P. W. Davis of Elberton, Ga., representative in the Legislature from Elbert county, has got himself into trouble by taking improper liberties with a young lady. First a kinsman of the lady, editor of the Elberton Gazette, horsewhipped him on the public square, and then a number of prominent citizens called a meeting | Infantry. and passed resolutions requesting him to resign his seat in the Legislature and move out of the town and county. The way of the transgressor is sometimes, if not all the time,

A rumor was given out some time ago that some admirer of Hon. Samuel J. Randall, who knew how poor he was, started a subscription to a fund which reached $50,000 to provide for his family after his death. This movement was kept a secret from Mr. Randall, who it was known would have refused his consent if he had known it. It now appears that this friend was George W. Childs, the benevolent and big-hearted proprietor of the Philadelphia Ledger.

There is a split in Alf Taylor's district in Tennessee. He got a renomination, whereupon his disgusted Republican opponents bolted and nominated another man. It is about time that a bolt of some kind had struck the man that could make as fulsome a speech in flattery of Autocrat Reed as he did on the floor of the House in Reed's pres-

What a nice time the school boys have now compared with what they used to have in the old fogy times of the past. They don't have to wear themselves out by writing compositions, essays, orations, &c., to shine on commencement days, but by enclosing a little cash to an Ohio firm can get them by mail done up to order with lots of grand flourish.

We regret that Col. J. D. Cameron has severed his connection with the Asheville Citizen, the diversity of views between him and the proprietor, Mr. Fuller, rendering this step and 11 cc middling Orleans 11 15-16 necessary. It is to be hoped that if Mr. Fuller proposes to assume the editorship that he will prove as levelheaded and able as Col. Cameron.

The committee of arrangements are busily engaged in preparations for the grand concert to be given in the Opera House by Germania Cornet Band on Wednesday the 23d inst., and promise to spare no pains to make it the finest ever given in Wilmington. They have secured the services of Mr. Wm. Ortmann, of Charleston, S. C., a graduate with honors, of the Leipsic Conservatory of Music, and who has won for himself a most enviable reputation, ranking as one of the finest violinists in the country, Mr. Huguelet, also of Charleston, S. C., an eminent pianist, and Prof. Herndon, instructor of Germania Band, besides some of the best local musical talent in Wilmington, will also take part.

Among the prominent Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley officers in our city are Col. J. A. Gray, J. W. Fry, H. L. Fry, J. D. Williams, Dr. D. W. C. Benbow,

Jno. M. Rose, J. C. Murchison, Dr. W.

At the Y. M. C. A. Rooms. A pleasant entertainment was given last night at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association. Many ladies were present. Besides the address of Col. Waddell, which was very much enjoyed, there were organ solos by Prof. Gilmore, a piano solo by Miss Ella Bellamy, a duett by the Misses Southerland, and a recitation by Miss Harrell, of Statesville.

RAILROAD CELEBRATION

COMMEMORATIVE OF THE OPENING OF THE C. F. & Y. V. R. R.

Arrival of Hundreds of Visitors from the Up-Country-A Gala Occasion-The City Decorated with Flags and Bunting.

The enthusiasm with which the business men and people generally of our city took hold of the idea of a grand excursion to our city of the merchants along the line of the C. F. & Y. V. road, in commemoration of the completion of this most important route, connecting the Piedmont sectio nof our State with the principal seaport, presaged a complete success for this scheme.

This is truly a gala day for our city. It is the first time she has had an opportunity to throw open her gates to the people of that section of the State through which the C. F. & Y. V. road runs. She has now thrown wide her doors and extended to them a cordial invitation. The invitation has been accepted in the same spirit in which it was given, and we now have among us several hundred of the leading business men of the towns along the line of this road, who have come among us to enjoy our hospitality and to investigate and find out for themselves the advantages that Wilmington offers to them as a wholesale market.

This excursion will be of great benefit to our city. It will unite in close friendship the two sections of the State. It will tend to obliterate that imaginary line that divides our State into the "east" and the "west." It will show to the people of the Piedmont section that Wilmington has advantages as a wholesale market and supply depot for the interior that perhaps very few of those on this excursion were aware of before coming among us on this occasion. Such intercourse between the two sections of the State should be of frequent occurrence, as conducive to the welfare and business prosperity of both sections, THE DECORATIONS.

Many of our business men were busy vesterday decorating their buildings and by evening the city had put on quite a holiday appearance and beautiful flags and bunting were displayed to great advantage on many of the principal streets. Conspicuous for this profuse and beautiful decoration were the hotels Orton and Purcell, great taste having been displayed in the externel, decorations of these two buildings and within the office and saloon of the latter.

