

One Square One Day.....	$1.00
Three Days.....	2.25
One Week.....	6.00
Two Weeks.....	10.00
One Month.....	20.00
Three Months.....	50.00
Half Year.....	90.00
One Year.....	180.00

OUTLINES.
The President came in from Deer Creek yesterday, and spent about an hour in consultation with cabinet members. Then took the train for Philadelphia. — A meeting of the cabinet will be held tomorrow, when the subject of a revision of Congress will be discussed and a decision reached. — A statement prevails in Creston, Va., over the failure of a banking house, and the officers have been retained with personal violence. — The insurrection of negroes at Minter City, Miss., has been quieted down by the military, who hunted down and killed several of the leaders who were of very bad character. The best feeling prevails between the whites and the better class of negroes, a disposition to trouble is apprehended. — The Pennsylvania Democratic convention in State convention yesterday at Harrisburg, and nominated James A. Hoge for Governor. There was a marked increase in the number of passengers in the London docks, but the wharves present a rather desolate appearance. — John Burns says strikes will be organized in Glasgow and Liverpool today, the Liverpool employers having advanced demands. — A dispatch reports a cyclone on the coastward of Puerto Rico, going in a westerly direction. — The dark red-dette armor in use at Annapolis yesterday, was found unsatisfactory. — An ex-Navy lieutenant and prominent real estate man, of Seattle, Wash., committed suicide yesterday. — A market money easy, and the cotton quiet, middle-cottons firm, building up. — The price of southern flour and more active, wheat dull. — The price of New York cottons active and firm. — The price of sugar active and firm. — The price of rice active and firm. — The price of indigo active and firm. — The price of other commodities active and firm.

Local Notes.
— Steamboatmen report the river in good boating order. — Superior Court for Pender county convenes next Monday. — The schedule of the Seacoast railroad will be changed Sunday next. — Telegrams last night reported freezing weather out West. It was rather warm here. — Jas. Watkins, colored, was fined five dollars in the Mayor's Court yesterday for disorderly conduct. — Capt. Ingram, of the steamship Benefactor, reports the whistling tug on Fryling-pan shoals out of order. — Cotton comes in slowly. The receipts yesterday were five bales, as against 179 received the same date last year. — Mr. Leitch, the evangelist, addressed a large congregation in the lecture room at Grace M. E. Church last night. All who heard him were delighted with his discourse. — Dr. F. W. Potter leaves to-day for the western part of the State, and will be away a week or two or three weeks. During his absence from the city, Dr. R. D. Jewett will be acting Superintendent of Health. — The Durham County Confederate Veterans' Association have extended an invitation to Col. A. M. Waddell to make an address before the Association at a grand barbecue on the first Saturday in October. — Lumberton was the only station in this district of the cotton belt where rain fell yesterday; the amount was 17-100ths of an inch. The maximum temperature ranged from 82 degrees at Wilmington to 88 at Florence. The average was 86 degrees. — The steamer Cape Fear has been taken off the line of boats to Fayetteville, and will be laid up for a few weeks for general repairs and overhauling. Capt. Tomlinson takes command of the steamer D. March, which takes the place of the Cape Fear.

THE CITY.
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
STAR OFFICE—Wanted. NOTICE—To city tax-payers. MUNSUN & CO.—Cutter returned.
Counterfeit Silver Certificates.
A counterfeit $2 silver certificate is said to be in circulation, Department series 1886, check letter C. The vignette of Gen. Hancock is not good, and the letter C is omitted from the right end of the note, and the letter is not very distinct near the vignette of Gen. Hancock. The lathe work is not good on either side of the note. The bill after being handled awhile ought to deceive no one, and those who are ordinarily careful about the money they receive should not be deceived by the bill when new. A few of these notes have been sent South, it is thought, or have come from the West, where the chief of the secret service of the Treasury Department at Washington has been informed the counterfeit certificates were first put in circulation.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY.
The following is an extract from a letter written to the Wilmington Star, at Chambersburg, Pa.: A BREXARIA, just open the door for her, and a shadow will come the American Nursery, at Chambersburg, Pa. Mrs. Winslow, for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething stage. Mrs. Winslow's SCURRY relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhea. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, soothes the teething period, it performs precisely what it is intended to perform, every part of it is soothing. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow know her only through the preparation of her "Scurry" for the children's teething. If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical house, at rest to peace. Washed in the blood of the Lamb she stings the stone of the redeemed.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.

Local Notes.
— The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association. The Wilmington Homestead and Loan Association commenced operations on the 14th of August 1886 and consequently has been running a little over three years. Three series of stock have been issued in that time amounting in all to three thousand shares. A quarterly statement that was made up a few days since shows the institution to be in a most flourishing condition. In the first series, five hundred dollars have been paid in instalments, over nine thousand in interest, over four hundred in fines and over three hundred in transfer fees, while in the second series the amount of instalments paid in is one hundred and twenty-five dollars, over four hundred being collected for interest, two hundred and seventeen for fines and eighty-three for transfer fees. The third series has only been recently opened and therefore the interest, fines and transfer fees collected are small. The profits on the first series are five dollars and forty-two cents per share, or nine per cent., while the second series shows a profit up to this time of one dollar and forty-six cents per share, or twelve per cent. It is thought that the Association will wind up in about three more years, and the stockholders will have quite a snug little sum to divide among themselves. The Citizens' Building Association is doing remarkably well as is also the Mechanics' Association, and all these associations, together with the Savings Bank are admirable institutions for workmen as well as young men.