The "shoe shine" business must be a paying industry in New York city. The Herald, in an editorial notice of the marriage of Antonio Aste, a boss boot-black, the other day, says he rents two establishments for which he pays nineteen hundred dollars a year, and has a good balance to his credit in bank. Here is a shining example of what perseverance and industry will do even in so humble a calling as shining shoes.

The English papers are scolding Mr. Blaine because the American exhibit in the Paris exposition is closed on Sunday. They do not seem to be aware of the fact that it is brother Wanmaker who manages the Sunday business of this administration and infuses a high moral tone into its surroundings. Mr. Blaine was never suspected of more piety than he could find use for on this side of the Atlantic.

A French cashier has just been arrested for embezzling 165,000 francs to gratify his wife's fancy for betting on horse races. If he ever marries again he will doubtless hunt up a Kentucky wife who, if she has a mania for horse racing, will know more about horse flesh than this French lady, whose horse education seems to have been defective.

The talk of knifing Foraker in the Ohio gubernatorial race has forced him to say that he has no Senatorial aspirations. He said before the convention that he didn't want the nomination for Governor, and his apprehensive rivals for Senatorial honors doubtless think it is as easy for him to prevaricate in one case as in the other.

Harvest of the Queen of St. Johns.
The steamer Queen of St. Johns was burned at her moorings just above the city last night about 9 o'clock.

The Queen was owned by Mr. J. G. Christopher, of Jacksonville, Fla. She was built to run on the St. John's river, and was brought to Wilmington last summer, where she ran as an excursion boat to Southport; but this enterprise did not pay and she was withdrawn and tied up to the river bank, where she remained during the winter and the present summer, in charge of a watchman. The Queen was a costly boat, had a magnificent saloon and staterooms for several hundred passengers, and her equipments in furniture and machinery were first-class in every respect.

Nothing could be learned as to the cause of the fire. The boat was ablaze amidship when attention was first directed to her by the bright light which illuminated the river and sky, and the flames spread rapidly fore and aft until the boat was entirely enveloped. The fire burned with such brilliancy that hundreds of people, including many ladies, were attracted to the river side to witness the grand and beautiful sight afforded by the conflagration of the luckless steamer.

The steam tug Marie and Philadelphia went up to the burning vessel, but could do nothing to save her. The Marie, however, got her hose in play and extinguished the fire that had spread from the Queen to Bowden's naval stores yard adjoining, among a lot of dross, and as usual, did excellent service.

The watchman who has had charge of the Queen ever since she was tied up, was on board when the fire broke out. He said that he thought that the boat caught on fire from sparks from a passing steamer.

Mr. Elisha Warren, who went up with the young men to the burning vessel, got on her deck and threw the anchors overboard, and then with the others cut a hole in her side to let the water in.

Cotton Region Bulletin.
The warm wave that is sweeping over the cotton belt carried the mercury above 90 degrees in this district yesterday. Goldsboro and Florence reported the highest—98 degrees—and Weldon the next—96. The other stations in the district—Wilmington, Lumberton, Cheraw, Wadesboro, Charlotte and Raleigh—reported 94 degrees as the maximum. There was no rain at any of the stations.

A contest by the different bands in Camp Latimer for a purse, to take place in Wilmington, would be real nice. The lovers of fine music should look into this matter.

Local Docs.
— Sully knocked Killy silly.
— Mr. Wm. Esdale, of Raleigh, is here.

— A remarkably high tide yesterday afternoon.
— The steamer Benefactor will sail Friday for New York.

— This paper was a read STAR yesterday, sure's you're born.
— "It's a daisy," said a subscriber, referring to yesterday's issue of the STAR.

— The Criminal Court for New Hanover county meets on Monday next.

— Fifteen newboys will sell 750 copies, more or less, of the STAR tomorrow.

— Much needed repairs are being made to the sidewalks on Market street between Front and Second.

— Look out for the Red STAR boys. Some of them are collecting the news, while others are selling it.

— The steamer Delta, from Black River, brought down eighteen ladies and gentlemen to attend the Encampment.

