arsenic. What restitution can society make that woman for a blasted life and thirteen years confinement in prison? None, and yet there should be some.

Congressman Peters, Republican, from Kansas, who went to Louisiana to help Minor in his canvass, says the election at the polls which he attended was as orderly and as fair as be ever saw. He was agreeably disappointed, perhaps, in not seeing a park of artillery brought out to shoot down the colored brethren and two or three pitched battles before breakfast. If they would come down and hang around they might pick up a good many things that they don't know about the South.

One of the burning questions on the female side of the Administration at Washington is, who is going to be Mrs. Harrison's right hand lady in running the Presidential court. She has no fondness for that kind of busi ness, and don't like Mrs. Blaine well enough to turn it over to her. As Coporal Tanner is apparently running the masculine side of the Administration why couldn't Mrs. Tanner come to the relief and engineer the feminine side of it?

Herr Most has a bright idea: that the aparchists sue the city of Chicago for $100,000 for each of the five anarchists hanged. He proposes to give one third of the $500,000, when recovered, to the widows of the men hanged and use the balance for propagating anarchist ideas andbuying beer. If Herr Most could strike a mine like this be might decide to put on another clean shirt.

The Accident on the St. John's River,

R. T. Moore, one of the two men killed in the explosion on a lighter at the mouth of St. John's river, Florida, (as reported in the STAR's telegrams yesterday) and his father, Capt. A. C. Moore, who was injured at the same time, were formerly residents of Wilmington. Capt. Moore was master of a small schooner plying between this city and Little River, S. C., and his son was a clerk in Mr. Geo. A. Peck's hardware store. They went to Florida with Capt. R. G. Ross, contractor, in charge of the government work on the St. John's river.

A Quick Trip The yacht Ross, Capt. C. E. Moore, which left here for Florida a few days ago, arrived at Savannah, at noon on the 4th inst., with all well on board. The Rosa left the Cape Fear river on | sum of $250 for his appearance next | made the run to Savannah in thirtytwo hours; sailing outside all the way. The Rosg is a smart little boat, and her captain evidently knows how to handle her.

Bold Burgiars.

A daring attempt at robbery was made shortly after twelve o'clock last Thursday night at the fruit store of Mr. Anthony Fantaffino, on South Front street near the market house. Fantaffino sleeps in a small apartment back of the store, adjoining a place used as a cook-room or kitchen, to which there is an entrance by a door opening on the alley. The thieves entered through this door Fantaffino was awakened, he says, by a suffocating sensation and saw a negro's hand and arm extended over him through a small window at the head of his bed opening into the cook-room. Fantaffino thinks the fellow was trying to chloroform him. He sprang from his bed and ran through the store into Front street, where he saw two negro men standing as if on watch. Running around to the side entrance he encountered two men who were hurriedly leaving his place. He seized one of them, and thinks that he would have captured him but the fellow's companion came to the rescue and knocked Fantaffino down, and they escaped. Fantaffino had a good view of the man he was struggling with and yesterday morning identified a colored man named Marcellus Ratliff, employed in Lucas' bottling works, on Dock street, as one of them. Ratliff was arrested and lodged in jail, and will have a hearing before the Mayor this morning.

Carolina Insurance Compan y.

The above-named company makes announcement that it is now ready for business, and submits a statement of its resources, showing a capital stock of $33,290. It is emphatically a home institution, and should receive as it asks, a liberal share of the insurance business of Wilmington. Every guarantee is given, and corporators and stockholders are among our leading business men and best citizens. Mr. M. S. Willard is secretary of the company, to whom applications for insurance should be made.

Cotton Region Builetin Rain was general throughout the cotton belt yesterday but there was very little in the Wilmington district outside of Charlotte, which reported 77-100ths of an inch. The maximum temperature was 90 degrees at Florence, 88 at Weldon, Goldsboro, Cheraw and Lumberton, 86 at Raleigh, 84 at Wilmington and Newbern and 78 at Charlotte. The minimum averaged 63 degrees for the district.

Rice Birds. Rice birds have not yet given much trouble to the planters. In fact, the birds are scarce, and few are brought to market A planter from down the river, in the city yesterday, speaking of the scarcity, said he had just cut a five-acre field of rice that had altogether escaped the depredations of the birds this season.

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY.—The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn.: A BENEFACTERS. Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Sasy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colleking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Strue relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrheea. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colle, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists.

The following are the forecasts for to-day:

For North Carolina and South Carolina, light rain, slightly cooler, winds shifting to northerly. For Virginia, light rains, followed

For Georgia and Florida, light rain, slightly cooler, northerly winds.
