Mr. Blair afforded some amusement to the Senate yesterday in making complaint that the Associated Press failed to report his speeches on the Educational bill in full; several Senators thought the Associated Press did its full duty, and some remarks by Mr. Hale were construed by Mr. Blair as of a personal character, and which caused him to indulge in some ridiculous remarks; Mr. Ingalls was elected President of the Senate pro tem; the Urgent Deficiency bill was passed in the House after a discussion of three or four hours; it appropriates $23,650,000, the largest item being an appropriation of $21,600,-000 for the payment of pensions of the war of 1812 and the Mexican war; the private calendar was then considered, but no bills were passed. -The privilege of taking seals in Alaska has been leased by the government to the North American Commerce Company for the period of twenty years. -A negro, who had outraged and murdered a nine-year old white girl in Morgan county, Ga., was lynched Thursday night. --- A Chicago dispatch reports a snow storm prevalent over northern lilinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan. --- Charles Kincaide, a correspondent of a Louisville paper, yesterday shot ex-Congressman Taulbee, in the head, in the corridor of the capitol in Washington; the wound is of a serious character; both men are Kentuckians, and the shooting was caused by I midee pulling the nose of the correspowlest for publishing certain statements in regard to him. -- Dick ilians, who drowned his wife and daughter, near Birmingham, Ala., was excepted yesterday; he left a written settlement of the whole thing, and wanted the people to believe it, as he would not go to the gallows with a lie upon tos lips. - Dun & Co. report that business is much affected by the unseasmable weather and growing doubts of the monetary situation; business failures number 501 for the past week. ----Vatious points in l'exas report that the worst Norther at the season prevailed ent rous lay, mercury sank to twenty degrees below zero, and much damage has been done to the fruit crop and early vegetables; the same cold wave passed over Arkansas, and much danger has been done to fruit and vegetables. --- New York markets: Money tight at 5gn to per cent; cotton firm; middling 11 5-16 cents; low middling 10 13-16 cents, southern flour firm; wheat quiet and irregular and closed easy; No. 2 red 86% cents at elevator; corn active and w. ab. e. The New Hook and Ladder Truck.

The new hook and ladder truck 'Jack Griffith," was taken to the City Hall yesterday afternoon, for further examination and test of apparatus. The fifty-foot extension ladder-as well as the other ladders-was raised and tested, and found to be strong and "all right," as the boys expressed it, in every respect. The Mayor and Chief and Assistant Chief of the Fire Department were present and witnessed the test, and expressed their satisfaction with the machine and apparatus. The members of the Company are also well satisfied with the truck.

The Seacoast Road.

Mr. J. R. Nolan, General Manager, announces that a train on the Seacoast railroad, for the Hammocks, will start from the Atlantic Coast Line junction at Eighth Street at 2:45 p.m. daily. On Saturday a train will start from this junction at 9:45 a. m., also. A platform will be erected at the junction for the accommodation of patrons of the road.

The trains which leave the Hammocks at 6:00 p. m. will stop at this junction.

SPECIAL WEATHER BULLETIN.

Unusually Cold Weather with Killing Frosts Predicted for This Section To-Day and To-morrow.

The Signal Service Bureau last night furnished the following special bulletin The temperature reported this morning from Western Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Eastern Kansas and the entire Missouri Valley as far north as Fort Buford, is lower than ever before recorded by the Signal Service at so late a date in winter. The following temperatures, with their differences as compared with the lowest temperatures ever reported for corresponding dates are given: Corpus Christi 30°, 11 below; Fort Smith 6°, 17 below; St. Louis 4°, 4 below; Kansas City zero, 8 below; Huron 24°, 9 below; Fort Sully 30°, 8 below; St. Vincent 34°,

These temperature conditions will move slowly eastward, with clearing weather to-night and Saturday, producing in Wisconsin, the greater part of the Ohio Valley, and from Tennessee southward through Alabama, Mississippi and Eastern Louisiana, the coldest weather ever known for this season of the year, Unusually cold weather may be expected in the Middle and South Atlantic States during Saturday and Sunday, after which the temperature will recover slowly.

Frosts of some severity will probably occur during the next forty-eight hours in the interior portion of Georgia, and possibly Northern Florida, and thence northeastward freezing weather, with increasing severity, may be expected.

In California and Southern Oregon, the present cold spell is one of the severest ever known at the end of February, with killing frosts at the Southern end of the San Joaquin valley.

In Northern Oregon, Idaho, Washington, Utah and Southern Colorado, it is from 3° to 15° colder than ever before recorded at so late a date.

At 10.20 o'clock last night the Signal Officer here received the following tele-

"Hoist cold wave signal. The temperature will fall to about thirty-six degrees by 8 a. m. March 2d."

The following are the forecasts for today: For Virginia, decidedly colder, northwesterly winds, threatening weather with rain or snow, cold wave, cold, clear and freezing weather Sunday.

For North Carolina and South Carolina, threatening weather and rain, winds shifting to decidedly colder westerly, cold wave and freezing temperature within a short distance of the coast, cold and clear Sunday.