— The Red STAR, appropriately enough, was at the big fire yesterday morning. And it was "alone in its glory."

— The reunion of the Eighteenth Regiment North Carolina Veterans will take place at Carolina Beach to-day.

— An attraction on the streets yesterday afternoon was a countryman from Onslow with two young bears which he was anxious to sell.

— On or about August 5th, says the Greensboro Workman, the Methodist Sunday schools of that city will run an excursion to Wilmington.

— The illumination from the burning steamer, Queen of St. Johns, was seen from Wrightsville, and many people thought a fire was raging in the city.

— The STAR of yesterday was very highly complimented by many excellent judges, both on account of the news it contained and the attractive shape in which it was presented.

— Col. DeRosset requests all of the officers of the Veterans to meet him at the City Hall this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock, so they may fully understand the arrangements for the parade on Friday.

— A complete list of the officers and privates and regimental bands now in camp at Wrightsville is printed on the third page of the STAR to-day. Every member of the State Guard should have a copy.

— The Chief of the Fire Department took the precaution to leave a complement of hose at Messrs. Parsley & Wiggins' mill, to be used by the hands in case fire should break out last night in the smouldering ruins.

— Seven hundred and fifty-one men, women and children, "without regard to race, color or previous condition of servitude," will each be presented with a copy of the STAR to-day at the usual price, five cents a copy.

— The Lisbon left Point Caswell yesterday with about one hundred convicts to be transferred at the mouth of Black River to the steamer Cape Fear for Fayetteville. These convicts have been at work on the C. F. & Y. V. railroad.

— The remains of Mr. Morris Bear, who died at Marion, N. C., on Tuesday last, reached here by train yesterday afternoon, and were taken to the late residence of the deceased, Sixth and Chesnut streets. The funeral will take place this morning at half-past 9 o'clock.

— Says the Charlotte News: "The Charlotte visitors know that a good time is in store for them, for they are acquainted with the hospitality of the people of Wilmington. Better people do not live anywhere, and that is why the Charlotte people are all so anxious to spend their summer vacation there."

Sad Affliction.
The youngest child of Mr. Horton Walsh, of Florence, S. C., whose family is on a visit to relatives in this city, was lying at the point of death late yesterday afternoon, from hydrophobia. About six weeks ago the little one was bitten by a strange cat while the animal was suffering from a fit, but nothing of a serious nature was anticipated from the wound inflicted upon the child until a few days ago when the child was taken very sick. Five of our most skilled physicians attended the sufferer, all of whom pronounce it a case of hydrophobia, which is the first we have any record of as occurring in our city.

Mr. Walsh is a son of our townsman, Mr. D. H. Walsh, and his wife is a daughter of Mr. Joseph Meir, also of this city. The afflicted family have the sympathies of a large circle of friends in this sad visitation of providence.

CAMP LATIMER.

Camp Latimer Formally Opened—Drills Abandoned on Account of the Intense Heat—General Orders—Happenings in and Around the Camp.

Men are never so happy as when enabled to lay aside the ordinary every-day cares of life and meet on a common level to enjoy "roughing it" in a camp, and especially is this true of a regularly established military encampment. The inhabitants of Camp Latimer represent, it may be safely said, nearly every profession in the State, all bent in a harmonious friendly whole. Here can be seen the wild, rollicking good natured young collegian, the quiet, dignified and holy soldier of the Cross, the fire-dripped veteran, whose scars are fit insignia of an honorable place in the annals of the nation's history, and the horny-handed follower of the plow; all seeming to appreciate to the utmost the time allotted from military duty. Although a majority slept but very little Tuesday night, an early turnout was made yesterday morning in order to prepare for the opening ceremony, which were to take place at 10 a. m. Shortly before this hour the call was sounded and the troops were soon ready to take position. Following is the order of exercises observed at the formal opening: On the south, facing the colors was the Governor's Staff; on the north, also facing the colors, were the Brigadier General and Staff and Brigade, assembled en masse. Divine favor and assistance was implored by the Rev. Mr. Wright G. Campbell, Chaplain Fourth Regiment. Governor Fowle's order establishing Camp Latimer was read by Adj. Gen. J. D. Glenn, and the order assuming command by Brig. Gen. W. H. Anthony. The National and State colors were raised, the bands playing appropriate airs, battalions were placed in charge of their Colonels and marched off the ground. After the preliminary exercises an attempt was made to drill the battalions, but had to be abandoned on account of the intense heat. Several men suffered severely, while on the drill ground, and were compelled to desist from any further duty during the day, although no serious sickness followed.

