OUTLINES.

The Brotherhood of United Labor met in Chicago Friday night, and perfected their organization; the new order is a radical departure from the mothods used by the Knights of the executive officers having no power to formulate a policy of the reports attributhis war like intentions on the part the official paper of St. Petersburg. - The sailors' strike at Leith, England, has collapsed. - The President and two of his secretaries have gone a-yachting down Chesapeake hav, and will not return to Washington until Monday. - The appointment of a number of consuls-general is announced, among which is Oliver H. Dockery, of North Carolina, to Rio de Janeiro. - Further reports relative to the bloody affray between whites and blacks, on Thursday evening, near Austin, Texas, says there is great excitement in the neighborhood, and that one hundred armed men gathered to renew the fight, but there has been no renewal of the affair so far as known. -The rains have ceased at Johnstown, and the hope is general that the weather will prove favorable hereafter her deaning up the runed city: thre hundred pound dynamite entirelize was used yesterday for clearing up the wreck on the raft, which caused a big fright, and shook houses in every direction; Gov. Beaver's commission for the distribution of his million dollars startal out yesterday morning. -New York markets: Money easy; mesing offered at 2 per cent; cotton quet middling uplands 11; cents, middling Orleans 114 cents; southern thour tirmer, with a moderate demand: wheat dull: No. 2 red 834c in store; rn steadier: No. 2, 411@411 cents at elevator; rosin quiet and steady; spirits turpentine easy at 38@38#

Mr. Nye has sailed for Europe. While in Paris he will probably climb the Eiffel tower to see whether the French have a "broad expanse of chmate" which will compare with that of Asheville.

Bill Chandler has been nominated for the U.S. Senate by the Republican caucus of the New Hampshire Legislature. This means, of course his return to the Senate; but he will not cultivate intimate relations with Joe Blackburn.

Getting married in England and France seems to be a dangerous business. In the former there are 800,-000 more widows than widowers, while in the latter the widows almost double in number the widowers. The poor men must have a rough time when they die out at this rate.

Some of the dear Republican organ grinders are saying smart things about Calvin S. Brice, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, because he is rich. This objection is entirely out of place from the organs of a party which for twenty-five years has been run exclusively in the interest of the rich man or the men who were scheming to become suddenly rich.

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XLIV .-- NO. 74.

WILMINGTON, N. C., ISUNDAY, JUNE 16, 1889.

Rumors of impending war come from Vienna, Russia being one of the principals. This looks ominous for the poor telegraph operator and night editor who will have to wrestle with the dispatches. These rumors start from a reported plot at Belgrade to dethrone the young King Alexander and put Pete Karageorgevitch in his place. This name will do for a small-sized sample of some Russ a armemphatically denied by of the jaw-breakers the boys will have to tackle if the racket should begin.

> As an evidence of the progress of Christianizing Africa, a traveller states that on one Sabbath he saw two steamers land one missionary and 50,000 cases of gin at an African port. From this it would seem that it is virgin territory for something besides missionaries. The tastes of the denizens of the dark continent must have changed. It used to be missionaries and New England rum.

The wife of Mr. Halford, Private Secretary of the President, was on a train near Johnstown when the flood happened, and received much assistance from the colored sleeping-car porter. Mr. H. rewarded him by giving him a government place. Nor thing like being generous when you have a government to draw on.

The North Carolina Press Association will meet in 17th annual convention at Lenoir, Caldwell county, July 17th. It is probable that an excursion to Asheville will be arranged for, so that the knights of the scissors, paste pot and pencil may have an opportunity to take in the capital city of skyland.

The North Carolina boys came out with flying colors at Princeton College, N. J., this year. Out of eight medals awarded five were taken by North Carolina students, all alumni of Davidson College, which speaks well for the boys and also for Davidson College.

Pennsylvania will vote next Tuesday on the prohibition amendment and also on the poll tax amendment. The constitution now provides that poll tax must be paid before the voter can cast his ballot. It is proposed to abolish this.

Carolina Yacht Club. The members of the Carolina Yacht Club are getting ready for the regatta season which is expected to open on Friday the 21st inst., and be followed by regattas on July 4th and 17th, August 20th and September 3d

Cards announcing hours for starting, and other particulars, will soon be issued, and friends of the club and all who enjoy the regattas may anticipate a satisfactory season, as nine or more of the favorite yachts will probably enter nearly all the races. The hours for starting and orders requiring yachts to wear numbers on their sails will be strictly adhered to.