On Water street, near the railroad depot, the buildings of of the Gleaves Hardware Company and Mr. R. W. Hicks were most artistically decorated and in a manner to attract the attention of the excursionists as they passed out of the depot.

Many other business houses were beautifully decorated for the occasion, Without discriminating we mention the following as handsomely decorated: G. R. French & Son, I. Shrier, Bank of New Hanover, First National Bank, Holmes & Watters, A. David, Rheinstein & Co., S. H. Fishblate, Brown & Roddick, Wilmington Candy Factory, J. J. Hedrick, Giles & Murchison, J. C. Stevenson, H. C. Prempert, Sol. Bear & Co., Bridgers & Rankin, Alderman, Flanner & Co., the Gem restaurant, John L. Boatwright, Munson & Co., Chestnut & Barrentine, R, M. McIntire, E. J. Powers, Huske & Draper, W. T. Daggett, S. A. Schloss, Kirkham & Co., A. W. Watson, Warren & Son, P. Heinsberger, S. W. Sanders & Co., Worth & Worth, the Wilmington Paper Co., L. T. Bowden, B. F. Keith, Alexander Sprunt & Son, J. Naumberg.

The STAR building was made conspicuous by appropriate decorations of flags and colored bunting.

The piazza of the building just above the STAR building was prettily decorated with festoons of handsome handker-

Most prominent among the decorations of the city was the beautiful display of flags by the revenue cutter Colfax, under command of Capt. Moore, which had her rigging trimmed with bright flags of various kinds.

THE ARRIVAL.

By 6 o'clock quite a large crowd of citizens had gathered at the C. F. & Y. V. wharf to witness the arrival of the excursionists, who reached the railroad terminus in a train of two sections, arriving, the first at 5.10 and the other at 6.30, and were brought over to the city on the steamers Compton and Murchison, the revenue cutter firing a salute of fifteen guns as the steamers were crossing the river.

Both steamers were crowded and when they touched the wharf there embarked from them about four hundred of the principal merchants and business men of Mount Airy, Greensboro and other towns along the line of the railroad. As each man stepped ashore he was handed a handsome silk badge upon which was inscribed, "Guest to the C. F. & Y. V. Railroad Celebration,

April 16th and 17th, 1890.' The train this morning, it is expected, will bring to the city about two hundred more excursionists who preferred to postpone their coming until to-day, in order to avoid the crowded cars of yes-

This is no excursion of "rollicking, frolicing men," solely "on pleasure;" but it is composed of the substantial merchants and men of business and of capital from the section of country that has been put into close communication with our city by the completion of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley road, and it is hoped their visit will cement those ties of business and friendly intercourse which should exist between all sections of our State. To each and every one of them the STAR extends a hearty welcome, with the hope that their visit to our city will be one of unalloyed pleasure.

C. F. & Y. V. CELEBRATION.

Programme Arranged for the Entertainment of Visitors To-day and To-mor-

At a meeting of the Committee of Arrangements for the C. F. & Y. V. Railroad celebration, held Monday night at the residence of Col. F. W. Kerchner, the following programme was arranged: WEDNESDAY.

Delegates to the Episcopal Convention. Two of the Episcopal Churches-St ohns and St. James-have elected delegates to the Episcopal Diocesan Convention which will convene in Greenville, N, C., on the 14th of May,

St. James-Dr. A. J. DeRosset, Col. John W. Atkinson, Col. W. L. DeRosset and William Calder, delegates: and Hon. A. M. Waddell. Norwood Giles Col. T. W. Strange and T. D. Meares, St. John's-Dr. W. H. Green, H. G. Smallbones, Gabriel Holmes and Berry Gleaves, delegates, and R. E. Heide, Dr. W. W. Harriss, Washington Catlett and Jas. D. Nutt, alternates.

St. Paul's and St. Mark's Churches have not yet chosen delegates.

Major Winder Promoted. Major John C. Winder, one of the most capable and successful railroad managers of the South, has been elected general manager of the entire Seaboard Air Line system, embracing the Seaboard & Roanoke, Roanoke & Tar River, Raleigh & Gaston, Louisburg, Raleigh & Augusta Air Line, Pittsboro, Carthage, and Carolina Central railroads, and the Durham & Northern, and Georgia, Carolina & Northern railways. This promotion of Major Winder is a well deserved tribute to his abilities as a manager. There are few better railroad men in the South than Major Winder, and a safer man could not have been placed at the head of the Seaboard Air Line.

Weather Forecasts.

For North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, cooler weather, with northeasterly winds, and local rains.