The following orders were published yesterday, by which the routine duties, etc., will be guided:

HEADQUARTERS
FIRST BRIGADE, N. C. S. G.,
CAMP LATIMER, July 9, 1889.
[General Orders No. 2.]
I. In obedience to General Orders, No. 4, Adjutant General's Office, dated Raleigh, N. C., June 5, 1889, I hereby assume command of all troops that are or may be assembled at this point.

II. It is altogether unnecessary to remind you, fellow-soldiers, as you are composed of the flower of the youth of our noble old State, it is expected that each and every one of you will so conduct himself as if he had the honor of the entire command in his keeping. The eyes of the State are upon you, and your friends and well-wishers everywhere will be greatly disappointed if you do not conduct yourselves both as soldiers and gentlemen, so as to prove that you are not assembled here for a seaside frolic at the expense of the State, but to learn a few of the rudimentary lessons in the science of war, so that, should the time ever come when our services are needed, you will be able to reflect honor upon yourselves, your State and your country.

III. Your brigade commander, though comparatively a stranger to most of you, having a firm faith in you, and a belief in your patriotic sentiment, believes that he will have your sympathy and co-operation, and that you will so conduct yourselves as to promptly and cheerfully obeyed.

By command of
Brig. Gen. W. H. ANTHONY,
Jno. W. WOOD,
Capt. and Asst. Adj. Gen.

HEADQUARTERS
FIRST BRIGADE, N. C. S. G.,
CAMP LATIMER, July 10, 1889.
[General Orders, No. 1.]
I. Regimental commanders will have the following calls sounded promptly at the times herein specified:

Reveille—5.40 a. m. Assembly—6 a. m. Surgeon's call—6.30 a. m. Breakfast—7 a. m. First sergeant—7.45 a. m. Fatigue—7.55 a. m. Guard mounting assembly—8 a. m. Guard mounting adjutant's call—8.15 a. m. Drill—9 a. m. Assembly—9.10 a. m. Recall—10.40 a. m. Dinner—11 a. m. Recall—11.30 a. m. Drill call—12 p. m. Assembly—4.30 p. m. Recall—4.30 p. m. Dress parade assembly—6.30 p. m. Dress parade adjutant's call—6.30 p. m. Retreat—Sunset. Supper—7.45 p. m. Tattoo—10 p. m. Taps—10.30 p. m.

II. The old guard will be excused from all duty on the day it is relieved from the drills, in such places as commanding officers will see fit to allow.

III. Sentinels will commence challenging immediately after taps, and cease at daylight.

IV. Commanding officers will see that their men attend all drills in fatigue dress. Guard mounting, parades, reviews and inspections will be in full dress. They will pay particular attention to their bands, and will see that they are properly dressed and equipped in this connection, their attention is called to Regulations, par. 384.

V. All drills will be in the school of the battalion till further orders.

VI. In obedience to paragraph 537 of the Regulations, bands and field music will practice during the time allotted to the drills, in such places as may be prescribed for them. They should be far enough to prevent the sound of the instruments from disturbing the drill.

VII. All troops except those on duty will be allowed to be absent from camp each day, between 10.50 a. m. and 4 p. m., without special permit. Permits during other hours will be granted by company commanders. For all other leaves of absence, applications will be submitted, in writing, to the officer commanding the camp, who will refer them to the commanding officer, who will be held to a strict accountability for any injury to such property.

IX. Regimental commanders and all other officers will see that guard duty is performed in accordance with the regulations, and that the greatest respect is shown to the sentinels at all times. And it is to be hoped that all good soldiers will refrain from trifling with sentinels, and will discountenance all such unsoldierly conduct.