Cotton Region Bulletin. The cotton region bulletin issued by the Signal Service reports light rain yesterday in most of the districts of the cotton belt. The average temperature was higher than that of the day before, the maximum being in the nineties and the minimum ranging from 68 to 72 degrees. Evidently the weather is favorable for the crop, except in the Charleston and Savannah districts, where there has been lack of rain.

Prices of Southern Fruits and Vegeta-

Mr. G. S. Palmer, commission merchant in Southern fruits and produce, 166 Reade st., New York, telegraphs

Over ten thousand boxes of beans were received here to-day and the market is completely demoralized—selling at 25 to 50 cents per box. Pototoes are in heavy supply, but holding at about former prices. The Brunswick Pelsoning Case.

Bryant Carroll, the young white man who was arrested the latter part of last March in Brunswick county for the murder of his wife, is still in jail at Southport, and will be tried for his life, in all probability, at the September term of the Superior Court, over which Judge Shipp will preside. A statement of the case was published in the STAR at the time. Carroll was suspected of having poisoned his wife with something contained in a bottle of wine, part of which he induced her to drink, when she died about fifteen minutes afterwards.

The woman's stomach and the bottle containing what remained of the wine, have since been subjected to analysis, which resulted in finding arsenic, strychnine and prussic acid, both in the wine and the stomach of the deceased. As usual, there is another woman in the case, to whom Carroll desired to be married after he had been placed in jail; but the County Commissioners refused to allow him to have even an interview with the woman, who is at large and is not charged with complicity in the murder.

Brooklyn Sensation.

There was a great deal of excitement among the colored people of Brooklyn last week, over the mys terious movements of a large rock that has been a landmark for a century or less near the corner of Ninth and Swann streets. The rock got tired, probably, of being half imbedded in dirty sand and used as a resting place for every idle darkey that came along, and actually started to crawle oway-at least this is the story told. It had moved but a few feet, however, before the discovery was made that it was "on the go," and the fact was seen noised abroad, resulting in hundreds of frightened and excited colored people flocking to the place to see the moving rock. A woman living in the neighborhood avowed that she saw it moving and that it emitted a sound like running water. This was enough to start a half dozen others, each of whom made the same statement, and the excitement was considerably heightened when it was found one morning that the rock had actually disappeared and could not be found anywhere in the neighbor-

Y. M. C. A. Convention at Maxton. Some sixty delegates reported to attend the District Convention, and the sessions of Friday night and yesterday were spirited and interesting to an unusual degree. The Association at Maxton is active and enterprising. It has a new hall, the nucleus of a good library and the sympathy and support of the entire community.

Capt. Wm. Black welcomed the visitors in a handsome address, which was responded to by Mr. L. A. Carlton; after which Dr. Pritchard spoke for forty-five minutes on the relations of the Pastor to the Association. The appreciation of the audience was shown by a rising vote of thanks to the genial doctor.

Mr. Carlton then called on quite a number of the members to tell how to get the greatest amount of good out of the Convention, and closed with some wise and practical remarks on the same subject.

This is the first District Convention held in the State, and the promise of its usefulness is most encouraging.

have been in training at the City Hall for some time past, with a view to making war upon the English sparrows that infest that locality, yesterday made a raid upon a brood of chickens in Mr. B. R. Russell's yard, and got away with a good-sized "briler." Mr. Russell, after an abstruse calculation, involving the price of eggs and the cost of hatching and rearing, estimated the damage at twenty-four and fifteensixteenths cents. He reported the matter at the City Hall, and a check for twenty-five cents in liquidation of the claim, was promptly made out and signed by the Chief of Police.

Pamily Market Basket.

Plenty of vegetables and fruit in market yesterday, and but little else. Chickens are in moderate supply, but high priced-grown fowls selling at 30@35 cents each; spring chickens, 20@25 cents. The meat market was poorly supplied; but prices were as high as if the meats were of the best. Eggs sold at 16; cents per dozen. Peaches sold at 10 cents per quart; cherries at 5 cents per quart; huckleberries 15 cents for two quarts; beans 20 cents per peck; potatoes 25 cents a peck; tomatoes 10 cents a quart; green corn 20 cents a dozen.
