Reconstruction in the South has never been written. It is a series of chapters of crime, madness, roguery, spoliation, oppression, debauchery and scoundrelism without a parallel. Oh, that we had a Thomas Carlyle among us to portray in brilliant, excoriating, grim, impassioned and yet eloquent colors the days of Radical Reconstruction as he has painted the horrors and madness of the French Revolution, that most unique and original prose work of the nineteenth century.

But the truth is not hid under a There are tens of thousands of educated men in the South who know the story of Radicalism in the Southern States after the war. Even some Northern men have had genuine glimpses into the sad record of peculation injustice, and unredeemed villainy. Now and then we see in some Northern publication enough to satisfy us that the leaven of truth is at work, and in the years ahead we may hope that the Northern people generally will be able to understand something of that black chapter it the National record. But only those who lived through the dark days will ever fully know what it is to be "reconstructed" by rascals and in the midst of millions of recently liberated slaves who had been clothed with all the powers and privileges of citizenship including the right to vote.

We are reminded to-day of the unpleasant past by reading Senator George's vivid, graphic description of reconstruction in his own State. Mississippi, and by an excellent editorial in the New York Times upon Senator Chandler, the little fellow from New England who is spread out full flat on his little belly trying to blow into life the almost dead coals of sectional strife and recrimi-

Times says of little Billy:

"Yet he clings, in his blind, stubborn and stupid way, to the hope that he can at this late day arouse the waning energies of his party by appeals on this subject. He is terribly mistaken. The country will not trust the Republicans again in this matter. There are serious evils in the treatment of the suffrage in the South. They have steadily decreased since 1881, when President Arthur, for the first time in the history of his party, conspicuously put them aside as a subject of Federal legislation. They have decreased still more under the Administration of Mr. Cleveland, whose firm and impartial course had led directly to the division of the negro vote— the only final solution of the race problem in politics. But if this were not so, if the condition of things were as had as ever in the South, the entire country would not put the Republicans in office to mend it, because the party has proved itself at once incompetent and disloyal. There is no chapter in its history more disgraceful than its sordid, unscrupulous, and base be-trayal of the freedom of the South. The negroes who were sold on the auction block in the time of slavery were not treated with less respect for their manhood and their rights than were the black voters of the South under the cowardly and selfish poli-cy of the Republicans. Helpless as they were, innocent and trusting, they were used in the basest manner, misled, deceived, debauched, robbed, and deliberately exposed to the most cruel prejudice simply to strengthen the hold of the Republican pollticians upon power, patronage, and plun-

The whites were hounded, perse cuted, insulted and robbed, while the ignorant, grateful, trusting negroes were deceived at every turn and made the slaves of designing, unprincipled adventurers and marketable native whites.

HOW IT WORKS AGAINST THE

In 1887 the average tax on all goods manufacture of wool was 67.21 per cent. This tax was paid on foreign goods and home-made goods. Understand that. The New York Times gives the operations in woollen fabrics for one year -1887. Here

The difference represents the tax which the people of this country are compelled to pay for the protection of manu-facturers who, by reason of the high rate of duty imposed upon raw wool, are unable to make thoroughly sound and substantial cloth

The people are burdened sorely. The Democrats are trying to lift a little of the burden. They propose to reduce the bounties paid the American manufacturers as well as the tax paid on the foreign goods imported. And what a howl goes up from the brazen lungs of Monopoly. The reduction proposed is very moderate indeed. It would relieve the consumer of a small part of his burden and would not hurt in the least the honest manufacturer.

The present Tariff is very unjust and unequal. It is not only intol erably high, but it is laid in such a way as to be for the benefit of the rich and for the oppression of the poor. The STAR has shown this again and again. The finer class of goods worn by the rich is taxed lower than the coarser class worn by the poor. The present law simply discriminates against the laboring people. The following table taken from the Times shows the prices and the rates of imports of woollens in 1887: "In each class we have taken the cheap-

You will find that the fine goods bear the lowest tax or duty. On cloth that sells for 64 cents there is a tax of 90 per cent., while on cloth that sells for $1.21 cents, there is tax of but 69 cents. That is 21 cents less tax on the pound for fine goods than for those worn by the poorer classes. Is not this discriminating against the poor? Look all through the above list and you will find the coarse goods the highest taxed under the Radical Tariff. Surely such a wicked, immoral, unjust, absurd, oppressive, unconstitutional Tariff needs readjusting and redu-

nation. Poor little Senatorial mid- | India islands may be added, there can be no safety among the cities We must copy a part of what the upon the Southern Atlantic coast. The most emment practitioner in yellow fever at Havana says that in twenty years there had not been one day that he has not seen a yellow fever patient. The Times says:

One thing is pretty definitely known already, and that is that the source of the yellow fever infection for this country is almost invariably the ports of Cubs If it is to be effectually suppressed means must be found for clearing that island of its presence, and that would involve a complete regeneration of the sanitary condition of ita porta, which are never entirely free from the infection. This would be extremely difficult to accomplish. In the meantime, our only defense is an effective national quarantine against the ports from which vellow fever is liable to be brought."

That is it. Non-intercourse with nfected countries. When they cease to be infected then open our ports. A rigid quarantine all the year round against such ports is what must come, or death.

