FRIDAY EVENING.

A large congregation assembled in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church last evening to attend the services in the interest of Foreign Missions. After a voluntary by the choir, Rev. C. A. Rose read the Scrip ture lesson, and Rev. G. H. Cox led in prayer. Hymn No. 387 was then sung, and the Rev. L. G. M. Miller, of Winchester, Va., a thoroughly consecrated advocate of missions, set forth the obligation of men to care for their neighbors, as set forth in the parable of the Good Samaritan. He, there from, drew our obligation to do for all who need our help whatever lies in our power. The heathen need the light of the Gospel; they are in darkness; they lie in sin wounded, sore. unable to help themselves. We have the means to relieve them. Will we do it? What, indeed, are we doing?

The Church cannot lay the flattermeans on ourselves and do not the hundredeth part of what we can for the heathen. No denomination is doing the full extent of its ability. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. That is the rule by which we are to care for the heathen. Here we have fine churches and fine turniture and fine appointments, and pull out our nickels and pennies to send the gos pel to the heathen. The Church is Dives and the heathen are Lazarus appealing for food-food for the souls, for the lack of which they are perishing. And yet God has given every individual a positive command to send to them the bread of life. "Go ye therefore into all the world.'

Preach the word to every creature, is the design of the divine commisdoing her full duty. We lavish our sion. The Christian is to pray for the success of mission work and to give the means for sending out the heralds of the gospel. If we do not do this then we are responsible for the failure to convert the world. The primary motive however is that of obedience. The work is ours, the result is God's. By laboring for Him we glorify Him

Hymn 388 was sung and Rev. Dr. F. W. Conrad, of Philadelphia, followed on the same subject. Full of facts, a mind well stored with information, it was an easy matter for him to run back over the history of missions, showing that even a half century ago there was so great apathy on the subject of missions; that it was difficult to secure either men or means for the foreign field. He traced the growing and widening influence of this work in the Lutheran Church. The employment of women in the foreign field is another and glorious evidence of the growth of this work. He gave details of the number of missionaries, native and foreign, employed and the students being educated in our forand enforced the obligation young men and women to devote themselves to this work, and asserted the rightful authority of the Church to call suitable and capable young people to a life of service in this cause.

An anthem was then beautifully rendered by Miss Mina Swartz and an offering in aid of Foreign Missions made.

Dr. Luther A. Fox, of Salem, Va. delivered the closing address of this interesting evening. The subject is an important one, said he. It is such in view of the greatness of the field to be occupied. It is such in view of the command of the Head of the Church. Every Christian is called to be a foreign missionary. The early Church in its dispersion became of necessity foreign missionaries. It was thus brought to us Gentiles. It was only a thousand years ago that it was brought by Boniface to our German forefathers. And later the noble Muhlenberg came to our land to do foreign mission work, and we owe it as a debt of gratitude to do what lies within our power to carry the gospel to other lands.

The heavy responsibility to do home mission work does not exoners ate us from duty to the foreign work, Doing foreign work rather adds to and strengthens the home work. The speaker closed with an eloquent ap peal for a consecrated effort in behalf of foreign mission work.

The choir and congregation then chanted the Lord's prayer, and Rev. Barnitz pronounced the benediction.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Dedication of the New Hall.

The new Castle Hall of Stonewall Lodge No. 1, and Clarendon Lodge No. 2, of the Knights of Pythias, was dedicated last night with imposing and interesting ceremonies.

The Lodges were called to order by the Chancelolr Commander M.C.S. No ble, after which was sung an ode "Remember Now Thy Creator," by the choir.

The officers filling the chair upon the opening of the Lodge were Past Chancellor Commerder G W Catlett, Chancellor Commander M. C. S. Noble, Vice Chancellor J G Oldenbuttle, Prelate J D Bellamy, Jr, Master at-Arms C H White, Master of Exchequer G M Altaffer, Keeper of Records and Seals L H Vollers, Outside Guard Geo F Warren, Inside Guard HJ Gerken.

After the Lodge was called to order, the Grand Master at-Arms, Dallas Orrell, announced the presence of the officers of the Grand Lodge, who came in in the following order, filling the chairs vacated by the former Grand Past Chancellor John Haar, Grand Chancellor T. D. Meares, Grand Vice Chancellor Sol. C. Weill, Grand Prelate R. B. Clowe, Grand Master-at-Arms J. D. Orrell, Grand Master of Exchequer W. Poldham. Grand Keeper of Records and Seals J. L. Dudley, and Grand Outer Guard E. Porter.

Mr. J. Iredell Meares accepted the token in behalf of Mr. Warren, in a speech which showed thought and deliberation, and was eloquent in tone and graceful in delivery.

