OUTLINES.

Hon. Jefferson Davis, ex-President of the Confederate States, died in New Orleans, at 12 45 o'clock yesterday morning; his last moments were peaceful and free from pain, and the immediate cause of his death was a congestive chill, with which he was attacked early in the evening; during his last illness he was at the beautiful home of one of his friends, where every attention was shown him by his devoted wife and numerous attendants. It has been decided that the remains lie in state at the City Hall in New Orleans until Wednesday morning, when they will be placed in the vault of one of the Associations of Confederate Veterans. —— From all parts of the South come expressions of the profoundest grief at the death of ex-President Davis and many places have been shrouded in mourning emblems in respect to the memory of the departed chieftain. —— The War Department in Washington, over which ex-President Davis once presided, and where his portrait holds a place on the walls, had not been officially notified at noon yesterday of his death, but it is understood that no action will be taken in regard to it, and that there will be no half masted flag, as is usual on the death of an ex-Secretary. —— A number of prominent Mississippians held a meeting in Washington city yesterday, and passed resolutions of sincere regret at the death of ex-President Davis, and tendering to Mrs Davis their profound sympathy in her great bereavement. —— President Harrison and party left Washington yesterday afternoon for Chicago. —— Dun & Co report a satisfactory state of trade at almost all points, business failures for the week number 316, against 349 last week. —— N Y market Money easy at 3@6 per cent, cotton steady; middling uplands 10¼ cents, middling Orleans 10¼ cents, southern flour dull; wheat irregular, closing firmer and moderately active No 2 red 84¼@84¾ cents at elevator; corn stronger No 2, 42¾@43¼ cts at the elevator; spirits turpentine steady and quiet at 45@45½ cents, rosin quiet, strained common to good $1 10@1 15.

JEFFERSON DAVIS DEAD.

A great and a grand man has fallen, great in all the elements that constitute true greatness, a grand and noble manhood Jefferson Davis is no more. When the angel of death spread its wings and bore the spirit from its casket of clay to the great eternal beyond the river, one of the grandest characters in our age and country passed from earth and took his place in history, which he had done so much to make. The public who have read from day to day the dispatches sent out from his sick bed in New Orleans were not surprised at the announcement of his death which occurred about one o'clock Friday morning, for they had been looking with a melancholy foreboding, believing the end was nigh. It came peacefully, quietly, painlessly, and surrounded by loving and devoted friends, the eyes closed, the heart was stilled and the great typical Southerner, whose name was never uttered in this sunny land without respect and veneration, slept the sleep that God brings to the weary at the end of life's journey. Not in the language of adulation or panegyric do we write these words in tribute to the great dead, whose name is illustrious the world over, whose true nobility is appreciated, and the soldier, citizen, statesman and patriot is held in esteem. As soldier, citizen, statesman and patriot he was eminent among men, and each he honored in his life and person, for in each he was true to duty, and never failed in the trust reposed on him, whether as the soldier doing duty on the field, the citizen moving quietly in the walks of life, the statesman shaping the destiny of a great Republic, or as the leader of his people when the shock of war came, when it required nerve to lead and intellect to plan in the mighty struggle for Southern Independence, when under his lead the Southern people fought not only the North, but it might truthfully be said the world.

If he was great in all this, great in the hour of success, he was equally as great or even greater in his heroic bearing in defeat, when never in all this twenty-five years of retirement when pursued by hatred, malice, proscription and the slander of his enemies, did he ever utter one word, or do one act unworthy of his dignity which towered as high above his petty assailants as Chimborazo does above the plain. If we of the South admire him for his great traits as soldier, citizen, statesman and leader, we love and revere him for the heroism with which he suffered the contumely and proscription heaped upon him for his devotion to us in the day of trial.

There is not a heart in the Sunny Southland, where his honored name was a household word, where sadness will not come when the announcement of his death comes, nor is there in all the Southland one true son or daughter who does not feel a personal bereavement; but while death leaves sadness, it also leaves us the heritage of a memory, a name illustrious, a character grand and noble, a record emblazoned with glory, without a blemish, one of which any people of any age might be proud.

In to-morrow's STAR we will give a more extended sketch of his life.

There is only one single solitary Democrat in the Senate of the new State of Washington, and his name is Drum. He must feel very lonesome, but, like the Western Democrat who got by accident into a Republican meeting, he feels as the Democrat said he felt when asked, like a great big red kernel of wheat in a bushel of chaff.

Senator Beck's resolution, offered in the Senate, to issue coin certificates instead of gold and silver certificates is the first move in the battle of the silver men. Beck believes in the silver dollar with all the tenacity of a thoroughbred orthodox Scotchman. He is a sticker and as true as steel.

A Republican contemporary remarks that "Mr. Wanamaker promises well." That he does for a fact. If success depended on promises Mr. Wanamaker would climb right up to the top of the ladder and shine like a brilliant luminary.

If the iceman Congressman ever gets into a melting mood they will have to send over to the Senate and get Sherman to come and congeal him.

Industrial Manufacturing Company.

Mr. John D. Bellamy, Jr., president of the above named company, who left here several days ago accompanied by Mr E. F. Johnson and Mr. Jos. H. Hanby, returned yesterday. They were much pleased with their trip, having visited and examined wood working establishments at Norfolk, Suffolk, Petersburg and Richmond. At the latter place they made contracts for all the machinery required in the work, here and expect to have everything in readiness to begin operations on the 15th of January. The company will manufacture veneering, grocers butter plates, baskets, crates, etc, and will give employment to some 250 persons, principally women and children The wood used will be sweet gum, principally, of which great quantities can be easily procured. The company have already large orders for their various products.

