Report and Recommendations of Board of Managers.

At a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, Tuesday night last, the report of the Board of Managers of the City Hospital for the year ended December 31st, 1889, was read by the chairman, Col. Roger Moore. The report shows the total expenditures for the year to have been $3,299.87, and receipts as follows: From The people of New Orleans are the city, $1,133.50; from county, $1,700 .-24; from patients, $458.13; from other sources. $8.00. The total number of patients treated during the year was 213, including 46 pay patients. Of this number, 195 were successfully treated and 18 died,

During the year a pay patient's ward has been built, with hot and cold baths, operating room and parlor, all complete. The entire ward has been repaired and the roof raised. WILMINGTON & WELDON R. R.

The Magnitude of the Work Accomplished by this Company in the Past Four Years-Its Importance to Wilmington.

The number of branch roads built by the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company within the last four years, is of far more importance to Wilmington than our people realize. In 1886 the Wilson & Fayetteville branch was finished; the length of the road being seventy-two miles, and it runs from Wilson to Favetteville. The Nashville branch, which runs from Nashville to Spring Hope, a distance of twenty miles, was finished in March, 1887. The Clinton and Warsaw road was opened in April, 1887, the length being thirteen miles. The Albemarle & Raleigh road, which extends from Tarboro to Plymouth, was completed in 1889, and in length is twenty-three miles. The Norfolk & Carolina was just opened up to the public day before yesterday (April 1st), and runs from Tarboro to Norfolk, the distance being one hundred and two miles. The Scotland Neck branch runs from Greenville to Halifax, fifty-five miles, and is being extended to Kinston, twenty-nine miles beyond Greenville, and will be opened in July, thus making this road eighty-four miles long.

Propositions have been made to the citizens of Washington, Beaufort county, by the management of the Wilmington & Weldon road, to build a road from some point on the Scotland Neck extension to that town, if the right of way and terminal facilities can be secured. It is thought that this matter will be definitely settled within a few days, and it is to be hoped that the good people of Washington will not let this opportunity slip.

A remarkable circumstance in regard to the roads built by the Wilmington & Weldon is that no contributions from counties, cities or townships were asked or received, except in the case of the Clinton & Warsaw branch, where thirty-five hundred dollars was subscribed.

The Wilmington & Weldon road has opened up a new territory to Wilmington merchants within the last few years, and has given the people in many of the Eastern counties facilities for marketing their products which they never had before, and which has been of incalculable benefit to them. There is no reason why our merchants should not now secure a goodly portion of the trade of the Eastern counties which is going to Norfolk, and it would be well for them to take advantage of this new field.

The length of the Wilmington & Weldon Road is one hundred and sixty-two miles, and its branches as above. aggregate three hundred and fourteen

With this road and its branches, terminating at Wilmington, making tributary to it one of the finest sections of our State, and constantly pouring into its lap a good part of the business of the East, it is safe to say that our present prosperity is due in a large measure to it, and in the future the benefits to be derived will be increased an hundred

TUG BLANCHE BURNED

No one was on the boat at the time, and the fire had made such progress when discovered that but little could be done to save the boat. Capt. Capt. J. T. Harper, the owner of the Blanche, says she was pumped out and will be brought up to Wilmington today for repairs. Her hull and boiler are not injured, and the damage will not exceed four thousand dollars. The tug Italian will be put in her place until repairs are completed.

The Blanche is an iron boat and cost a few years ago $18,000. The cause of the fire is not known. She was not insured
