of 9.39 per cent, over the corresponding week in 1887. Surely, that is not unfavorable.

THE MORNING STAR

The Gramophone is the last invention of the family of phones. Emile Berliner is the inventor. In a paper before the Philadelphia Franklin Institute as reported in the Philadelphia Ledger:

"He reviewed the history of the telephone, the phonograph, invented by Leon Scott and patented in France in 1857; the invention of Charles Cross, described in a sealed communication to the French Academy of Science, April 30, 1877, but which was not read until after Edison produced his phonograph. To Cross Mr. Berliner gives the credit of having first suggested the idea of a feasible plan for mechanically reproducing speech. He also referred to the graphophone, invented as an improvement on the phonograph and the later-perfected phonograph of Edison, both of which use wax for receiving the impression, instead of the tin foil first used. In the graphophone a polished metal plate, generally zinc, is given a coat of etching ground, composed of beeswax digested in cold gasoline or benzine, which is extremely sensitive to the touch, but protects the plate from the influence of acids. Mr. William G. Fischer sang into the receiver parts of "Auld Lang Syne" and "When I Can Read My Title Clear," and Mr. Berliner recited into it a verse of "Mary Had a Little Lamb." When the plate was etched and placed in the reproducing machine the sounds were reproduced with considerable fidelity to the originals. Other plates, previously produced, were also exhibited."

It is certain that woman suffrage is making headway in the North and woman representation also. In the Methodist General Conference the proposition to women as delegates was rejected by but 39 votes. This moves the able Richmond (Va.) Adocate to say:

"The right to vote, in the very nature of suffrage, carries with it the right to be voted for, unless there may be specific legislation against it. And we may live to see a woman in the Bishop's chair, or the proceedings of an Annual Conference spiced with the baby brought in to the Bishop for his rations during a session. In fact, it is possible that a big black negro might sit in that high place but for the prejudice against that race when the question of office and honor comes up; for with a large membership of negroes, among whom the Bishop sits, and a large number of the South, the Northern Methodists have given no Bishopric or eminance to the African."

Booth has been instructing his fellow actors in an undress rehearsal. "Hamlet" is to be given in a testimonial to Lester Wallack, in New York. The Times says:

"Edwin Booth is in the title role, Lawrence Barrett will appear as the Ghost, Joseph Jefferson as the First Grave Digger, John Gilbert as Polonius, Eben Plimpton as Laertes, Joseph Wheeler as the First Actor, W. J. Florence as the Second Grave Digger, Harry Edwards as the Priest, Frank Mayo as King Claudius, John A. Lane as Horatio, Milnes Levick as the Second Actor, Lawrence Hanley as Guildenstern, Charles Koehler as Orazio, Edith H. Vanderfeld as Marcellus, Herbert Kelcey as Bernardo, Frank Mordaunt as Francisco, Helena Modjeska, as Ophelia, Rose Eytting as Queen Gertrude, and Rose Coghlan as the Player Queen."

What a splendid combination! Booth, Barrett, Jefferson, Gilbert, Modjeska and Rose Eytting.

The Weldon News tells us who Mr. Gordon, the new Virginian dialect writer is. It says:

"Mr. Armstrong C. Gordon was born in Albemarle county, Va., but is now living in Staunton. His father was George L. Gordon, of Albemarle, and his paternal grandfather was Gen. W. F. Gordon, who was a member of the United States Congress originated the sub-treasury bill. His mother was Miss Mary Daniel daughter of the late J. Daniel of this county, Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, and sister of the esteemed townsmen, W. A. Daniel, Esq. He is also a first cousin once removed of General Junius Daniel."

We are glad to have this information. We knew his father personally, and knew his mother before she was married. We will give a poem by Gen. Gordon soon. So he is at least half North Carolinian as to blood, and very good blood it is.

