OUTLINES.

The Senate yesterday disposed of a large quantity of miscellaneous business, and passed all of the pension bills on the calendar, after which an executive session was held; in the House a joint resolution was passed to promote a commercial union with Canada, and a number of Senate bills were passed. - In Thursday's executive session of the Senate there was an exciting time over the Florida Judgeship, when Quay and Cameron voted with the Democrats to discharge the Judiciary Committee from further consideration of the case, since which time several earnest conversations have taken place between Mr. Quay and Mr. Edmunds. - It is now said that Clarence N. Seward, of New York, will be given the Law portfolio in Harrison's cabinet, and that Gen. Noble will be Secretary of the Interior, and John F. Swift, of California, Secretary of the Navy. - It is now officially confirmed that Sir Julian Paunceforte has been appointed British Minister to the United States. - The London Star (T. P. O'Connor's paper), makes a rampant attack on government officials in connection with their course in the Parnell Commission. - Total receipts of cotton at all the ports since September 1st, 4,918,793 bales -Business failures throughout the country during the past week number 232, against 270 for the previous week. - Two thousand employes of the furnaces of South Pittsburg have struck in consequence of a reduction of ten per cent, in their wages. - Two war vessels have been ordered to Madagascar for the protection of American interests. ---A new corporation, for the manufacture of cotton goods, has been organized at Fall River, Massachusetts, with a capital of $400,000. A Madrid dispatch reports the suicide of an Englishman in that city, who is supposed to be Richard Pigott. -- President Cleveland held his last reception yesterday afternoon, when twenty thousand people called. -New York markets: Money easy at 2@3; cotton steady: middling uplands quoted at 10 3-16 cents, middling Or-

Precisely right. Stick to it.

The Herald has been interviewing the President as to public questions. The main points presented by Mr. Cleveland are:

"The true principles of the Democratic party are essential to the highest well being of this country'; 'Dangerous impetus to Monopolier, Trusts and Combines under Republican administrations;' 'The country wants more of the spirit of true Democratics.' cy.' He thinks the colored question will gradually settle itself."

A distinguished North Carolinian -one of the finest of our scholarswrites to us:

"I am indebted to you for sundry favors in the shape of admirable literary criticisms which are always a pleasure and a stimulus. I am especially delighted to hear that you intend to review in full, Mr. Smith's monograph on Education in North Carolina, one of the series now being issued by the Commissioner of Education at Washington. It seems to me that the list of eminent men educated at Chapel Hill is strangely incomplete. For my own part, I do not see how the University or any house. do not see how the University can become worthy of its name—until it is liberally en-dowed—and I can see no hope of endow-

The friends of the University ought to endow it. If Mr. Paul Cameron would start the ball with $50,000 and Mr. J. S. Carr with $10,000, it could be kept going with proper tact and

The able native North Carolinian representing Georgia in the House, Mr. Turner, made an excellent, most effective reply to the Ohio Kennedy. We did not get it in our dispatches. It was in excellent temper and about as demolishing as Mr. Crisp's. We quote the following:

"He would submit any public question involving the interests of his section to any fair tribunal consisting of the old soldiers who had confronted him in the late war. But a man who invoked bitter memories and sought to excite old animosities in or-der to shield himself from the imputation of unfairness and injustice was not a man entitled to his respect. [Applause on the Democratic side.]"

"The late Mr. Kennedy" might be the reference now.

The Washington correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier says that Randall met his match in Mills, who showed he was too much for the favored parliamentarian. He says the opposition to the Cowles free cigar and free cigarette bill was managed with consummate skill and without filibustering. It must go over to the next session unless Randall will modify and include some Tariff reductions needed. Good, very good.

The startling news from Albany N. Y. is that without the huge ceiling fraud, of which the Northern press have had so much to say., Harrison would not have been elected President. The World's Albany correspondent says:

"This is a strange and startling state-ment to make, yet it was made on the floor of the Assembly to-day by a gentleman who ought to know what he is talking about— Mr. Ainsworth, Chairman of the Commit-tee which has just finished making a very queer investigation of the scandal.

