SATUR AV MORNING, NOV. 16, 1889

A BREAK IN THE LINES.

The leading Republican politicians are somewhat disturbed over a movement which is said to be on foot to organize the negroes into a secret political society similar to that of the Know Nothings. The purpose of this organization is given out to be the mutual co-operation of the negross in securing from the respective political parties of the country the recognition to which they claim they are entitled. While the Democrate might possibly have some interest in a movement of this kind, it is not a matter of really much concern to them, because the negro of the future, whether organized or unorganized, could not possibly be more effectually used against the Democratic party than he has been in the past, so that the Democratic party has nothing to apprehend from an organization of that kind, but, on the contrary, perhaps, something to ex-

With the Republicans, however, it is different. They cannot regard it with indifference, for to them it means a great deal of embarrassment, and it may be trouble. Heretofore the Republican managers gave thems lves very little concern about the negro vote; they felt sure of that, and when they saw a man with a dark skin and curly hair they put him down as a Republican without further ado, wasting no time in arguing with him. They considered him their property, and counted on his vote as a dead sure thing. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred they were right, for ever since negro enfranchisement has been a fact they have been able, almost without effort, to control that wote, with very rare exceptions, as almost a unit for their party. Occasionally in State or local elections there has been a disvision in it, but not often. As they counted on this vote as a certainty, and got it year after year without effort, they did not deem it necessary after elections to recognize the services rendered by the distribution of spotls as in the case of white party supporters, so the brother in black was left out in the cold while his white allies went in, sat down to the feast prepared for the faithful, and had a nice, rollicking, jolly good time, and got fat and saucy while the colored brother remained outside lean and hungry, not presuming to venture in, and compeiled to put up with the few bones thrown out of the window. That's about the way the thing has been working all the years in which the Republicans have had control of national or State governments, for which they were indebted to the votes of these same ignored black

But within the past couple years some of the leading colored men of the country have become restive under this treatment and have begun to ask the question why they and their people should forever be used as monkeys to pull the chestputs out of the fire for smart white Republicans, who munched the chestnuts without as much as saying "thank you" for pulling them out.

Notwithstanding the fact that they compose in the Southern States almost the solid body of the Republican party, which could not number enough of followers in some States to make a respectable street parade without them, every office worth seeking for has been given to white men, some of whom do not rank in ntelligence or respectability above the average negro. The negroes did the work, climbed the trees, shook down the fruit, and the smart fellows with white skins stood around with their backets and gathered it as last as it fell. That's the way it has worked in Dixie, while in the four or five North ern States where the negroes have the balance of power and where they have kept the Republican party on its pins it has been the same. The ne gro in whom the g. o. p. has professed such paternal interest has been left out in the cold all along the line from lake to gulf, from ocean to

Here is the inspiration of this alked of secret political society which proposes to demand for the negro some recognition from the Re publican party for the services rendered or to know the reason why it is not accorded. They propose to bring the Republican leaders to the rack on this and some other questions and make them face the music, It is said that the initiatory move was made in Ohio within the past year, and the result was that a great many colored men bolted the Republican ticket and voted the Democrat to ticket. The organization was not put into effect there, because it has not been matured yet, but the bolt was decided upon just to show the Republican party manipulators what they could do when they came down to business in earnest. There may be nothing in the alleged movement and there may. If it be carried out on the extensive scale reported, it will create aracket in the g. o. p. camp.

MINOR MENTION.

close personal and political friend of

Col. Dudley, of Indiana, was a

President Harrison, and helped to carry Indiana for him by the blocks. of-five scheme which was successfula ly worked. When charged by the New York Evening Post and other New York papers with having written the letter suggesting this scheme and the plan of carrying it out, he put on a show of virtuous indignation and instituted "libel proceedings against the papers. He did this to counteract the damaging effect which it was thought the publication would have on the canvass. The papers invited him into court but he dodged under some pretext every summons to testify, for he feared to go on the stand and under oath testify to the authorship of that letter. Yesterday the time in which he could testify expired and failing to appear the cases were stricken from the calendar. This failure to appear after declaring the letter a forgery, and instituting proceedings for vindication is an admission of guilt, which, coupled with the fact that he has not since ventured to put feet in Indiana, where indictments are pending against him, leaves no doubt. He is one of the bright lights of the "God and morality party" and a close friend of the President, although these exposures have prevented Mr. Harrison from looking arms with him as much in public as he did before he became President, or from saviting him to dinner.

