The Emperor William last week went gunning and killed 755 head of game, including deer, hares and other game, and then came back and bragged about it. He took a mean advantage of them, too, sneaked around behind a cover and had a gang of fellows out in the brush beating the game up to the muzzle of his gun. They didn't have half a shance for a good run.

"Lost in London," which was presented last night to a large audience at the Opera House, is a play which friends is that they are going to stay has much to recommend it to the public. The play is a melodrama, and is divided into five acts, and some of the scenes are most realistic and touching. The scenery last night was especially good and the actors generally were fully up to the expectations of the house. There was no cutting of the piece and everything moved smooth ly through the performance, and when the curtain fell on the last act all left with the s tisfaction of knowing that they had seen a play which was all that had been advertised,

THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY.—The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn.: A BENEFACTRESS. Just open the door for ber, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for belping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething slege. Mrs. Winslow's Soothine Sybur relieves the child from pain and cures dysentery and diarrhosa. It Winslow's Scothing Syrup relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhosa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cureswind coile, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Scothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists 25 cents a bottle

WILMINGTON, N. C.

The reputation of our Fertilizers, the ACME and GEM, is now established, and the results of three years' use in the hands of the best farmers of this and other States fully attest their value as a high grade manure.

The MaTTINO, made from the leaves of our native pine, is conceded to be equal to any woven carpet for comfort and durability, and the demand for it is daily increasing. It has virtues not found in any other fabric.

The FibRB or wool is extensively used for uphoistering purposes, and as a filling for Mattresses is almost equal to hair, being light, elastic and proof against insects.
