Charged with House Burning.

John Bowman, a colored lad, employed at Messrs. Hanson & Smith's saw mill, near Register's station on the W., C. & A. railroad, was tried yesterday afternoon before Mayor Fowler on the charge of having set fire last Saturday to a shanty occupied by the hands at the mill. The house was destroyed and with it tools, clothing and some forty dollars in money belonging to the men, who accused Bowman of robbing them and then setting fire to the house. There was no evidence against the boy, however, and he was discharged.

Monroe Turner, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment. John Bowman, colored, charged with stealing a small sum of money from Paul Bryant and others, was held for further examination.

David Sterling, colered, was fined five dollars for driving his dray on N. Y. & W. S. S. LINE-Sailing days | the sidewalk.

A Ghastly Find.

The dead body of an unknown colored man was found yesterday afternoon in a swamp about 2 miles from the city and a short distance from J. W. King's residence on Jumping Run. The body was found by Mr. J. H. Hewitt, whose attention was attracted to the place by a flock of buzzards. Upon making the discovery Mr. Hewitt came out of the swamp and told Mr. King, who accompanied him to the place and afterwards came to the city and notified Coroner Jacobs. The Coroner at once summoned as a jury B. W. King, C. W. Kunold, J. B. Berry, Jno. W. Neill, David Bryant and T. C. Miller, and went to the swamp where the body was lying where the inquest was held.

The body was in an advanced state of decomposition, and both eyes had been plucked out by buzzards. It was lying face downwards, with the head in about three inches of water. It was that of a man about thirty-five or forty years of age, clad in a gray checked coat and pants, with narrow light and dark stripes, a run-down pair of brogan shoes, and an old light colored felt hat, which rested on the back of the head. In the left hand there was an old clay pipe with reed stem, about half-full of tobacco, and in one of the pockets of the pants a small chunk of salt pork. This was all that was found on or near the body, and there was nothing that would afford the slightest clue as to the identity of the dead man. He was about five

The coroner made as close an examination as possible to see if there were any marks violence on the body could discover nothing, and the jury rendered a verdict "that the man, name unknown, came to his death from causes unknown to the jury, in a bay near J. W. King's place in New Hanover county."

After the inquest the Coroner gave an order for the interment of the remains in the "Potter's field." The place where the body was found was about one hundred yards from the road, in a thicket so dense that axes had to be used to clear a way to it, so that it could be taken

C., for the purpose of making an examination of the horses and mules reported a few days ago as affected with a disease supposed to be glanders. Mr. Ray went out to the quarantine stables established beyond the city limits, and after an examination of the animals -four in number-found that two of them were affected with glanders. while the other two were suffering from "influenza." The two sick with glanders were killed at once, to prevent the spread of the infection. Both animals belonged to Messrs. Boney &

The Jewish Feast of the Passover commenced yesterday evening at half-past 6 o'clock. Being one of the three great Jewish festivals, it is attended with unusual ceremonies in the Synagogue as well as the household.

The Liturgy of the former contains a narration of the bondage and deliverance of the children of Israel, the poetic and soul-stirring songs of Moses, with portions from the prophets and psalms glorifying God for His mercy and kindness vouchsafed to the sons of Jacob during their sojourn in and exodus from Egypt,

Before the advent of the feast all articles of food or drink containing the least particle of leaven are carefully removed from Jewish houses in order to conform to the scriptural injunction, "No manner of leaven shall be found in your houses." The most impressive ceremony attached to the observance of the feast, and which sanctifies and beautifies it, is the assemblage of the family circle after divine service on the first evening. The entire household are seated at a table on which is spread a snow white damask. On it are placed the Matsote passover bread, wine and symbolic food, commemorating the hasty departure of their ancestors from the persecution of Pharaoh, the bitterness of their lives while enduring it, and gratitude that their descendants should always cherish in their hearts as a perpetual memento of their redemption from physical and mental servitude by a merciful God, who rescued them.

Audit and Finance.

The Board of Audit and Finance met yesterday in regular semimonthly session. Present, Mr. R. J. Jones, chairman, Messrs. W. R. Kenan, Wm, Calder, J. F. Maunder, J. W. Hewitt.

The Board concurred in the action of the Board of Aldermen in the award of contracts for the ensuing year (as published), and on Mr. Calder's motion it was ordered that contracts be drawn up and submitted to the Board.

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY.—The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn.: A Benefactress, Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhosa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cureswind colic, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists.

We fear the beautiful author is incorrigible. She evidently lacks sadly the sanity of genius, if genius she possesses. The Charleston paper says: "It is not fleshly. Its impropriety is a comparatively mild order. But it is full of absurdities, and it lacks the power of its predecessor. As the first production of the author since her venture into matrimony it is interesting to be told, through the mouth of her heroine, that 'married love is like champagne with the sparkles out,' but this sentiment, though it may have an autobiographical interest, hardly commends the