The Pan American Congress has completed its tour of the east and the northwest, and were wonderfully pleased with the great country they saw, and its astonishing industrial resources. They visited all the leading manufacturing centres of those res spective sections, and under intelligent guidance were shown how rapidly and cheaply our various manufacturing establishments could turn out anything from a locomotive to a toothpick, and in addition to this. were given some idea of our vast mineral, timber and other natural resources, all of which opened their eyes and made a decidedly favorable impression upon them. They were told that we could manufacture as cheaply as any where in the world, and if so they might ask then why is it that American manufacturers cannot compete in the central and South American markets with European manufacturers? If they can manufacture as cheaply where then is the need of a protective tariff? And if they can't how can a successful trade be built up with these countries? With the capacity to manufacture as cheaply and yet the inability to compete with the European manufacturer we see the effect of the abourd tariff which embarrasses our manufacturer and leaves him at the mercy of the European manufacturer who goes into the field unhandicapped. Remove these restrictions and the way will be opened to American enterprise.

Additional interest has been excited in Republican political circles, since the recent elections, on the question of the Speakership of the next House of Representatives. Up to that time the two leading figures in the contest were Reed, of Maine, and McKinley, of Ohio, the adherents of each seeming confident of the success of their favorite. But the loss of Ohio seems to have given the McKinlevites a backest and put their man under a cloud, while the Reed champions smile and feel that a strong man has been crippled. As McKinley's chances seem to wane Cannon, of Illinois, in whose interest a little boom was started a short while ago, is coming more to the front. An effort is now being made to solidify the Republican delegations from the Northwest on him or some other Western man against Reed, who comes in with a pretty solid backing from the East.

STATE TOPICS.

The city of Asheville shows remarkable progress within the past ten years, one of the best indications of which is the continuous and great increase in the assessed valuation of real estate. From a statement furnished by the city clerk, as published by the Citizen of 13th inst., it appears that this valuation has increased from $904,428 in 1880 to $4,153,234 in 1889, an increase of nearly five hundred per cent. The statement shows not an increase by spurts or booms, but a constant and steady growth every year, the increase being much greater in the past five than in the preceding years. The statement of the taxes collected is further evidence of the bona fide valuation, the amount collected in 1880, being $6,844.28, while in 1889 it amounted to $45,942.99. In addition to this, in these ten years about $240,000 received at different periods for the sale of bonds was expended in improvement of streets, water works, sewerage and other municipal improvements, all of which shows that the Queen City of the "Land of the Sky" is forging to the front and on the highway of prosperity, on which we extend her our cordial congratulations.

Mr. E. P. Moses, Superintendent of the city schools in Raleigh, has recently returned from a tour of inspection of the schools in several of the Southern cities where manual training is part of the system pursued, and comes back fully impressed with the advisability of ins troducing it in the schools of Raleigh. He says he is anxious to introduce the system in the Raleigh schools because he believes that something of that kind is necessary for the highest development of the children and for the public good generally. He holds that instead of decreasing the amount of literary work by the scholars it would increase it, and that it would not involve much additional expense in the cost of the schools. At the next meeting of the school committee he will recommend that steps be taken to put the Raleigh schools "abreast with the times in this particular." The manual training idea in connection with our schools is growing, and the more it is studied the bigger it

CURRENT COMMENT.

-- The Birmingham Ages Herald says: "We believe both iron and steel can be made as cheap here in Birmingham as anywhere else in the world." Then what is the use of clamoring for a protective tariff on iron? If you are not hurt by low uties, why do you stand in the way of the farmers getting cheaper bagging and ties and farm supplies. -Mobile Register, Dem.

--- Alas for the lack of chivalry in this political day and generation! A dozen of inspectresses were rea moved yesterday at the Custom House. They cannot vote, but if they could they would vote the Democratic ticket. of a century ago that the veteran abolitionist and Kansas free State fighter, James Redpath, would one day write a biography of Jefferson Davis, with the permission and aid of that gentleman, he would have been deemed a promising subject for an asylum for idiots. And yet this very thing is now taking place. -St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Rep.

- There is trouble brewing for the President and for his party over the Montana Territorial election scandal. If it shall turn out that the Territorial Supreme Court was summarily deprived of its powers by a Presidential proclamation in order that a State Court compored of Republican Judges might reverse the decision of the lower Territorial Court in the matter of the Silver Bow county returns, a heavy reckous ing will be demanded by the people of all concerned in such a wicked and desperate crime against popular rights and honest suffrage. This is the year 1889; not 1876.-Phil. Kecord, Dem.

Cured by Cuticura.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone, and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It had diminished about one-third the size of the other, and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your Cutiques Kemedies, and the result was as follows: After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end lecided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the dis-8. G. AHERN

SWIFT's Specific has cured me of a malignant breaking out on my leg, which caused intolerable pain. It was called Eczema by the doctors-four of whom treated me with no relief. I candidly confess that I owe my present good health to S. S. S., which in my estimation is invaluable as a blood remedy.

Our haby when two months old was attacked with Scrofula, which for a long time destroyed her eyesight entirely, and caused us to despair of her life. The doctors failed to relieve her, and we gave Swift's Specific, which soon cured her entirely, and she is now hale and hearty.
