Notices under head of "City Items" 50 cents per line for first insertion, and 15 cents per line for each subsequent insertion.

Advertisements inserted in Local Columns at any price.

Advertisements inserted once a week in Daily will be charged $1.00 per square for each insertion.

Communications, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted.

An extra charge will be made for double-column or triple-column advertisements.

Notices of Marriage or Death, Tributes of Respect, Resolutions of Thanks, &c., are charged for as ordinary advertisements.

Advertisements on which no specified number of insertions is marked, will be continued until the date of discontinuance.

Advertisements to follow regular matter, or to occupy any special place, will be charged extra according to position.

Advertisements kept under the head of "New Advertisements" will be charged fifty per cent. extra.

Advertisements discontinued before the time contracted for has expired charged transient rates for time actually published.

Payments for transient advertisements must be made in advance. Known parties, or strangers with proper references, may pay monthly or quarterly, according to contract.

All announcements and recommendations of candidates for office, whether in the shape of communications or otherwise, will be charged as advertisements.

Contract advertisements will not be allowed to exceed their space or advertising charges at transient rates.

Remittances must be made by Check, Draft, Postal Money Order, Express or in Registered Letter. Only such remittances will be at the risk of the publisher.

Advertisers should always specify the issue or issues in which their advertisement is to appear. If no issue is specified, the advertisement will be inserted in the Daily.

When an advertiser contracts for the paper to be sent him during the time his advertisement is in the proprietor will only be responsible for the mailing of the paper to his address.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 11, 1890.

PRETENCE AND PRACTICE.

The Republican leaders have never been noted for a lack of cheek nor for scruples of conscience to prevent them from doing anything that party emergency required.

They had no law to authorize their reconstruction scheme after the war, but they did it.

They had no law to authorize the enfranchisement of the manumitted slaves, but they did it.

They had no law for authorizing the manumitted slaves to vote to ratify the act by which they were enfranchised, but they did it.

They had no law to authorize United States marshals to meddle with elections within the States, but they did it.

ogy for their lawless proceedings, they falsify the facts and the record. The pretence that the majority has been actuated in its course by a desire to transact and expedite the public business, is the veriest balderdash.

Then will be seen the difference between their hypocritical pretence and their piratical practice as illustrated by their overt acts and their general deviltry.

There are bills enough prepared or on the calendars to wipe out the last nickel of the surplus, and call for four or five hundred millions more, just how much no one knows.

The Reed gang will, doubtless, force its rules on the House, and under them, by the authority which they vest in him, Reed will run it, and if they don't give the country enough to make it thoroughly sick of Reedism before they are half through all the signs go for naught.

MINOR MENTION.

The new code of rules drafted by the stragglers in the House of Representatives ought to be styled "a code of rules to simplify and facilitate the business of the lobbyist."

Heretofore the lobbyist whom business called to Washington was sometimes put to great loss of time in hunting up the Congressmen whom he wanted to "see," and sometimes to great expense to persuade these Congressmen to see these things as he saw them.

Under the new rules this may be all dispensed with, for as they put it in the power of the Speaker to count a quorum whenever it suits his convenience or interest, if there don't happen to be one present, and thus have it in his power to decide the fate of any warmly contested measure that comes before the House.

rage" to make a report to the Senate. It does not appear that he has yet sent a man into Florida to inquire into the packing of U. S. juries by U. S. Marshal Mizell, nor into Indiana to enquire about the hanging, by distinguished Republicans, of President Harrison in effigy.

By the way, judging from a dispatch of 8th inst., published in the Louisville Courier-Journal, Mr. Miller's man will not find much comfort in Fonz if he should interview him.

He is now at Lexington, Tennessee, where he was interviewed by a correspondent of the Courier-Journal and told the following story:

"I went to Aberdeen in October. After the death of Jefferson Davis in December I went upon the roof of a building to work and found a rope, which untied, I did not know then it was the one which held the effigy of Secretary Proctor, of the war department."

"When I came down I learned that it had been reported that I had said no effigy should be hung while I was in town. Will McDonald, a bricklayer, asked me about it and struck me across the nose and eyes, inflicting a slight wound."

"I concluded to leave town. The Mayor came and asked me to stay, promising me protection. The citizens also asked me not to leave. I went off on the night train."

"I learned McDonald came to the depot to talk to me, but did not see him. I did not think much of it, and so no cause for all this fuss which has been raised. I am a hot-headed Democrat."

Exit Brother Ball, the Cleveland slanderer of Maria Halpin fame. He will be remembered as the dear, pious Christian brother who furnished a Buffalo, N. Y., paper with a batch of slanders on Mr. Cleveland when he first ran for the Presidency.

The New York Evening Post handled him somewhat roughly, for which he instituted suit for $25,000. The Post pleaded justification, and that it gave the slanderer what he deserved, and the Buffalo jury which tried the case last Saturday came to the same conclusion by giving a verdict in favor of the Post.

