OUTLINES.

The army appropriation bill was considered in the Senate yester day and eulogies were delivered on the late James M. Burnes, member of the House from Missouri; almost the entire session of the House was occupied in filibustering tactics, and no legislative business was transacted; Mr. C. F. Booker, of Missouri, qualified as successor of the late James M. Burnes. - Father Stephens, after conducting mass on Sunday, was arrested in Ireland for advising tenants not to pay rent; he was only recently released from prison. - A large flouring mill at Leavenworth, Kansas, was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning; it was the largest mill property in the State, and the loss will reach $500,000. - At Winfield, Iowa, on Sunday morning, a dwelling was destroyed by fire, when two of its inmates were burned to death, and eight others made narrow escapes. - The President elect left Indianapolis yesterday afternoon for Washington, when a large number of his neighbors and friends assembled to witness his departure; he made a very kindly speech to the assembled crowd at the depot, which was received with loud cheers. -At Plymouth, a mining town in Pennsylvania, an explosion occurred yesterday in a "squib" factory, which destroyed the building, and killed ten girls and one man. - In the English House of Commons yesterday Mr. Morley made a strong speech condemning the administration in Ireland, and characterizing is as harsh, unjust and oppressive. - The Governor of South Carolina and his staff and many prominent citizens will attend the inauguration of General Harrison, - The reported routing of Hypolite's army in Hayti, and his death, is contradicted by the captain of a steamer which arrived at New York yesterday; he is said to be alive and in good health. - A delegation of Western tobacco men are in Washington to urge the consideration of the Cowles bill. -New York markets: Money easy, with 11 g 2 per cent offered at the closing; cotton steady: middling uplands quoted at 101 cents, middling Orleans 10% cts; southern flour steady; wheat dull and # cts lower: No. 2 red February 97# cents; corn steady and quiet: No. 2, 434 cts at elevator; spirits turpentine firm and quiet at 48 cts bid; rosin dull and nominally firm; strained common to good $1 10@1 124.

The World has been interviewing one hundred municipal centres. The pre-eminent problem for the new Administration is relief of the people. The Tariff and Civil Service Reforms are predoomed. The great crying question is relief from a debauched ballot. They also say the country must have a better navy and more extensive defences.

A Call to the Convention. CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Feb. 10, '89. To the Young Men's Christian Associations, and the Crhistian People Generally, of North Carolina: The Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations of North Carolina send greeting, and announce that the Thirteenth General Convention of delegates from the Associations of our State will be held in the city of Wilmington, March 21st

The programme of the exercises of the Convention is printed and is dis-tributed with this call among the Associations. Its topics will attract the thoughtful interest of all who have at heart the moral and spiritual welfare of our young men. The committee refer, with grateful pleasure, to the steady progress of our work for the past three years, and especially to the improved methods of organization that have been carried into successful action under the auspices of our efficient State Secretary, Mr. L. A. Coulter, and of the excellent General Secretaries now on duty in several important towns. We anticipate a delightful and profitable reunion in the hospitable city which is giving so generous a support to its young but well manned and prosperous Association. We urge that Associations everywhere appoint promptly their best men as delegates, and forward contributions for the State work to Mr. E. L. Harris, treasurer of the Executive Committee, Winston, N. C. Representatives from places that are looking to the organization of Young Men's Christian Associations and pastors specially interested are invited to attend.

State Executive Committee. CHAMBER OF INDUSTRY.

The Board of Aldermen-Approve the Action of the Legislative Com-

A joint meeting of the Board o Aldermen and Board of Audit and Finance was called yesterday afternoon at the City Hall to secure the endorsement of these bodies of the bill drawn up by the Legislative Committee of the Chamber of Industry, to submit to the voters of Wilmington the question of a subscription of $150,000 by the city to be used in encouraging new enterprises, etc., as heretofore published in the STAR. Mayor Fowler presided at the meeting, and there were present Aldermen Ricaud, Pearsall, Dudley, King, Price, Sampson, Walker, McEachern, and Mr. R. J. Jones and Mr. W. I. Gore of the Board of Audit and Finance.