After these ceremonies Grand Chancellor T. D. Meares delivered a short speech abounding in wit and humor, and was followed by a most pleasing and humorous reading of "The Dreadful Husband." The music was one of the most pleasant features of the occasion, under the direction of Mr. N. B. Rankin, the choir being entirely composed of Knights of Pythias. Mr. E. P. Boatwright presided at the organ and Messrs N. Mayer, James D. Smith, Geo. P. Welch, R. H. Grant and N. B. Rankin formed the choir.

The pieces selected showed taste and study, and the admirable manner in which the well modulated voices were blended was most pleas. ing to the large crowd of ladies and gentlemen assembled. It was a grand occasion in the history of Pythianism in North Carolina, and will long be remembered by all those who participated in this pleasant

In regard to the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina Railroad, Mayor Fowler stated that after consultation with counsel it had been decided to offer the following resolution, which he read as follows:

Resolved, That the Mayor be requisted to notify Messrs. George Chadbourn, W. A French and Isaac Bates not to deliver to the Wilmington, Onsow & East Carolina Railroad Company the bonds of the city of Wilmington now in their hands under agreement 14th May, 1888, or any of said bonds; that the right of said company to said bonds will be contested, and in case of any such deivery they will be held personally responsible. A motion to adopt the resolution having been made and seconded, Alderman Smith asked who was the counsel referred to, and if the bonds were invalidated by the alleged failure of the railroad company to comply with the terms of their charter. If the action proposed was simply taking advantage of an opportunity to avoid the issue of the bonds he was opposed to it. Mayor Fowler explained that the company had forfeited their right to the bonds. He did not know if the bonds would be good if issued under the circumstances. He was followed by City Attorney Cutlar, who said this question would be determined by the action proposed. After further remarks the resolution was adopted without dissent. The petition of the Robt. Portner Brewing Co. for permission to lay rail road track along Eighth and Brunswick streets, from the W.&W. railroad to the bo tling works and cold storage warehouse of the company to be erected on Brunswick street, was granted under such regulations as may be provided by the Board. Mayor Fowler then stated that circumstances had arisen under which he had placed the Chief of the Fire Department under suspension, and that charges would be preferred

Mr. Cutlar said that he would suggest that the Board privately investigate the charges and act as they saw fit; that the Chief of the Fire Department was not entitled to a trial; he with other officers appointed by the Board could be removed at pleasure with or without cause He thought it would be a dangerous precedent to have a trial before open Maj. C. M. Stedman, who was present as counsel for Mr. Newman, Chief of the Fire Department, asked to be heard in reply to Mr. Cutlar, but the chair recognized Alderman Lane as having the floor. Alderman Lane moved that the matter be referred to a committee of three. On motion of Alderman Smith Major Stedman's request to be heard was then granted. He combatted the position taken by the City Attorney and said it was a matter of right and decency that Mr. Newman should be granted a trial. It was the first time in his life that he had heard a lawyer say that a man had no legal rights and was not entitled to a trial. Such a doctrine was subversive of the first principles of human liberty, abhorrent to justice and should never be countenanced by freemen. He said that Russia was the only country of which he knew where such doctrine as advocated by the City Attorney would be recognized or allowed. Mr. Cutlar said that he was not disturbed by what had been said. He still maintained that Newman had no legal rights there. There was a wide difference between the Mayor and the Chief of the Fire Department. The Mayor had the right to suspend the Chief, and the latter had no right to complain, even if he was

Maj. Stedman maintained, in regard to "legal rights," that every man, white or colored, had the right to be heard. The Board of Aldermen, in regard to the Fire Department, had taken the supreme power out of the hands of the Mayor by the adoption of the ordinance in August last and given it to the Chief and then through the misadvertence of the Mayor, the (hief had been suspended, for what the Board had directed and required him to do.

Aldermen Morton said the question was whether the action of the Mayor and Committee would be sustained by the Board. Maj. Stedman-Reinstate the Chief and then make your charges if you have them. Mr. A. G. Ricaud, counsel for Mr. Newman, read the order of suspension issued by the Mayor, and argued that the proper course to pursue was to investigate this question: Was the Chief legally suspended? After further discussion Mayor member of the committee.

Alderman Bell said, it looked as if

Mayor Fowler opposed the adoption sent, if it was desired.

Mayor Fowler said there was a motion to lay the substitute offered by Alderman Smith on the table and called for a vote. The motion was defeated; Aldermen Smith, Montgomery, Craft, Hicks and Bell voting against is adoption, and Aldermen Post, Morton, Lane and Mayor Fowler