The Duke of Westminster after inviting Mr. Robert Spencer and wife to dine with him, actually wrote to him withdrawing the invitation, and upon the ground that he could not eat with a man who had eaten with Mr. Parnell. That Duke is a foolish fellow. Mr. Spencer ought to be thankful that he has escaped the disgrace of eating salt with such a shabby nobleman. The Boston Post says:

"It is no wonder that this gross discourtesy has set society gossiping. The Duke of Westminster, who got his dukedom from Mr. Gladstone, is the man who distinguished himself in a similar manner a year ago by selling Mr. Gladstone's portrait."

Booth and Barrett have closed the most successful engagement ever made in the United States. The N. Y. Herald says:

"The success of these two gentlemen proves that the American people in their amusements, as in other things, are willing to pay for the best. Mr. Booth and Mr. Barrett are artists of genius and scholarship who united their strength to give due value to dramatic work, and they have found their gain."

It is now very evident that there will be no organic union between Southern and Northern Presbyterians. It is not too much to say that there should not be.

"One of the Best Edited." Henderson Gold Leaf.

The Star is one of the best edited papers in the South and deserves the most liberal support and encouragement of our people. It is a warm friend of our section and never loses an opportunity to speak a good word for the Golden Belt. The afternoon edition can be mailed so as to reach Henderson on the 11:19 a. m. train from Raleigh, and the morning edition, with full telegraphic reports, reaches Henderson by way of Weldon at 5 p. m. We would be glad to see so good a paper as the Star extensively circulated among our people.

THE CITY.

- NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. A. SHRIER—Boys' clothing. MURSON—Water proof coats. CHEAT FARM—To Charleston. A. H. HOLMES—Gilt edge butter. CITY HALL—School entertainment. S. A. SCHLOSS & Co.—Auction sale. D. L. GORE—Hoop iron, nails, etc. E. WARREN & Son—Orange sherbet. REAL ESTATE SALE—In Rutherford Co.

Local Notes. Bishop Key has appointed Rev. F. L. Reid, editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, Presiding Elder of the Raleigh District to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. N. H. D. Wilson.

The rain shows up many distressing street crossings where the flood raged yesterday, noticeable on Chesnut and particularly one at Fourth street crossing. A new plankway is needed.

Mr. Gardner will test all of the alarm boxes of the fire alarm system this morning, and we are requested to publish this notice in order that there will be no misapprehension in regard to the matter.

Rev. F. W. E. Peschau has been requested by a number of ladies and gentlemen to deliver some time in the near future a lecture on "Foreigners, and the good they have done." He has the matter under consideration.

The pupils of the Union Graded School will give an entertainment at the City Hall Wednesday night, to raise funds for their Library. The exercises will be very attractive and no doubt be much enjoyed by all who attend.

Yesterday being the anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence and a State holiday the banks, Produce Exchange and the business men generally on the wharf closed their places of business, and everything presented a most quiet appearance.

There were confirmation services held at St. John's Church Sunday morning and Bishop Watson administered the rite of confirmation to fifteen. At night the Bishop administered the rite of confirmation to 30 persons at St. James' Church.

Governor Soales has issued the warrant for the execution of Stephen Freeman, to take place on the 26th of June, but has written to Mr. Strange, the counsel for Freeman, that it in no way affected the question of commutation, as that question has not yet been decided.

Children's Day at Grace Methodist Church.

Yesterday, by appointment of the authorities of the Methodist E. Church, South, was children's day. It was very properly observed at Grace Church. As you entered the lecture room your eyes were attracted to the beautiful flowers as well as the pretty children, and also to the northeast window decorated as a memorial to Capt. W. M. Parker deceased, who for a long number of years was the Superintendent of the school. The initials, W. M. P., in evergreen letters, were on the window, and beneath these a crown of flowers surmounted with a star.

There was a large attendance, and after devotional exercises, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Cressy, the Superintendent, Mr. J. W. King, took charge and carried out the morning's programme which consisted of impromptu speeches by a number of gentlemen and an essay by Mr. Willie Cressy, all of which was interspersed with singing by the children. In the afternoon the school assembled for speeches and singing, and at the close of the afternoon exercises, was the funeral of Willie Davis, a member of the school.