Mr. Jno. D. Bellamy, Jr., President of the Chamber of Industry, explained the matter, at the request of the Mayor, and after considerable discussion the Board of Aldermen, upon Alderman Ricaud's motion, unanimously approved the action of the Legislative Committee of the Chamber of Industry.

Mr. Jones, chairman of the Board of Audit and Finance, said that there was not a quorum of his board present, and it could not, therefore, take official action. He submitted, as an amendment to the bill, the following:

Provided. That all factories or manufacturing companies now located within the city of Wilmington and furnishing products for local consumption only within said city, shall be likewise entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded under this act to factories or manufacturing companies of like character which may be established in said city after the passage of this act.

Mr. W. A. French and Mr. Bellamy explained that the bill made it discretionary with the trustees to grant exemption for taxation, that this clause was inserted for the very purpose of protecting manufactures or companies already established, if the occasion should arise—to prevent competition by non-taxpaying companies or corporations.

Alderman King seconded the amendment submitted by Mr. Jones. Mr. W. A. French said he represented the largest industry in the city. He did not ask exemption. He was sorry the amendment was offered, and he hoped it would be withdrawn. If the bill was amended there would not be time to get it through the General Assembly. It would have to be returned to the Chamber of Industry and submitted to the other Boards which had sanctioned it for approval. The amendment being put to a vote was rejected.

Cantata was gotten up by the choir of St. John's Church for the benefit of the church, and there were none who could fail to be pleased, not only by the manner in which the Cantata was received, but also by the numbers who were present.

The story of Ruth and Naomi is too well known, (or ought to be), to repeat it, and the Opera House was crowded last night to hear it. The

The Cantata opened with "The Famine in Bethlehem," and the sad faces of the Jewish maidens in the scene were quite a contrast with the countenances of the joyous, happy faces in the scenes which followed.

Mrs. Jos. H. Watters as Naomi, and Miss Schwartz as Ruth, and Miss Amoret Cameron as Orpah, were most excellent, and in the second act each and every one of these had full opportunity to show that they were artists of no small merit. The full, sweet tones of their different voices, and the perfect time, showed not only great training but also perfest harmony, and loud and frequent was the applause that greeted them. Mrs. Catlett as the Jewish Maiden was a great success, and the easy and graceful manner in which she took her part, showed not only great practice, but also perfect familiarity with it.

Miss Jessie Kenan, as the Israelitish Woman, won the hearts of all by her winsome ways and graceful manners. and long will the sweet tones of her charming song be remembered.

In the fourth act Mr. E. P. Boatwright, as Broaz, was the cynosure of all eyes, and the graceful manner in which he underwent his part won universal comment. This act closed with a most striking tableau, and the beautiful costumes as well as the impressive scene will never be forgotten.

Mr. A. S. Holden, as the Assistant Reaper, was remarkably fine, and Messrs. Robinson and Chapman were Books and Stationery also worthy of the highest praise for the admirable manner in which they showed their aptitude in perfecting themselves in their roles.

The opera was one which was full of merit, and the solos, duets and choruses showed that the singers had been trained well, and exceeding-

Our city has much native talent. and she should be proud of it, and the sweet tones of this delightful opera will be long ringing in the ears of all who heard it. The performance was given for the penefit of St. John's Church, and was naugurated by St. John's choir, and all are to be congratulated upon the successful termination of a most pleasant uffair. Many thanks are due to Mr. W. McFarland, Mr. E. W. Thompson and Prof. Poff, and also to Misses Burr and James, who aided no little in the success of the piece. The Cantata is one of merit, and all who were present were much pleased at the pleasant manner in which everything passed off. There was no hitch or stopping in the performance, and everything went most smoothly and satisfactorily. The amount realized was beyond the greatest expentations, and it is to be hoped that there will be a repetition of Ruth shortly, for it will always give the most universal satisfaction.

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonic and cries of a suffering child, and becoming con vinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homosopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplasing another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying bables and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
