OUTLINES.

No business of importance was transacted in either house of Congress yesterday; a large number of bills were introduced, including one in the House for the erection of a bronze statue of the late Samuel J. Tilden, to be placed in the rotunda of the Capitol, having the inscription, "Samuel J. Tilden, nineteenth President of the United States, elected but not seated." -- Surgeon-General Hamilton has just returned home from a visit to Florida and Cuba, and has inaugurated measures for the prevention of the introduction of yellow fever into this country. The Sectetary of War recommends that Geronimo's band, who are now held as prisoners of war, be located in Western North Carolina, or some adjacent State, or that they be transported to some point in the Indian Territory. -There was a heavy snow storm in Iowa on Sunday. - The Governor of South Carolina has offered a reward of $500 for the apprehension of David Ready, who tied a negro, charged with theft, and shot him to death. -The King of Spain is pronounced out of danger. - The Portuguese Cabinet Council has resigned, after deciding to accele to Lord Salisbury's demands to with Iraw the Portuguese forces from the Shire district and Mashonaland; there is great excitement in Llsbon, and crowds are parading the city, crying "Viva Pinta" and "Viva Portugal." A terrific cyclone visited various portions of the West and Northwest yesterday, which caused great damage to property, and many lives are reported to have been lost; in Kansas a tremendous fall of snow is reported, causing much suffering among the people, and it is almost impossible to render many of the n assistance, owing to the obstru tion of the roads. - The Supreme Court of Alabama decides that Dick Hawes, who murdered his wife

It turns out that soap was in use among the Gauls 2,000 years ago. This is not the same kind of soap, however, that the Republicans use about election times.

The Commissioner of Agriculture for the State of Vermont has issued a map giving the towns having 1,500 acres or more of vacant land, which are designated in red colors. It John Sheehan, Jr., William Sheehan, J. has a sort of a sunset hue about it.

Gen. Ben Butler took occasion at a dinner of the Butler club in Boston a few days ago to abuse ex-President Cleveland. This is the biggest feather that has been put in Cleveland's hat since he retired from the presidency.

It is said that there is a taxidermist in Asheville who guarantees his work to last for three thousand years. If we could just get him to stuff the hide of the Republican party what a curiosity would be preserved for remote posterity.

The Philadelphia Ledger was too kind to refer to Senator Edmunds by name when it said "Again a United States Senator has opened his mouth and 'put his foot in it'-and it is not a very small foot either," but it meant him all the same."

Some London papers are discussing the origin of such phrases as "badly off," "well off," etc.. When they elucidate that to their satisfaction, we hope they will throw some light on the origin of such phrases as the "heagle flew hover the 'ouse,' "ow hare ye hold oss, etc.

dish noble named Lowenhaupt. Good gracious! To exchange such a name as Bayard for Lowenhaupt, even with a count or something of that sort hitched on to it. There is no telling what freaks girls will sometimes indulge in.

The Prince of Wales was recently fined five shillings in a London police court for turning his dog loose and letting him perambulate the town without a muzzle. Monarchy must be on the decline over there when a Prince is required to muzzle his dog and a police court makes him ante up five shillings for his forgetfulness.

The Hickory Press and Carolinian issued last week a very neat and valuable eight-page, illustrated trade edition, with numerous engravings of notable buildings, public institutions, residences, &c., and sketches of natural scenery, with interesting articles showing the growth and progress of the town. It shows it well

Sad Death of a Little Boy. We are pained to hear of the death of the youngest son of Mrs. F. M. Manning at Brooklyn, N.Y., on Saturday last of the epidemic prevailing at the North. Mr. Manning had taken her two children to Brooklyn to spend Christmas with her relatives, when both were taken sick with "la grippe," but the older one recovered, while the younger succumbed to the disease notwithstanding the efforts of the best medical skill and the most tender, affectionate and careful nursing. Radical Changes-Jacob's Run-The Mild Winter of 1834 and 1856. Some idea ef the radical changes which have taken place in Wilmington fn the last century, may be inferred from the fact that there was a time when small corn-laden schooners from Onslow and Pitt counties discharged their cargoes at a wharf then situated on the northeast corner of Market and Second streets. What has now been converted into a sewer leading from "Jacobs Run" to the river at the foot of Dock street was then a small stream with sufficient depth for vessels drawing two or three feet of water, and this was utilized for the purpose we have named. Where this stream then had an unobstructed sweep to the river, is now one of the busiest parts of the city, and its course is covered by well-paved streets, where hundreds of carriages pass daily, and by large blocks of buildings devoted to trade and the mechanic arts. We have been told that in 1834 the weather was as mild nearly all the winter as it has been thus far this year; and one of our most venerable citizens states that in 1822 cotton was in bloom in January; so that the present warm weather is not without a precedent in

In the winter of 1856-7 there was comparatively no cold weather until the 16th of January '57, when there was such a decided change of temperature that in a very few days the Cape Fear river was frozen over, and there are men now living in this city who skated on its surface at that time. By a singular coincidence the "grippe," which now afflicts our people, prevailed at that time, hough it was then called the influenza.t

Three hundred and fifty neglected lots have been worked over and put in good condition during the year; over 900 feet of new fencing has been built, and 660 feet of old fencing moved and repaired-this was done to enclose new ground recently purchased, and give the cemetery a straight line of fence from creek to creek. The Cemetery Company now have a water front surrounding the grounds, except on the south side, which is bounded by the fence above referred to. Sixty dry wells or catch basins have been placed at the intersection of avenues, with castiron grating over them, and with drains leading from the walls to the creek This was done to carry off the surface water so as to save the roadways from washing, and has proved a success. Nearly 7,000 brick and 1,500 feet of sixinch drain pipe were used for this purpose. The nsw grounds recently purchased have been cleared of underbrush and a new avenue will be opened around the same as soon as practicable. The greatest task of the year has been with the insect-pest called the Chionaspis Euonymous, which made its appearance in the early spring among the euonymous plants and which at one time seemed likely to destroy every one of these plants. In efforts to relieve the grounds from this pest application was the Lakes and off the continent Sunday night and yesterday. Heavy gales are reported from the North Atlantic coast. The storm area extended as far south of the Lakes as the Ohio, and the telegraph wires were blown into such disorder in that section that communication was almost entirely closed between New York and Western cities yesterday morning. There was a light gale here, and for a while it looked as though a real good blow was coming; but after reaching for a short time a maximum velocity of thirty miles an hour, from the southwest, the wind died out, leaving almost summer heat. But a cold wave is following the path of the storm, and is extending southward so rapidly that the Weather Bureau of Washington last night predicted a cold wave with a fall in temperature to about 36 degrees by 8 a. m. January 15th.

As the Western wires were down, no reports from the cold wave region were received at the Signal Office in this city during the morning. The 8 p. m. report indicated very cold weather in the Northwest, advancing east-southerly. In the extreme Northwest the thermometer ranged from 16 to 20 degrees below zero. The freezing isothermal line passed through Albany, Pittsburg, Nashville and Fort Smith, Ark., while at the morning reporting hour it was as low as 28° at Palestine, Texas. This would indicate that the cold wave is getting in a flank movement and will soon surround

Of this we are so sure that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow" for helping her to survive and escape the griping, colicking, and teething seige. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTH-ING SYRUP relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhea. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, and carries the infant safely through the teething period. It perform precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
