WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 27.

YELLOW FEVER-PREVENTIVES.

Gen. Ben Butler some months ago wrote a paper for the North American Review, a staunch ergan of Republicanism and Protection, in which he showed what was done in New Orleans and at New Bern in sanitation during the war, and how yellow fever was stamped out under his directions. There is no doubt that this able and corrupt man did accomplish much in making cities healthy where he was stationed. He was much more successful in sanitation than in soldiering. The lesson taught the people of New Orleans has never been forgotten, and because of the good he did to them in cleaning up their city and showing them the way to health, they ought in charity, to forgive him for his violence, vindictiveness and pillaging, at least so far as human nature unassisted by grace will allow.

Another article in the same organ of the Republican party is worth re fering to. Surgeon-General Hamilton discusses the contagiousness of yellow fever. He advises boiling all water used in cooking or drinking and all cooking utensils to be boiled, He thinks the yellow fever can be taken from place to place. He says:

"We may conclude, then, having consideration solely to the fact, that yellow fever is a highly infectious disease of the mildly contageous variety, and is to be prevented by the adoption of such measures as will destroy the germ and thus prevent its prop-agation, and, at the same time, rendering sterile the soil or place whereon the germ shall fall.

On this as on other questions the "doctors are not agreed." There is agreement as to the fact that the decrease can be transported. In the New Orleans Medical and Surgical Journal, Doctors Watkins and Salomon, say:

"This disease is caused by a transportable and transmissible poison, quite as spe-cific as prussic acid, for instance: but it is not known whether the same a living organism, similar to the cholers microbe, or, as seems more probable, the product of some quasi-fermentative process like that caused by the yeast fungus, which, in feeding on sugar, decomposes it into alcohol carbonic scid and water. These germs do not appear to be bacteria of generically dis tinctive character or kind, the probabilities pointing rather to a pathologically productive condition of the flora ordinarily resident in the alimentary canal. It is infectious, and, moreover, communicable, but whether from the patient's respiration, se-

than in the North: that sheep husbandry can be prosecuted with better financial success in the South than in the North; that the South is 'particularly adapted' to the poultry industry; that the South is the natural home for most all of the fruits; that in spite of the one great crop of cotton the bouth is a great farming country; that the South can beat the world in truck growing; that in its mineral and timber resources, it its streams and fields and groves the South s an empire of illimitable possibilities and that there is no better land of promise unler the sun.

All of which is probably true. The South would do very well indeed if it were not for the Northern politicians and the high rate of interest. Farmers have to pay far too much for their supplies. The system of mortgaging is eating them out of nouse and nome. If the farmers could get money at 6 or even 8 per cent. with which to purchase supplies at the lowest cash prices, they would not be such slaves. The High Tariff, the high taxes in towns, the high prices of supplies, the manuring of fields with mortgages-these hurt and keep the South from flourishing and blossoming. We are glad Mr. Harrison has written his little book. We hope if he is a relative of the President that he will send him a copy and write him a letter and tell him to give the South a chance and let the negro problem be solved without impertinent and baneful outside intermeddling.

SHORT STOPS.

The German Emperor does not intend to allow newspaper criticism of his conduct. Hence the new penal code. It does not read like progress or reform.

And so the laboring people of Germany are sgitated by just such questions as disturb the operatives and miners in the Northern States of our Union, and the results are the same -discontent and strikes. It is not strange that like causes should produce like results. It would be singular if they failed to do so. The United States and Germany are trying to make people prosperous by high taxes. They will signally fail. They both have High Tariffs.

Georgia is now a large cotton milling

CURBENT COMMENT.

- A recent writer says there are now only three men in the House of Commons who will defer at all to Lord Randolph Churchill's views. The others, who used to applaud his speeches, laugh at him when he rises to address the assembly, and the noble Lord, having become the subject of derision, not often ventures to express his opinions. Thus we rarely hear of him now, and soon he will disappear entirely. Lord Randolph Churchill has been a failure because he had no great political aim. Disraeli devoted himself to the extension of the British empire. Gladstone seeks to, give equal rights to the Irish, and every other man who has had long success chose a welldefined policy, and followed it. Churchill had nothing to fight for, and since he could lead to no victories, he soon lost followers.-- Louisville Courier-Journal Dem.

--- To have abolished the taxes on tobacco would have been very gratifying to the people of several Southern States and very helpful to the Democrats of those States; for this reason it would seem to be good party policy. But in many more States, Northern and Southern, in which the tobacco question is neces-

the North is solidly Republican—or so long as black cohorts stand in solid phalanx menacing her tranquility, hindering her progress and imperilling her honor. But. even supposing sectionalism abolished and its memory obliterated, l'rotection cannot become the fixed policy of this Government. - New Bern Journal.

Some may agree with Gen. Pryor. but we don't. If it were not for the negro element at the South we think the solid South would have dissolved ere this, but as long as the breaking of the line by any State means a return of that State to the rule of a party composed of a few whites and all the negroes, none of them are going to break it, if the white people can possible help it -Goldsboro Argus.

The great mistake the advocates of the Cowles bill make is they seem to forget that there are any Democrats in the Union outside of North Carolina. We compose small portion of the National Larty. and if the majority of the party is opposed to us on this subject we should not abuse them for their opinion, for they are as much entitled to theirs as we are to ours .- Durham

I am satisfied that Cancer is hereditary in my fam-ily. My father died of it, a sister of my mother died of it, and my own sister died of it. My feelings may be imagined, then, when the horrible disease may be imagined, then, when the horrible disease made its appearance on my side. It was a malignant Cancer, cating inwardly in such a way that it could not be cut out. Numerous remedies were used for it, but the Cancer grew steadily worse, until it seem-ed that I was doomed to follow the others of the family. I took Swift's Specific, which, from the first day, forced out the poison, and continued its use until I had taken several bottles, when I found my-self well. I know that S. S. S. cured me.