By command of
Brig. Gen. W. H. ANTHONY,
Jno. W. WOOD,
Capt. and Asst. Adj. Gen.

RIFLE REPORTS.
—Corporal of the guard, Post No. 11
—The drill was pretty good for the first day.

—The Maxton Guards will be here Monday. Good!

—Sand-fiddlers, attention! Mighty good bait for sheep-head.

—Veterans should all drill with walking canes next Friday.

—Capt. Ellington holds the oldest commission of any one in the State Guard.

—Rocky Mount L. I. has had its drummers promoted to regimental honors.

—The Rev. Dr. J. Henry Smith, of Greensboro, is in camp and is enjoying camp-life.

—The STAR had the news yesterday, and in good shape, too. Same thing to day.

—Capt. H. R. Thorpe, of the Rocky Mount Light Infantry, is the youngest captain in camp.

The Regimental bands fairly revelled in mellifluous melody yesterday evening. It was a rare treat to hear them.

—The festive and festiferous sand-fly surreptitiously scored several soldiers, severely upsetting the serenity of soul.

—Brig. Gen. Anthony rides a horse equal to a Comanche Indian. And he knows good horse flesh when he sees it, too.

—L. A. Blackwelder, of Charlotte, a veteran of the Mexican war, is Color Sergeant of Company E, Fourth Regiment.

—A soldier and a sand crab had a sprint race yesterday. The sand crab's time was about four seconds. Distance 50 yards.

—It is claimed by Company C that Corporal C. S. Clark is the tallest man in the Third regiment, and probably in the entire camp.

—A member of the Washington Company is the boss coon hunter. He murdered with "malice aforethought" 14 coons at two shots. Next!

—J. D. Rice, of Company H, the champion wrestler of the State Guard, last encampment, is here again, and carries his honors easy.

—First Lieut. G. W. Howlett, Company H, of Reidsville, was drill-master at Fort Macon in 1861. He enjoys the annual encampment as much as any of the boys.

—The very large extra edition of the STAR sent to the Encampment yesterday was sold out by 8 o'clock, and many more would have been sold if the newboys could have been supplied.

—Capt. S. L. Hart, formerly commanding the Rocky Mount Light Infantry, has been promoted to Gen. Anthony's staff, and is now a full-fledged A. G. He will report for duty immediately.

—It is thought that the Third regiment will challenge the State Guard for a game of base ball, the nine to be all selected from one regiment. Time and place to be named if the challenge is accepted.

—Reserved seats for the performance of "The Little Tycoon" cannot be secured at Wrightsville after Friday, as all unsold tickets will be transferred to Heinsberger's after that day. A word to the wise, etc.

—Rev. Jos. C. Huske is in camp at Wrightsville with the gallant old Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, of which he is chaplain. He is one of the most lovable of men, and will be warmly welcomed by his numerous friends in Wilmington.

—The Hickory Military Opera Band, of 24 pieces, is in camp with the Fourth Regiment. They made a fine appearance yesterday, drilling in an unusually splendid manner, led by Capt. F. A. Grace, the efficient and courteous Drum Major. They make as good music as any one could wish to hear. This band was organized in May, 1888, and had only four members among their number at that time who had had any experience in "tooting." Their wonderful efficiency, is an evidence of careful and earnest training. Prof. R. J. Herndon, well known in Wilmington, is with them.

Little Tycoon.
The ladies and gentlemen who will present this charming little opera are hard at work on their rehearsals, and, in spite of outside attractions have gotten things in a remarkably satisfactory shape for the performance on Friday night, and visitors, military and otherwise, can depend on witnessing a performance which will be "amateur" only in that the participants are not "professionals" and are among the best society people of our city.

Mayor's Courts.
Wm. Pierce, colored, was fined five dollars for keeping an unlicensed dog.

Twelve or fourteen other persons, arrested on a similar charge, were released after investigation.

Jno. McDowell, found drunk and down, was fined five dollars.
