Miss Moore, a teacher in one of the public schools of St. Joseph, Mo., seems to be slightly afflicted with absentmindedness. She locked a lite tle boy up in an out of the way closet in the building for some misdemeanor, went away, forgot to let him out, and the little fellow remained in from Friday till Monday when he was accidentally discovered by the janitor, nearly dead. That school has probably no more use for Miss Moore.

B ston is not losing any sleep over the World's Fair. What she wants is to get rid of George Francis Train, whom she put in jail some time ago and turned out as a crazy man. He swears he is going to stay in town until she pays him $200,000 damages. That's what's troubling her; whether she can stand him, or whether she hadn't better take up a collection of $200,000 and let him go.

There are very few of our large citics in which there is sufficient school accomodation for the children. Washington, Chicago, and other cities need more school room, while in New York there are over 14,000 children who are shut out from the grammar schools. In view of this fact wouldn't it be just as weil for them to go slow in discussing school matters down South?

An esteemed Republican contemporary remarks that "Gen. Russell B. Aiger will be heard from distinct ly in the not distant future," From the way the General has been hustling around with the G. A. An old fellow in Massachusetts who has just passed the 100-year notch attributes his long life to living on "boiled dinners and johnny cake," upon which the New York Commercial Advertiser, which is not enamored of boiled dinners and johnny cake, suggests that if he had dined more rationally he might have been two hundred years old by this time.

Sunday .Torning's Fire.

Fire broke out about half-past six clock bunday morning in the barber shop of W. H. Nash, colored, in the basement, corner of Front and Princess streets. The alarm was turned in from box No. 15, Front and Mulberry, and the Fire Department promptly answered the call. A line of hose was laid from the hydrant on corner of Front and Princess and in a very few minutes the fire was extinguished. But for the timely action of the department a serious fire might have resulted.

When the firemen broke in the street door three of the barber-chairs were on fire, and in an adjacent room the door of which was closed, they found a lighted kerosene lamp and a lot of loose paper burning on the floor. It was found, also, that two of the kerosene lamps in the shop were empty, and the burners unscrewed and taken off. From all appearances the place had been set on fire. The damage to furniture in the shop is estimated at about $75; insurance $500. The damage to the building, the property of Mr. Sol. Bear, is trifling. It is insured for $2,-600. Both building and furniturethe latter belonging to Nash-are insured with Messrs. Smith & Boat-

OPERA HOUSE.

The Bell-Ellis Combination. The Bell Ellis Combination clearly demonstrated the fact last night that low prices pay, for the Opera House was crowded to its utmost capacity to see this company, which has everything to recommend it to the public, and the programme presented is one which would reflect credit on any combination, not only for its excellence but also for its variety. Prof A. H. Ellis won much genuine - Mr. F. Lennon, Sr., of Columapplause for the deft manner in which he performed his many wonderful and pleasing tricks, and Captain Liable as usual was a universal favorite. Mr. Boyd, in his female impersonation, was all that one could wish, and he was the cynosure of all eyes. One of the pleasantest parts of the performance was the Chinese Juggler, Majilton, whose new and varied feats of legerdemain were most excellent, and to see him alone is fully worth the price of admission. The company comes highly recommended and it fully deserves the many good things said about it. for it is most admirable in every particular At the close of the performance many valuable presents were given away. Those holding the lucky numbers were Dove Price, (colored), who received a tea set of forty four pieces. Augustus Hilburt, (colored), a chamber set of twelve pieces; Sarah Jane Walker, (colored), a pair of large stu-

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT, having passed and cries of a suffering child, and becoming con vinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homosopathy. That night the child passed administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homoeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still suffering; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet falled to relieve the baby, and over come the prejudices of the mother. Soli by all Ornegists. Scients a bottle.
