Judge Kelley denies with emphasis that the Republicans have formuated a Tariff bill. The old oppress ive War Tariff of 47 per cent. is low enough for them.

Minister McLane, now on a flying visit to this country from France, says Boulanger is not a revolutionist but a peace-loving man. England will be glad to believe that is so.

Blaine refuses to decline to be a candidate: His health is better than usual. The following Chicago specisi to the Herald says:

J. S. Clarkson, of Iowa, a member of the National Republican Committee, thinks Mr. Blaine's name will be formally presented to the Chicago Convention unless there is some further communication from tim to stop it.

Six thousand Irishmen at the Phenix Park meeting, in London, held on Sunday, indorsed the protest against the Papal politics. On the other hand, the Irish Bishops in their letter to the Pope, thank him for the rescript. The Moniteur de Rome refers to Parnell's Catholic followers as "rebels,"

John Wanamaker used to make $1 50 a week in a clothing store. His dinner, when he had any, consisted of a piece of pie and a glass of milk, costing two cents. Each year his ralary was increased, and at the time he was twenty he had saved $200. A lesson. Now he is one of the great merchants of America and very rich and benevolent.

The following is encouraging. We clip from the Washington letter to the N. Y. Herald of 21st:

"The general debate closed by common consent on baturday evening. This debate has been of great importance, because it has disclosed the weakness and the divided condition of the Republicans, and it has united the Democrats for the bill to such an extent that if it were to come up for passage now less than half a dozen Democratic votes would be cast against it. The almost unanimous approval, by the Democratic State Conventions, of the Administration and of the Mills bill also done much to unite the party upon it in the House. There is far less disposition among members to demand favors in the bill for the local interests of their consti-

De Bausset has an air ship project. It is to carry a hundred passengers. It is a steel cylinder, six hundred feet long, and is to float in the atmosphere. A bill is before our Congress explaining it. The Herald thus describes:

"It consists essentially of a metallic vessel, made up in compartments and other-wise suitably braced and strengthened against external weight or pressure, and of requisite size, so that when sufficiently ex hausted of size is that when sufficiently ex hausted of air it will, by displacement of a bulk of external air greater than its weight, rise in the air and sustain and carry a desired burden. The vessel is to be provided with property and with pumps for exhausting the air, and also with rapidly revolving blades or propellers for moving and steering it. There will also be the necessary machinery, electrical storage batteries to supply power, and means freight, the whole to constitute a conveyance for rapid passage over short or long distances overland, or for transoceanic passage, and for general purposes of com-merce, exploration observation and so

While in Miss Addie Meares' room was to be seen, "The Old North State Forever;" and verily the children did believe in Carolina, for they had made a large map of the State, using, not paper and pencil or blackboard and crayon, but pretty ox-eyed daisies. In Miss French's room was a large cedar-sprig map of North America. The pupils of Miss Hawes' room had arranged a handsome flower map of South Ame rica. In all of the rooms there were flowers in profusion, and the blackboards contained many most credita-

They are evidently being started right, and this is half the battle. In the other rooms geography, history and arithmetic were the leading features yesterday, and in all of these studies good teaching was shown by good recitations. At 12 o'clock all were invited to most excellent assembly hall to witness the exercise in calisthenics, so that one might see that the body had been trained as well as the mind. Three chords being struck on the piano up stairs the pupils formed quietly down stairs and soon came marching in with a quick and lively step. It was a pretty sight indeed to see near one hundred pretty girls marching gracefully about the hall in perfect time and executing some of the most difficult movements of the march.

At the close of the calisthenics drill the Superintendent announced that the session then about to close was one long to be remembered for its success in every respect.

So far as numbers were concerned. he was proud to announce the fact that from a school of 124 pupils two years ago, the enrollment for the present year was 441.

A pleasant feature of the closing exercises was the presentation of a ring to Miss Rosa Zeigler, one of the pupils who plays the piano for the calisthenics. Prof. Noble said he presented it in behalf of those who had been benefitted by her kindness in playing for the school.

George Winton Hardwicke.

Yesterday, at the age of 20 years and 8 months, George Hardwicke, the last child of George W. and Mary Charlotte Hardwicke, passed away from earth.

Four months ago George was taken ill and obliged to give up his work as he thought temporarily. After two or three week's sickness with malarial fever, he was able to be about again, and to devote part of his time to his duties as book-keeper for the W.U.Telegraph Co.in this city. His ambition was greater than his physical strength, and soon he found himself in a condition of decline. From that time on he has been walking in the "valley of the shadow." His steps have been constantly toward the "dark river." In the past three months he had taken but little out-of-door recreation; once or twice he rode out a short time. His mother nursed him tenderly during his illness until at last she sank under the burden and discouragement of his condition. Just one week ago she passed to the other shore. George accepted this dispensation of Providence with Christian fortitude and unflinching faith. Though he said little, silent grief was affecting him, and at last he, too, succumbed. Although hopeful of recovery to the very last, he made due preparation for whatever might come, and his his faith. George was born in Lynchburg, Va. His father brought his family, a wife and four strong and healthy children, to Wilmington twelve years ago when he came to take an important position in the office of the MORNING STAR. In that brief period those children had reached maturity and have gone down to the grave; the wife, too, is gone, and the bereaved father stands solitary and alone, like some venerable landmark shaken by the storms of life. During this time of trouble kind neighbors and friends have done all in their power to relieve and care for the sick, and to bear some comfort to the sorrowing father in his distress. Never have we known a case that appeals so strongly to human sympathy. Truly did the sorrowing father say: "It seems as if the Angel of Devastation were brooding over my house."

Every heart in this community must be touched by so sad a story. We are sure that with us all of his fellow citizens tender heartfelt sympathy to the stricken father. May God comfort, bless and keep him. May He lift up the light of his countenance upon and give him peace.

The Episcopal Convention. The Convention of the Diocese of East Carolina will meet in St. John's Church, Fayetteville, to-day. It is probable that there will be a large attendance from this city.

A number of the delegates from parishes in this city left yesterday afternoon on the steamer A. P. Hurt for Fayetteville. Among them were Dr. A. J. DeRosset, Col. John W. Atkinson, Col. Wm. L. DeRosset, Rev. Dr. Carmichael, Mr. Gabriel Holmes, Mr. B. Gleaves, Mr. R. E. Heide, Mr. W. Calder and Mr. H. G. Smallbones. There were several ladies in the party.

The following are the indications for to-day, received at 1 a. m.:

For Virginia and North Carolina, slight changes in temperature, rain, followed in interior by fair weather, fresh to brisk easterly winds, high on the coast.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonie and cries of a suffering child, and becoming con vinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing happy death was a signal triumph of and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy! The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet falled to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