The threatening weather and occasional rain broke up the proposed procession, but a large number of the teachers and scholars repaired to the cemetery, where little Willie's class with whom he recited his lessons the Sabbath before, decorated his grave with flowers, after which a hymn was sung over Capt. Parker's grave and that also was strewn with flowers.

The exercises of this pleasant and memorable day were closed at night by an earnest and impressive discourse by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Cressy, to parents.

Feast of Roses.

The ladies of Grace Methodist E. Church are making ample preparations for two festivals, called the "Feast of Roses," to be given at the City Hall on Thursday and Friday evenings of the present week, for the benefit of their new house of worship. They should be liberally patronized, as their bill of fare will be most tempting. Admission fee 10 cents.

The Thirty-Fifth Anniversary of the Wilmington Light Infantry.

The company was formed at the Armory at 12 o'clock, and under the command of Lieut. Harris was marched up-stairs to the City Hall, where the flag made by the Ladies of Wilmington was presented by Dr. Carmichael in a very neat speech, and was received for the Wilmington Light Infantry by Col. Jno. L. Cantwell, the oldest member of the company, in a speech of about ten minutes duration, in which he told of the gallant deeds of the company in times past and said that the present aim of the company is to keep it up to the standard it has always maintained in the ranks of the State Guard. The flag was then given to Ensign Perdue, and three rousing cheers were given for the ladies who so kindly donated the flag. The Company was then marched back to the armory and disbanded.

On account of the inclemency of the weather the excursion to Carolina Beach was postponed, and many of the boys who have lived in the hope of being presented with the handsome gold medal for the best shot were disappointed. The excursion will probably take place the first of next week.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. Storm, who, in a brief speech, gave some of the history of the company, and stated that the 20th of May was the thirty-fifth anniversary of the W. L. I.

Capt. J. C. Morrison having served the Company for more than five years, was presented with the reserve corps medal by Sergeant Thomas Gause. Capt. Morrison very gracefully responded. It is the hope of all the members that every one will as faithfully perform their duties as he has done. The members are loth to give him up, and while he is on the reserve he is at present Second Lieutenant, and is working hard to bring the standard of the W. L. I. to that of the first company in the State Guard, and it is our prediction that in the near future the Wilmington Light Infantry will be an organization that not only Wilmington will feel proud of, but a company that the whole State will be more than glad to have in her borders. Below we publish the programme:

Overture by Cornet Concert Club. Toast to the Veteran Corps—responded to by Col. W. L. DeRosset.

Song by the choir composed of E. P. Boatwright, organist; L. H. Meares, R. S. French, W. P. Toomer, H. M. Emerson.

River and Harbor Improvement—Capt. W. H. Bixby.

City of Wilmington—J. J. Fowler. Music by Germania Cornet Band.

Captain John H. Daniel—Lieut. J. C. Morrison. Music by the Choir.

Our New Armory—Captain C. H. Robinson. Music by the Cornet Concert Club.

To the Dead of the Wilmington Light Infantry—Drunk standing and in silence.

Revenue Cutter Colfax—Lieutenant Walker.

Jefferson Davis—Three cheers. The Press—Julius A. Bonitz, Esq. Music by the Germania Cornet Band.

The Ladies—Dr. O'Neil, of Charleston, S. C.

Thus ended one of the most pleasant receptions, and it is our hope that by the time the 86th anniversary of the Company rolls around it will be our good luck to partake of the hospitalities of the W. L. I. in their new armory they expect to have completed by that time.

Sunday Morning's Fire.

The alarm of fire Sunday morning, at 8:30 o'clock, was caused by the partial destruction of a double frame store building on Second street, opposite Captain T. J. Southerland's stables, owned by Mrs. Whitney and occupied by M. H. Bass on the one side as a harness repair shop and on the other by G. C. Parker, a painter, and J. S. Gibson, undertaker. No one knows how the fire caught. It originated in the part occupied by Mr. Bass and near the wood partition which divide the two stores. The building was insured with Messrs. Northrop, Hodges & Taylor in the Phoenix of Hartford for $155, which is hardly half of the loss. M. H. Bass was insured with Messrs. A. A. Brown & Co., in the North Western of Dakota for $200. Mr. Parker was insured with Messrs. Northrop, Hodges & Taylor in the Phoenix of Hartford for $200, and J. S. Gibson had a policy in the Southern Insurance Company of New Orleans, Mr. A. J. Hill agent, for $180. Daily Review.

