OUTLINES.

In the Senate yesterday the naval appropriation bill was considered, when Messsrs. Hale and Plumb made it the occasion to speak in the most complimentary manner of the present administration of the Navy Department; some amendments were adopted and the bill passed; in the House the entire session was occupied in a debate on the Smalls-Elliott contest ed election case from South Carolina.

- In a communication from the Treasury Department, transmitted to Congress yesterday, it is stated that on the 1st of January last there were two hundred and twenty-one more grain distilleries in operation than there were on the previous 1st of January - The Democratic members of the Committee on Ways and Means have completed their report on the Senate amendments to the tariff bill. - A favorable report was made in the Senate yesterday on the nomination of Norman J. Coleman, of Missouri, to be Secretary of Agriculture. - Two well known lawyers of Richmond, Va., and a celebrated base-ball player, were sent to the grand jury yesterday, charged with intimidating voters at the November election. -Another Irish member of Parliament has been sentenced to prison for inciting tenants to adopt the plan of cam paign. - The French Chamber of Deputies have adopted the Scrutin D'Arroudissement bill, which is variously commented on by the newspapers; the Republicans journals argue that it gives great strength to the Republic, while the opposition journals claim that it will not change the verdict of the people. - A caucus of Republican Senators was held yesterday, at which the Southern question was discussed, but nothing was de-

Senator Plumb thinks he will be Secretary of the Treasury. His friends are sanguine.

They are wise.

At Americus, Georgia, there were but two white Republicans before the election. Now there are 200, and all are seeking offices. Mrs. Ward's novel, Robert Elsmere, born Ingersoll, will not be put on the stage. Good. The country will gain much by this.

Mahone is off to Indianapolis. He is hot for a Cabinet office. We hope that Billy will be disappointed. Better no Cabinet officer from the South than such an one.

The pretty young American girl who ran away with the English doctor is back to her mother and the scoundrel is in jail in Paris under a charge of abduction and swindling. He has a wife.

The Liberals are gaining ground once more in England. The signs are propitious. In London nineteen Aldermen were elected the other day and all were Liberals but one, and she wore petticoats.

The President has nominated Carroll D. Wright, of Massachusetts, for Commissioner of Labor. He is probably the very best selection that could be made. Will the Rade in the Senate confirm?

Nearly half the books read now are novels. They ought to be free from all taint and of real merit or they hurt. In Paris 48 per cent. of the books lent by the 53 municipal libraries are novels.

Some of the newspaper penny-aliners in the Northern press are so free with Mrs. Burnett's private affairs that she is constrained to complain in the New York Times. Such is the penalty of fame under the lynx eye of low bred newspaper attaches. They have no sense of propriety or decency. The Times says:

"There seems to be no redress. But Mrs. Burnett may rest assured that she has the sympathy of all honest and cultivated persone: that the people to whose taste the beauty and imaginative power of her books and plays most successfully appeal either do not read the cheap and nasty publications containing malicious personal gossip, or if such prints fall by chance into their hands have sufficient discernment to appreciate the utier worthlessness of their

"Meanwhile, unless Mrs. Burnett can get the law to help her the scribblers will continue to describe her personal appearance and dress in such language as it suits them to use, to tell falsehoods about her family, to hall her as the Empress of Bohemia, to say that she wears 'vivid silk Kate Greenaway dresses' and is 'encircled by an army of young men,' although Mrs. Burnett may protest that she does not know what a 'vivid eilk Kate Greenaway dress' is, and that the 'army' which 'encircles' her comprises only two 'young men' aged respectively 12 and 14 years."

James Fowler and Alexander Campbell were in love with Miss Bettie Evans, of Davie county. Campbell won and now lies dead at the hand of his rival. He murdered Campbell at his own home. A dispatch to the World gives the sequel: Powler was not in the neighborhood, but when officers went to his house he was found in his room dead, having sent a bullet through his own brain. In his pocket was the f. llowing note: 'I made up my mind a long time ago to commit this crime if Campbell beat me in the race for Miss Bessie Evans. He succeeded, and I could not stand to see him marry the girl whom I loved better than May God take care of her. I killed Campbell."

The Bishop of Lincoln, Dr. King, is soon to be tried for rituralistic practices such as using candles on the communion table, the mixing of water with the communion wine, having the "Agnus Dei" sung after the prayer of consecration, holding his hands in the shape of the cross while pronouncing the benediction, facing toward the east while break ing bread, and performing the rite of ablution, which means himself drinking out of the chalice.

Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville , Courier-Journal, is faint hearted after all. He has been extremely pronounced in opposition to a repeal of the internal taxes. He now turns and favors the Cowles bill. Will he also abandon his Tariff Reform views and "jine the Rad ikils?" Principles are eternally right. The STAR stands fast and unfaltering to its record and proposes to never desert its own principles.

We are glad to learn from the New York World that the real Belle Boyd, the rebel spy of Martinsburg. Va., is alive. She is at Greensburg, Pa., is about five feet five, has red. dish brown hair and acquiline nose. She has been divorced and is now the wife of an actor. She is lecturing in Pennsylvania. The woman killed in the Indian Territory was, therefore, not the genuine article.

What a great fraud crank Blair is, He is so wrapt up in Woman Suffrage that he has no sense. In a report he has just made to the Senate this irrepressible agitator and author of disturbing bills, says:

"Enfranchise woman, or this Republic will steadily advance to the same destruction, the same ignoble and tragic catas-trophe, which has engulfed all the male Republics of history."

What an idiot!

A pretty woman known as Mrs. Emma Althouse, at Attics, N. Y., has been sleeping for thirty four days. The Philadelphia Times says this is so, and the doctors fail to discover any cause. She awoke on the 34th day, but soon relapsed into sleep. She is 25 years old. She has been an invalid for a year or two.

- The appointments by Governor Fowle of Col. B. R. Moore as solicitor of the Criminal Court and Mr W. R. French as clerk (to succeed the late Maj. Dunham) were confirmed yesterday by the State Senate.

- As a result of the mild winter it is said there is a glut of eggs in the New York market. The moderate weather has persuaded the hens all over the country to commence laying much earlier than usual. Some old dealers believe that there will be a scarcity of eggs later in the summer> They believe in the theory that a hen lays a certain number of eggs in a D. second day of the Convention.

The Turpentine Crop. writes that this season's receipts of spirits turpentine at that port will be nearly 15,000 casks short of last year's receipts, and a short crop of turpentine and rosin is looked for next year on account of the small box cutting this winter. As a result better prices are looked for. The stock of spirits on hand in the world is smaller than is generally supposed, but the price now is higher than it has been for Collision on Front Street. Two carts loaded with sand from the government lot on North Front street and driven by small negro boys, came in collision near the corner of Front and Dock, with effects that were rather disastrous, one of the carts being upset and the other having a shaft broken. The accident occurred about five o'clock yes terday afternoon and afforded lots of fun to the by-standers.

A venerable darkey, with the frosts of many winters on his kinky head, walked into the City Hall court room yesterday afternoon and announced to the Chief of Police that he wanted to address all the old gray beards in the community on a matter of the gravest importance. Upon being urged to unbosom himself to the small assemblage then present, he said that he had discovered "the cause of these earthquakes or shakes,' and wanted to tell it to the people; that they were caused by "two political worlds, the democratic and republican," coming together, and that the big shake that made things rattle and hum around Charleston a year or two ago, was occasioned by a question put to the President of the United States that he was unable to answer. The old negro was evidently crazy, but appeared to be quite harmless. He said that he came from Brunswick county and his name was Blakely. After he got through his harangue, he was permitted to go