Mr. Pierrepont says in the North American Review:

"In America bimetallism is assured. The platform upon which Gen. A Handsome Yacht. The Lorna, one of the yachts of the New York Yacht Club, came out from Capt. Skinner's shipyard yesterday, where she had been undergoing repairs since Monday last, and left for Charleston, S. C. The Lorna is from New York, bound to Jacksonville, Fla, She is owned by Mr. Geo. C. Rand, of the firm of Hard & Rand, of New York, who, with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Jno. C. Ritchie of that city, are on board. The Lorna is commanded by Capt. Rhinehardt and has a crew of eight. She is 100 feet in length and 12} feet breadth, and is fitted up in the most uxurious style, and with the greatest ease makes a speed of fourteen knots an hour. The party on board joined the yacht at Norfolk, and were in the gale of last Saturday. They expressed themselves as being much pleased

A Homicide. The stranger whose dead body was found alongside the railroad track near Castle Hayne, in this county, last Thursday, was killed by a companion named Trogden. A gentleman who came to the city yesterday from Rocky Point says that Trogden is at that place under arrest. He acknowledges killing the man (George F. Lockland or Laughlin), but claims that he killed him in self-defence. They quarrelled about riding on the train, and in the fight that followed Lockland was cut on the head with knife and his skull fractured with a stone. Both men were from Randleman Factory.

with their visit to Wilmington.

Cotton. Receipts of cotton at this port for the month past aggregate 5,648 bales, against receipts of 6,306 bales the same month last year. Receipts for the crop year to March 1st are 145,491, against 164,698 bales the corresponding time last year-a decrease of 19,209 bales.

The stock at this port is 5,283 bales; at same date last year, 7,186.

A Colored Woman Shot.

A shooting affray occurred yesterday at the camp of a gang of laborers employed on the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, about three miles from the city, on the west side of Northeast river, in which a colored woman named Millie Collins was shot twice by an overseer of one of the gangs, a white man named Flagg. Particulars as to the affair are meagre. Millie was employed to cook for the gang of laborers, and it is said was quarrelling with some other women yesterday about noon, when Flagg interfered, and she became involved in an altereation with him and finally attacked Flagg with a piece of wood, when he shot her as stated.

The woman started to walk to the city, but fell from weakness caused by loss of blood, when she was found by a colored man named Tate, who brought her to town. She was taken to the City Hospital, where her wounds were attended to by Dr. Lane. One of the balls was found and the other probed for unsuccessfully. Her injuries are not considered dangerous.

During the afternoon a warrant was issued for the arrest of Flagg by Justice Henry Hall, and given to Constable Holmes and Deputy Sheriff John Statcher, to execute. The two officers rode out to the camp in a buggy, and found Flagg and served the paper. Flagg willingly consented to accompany the officers, and Capt. W. P. Fortune, the contractor on the work, volunteered to come with him and stand his bond. Capts. Fortune and Flagg mounted their horses and rode ahead of the officers on the way to the city. They had ridden about a mile with the officers two or three hundred yards behind them, when Capt. Fortune stopped to speak to a colored man named Dick Fleming, whom they met on the road. Flagg kept on and after going a few rods put spurs to his horse, pulled off his cap and waved it, and disappeared around a bend in the road. The officers whipped up their horse and pursued, but after going a short distance met the horse ridden by Flagg coming back without its rider. He had jumped off and taken to the woods, and when last seen was going in the direction of the bridge at Meares' Bluff, and no doubt succeeded in making his escape. Millie Collins, the wounded woman, is about 25 years of age, large and muscular. Her husband is employed as a laborer on the road, but works with another gang. She says her home is in Charlotte, N. C. Last night she told a visitor at the hospital that she had her hand in Capt. Flagg's collar when he shot her, and that the powder burnt her left hand; that he fired two shots at her; one ball striking her in the lower portion of her body and one in the hip.

Flagg is from Virginia, and is not known here.

The Y. M. C. A. and the Ladler. The Women's Auxiliary to this Association has undertaken to furnish the parlor for the Y. M. C. A. They have already provided a handsome carpet, shades and curtains, and a number of beautiful pictures and other decorations, chairs and other furniture. They intend to complete this work before the convention assembles, and will no doubt give the delegates a warm welcome to the rooms of the Association and to the homes of Wilmington. The first regular meeting of the Auxiliary will be held next Tuesday at 11 o'clock in the forenoon at the Association rooms. Not only members of the Auxiliary, but all ladies nterested in the work of the Association are invited to attend.

Sound Party. Thursday evening at 8 o'clock a party of about 150 young people with chaperons for the occasion, were taken aboard two of the cars on the Seacoast railroad to the beautiful summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones, at Wrightsville, where they were entertained in elegant style. Five steamboatmen were arraigned before the Court yesterday morning, charged with running their boats without spark-arresters, in violation of a city ordinance. A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonie and orise of a suffering ohild, and becoming con vinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homosopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow swoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering orying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