Hemenway Graded School—Closing Exercises.

The disagreeable weather yesterday kept many away from the closing exercises at the Hemenway school. There were, notwithstanding the pouring rain, many of the parents present, who desired to see what their little ones had been taught for the past year. Judging from the expressions heard on every hand there was but one opinion, and that was that all had made most satisfactory progress, reflecting not only credit on themselves but also on their teachers. There was one thing that struck the reporter with force and it was the cheerful and happy faces of all the children (from the lowest to the highest grade) which is absolutely necessary for the success of a school. All of the children were orderly and attentive and it was a pleasing sight to see their happy countenances, and hear their quick and intelligent answers to questions propounded.

For two hours the parents and their friends listened to the different recitations in Geography, History and Arithmetic. It can be said with all truth that the manner of teaching at the Hemenway school is most excellent and ranks among the best schools in our land.

It was a pleasure to see that in teaching history special attention had been given to the history of our own State. This is as it should be—let the good work go on.

The rooms were handsomely decorated with flowers, and the pretty school songs, sung with sweetness and dash, added much to the pleasure of the occasion.

The Superintendent announced at the close of the exercises that the session had been the most prosperous the school ever enjoyed, that more than three hundred had been enrolled, and that the School Committee were making every effort to give the children a new building at an early day.

Changes in the Railroads and Post-offices.

Mr. H. T. Bauman, who for some time has been mailing clerk in the Postoffice here, has resigned his position to take a place in the office of Mr. Walter Rutland, who recently has been in charge of the through freight department on the W. C. & A. and W. & W. Railroads. Mr. Oscar Grant succeeds to Mr. Bauman's position and Mr. Willie Parsley has been advanced to the position formerly occupied by Mr. Rutland.

Mr. Walter Rutland succeeds to the position of Mr. W. J. Yopp as local freight agent of the W. C. & A. and W. & W. Railroads.

Mayor's Court.

Amos Boston, charged with robbery, was before the Mayor's Court yesterday, and was bound over to the Criminal Court in the sum of $50.

Jacob Jacobsen, charged with enticing seamen to desert, was fined $25 or thirty days.

Sarah Cotton, drunk and disorderly, $20 or thirty days. One case was continued until to-day.

Weather Indications.

The following are the indications for to-day, received at 1 a. m.: For North Carolina and South Carolina, warmer, except stationary temperature on coast, rain followed by fair weather in western portions, fresh to brisk easterly winds diminishing in force.

The Weather. The weather yesterday was true to its local indications of Sunday and interrupted the anticipated pleasure of the members of the Wilmington Light Infantry and their numerous friends in their excursion to Carolina Beach in their commemoration of their thirty-fifth anniversary.

The Signal Office displayed the cautionary northeast signal early yesterday morning, and with their information that a cyclonic disturbance was central in Georgia, moving in a northerly direction, dissipated all hopes of the expected enjoyable occasion for the day.

From the map issued by the Signal Bureau and from information derived from that quarter we learned that the storm centre was but of limited area, but nevertheless well-defined, and the winds encircling it quite violent.

From the same sources we learned that an area of low pressure was developing at the same time in the West and Northwest. This combined with the high barometer north of this section had a tendency to delay and probably eventually disperse the causes of the rainy weather of the past two days as well as render the atmospheric condition uncertain.

The lowest barometer at midnight was still south of this city with no evidently decided future course of progression. The probabilities, however, are that cloudy and threatening weather, with little or no rain, will be the order of the day.

The total rainfall in this city yesterday was 1.37 inches. The highest velocity the wind attained was twenty-two miles an hour in this city and thirty-five miles an hour as reported along the passage of the storm.

Bishop Granberry, by the new plan of Episcopal visitations, presides over the next session of the North Carolina Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, South.