The Cutting Case.

The case of Sol. Nash, colored, charged with assaulting and cutting Mr. Charles Haar with a razor a few days ago, was to have been heard yesterday by the Mayor, but it was found that Mr. Haar is not yet able to leave his room, and the examination was again postponed. The case will be called in the Mayor's Court Monday if Mr. Haar is then able to appear.

Weather Forecasts.

The following are the forecasts for to-day:

For Virginia, fair, warmer, except stationary temperature in southwestern portion, southerly winds warmer and fair on Sunday.

For North Carolina and South Carolina, light rain, slightly cooler, except on North Carolina coast, warmer, northerly winds.

Funeral of Ex-President Davis.

A dispatch from New Orleans says that the funeral of Ex-President Davis will take place Monday next. The hour will be announced hereafter by the committee appointed to arrange the details. It is probable that the mass meeting of citizens of Wilmington will be held on that day to do honor to his memory.

Attention Veterans!

Col. John D. Taylor, President of the Confederate Veteran's Association, has called a meeting of the members at the Court House to night, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of taking action expressive of their deep regret in the death of ex-President Davis.

Local Dots.

— No City Court yesterday.

— Rev. F. A. Bishop is visiting relatives in the city.

— The British steamship Golden Horn sailed from Southport yesterday at 7.15 p. m.

— Rev. Mr. Peel will preach Sunday morning and night at Brooklyn Baptist Church.

— Rev. Dr. D. N. Gore will preach at the Primitive Baptist Church to morrow at 11 a. m.

— Rev. F. D. Swindell, P. E., will preach at Fifth Street Church to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m.

— Rev. R. C. Beaman will preach at Bladen Street Church to-morrow at 11 a. m. and Rev. W. S. Creasy at 7.30 p. m.

— The young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-morrow evening at 5.30 o'clock, will be conducted by T. G. Wilkinson.

— Preaching at the Seamen's Bethel to-morrow evening at 4 o'clock. All seamen and the public generally are invited to attend.

— The usual Sabbath services at Grace M. E. Church to-morrow. Preaching at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Sabbath School at 3.30 p. m.

— The Wilmington Compress Company have erected a large brick warehouse on the river front of their new purchase, just north of Chadbourn's mill.

— The ladies of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. will meet at the rooms next Tuesday at 11 a. m. They are preparing for a very pleasant New Year's reception.

The Wilmington Light Infantry were delighted with their trip to Clinton, and the cordial hospitality of the good citizens of that place and surrounding country.

— Considering its strictly impromptu character, the reception of Gov. Lee by the people of Wilmington, Saturday night, was not only cordial, but highly successful; and we doubt not "Our Fitz" appreciated it fully.

— The ventilators in the ceiling of St. Andrew's Church, which render it so cool in summer and which were inadvertantly left open last Sunday, have been closed for the winter. The large furnace will now amply heat the building.

— The usual weekly prayer and experience meeting of business and working men will be held at 7.30 o'clock to-night at the Seamen's Bethel, and will be conducted by Dr. T. F. Wood. Subject for discussion, "Satan." All are invited.

How Wilmington Received The Sad News.

Announcement of the death of ex-President Jefferson Davis was received in Wilmington yesterday with many manifestations of sorrow. It was not generally known until late in the forenoon, but soon after the sad intelligence was bulletined at the Produce Exchange, flags at The Orton, the "Atlantic" engine house, and at many stores and places of business were placed at half mast.

In the afternoon the front of the City Hall was draped in mourning, by direction of Mayor Fowler, and at the Cape Fear Club the same emblems were displayed. Arrangements were also set on foot for a formal expression of the sympathy and sorrow of the community in the death of the illustrious chieftain and statesman It is proposed to call a mass meeting of citizens the day and hour appointed for the funeral, to request a temporary suspension of business, and, that bells of churches of the city may be tolled, and such other action taken as may be deemed proper, to do honor to the illustrious dead.

A meeting of the Ladies' Memorial Association is called for this afternoon, to take action upon the death of Mr. Davis, and the Confederate Veterans' Association will meet this evening for the same purpose.

Ladies Memorial Association.

A full attendance of the officers and members of the Ladies' Oakdale Memorial Association is requested this, Saturday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, at the residence of the President, No 224 North Third street. THE FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF THE NURSERY.—The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reformed Messenger, at Chambersburgh, Penn.: A BENEFACTRESS. Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the gripting, colicking, and teething siege. Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhœa. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists 25 cents a bottle

THE FOLLOWING VOLUNTARY TRIBUTE to PANACEA WATER by that Christian gentleman, the Rev J. P. Barrett, D. D, editor in chief of the Christian Sun, is only confirmatory of similar testimonials from other reliable sources on the same subject. Dr. Barrett says:

PANACEA WATER.—There are so many 'quack remedies" for dyspepsia, and kind ed diseases, that it is hard to get people to believe that all remedies advertised are not "quack" and worthless. In another column will be found the advertisement of the Panacea Water, by Mr. John A. Williams, of Oxford, N. C. We have great confidence in its value, especially in cases of dyspepsia. We have used it with great benefit, and we know whereof we speak. In a week's time its use made a decided improvement, and we have no hesitance in commending it to the suffering We also know that when Rev. M. L. Hurley, of Franklin, Va., had been reduced almost to a skeleton from a terrible case of dyspepsia of several years' standing, and when the medicine of first class physicians had failed to cure, or even give much relief, he tried this water as well nigh the last hope, and to his astonishment in a few days he found great relief. He continued its use for several weeks and he is as well man. We write this notice of our own accord, that we may persuade the suffering to try the PANACEA WATER.