Ball, who was put upon the stand failed to prove that a single charge was true and admitted that some were false, among them one in which he charged that Mr. Cleveland was riding with a party of revellers from a suburban resort, all drunk, when the carriage was overturned and one of them killed.

He was compelled to admit that Mr. Cleveland was not in the party at all. As an exemplar for the erring brother, the esteemed Mr. Ball does not probably shine with such a lustrous light just now.

STATE TOPICS.

The last number of the Baltimore Manufacturer's Record has an interesting communication from its traveling correspondent on the Cranberry mines in Mitchell county, this State.

We had long known that this was a great deposit, but we had no idea that it was as colossal as this writer describes it. The mine is now connected with Johnston City, Tennessee, by a narrow gauge railroad, thirty-five miles long, running through a most delightful and picturesque country, by which the ore is shipped from the mine.

Quoting from the State Geological Report, he says: "The description of the workings in the State geological report represents the situation as we saw it. The deposit is penetrated by one tunnel for over 500 feet, and by another tunnel at right angles to the first (at a level 50 feet higher) for 700 feet; 50 feet still higher are open works. The floor of this working is ore, and receives the ore from a breast or slope 50 feet high and 500 feet long."

Above this are two other breasts or slopes 50 feet high. These three open cuts are all in ore, with 180 feet of ore above them. Taking the workings together with the developed area gives a deposit 1,700 feet long, 400 feet wide, and 300 feet deep. This does not take into account the probable extension of the vein on the opposite side of the valley, nor in other directions.

The Cranberry lead can probably be traced (with a strike N. E.) in a generally western direction for nearly 30 miles, the vein varying in thickness and the ore in quality."

And in another place he says: "I have seen people stand in open-mouthed astonishment as they watched the mining of iron in some of the thick veins around Birmingham. Well, without any wish to disparage what is indeed magnificent in its way, the biggest showing of ore in Alabama is a thin streak of red paint by the side of the grand manifestations at Cranberry."

It is his opinion that this will be but one of the many mines opened in that section of the State "within a few years, when the wealth of the neighboring mountains shall have been exploited." North Carolina is coming as one of the iron States of this Republic.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Senate is again agonizing over the blasted Blair bill. Another case of the general welfare dodge.

that is, to facilitate raids upon the Treasury. As Mr. Springer puts it, they gag the watchmen and chain the watchdogs. By the time the speaker is ready to entertain a motion for final adjournment the surplus will be no longer a burden.—Phil. Times, Ind.

—The testimony in the West Virginia contested election case was not even examined by the House Committee on Elections. The Democrat was thrust out and the Republican thrust in without regard to law or fact. The headlong disregard of the rights of minority was only tempered by one consideration of prudence.

A constitutional quorum was brought into the House to give validity to its action. To have done otherwise would have been to taint all the subsequent action of the House with a doubt of its legality. To this extent the Republicans did not dare to go.—Phil. Record, Dem.

MET THEIR MATCH.

How an Old Farmer Got Away with the Lightning Rod Man. New York Star.

Two swindlers met their match in a grizzled old farmer with a shot-gun a few miles from Mascoutah, Ill., recently. The farmer's name is Henry Emmerich. He signed the old swindling lightning-rod contract under the impression that he was getting his lightning rods for $15.

When he discovered the true character of his contract he took down his double-barreled shot-gun and waited for the party of the first part. He had not long to wait before the swindlers came prepared to put the rods on the building.

"Stop said Emmerich, as one of the agents started to enter his gate. 'You can't come in here,' and he backed the assertion with his shot-gun."

"But," protested the lightning-rod man, "I have a contract to put up rods on your building, and am here for that purpose."

"How much will it cost?" asked Emmerich. "Something over $15" was the reply. "How much more?" said Emmerich.

"Well, sir, it will cost you $630," was the cool reply. "I don't think it will," said Emmerich decidedly, and he cocked both hammers of the shot-gun. "Now," he continued, "I will give you just five minutes to get off my place, and if you don't get 'I'll fill you so full of buckshot that you won't know what hurt you."

They fled. A Pneumatic Tire for Bicycles. A pneumatic tire for bicycles, which promises to make a new era in bicycling, is reported from Belfast, Ireland. The tire for a full roadster is about two and a half inches in diameter, and is composed of an outer covering of rubber, graduated in thickness from about a quarter of an inch where it touches the ground, and protected by canvas where it is attached to the rim, which is very broad and nearly flat.

Inside this covering is an inner tube which contains the air. The air is pumped in with a foot ball blower, and a patent air valve prevents its return. Vibration is practically annihilated. It is intercepted between the rim and the ground, and consequently the frame receives no jar, except when an unusually large hole is encountered. A frame so protected is said to wear out two frames with solid tired wheels, and the riders are able to use very much lighter frames without any danger of their collapsing.

