CAMP PENDER.

The Sixth Day of the Encampment—Battalion Drill by Colonel Woodruff—The "Mulligan Guards"—Visit from the Wilmington Fire Department—Gov. Scales' Arrival.

Monday, the sixth day of the encampment of the North Carolina State Guard, was an unusually eventful day.

After regular routine duties as prescribed in previous orders had been gone through with, at 10 o'clock all of the regiments assembled on the parade grounds for the first battalion drill, under the command of Colonel Carl A. Woodruff, U. S. A.

The Germania Cornet Band, who were to furnish music for the Second Regiment, accompanying members of the Board of Aldermen and officers of the Fire Department, arrived at Wrightsville between 4 and 5 o'clock.

Headed by Col. Jones and staff the visitors were escorted to headquarters and introduced to Brig. Gen. Johnstone Jones, who welcomed them in a speech occupying about ten minutes.

He spoke of the excellent situation of Camp Pender and said that his opinion, and that of everybody in the State Guard, was that the "present site was the most desirable in the entire State."

At the conclusion of Gen. Jones' remarks the band played one of their choice selections and three rousing cheers were given. The band was then escorted to the quarters of the W. L. I. to prepare for their appearance on dress parade.

Local Notes.

Mr. F. Rheinstein has returned from his northern trip. Everybody regrets that the troops will not parade in the city. Gov. Scales will visit the city to-day to witness the marine parade.

"Dry Goods," the merchant who advertised in the STAR of Sunday for a clerk, will please call at this office with a bushel basket and get his replies.

There were five persons arraigned for disorderly conduct at the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. The fines aggregated forty-five dollars.

Mr. Jno. M. DeSassure, formerly an employe in the office of the Atlantic Coast Line here, but now a resident of Atlanta, Ga., is in the city, a guest of Mr. W. A. Rlach.

The management of the Seacoast Railroad, with commendable spirit, proffered free transportation for the troops to the city and return for the parade that it was expected would take place here to-day.

Among the articles found in the street car boxes, in addition to nickels, are collar buttons, pieces of glass, trunk checks, room checks, matches, shirt buttons, &c.

The Passport has the following special schedule for to-day: Leaves Southport at 7:30 a. m., bringing excursionists to witness the marine parade. She will take passengers for the marine parade at 25 cents.

The Sylvan Grove runs as follows to-day: Leaves for Carolina Beach at 9:30 a. m., returning in time for the marine parade. Leaves her wharf at 2:30 p. m., for parade, taking passengers at 25 cents each.

Mr. Mills said in the House that his bill left the Tariff at $42.99 on the $100. This is higher than it has ever been given. It shows that the reduction is indeed small, as the present Tariff is $47.10 on the $100.

Brower, of North Carolina, was one of the three Republicans who voted for the Mills bill. The others were Anderson, of Iowa, and Nelson, of Minnesota.

Gov. Scales arrived yesterday at 7:40 to attend the encampment of the State Guard at Wrightsville. He was accompanied by his private Secretary C. H. Armfield, and State Treasurer D. W. Bain.

Wilmington Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, had a pleasant meeting last night at their asylum in the Masonic building, at which they entertained as their guests, Col. Carl A. Woodruff, Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of North Carolina, and Mr. E. M. McRae, Grand Captain General of the Grand Commandery of this State.

Representatives of the Fire Department of the city of Wilmington paid a visit yesterday afternoon to the State Guard at Wrightsville. The party consisted of the Chief and Assistant Chief, several members of the Board of Aldermen and officers of the Howard Relief, Hook and Ladder No. 1, and Wilmington S. F. E. Co. No. 1.

Brig. Gen. Johnstone Jones telephoned to the STAR last night at 10 o'clock, that Gov. Scales had decided not to issue the order for a parade of the State Guard in the city. This action is taken on the advice of Surgeon General Haywood, who considers that it would not be advisable to expose the troops to the fatigue necessarily attendant upon a long march in the hot sun.

While the decision of the Governor is a matter of great disappointment to all our citizens, no doubt every one will readily acquiesce, as it is made simply and solely in behalf of the health and comfort of our citizen soldiery.

Outlines. The treaty was considered in the Senate yesterday, when Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, made speeches in opposition to its ratification. The conclusion of the treaty is not expected to be reached before next Monday.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. OPERA HOUSE—La Mascotte. A. SHERRER—Summer clothing. REWARD—For lost watch chain.

THE CITY. MURKIN—Suits to measure at cost. G. HAAR—Piano and organ tuning. S. A. SCHLOSS & Co.—Auction to-day.

His Excellency the Governor. Gov. Scales arrived yesterday at 7:40 to attend the encampment of the State Guard at Wrightsville. He was accompanied by his private Secretary C. H. Armfield, and State Treasurer D. W. Bain.

High railroad rates are shutting out the Georgia watermelons from New York, says the Times of 20th.

Rev. G. W. Sanderlin is making a remarkable canvass. He is growing very rapidly in fame as an uncommonly good stamp speaker.

The Augusta Chronicle says there are nearly $1,000,000 being put into buildings and improvements in that town. All over Wilmington there are signs of progress.

The German Emperor is now in Ramona having a good time hobnobbing and keeping with the most miserable man in Europe, Alexander the Great. The significance of the visit is not known.

A new Southern book is Rev. Dr. J. P. Kerr's "The People's History of Presbyterianism in All Ages." He is a pastor in Richmond, Va. The WAig says it "is written in a strong and attractive style."