For Georgia, rain, followed by fair weather; colder, northwesterly winds, cold wave, cold and clear on Sunday, frost will occur in the southeast portion, and freezing temperatures in the northwest portion Saturday.

THE STATE GUARD.

Adjutant General Glenn's Report and Recommendations.

The annual report of Adjutant General Jas. D. Glenn, of the N. C. State Guard, for the year 1889, has been issued. It is a pamphlet of 182 pages, and contains reports from the Inspector General, Quartermaster General, Surgeon General, the official register, reports of brigade and regimental commanders, special reports on the annual encampment and other matters of interest to the soldiers of the Guard.

Wrightsville last summer, Surgeon General Haywood says in his report that "the health of the troops was excellent. There was not a single death-scarcely a single case of serious sickness."

Under the head "Future Encampments," Adjutant General Glenn says:

The site donated to the State by citizens of Wilmington is not yet in a condition to be occupied, and cannot be made so by nex' summer, and as the place so generously loaned to us for our encampments of 1888-'89, and again tendered us for 1890, is too small to encamp the entire brigade at one time with any degree of comfort, I most earnestly recommend that the encampment of 1890 be by regiments. The Inspector General and Colonels of the regiments recommend this; in fact, it is the wish of a large majority of the officers and men that the encampments of the future shall be by regiments. "There are very many reasons for making this recommendation, aside from the inadequacy of the ground for the encampment of the brig-The railroad from Wilmington to Wrightsville is not prepared to accommodate the tremendous crowd of visitors that, together with the soldiers, are congregated in the cars and upon the platforms at one time, and there is great danger of very serious accidents from this cause, and, besides, 'not being able to get on the cars,' is a good excuse for absence from duty, and with so many men thrown together, not known to the officers themselves, numbers escape detection when absent, and this tends to demoralize discipline. * * * * At least one regiment should be required to encamp at Wrightsville every year, in order that rhe men may receive practical instruction in the use of the sea-coast battery established by the General Gov-

Raids on Residences-A Gold Watch Stolen and Recovered-Other Depreda-

A gold watch was stolen from the residence of Mrs. H. C. Brock, on Princess street, last Thursday morning, by a sneak thief who entered the house while the members of the family were temporarily absent. The theft was reported at police headquarters and all the jewellers and watch-makers in the city were given a description of the watch. It was supposed that the thief was a colored woman who was seen to enter and leave the house by some of the neighbors, but no accurate description of her could be had. Later in the day a white man who gave his name as E. Hardison, called at Huggins' jewelry store with a watch which he wished to have repaired, and which the jeweller recognized at once as the one stolen from Mrs. Brock. Hardison said that he bought the watch from a negro woman, and upon information obtained from him and others a woman named Howard was arrested; but upon investigation yesterday before Mayor Fowler, Hardison said she was not the woman from whom he bought the watch and she was therefore discharged from

Other families, living on the north side of Market between Fifth and Eighth streets, complain of visitations from sneak thieves. In one instance, which also occurred last Thursday, the dinner of a family was stolen from the kitchen in the absence of the cook. The latter saw the woman as she was leaving the premises, and describes her as a black woman of medium height, wearing a light blue dress, men's shoes and a poke bonnet.

Pygmalion and Galatea.

Adele Frost played Galatea at the Opera House last night before a good audience and made quite a success of it. Her grace, beauty and intelligence is charming.

Edmund Collier, as Pygmalion, played the part in perfect harmony with his high artistic standing; and the other characters received such representation as would have delighted the author of the play, had he been able to witness this performance. The costuming and stage setting evidenced the best of taste. At the matinee to-day, "Virginius" will be played, and at the evening performance, "The Marble Heart." These will be Miss Frost's farewell performances here and it is to be hoped she will have large houses, for she cer tainly deserves them.

Rapid Growth of Business Attending the Opening of the Wilmington Extension-The First Station from Fayetteville.

Speaking of the very gratifying outcome of business attending the opening of the Wilmington extension of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, the Fayetteville Observer says, "timber, naval stores, merchandise and country produce await its freight trains at every station; material enterprise has received marked stimulus in every county traversed by the line; travel is good and With regard to the encampment at daily increasing; and the experience of this admirable "North Carolina system," characterizing it since the first important movement forward in 1879, following nature's great highway of commerce, is to-day repeated in the business found ready to hand.

"The first station out from Fayetteville on the Wilmington extension-and. in fact, the only one in Cumberland county east of the river bridge-is at the point known as Blockersville, and promises to be one of the thriving places on the line of the road. It receives its name in honor of the venerable and lamented Nathan Stedman, for many years Treasurer of the Western Railroad, and afterwards Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway; its establishment is in a large measure due to the efforts and public spirit of Messrs. Kelly and David Sessoms, two of the most substantial and esteemed citizens of Cumberland county, who have made valuable concessions in the right of way, etc., together with contributions in erection of depot,"