Outside the Limits. Detroit Free Press. "Look at this coat!" he exclaimed, as he entered the store of a dealer on Michigan avenue the other day. "My friend, was something wrong with that coat?" "I should remark! You warranted it fast color, and see how it has faded!" "Hem. I warranted it, did I?" "You did."

"How long ago was that?" "Four weeks ago—the day before I went to Toledo." "Ho, ho! You had been to Toledo, eh?" "Yes—just got back."

"Dot setter, der case und lets me out. Dot coat was warranted for Detroit climate, und if you go to Toledo you must take your chances on shrinking and fading!" This is a Texas House Story.

While out hunting Col. Standifer and Billy Muller, of Dennison, Texas, came across a large dead tree, the stump of which was full of overflowing, so to speak, with mice. The Colonel and his companion pulled off strips of the decayed overgrowth of the tree, and every time a strip was pulled myriads of mice ran for their lives.

Col. Standifer killed 386 of the mice and Muller 418. The next day the tree was visited with two black-and-tan terriers, the bark was removed and the number of mice killed is estimated at over 5,000.

A Scrap of Paper Saved Her Life. It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought another, and grew better fast, continued its use, and is now strong, healthy, rosy plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. A. Cox, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery free at ROBERT R. BELLAMY'S, Druggist, Wholesale and Retail.

TWINKLINGS.

—One way to get fat is to steal hogs. —No paper is fuller of good points than a paper of pins, unless it may be one of needles. —Teacher—Now suppose you had 15 cents and spent five for a book, how would you ascertain the amount you had remaining? —Head boy—Count it, sir.—Cottage Hearth.

—With a woman it is a struggle to provide something for the inner man, and with a man it is an effort to provide something for the outer woman.—Alchison Globe. —"Do you think, Miss Passeigh, said a young society man, 'that marriage is a failure. I don't know that marriage itself is a failure, but I know of efforts in that direction which have been,' and she sighed dismally.—Washington Post.

—Good Minister (awaiting the appearance of the lady of the house)—What is that, my little dear? —"Little girl—My apron! I's goin' to put it in the wash. Mamma got it all dirty.—'She did?'" —"Yes sir; she grabbed it up just now to dust off the Bible."—New York Weekly.

—Mr. Bluepill—I am in favor of any movement that will shorten the hours of labor. I think no man should be compelled to work more than eighteen hours a day. —Labor Agitator—You mean eight hours? —"No, I mean eighteen. I am a drug clerk."—Time.

—Customer—You advertise these gloves, former price 75 cents per pair, now one-half off, and yet you are charging 74 cents per pair. How is that? —Police Shopkeeper—They were 37½ cents each, now they are 37 cents. The one-half off as advertised.—Clothing and Furnisher.

—The Butcher—Did you tell Mr. Gore that his bill had been running for a long time? —Collector—Yes, sir. —The Butcher—What did he say? —Collector—He said, 'For heaven's sake let it stand a little while.'—Life.

—Excited Boy—Come on, quick! The old man is batin' the old woman again. —Police Justice—Why don't she come herself? She wants to make a complaint, or have him arrested? —Excited Boy—She's too busy. She's got him down and is buppin' his head on the fire.—Texas Siftings.

No Spring in Our. Instead of April Showers 'tis more philanthropic far. To tell a suffering public of the fame of Hanson's Tar. How it cures Coughs, Consumption, Colds, and many other ills. When taken in connection with a few Wright's Liver Pills, For sale by R. R. BELLAMY.

They Back it Up. The superior merit, as a blood-purifier and invigorating tonic, possessed by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, warrant its manufacturers in selling it (as they are doing through druggists) under a positive guarantee, that if given a fair trial, it will cure all diseases arising from a deranged or torpid liver, as in digestion, or dyspepsia, and all humors, or blood taints, from whatever cause arising, as skin, scalp and scrofulous affections. The terms are, a benefit or cure, or money returned.

Mother! Mother! Mother!!! Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it, there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

The reason RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER is so successful is because it has never failed in any instance, no matter what the disease, from Typhoid fever to the simplest disease known to the human system. It kills the germs, and thus cures the disease.

CAUSED BY MICROBES, AND Radam's Microbe Killer.

Extirminates the Microbes and drives them out of the system, and when that is done you cannot have the ache or pain. No matter what the disease, whether simple case of Malaria or a combination of the diseases, we cure them all at the same time, as we treat diseases constitutionally.

Asthma, Consumption, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Disease, Chills and Fever, Female Troubles, in all its forms, and, in fact, every disease known to the Human System.

Our little girl when but three weeks old broke out with eczema. We tried the prescription from several good doctors, but without any special benefit. We tried Dr. T. J. Tutts' Liver Pills, and in a few days her head began to heal, and by the time she had taken six bottles she was completely cured. How she has flourished and how happy and healthy a robust healthy child, I feel it my duty to make this statement. Dr. T. J. TUTTS, 112th St., N.Y. City.