Senator George has not won upon our favor by his position in regard to the Blair bill and perhaps one or more other measures. He is unquestionably an able man and his speech in defence of the South was eloquent, true and manly. We like the abstract in the STAR's dispatches of yesterday very much. He told the precise truth, but the Radical Senators did not wish to hear it on that very account. They chose to take themselves away, and if it could be a final "taking off," so far as the Senate Chamber is concerned, it would be better for the country every way considered. There is scarcely one Radical in the Senate who has any claims to statesmanship unless it be John Sherman, and he is so insincere, so inconsistent, so vascillating, so corrupt, you cannot trust him.

THE PERIODICALS.

Littell's Living Age always deserves special mention for it is beyond fair question the best literary magazine in the world. It has the advantage of being published | tent to which the negro vote is supweekly, each number containing 64 double column pages, or more matter than you will flad in a single monthly number of any of the $3 a year magazines. THAT SUIT OF CLOTHES.

N. Y. Times, Ind. Rep.

The tax on the consumer of woollen cloth is enormous, whether it is of domestic or foreign manufacture. Du ring the debate on the Mills bill Mr. McKinley produced a suit of clothes made from American woollen cloth which the retailer sold for $10. This famous suite was one of the main arguments advanced by the protectionists. But when Mr. Mills came to close the debate he showed that the suit would have cost a good deal less if it had not been for the tariff tax. The total cost of its production was $6 68. The cost of labor in it was $1 65. The suit weighed 4 pounds and 4 ounces, and there were 17 pounds of raw wool in it. The duty on the wool was 10 cents per pound, $1 70, If wool had been free the suit would have cost the manufacturer just $4 98. On the suit itself there was a duty of 40 cts. a pound, to compensate the manufacturer for his tax on raw wool. This amounted to $1 70. Then there was an ad valorem rate of 35 per cent. which makes $2 33, which. with the $1 70, makes $4 03. Add this tax to the $6 68, and we have $10 71, the price of the suit being within 71 cents of the cost of production with the tariff in cloth and wool would have been $4 98. Add the proposed duty of 45 per cent., or $2 24, and we have $7 22 as the cost of the suit. The manufacturer will have received nearly all the benefit which he receives from the present law, and the man who bought the clothes to wear would have saved nearly $3 on his suit, or more than 40 per cent.

CURRENT COMMENT.

- A wonderful weather plant has been discovered in Corsica and at other points in the Mediterranean which is said to be a sure prognosticator of coming meteorological events. It is called botanically the Arbus Pereginus. Why not attach a plantation for these shrubs to the signal service office? The whole business could then be run by the intelligent gardener .- Wash. Critic.

- The carpet bagger had to relinquish his occupation, but the monopolist is as busy as ever to gather in the shekels which the war tariff, now called protection tariff and dwelled upon as a blessing -of course in thin disguise - affords them. An honest, courageous president at last arouses a nation to the crime of robbery which is daily perpetrated under the guise of laws and statutes. He shows the people the iniquity of collecting taxes which are no longer needed, and this man is described with supreme impudence as wishing to destroy the industries of the people, as desirous of injuring the laboring man. - Hebrew Standard.

Firing the Northern Heart. N. Y. Times, Ind. Rep.

It is a firmly-seated conviction with Mr. Chandler that a very large number of American citizens lie awake o' nights in dread of the consequences that will fall upon this devoted land from the domination of the Democratic party in the South. Chandler himself is not in the least alarmed on this subject. With him it is purely a matter of business. The more anxiety the more Republican votes. If he could manage to get up a nice little massacre of negroes every week between now and election he would go into the affair with all the coolness of his calculating and practical mind. He knows very well that whatever may be the expressed, perverted, or corrupted in the South to-day, the negro race is more prosperous, more contented, and in more nearly complete enjoyment of its rights in that section than it has ever before been. He knows -no one better-that the outrages that occurred under Republican rule were often permitted, if not encouraged, by the party leaders, with the hope of firing the Northern

The Republican Tariff Bill. N. Y. Herald, Ind.

The Republican Tariff bill will be given in full to the public shortly. In the meantime, however, we furnish our readers with a succinct state. ment of its main points and peou-

Mr. Blaine's advice has prevailed as to the abolition of the tax on tobacco. This will reduce the revenue about thirty millions.

The tax on sugar has been cut down fifty per cent, which will decrease the revenue by twenty-five millions more. Ten millions additional are to be saved from the tax on alcohol used in the arts, and five millions from various articles placed on the free

The bill proposes to abolish as far as practicable our ad valorem duties and raise the necessary federal income from specific duties.

The N. Y. Herald's Creed-Good. As for politics, follow the Herald and you are sure to be right for this world and ready for the next. We are just as willing to rub against Cleveland as to praise Harrison, having no favors to ask of either. What we demand of the President, to whichever party he belongs, is that he shall be honest in his dealings with the people, stand with them, stand by them, stand up for them and keep his hands clean. We like the attitude of the present administration because it does that. It seems wholesome, square toed, level headed, and is trying to get a cheap pair of blankets for the poor man before December comes and a woollen petticoat-all wool, not shoddy-for the wife and little ones. Professional politicians, bosses, dealers, trimmers, tricksters in both parties, are our abomination, and we hammer their heads whenever they become too officious. That is a short creed, but is warranted to wask.
